Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was American poet, etymologist and translator John Ciardi who made the following sage observation: "The Constitution gives every American the inalienable right to make a damn fool of himself." He was, evidently, also a shrewd observer of people.

• Between 1997 and 2003, the number of 9- to 12-year-olds who spent time outdoors hiking, fishing or camping fell by 50 percent.

• Greece's Parthenon is a famous ruin, but many people today don't realize that it wasn't time that caused the destruction of the structure. In 1687, the Ottoman Turks occupied the Acropolis and used the Parthenon to store gunpowder. A mortar fired by the attacking Venetians hit the building and ignited the gunpowder, causing much of the widespread damage we see today.

• Although Portuguese is the official language of Brazil, those who study such things say that there are 170 languages spoken in that country, most of them known well only by the indigenous people who grew up speaking them.

• When city officials in New Orleans are estimating the crowds that turn out for Mardi Gras, they use the sanitation department's figures on how much garbage was removed during the festival.

• It was famed fashion designer Coco Chanel who made the little black dress a popular item; before that, most women wore black only when they were in mourning.

• England's King Richard I, known popularly as the Lionheart, didn't actually live in England; his residence was in Aquitaine, in the southwestern part of France. He didn't speak English, either.

• The next time you're at a dance in Utah, remember not to get too close to your partner; in that state, by law, daylight must be visible between partners.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On May 20, 1506, the great Italian explorer Christopher Columbus dies in Valladolid, Spain. Columbus, and most others, greatly underestimated the world's size. In 1492, Columbus sighted Cuba, which he thought was mainland China, and in December he landed on Hispaniola, which he thought might be Japan.

• On May 19, 1864, President Abraham Lincoln writes to anti-slavery Congressional leader Sen. Charles Sumner of Massachusetts, proposing that widows and children of soldiers should be given equal treatment regardless of race. As a result, Congress introduced a resolution (H.R. 406, Section 13) to provide for the equal treatment of the dependents of black soldiers.

• On May 18, 1917, six weeks after the United States formally enters the First World War, the U.S. Congress passes the Selective Service Act, giving the president the power to draft soldiers. By the end of World War I in November 1918, some 24 million men had registered for the draft.

• On May 21, 1927, American pilot Charles A. Lindbergh lands at Le Bourget Field in Paris, successfully completing the first solo, nonstop trans-Atlantic flight. The flight of the Spirit of St. Louis between New York and Paris took 33-1/2 hours. Six men had died attempting the same flight.

• On May 23, 1934, famed fugitives Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker are killed when police ambush their car near Sailes, La. They died in a two-minute fusillade of 167 bullets.

• On May 22, 1958, American singer Jerry Lee Lewis arrives in England as a newly married man, with his pretty young wife in tow. Within days, it was revealed that his new wife, Myra Gail Lewis, was actually only 13 years old and was his first cousin once removed.

• On May 17, 1965, the FBI laboratory declares the lyrics of "Louie Louie" to be officially unintelligible. Based on outcry from parents who believed the lyrics to be pornographic, the FBI launched a formal investigation in 1964. Audio experts in the FBI laboratory played and re-played "Louie Louie" at 78 rpm, 45 rpm, 33-1/3 rpm and even slower speeds in an attempt to determine the song's true lyrics.

Q. I have two his-and-her "Gone With the Wind"-style chairs that were crafted during the 1860s. No one in the family is interested in them, and I am writing you to see if you have any suggestions as to where and how I can sell them. An antiques dealer looked at them, and she suggested $700 to $800 for each chair. Any advice will be welcomed. — Marlene, Surprise, Ariz.

A. I contracted several antiques dealers I know and trust, and each told me that the current market is a little soft. Antiques that were hot just a few years ago no longer are.

That's the bad news. The good news is that your chairs are genuine antiques, and you should have no problem selling them. There are several excellent antique outlets in Phoenix, including the Historic District Antique Mall, 602-253-3778; and Willo Historic District Antiques, 133 West McDowell Road, Phoenix 85003, 602-266-0939.

My advice is to photograph your chairs and circulate the pictures to the major dealers in Phoenix to see if there is any interest. Don't be hesitant to get several bids before you make your final decision. Keep in mind that there is always a market for quality items, and your chairs seem to fit that category.

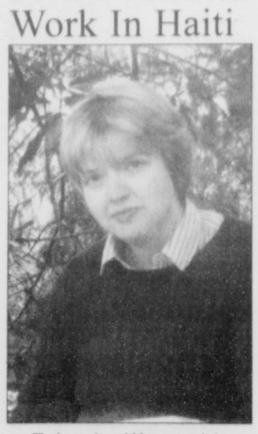
Local Woman To Do Mission Work In Haiti



Friendsville resident Amanda Lewis will travel to Haiti to conduct mission work from June 1 through June 8. Her service will include repairing the New Covenant School in St. Louis du Nord and spending two days in earthquake stricken Port-au-Prince, helping with various Brethren Disaster Ministries projects.

A member of Pine Grove Church of the Brethren, Lewis applied for this mission through the church and was one of 20 people in the United State chosen to participate.

"I love serving the Lord, and my heart was really broken for the people in Haiti even before the earthquake hit," Lewis said. "I know this is God's plan for me."

Lewis is employed as a customer service representative at First United Bank and Trust in Friendsville. She also serves as a member of the Mountain Top Crisis Pregnancy Center board of directors, is a Garrett Mentors volunteers, and is active in her church's various children's ministries.

Various groups have helped make Lewis's trip possible, including Asher Glade Church of the Brethren, Success Flooring, S&S Market, Jubilee Junction, Browning's Foodland, Our Father's House Church, and Pine Grove Church of the Brethren.

Donations may be sent to Pine Grove Church of the Brethren, P.O. Box 572, Oakland, MD 21550.

According to Lewis, donations will go to the disaster projects in Port-au-Prince, the purchase of school materials for students and classrooms at the New Covenant School, and the purchase of Bibles in French.

NURSING HOME VOLUNTEERS RECOGNIZED – Dennett Road Manor recently held its annual volunteer appreciation banquet at the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad hall, with approximately 120 volunteers and guests in attendance. Recognition is given each year to the many volunteers who dedicate many hours of service to the residents of the nursing home each month. Special recognition is given to those who served for at least 10 years. Names are added annually on a plaque that hangs in the entrance of the nursing home. Pictured above, left to right, are those who have volunteered at least 20 years: Rev. William McCallister, Nellie McCallister, Rev. Billy Foster, Violet Foster, Lena Uphold, Shirley Howe White, Betty Trickett, Wilda Sanders, Clara Gauer, Rev. Don Matthews, Susan Wachter, and Rev. Sam Wachter. Below are those who have served 10–19 years: Fred Friend, Yvonne Miller, Pastor Sidney Nazelrod, Jean Friend, Mary Leighton, Barbara Dillsworth, Rev. Paul Goldizen, Loretta Dillsworth (hidden), Ray Teets, Bruce Helmick, Janet Friend, Randall Kahl, Jan Judy, Traci Rodeheaver, Dorothy McPhail, Margaret Holland, Jim Judy, and Daniel Holland (hidden).

Annual Senior Citizens Prom Slated Next Fri.

The Garrett county Area Agency on Aging and Association of Student Councils will hold their annual Senior Citizen Prom on Friday, May 21, from 6 to 9 p.m. at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland.

"Come ready to dance or just to enjoy an evening of great dining and entertainment," said a spokesperson.

This year's theme is "Second Hand Rose," and Johnny Moore will provide live music. Dinner will feature a variety of America's regional "comfort" foods made popular during the 1930s.

Tickets are $10 per person and may be purchased at the Mary Browning Center in Oakland, Grantsville Senior Center, and Flowery Vale Fitness Center in Accident.

Tickets are still available, but are selling fast, noted the spokesperson.

The prom is open for anyone age 55 or over. For more information, persons may call the Area Agency on Aging at 301-334-9431.

Southern GOP Women's Club To Host Candidates

The Southern Garrett County Republican Women's Club invites all to hear local Republican candidates share their political platforms on Wednesday, May 19, at 6:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Diakon Adult Day Care Center along Pythian Street in Oakland, off Memorial Drive behind Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Republican candidates for state senator, delegate, state's attorney, county commissioner, clerk of the circuit court, and judge of the orphans' court have been invited to speak. A question and answer period will follow the last speaker.

Doors will open at 6 p.m., and refreshments will be served. For more information, persons may telephone 301-387-4026.

Military Support Group To Meet On Wednesday

The next Military Family Support Group meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, May 19, at 6:30 p.m. Meetings are held at the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad building in Mtn. Lake Park. This voluntary organization helps families meet the challenges of military life.

This month's guest speaker will be an American Red Cross representative. He will talk about the importance of having an emergency plan in place in case of a crisis at home while a family member is deployed. The representative will be available to answer questions.

"If you have family members or friends who are serving in any branch of the military, we invite you to come to this meeting," said a spokesperson.

The group involves the entire family, as well as people from the community. Families get together through the group and share many types of practical and emotional support, noted the spokesperson

"We communicate with each other and provide a chance to ask questions, and express ideas and concerns," she said. "The group leaders understand military life and are a wonderful source of strength and comfort for the spouses and parents of the servicemen."

To join, all people need to do is contact the group and give their serviceperson's name, rank, and place of deployment.

"We do the rest," said the spokesperson. "It does not matter if your serviceman is stationed in the states or overseas; we welcome anyone that has a military person serving our country."

For more information, persons may call Mel or Cathy Menker at 301-334-5906, Sheila Shaffer at 301-616-6109, or Larry Schlossnagle at 301-746-5723; or visit supportlocalmilitary.-com.

Captain Shaffer Notes Retirement From U.S. Military

After serving for 20 years in both the active U.S. Air Force, the U.S. Air National Guard, and the U.S. Army National Guard, Captain Joseph Shaffer, Oakland, announced his re-tirement, effective April 30.

Shaffer joined the U.S. Air Force upon his graduation from Southern High School in 1986. After completing basic training and security police school in Texas, he was stationed at F.E. Warren AFB in Wyoming, then at Kunsan air base in Korea, and completed four years of active service back at Bergstrom AFB in Austin, Tex.

Shaffer enlisted in the W.Va. Air National Guard in 1990 while a student at Fairmont State College, from which he earned a bachelor's degree in criminal justice. He was in the USAF Inactive Ready Reserves from 1994 to 1996, and then enlisted in the Maryland Army National Guard in Oakland in 1997.

He was an honor graduate of officer candidate school, earning the rank of 2nd lieutenant in 2000, and then rose to the rank of 1st. lieutenant at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He served as platoon leader for Company B, 121st Engineer Battalion, Cumberland, and became detachment commander in 2002.

He was called into active duty in January 2003 and sent to Kuwait, where he led a convoy of 125 soldiers from Camp Arifjan to Baghdad International Airport during major hostilities. In April he became the first Maryland Army National Guard engineer officer serving in Operation Iraqi Freedom. He remained at Camp Cropper in Baghdad for the rest of his active duty and was deactivated in January 2004.

Upon his return to the states, Shaffer served as executive officer for the 243rd Engineer Company of the 121st Engineer Battalion in Baltimore, and later was assigned as staff officer to Joint Force Headquarters, Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, where he concluded his service and was elevated to the rank of captain, major promotable.

Shaffer is currently employed with the Division of Parole and Probation, Oakland field office, with 15 years of state service. He resides in Oakland with his wife Kimberly, who is a teacher at Dennett Road Elementary School. They are the parents of two children, Austin, 14, and Kaitlin, 10.

Shaffer is a son of Joann Shaffer, Oakland, and the late W. Perry Shaffer.

SATURDAY WAS A BIG DAY for the students, staff, and parents of Crellin Elementary School, who held a celebration marking the installation of a lime doser on Laurel Run near Crellin. The doser significantly reduces the effects of acid mine drainage to improve water quality for aquatic life. The doser is the result of a joint effort involving the Maryland Department of the Environment's Mining Program and the West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection, along with the Youghiogheny River Watershed Association and the Resource Conservation and Development Council of Western Maryland. The equipment allows for a prescribed amount of alkaline material to be added to the water to offset the effects of acid mine drainage. The schedule of events included tours of the doser area and the school's award-winning environmental education lab, an outdoor classroom created as part of the reclaiming of a coal transfer station. MDE deputy secretary Robert Summers spoke about the doser project and his agency's mission to protect and restore the state's waterways. Crellin students provided information on the area waterways and demonstrated how the chemistry of the doser works to treat acid mine drainage. Pictured above left is Summers with Crellin School principal Dana McCauley. Above center, Summers talks about MDE's mission and the doser project. Pictured above right is the doser. Seated at left in that photo is Joe Mills, MDE project leader and tour guide. Below left, Crellin student Luke Riley portrays Albert Powell, the Maryland Department of Natural Resources fisheries biologist and former fish hatchery director, describing conditions in western Maryland streams in the mid-20th century. Below right are students George Zimmerman and Seth Adams demonstrating how the chemistry of the doser works to treat acid mine drainage.

DON'T LET THEM BUG YOU

It has been estimated that termites cause $5 billion in property damage every year in this country. That makes them more of a threat to homeowners than flood, wind, or even fire. And yet, the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) demands separate termite inspections only if the state or local laws require it, or if there is an outright suspicion of damage.

Termites thrive in the warmer climates of the South/Southeast and West/Southwest, but states on the East Coast and even in the Midwest have areas of high risk. Outside those regions, still all it takes is the right combination of warmth, food and moisture to invite a termite infestation.

As a homebuyer, you would be well advised to determine whether the home you are offering to purchase is under a termite protection plan, and to seek a separate termite inspection, even if it's not required. Older homes in particular may be at risk, because of the possibility of cracked foundations, but even new homes could be potential targets if the builders did not correctly perform termite pretreatments.

You probably won't notice the little buggers until the damage is already done, so be sure to get your home into a termite inspection and treatment program as soon as possible after your purchase. If you have any doubts about inspections, ask your real estate representative for advice.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

RAM Notes

JROTC RAIDER TEAM

The Southern High School Rams JROTC Raider Team took fourth place at a recent raider competition held at Northern High School. Five schools from Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia participated in the four-event competition. The events (one rope bridge, first aid, two-mile speed hike, and physical fitness tests) required the cadets to develop team strategy in order to complete each event in the quickest and most accurate time. This raider competition is one of several after-school activities in which JROTC cadets can participate. The cadets expect to compete again next year in additional raider competition events within the region.

SAT ADVANTAGE

Students planning for college have many things to consider. In addition to grades, extracurricular activities, and teacher recommendations, college entrance exam scores are an important part of a college application. By becoming familiar with the SAT, parents can help their child understand how to best prepare for this important step in the college planning process. What is the SAT, and what does it really measure? How is it used in the college admission process? Why should a student consider taking the SAT? How can one help a child find out more about the SAT? For answers, parents can join a free online workshop about the SAT. This workshop is designed to be a one-stop review of how the SAT is used, how to register for the test, and who is eligible for fee waivers. How the test is constructed, its validity and fairness, research studies on the SAT, and test-taking strategies are also discussed during the workshop. Parents can sign up now to attend an upcoming workshop on May 18 at 8 p.m. To register a student for the SAT, parents should visit SAT.collegeboard.com.

YEARBOOK DEADLINE EXTENDED

The deadline for ordering and paying for yearbooks has been extended until Friday, May 14. Any student wishing to purchase a yearbook or any parents wishing to purchase a yearbook for their child should have the yearbook ordered and paid for by May 14. Orders and payments should be sent to Ms. Zumpano in Room 1252.

SENIOR CLASS TRIP MEETING

There will be meeting on Sunday, May 23, in the SHS cafeteria at 2 p.m. to discuss next year's senior class trip to Walt Disney World. A slideshow will be presented of this year's trip plus highlights of the four parks at Disney World. Students can sign up for the trip at this time with a non-refundable $75. This will give parents the opportunity to ask questions, and students to get an idea of what to expect at Disney. This will be our fourth year at Disney for Grad Night.

NEWS SENIORS

All senior obligations are due. Many seniors still have not paid for their T-shirts and hoodies. The senior picnic will be held on June 3 following graduation practice. The picnic is free to all graduating seniors and is held at Broadford Park at the pavilion next to the boat ramp. The menu will consist of several varieties of wings, lasagna, salads, fresh fruit, cupcakes, and drinks. All seniors attending the picnic are asked to sign up at the Attendance Office. The last senior meeting before graduation will be on May 19, during activity period, during which graduation handbooks will be distributed and discussed. All seniors are to be present.

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

SHS will present Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream on May 20, 21, and 22 at 8 p.m. on the school stage. General admission is $5.

GRADUATION PRACTICE

Graduation practice will be on Thursday, June 3, at 8:30 a.m. The senior class picnic is immediately after the practice on Thursday at Broadford Park and is free to all graduating seniors.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSESSMENT FLOODING SCHEDULED

30 Local Students Participate In FSU Model UN

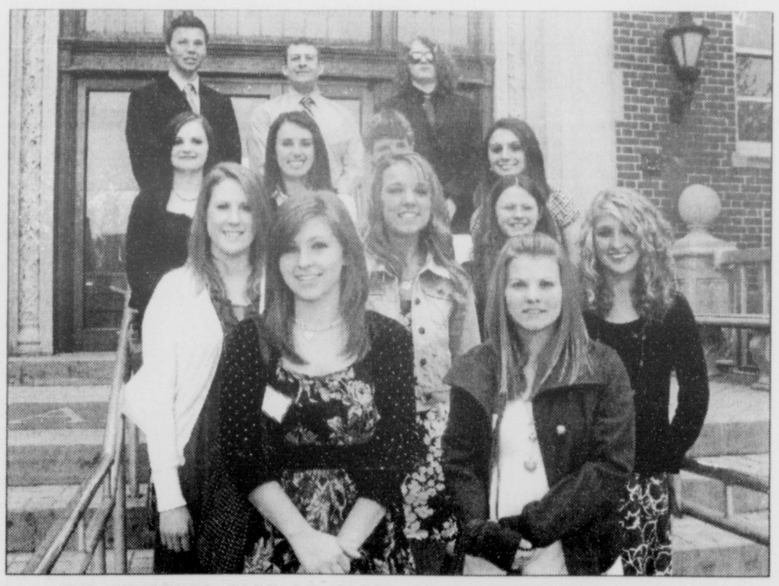
A total of 18 students from Southern High School and 12 students from Northern High School recently took part in this year's Frostburg State University Model United Nations Security Council. Students representing nine different countries in three separate council models caucused, debated, and tried to work through resolutions that would promote a just solution to Iran's interest in developing nuclear weapons and promote long-term peace in the Middle East, as well as reduce the threat of nuclear proliferation.

Seven different high schools sent students to Allegany High School to participate in the model including Allegany, Fort Hill, Bishop Walsh, Mountain Ridge, and Hampshire high schools. International Club students from Frostburg State University administered the model. Students were divided into teams of two delegates. These teams were then assigned nations they would represent at the Model UN Security Council.

Students researched their nations geopolitical, social, historical, economic, and physical characteristics in order to develop a deep enough understanding to represent their nation accurately in the security council. Students then attempted to pass resolutions aimed at dealing with and resolving the issues relating to the real-world problems concerning nuclear proliferation and the balance of power in the Middle East.

The security council promotes the efforts of the United Nations to resolve the disagreements over various aspects of human rights, the war on terrorism, and international peace and security. Once the negotiations began, students learned the intricacies and frailties of international coalitions, diplomatic negotiation, consensus building, and global cooperation.

FSU awarded "Honors" to students in each model. Honors were based on student's ability to represent their country realistically, participate actively, and speak affectively during the model. One delegation of Southern High School students was honored. Kristen Yant and Josh Nesselrodt, both sophomores, received honorable mention for their representation of Israel.



NHS STUDENTS PART OF MODEL UN IN FROSTBURG – Northern High School students recently participated in the Frostburg State University Model United Nations held at Allegany High School. Participating schools took part in three concurring United Nations' sessions in an attempt to deal with the issue of Iran's nuclear program. In the front row are Sarah Friend and Lisa Umbel. Second row: Maddy Whittemore, Haleigh Werner, Theresa Friend, and Morgan Brosnihan. Third row: Shana Hetrick, Jocelyn Williams, Derek Sebold, and Haley Margroff. Back row: Ian Aiken, teacher Ron Opel, and Skyler Roberts. See story.

by Heather Wilhelm and Ali Bragg, reporters

The regular meeting of the Grantsville 4-H Club was held May 3 at the Casselman Valley Sportsman Club. The meeting was called to order by Megan Wilhelm, president. Roll call was answered by 13 members. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Russell Fazenbaker, treasurer, gave his report.

Pledges were led by Cameron Newman and Justin Wilhelm. The snack for the next meeting will be provided by Kaitlyn Smith. Ali Bragg did a demonstration on rock crystals. Russell Fazenbaker also gave a demonstration on tractors.

RED HOUSE
by Kelsey Skipper, reporter

The May meeting of the Red House 4-H Club was called to order by Annie Graham, president. Pledges were led by Isaac Graham.

There were 24 members, one Clover, and nine adults in attendance.

Demonstrations were given by Ryan Fitzwater, Jason Friend, Jonathon Evans, Payton Dixon, Trenton Evans, and Bryan Hutton.

The treasurer's report was also given. Austin Graham, secretary, read the minutes from the April meeting and took roll.

The Quality Assurance Workshop is set for Friday, May 24, at Garrett College from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Everyone who is selling an animal needs to attend the workshop.

The Spring Weigh-In is planned for Friday, June 18, from 4 to 8 p.m. and Saturday, June 19, from 7 to 11 a.m. Members should have their papers filled out and county bred forms signed before arriving at the scales.

The next meeting of "Something New" will be held on Sunday, May 16, at the Visitors Center from 3 to 5 p.m. It is open to any member age 14 or over. There will be games and activities that can be used at club meetings for leadership activities.

Awards were given to those who did not attend Achievement Night, and ideas were discussed for the fair booth.

COUNTRY EXPLORERS

The Country Explorers 4-H Club's last meeting was held April 9. The program was trash pick-up along Blue Ribbon Road and then the continuation of bird identification by Sherry Frick.

The club donated 10 pizzas to the Meals-on-Wheels Program from the Joe Corbi's Fundraiser. Several members also attended and were recognized for completed projects and several other awards at the Garrett County Achievement Program that was held April 10 at Southern High School.

The 4-H Robotics Open House on April 11 at the GEARS Center was a lot of fun, building and running robots. The G-FORCE 4-H robotics team competed in the FTC World Championships in Atlanta, Ga., April 14–17. Several club members attended Maryland Days at the University of Maryland in College Park on April 24.

The G-FORCE team members conducted a Robotics Club Training Workshop at the Maryland 4-H Center. Some members helped with the 4-H hands-on LEGO WeDo booth building and programming the WeDos. The following members also participated in the Maryland State 4-H Communication Event that day: Katelyn Gnegy, Mikail Perrine, Nathan Tichnell, Kaya Rinker, Andrew Hauser, and Lane Savage.

A record book and teen leader workshop was also held on May 1 at the Extension Office. Katelyn Gnegy and Alison Roth attended the Sheep and Wool Festival in Howard County on May 1 and 2.

The next meeting will be held Friday, May 21, at St. John's Church. The program will be a bike rodeo at 7 p.m.

Those interested in joining a local 4-H Club may call the 4-H Extension Office at 301-334-6960.

SHS Team Wins State FFA Event

Southern High School FFA members Kaitlyn Gnegy, Aaron Lantz, Levi Lantz, and Tara Marple recently won the State FFA Vegetable Career Development Event. The event was held in conjunction with the Maryland State FFA Association Spring Career Development events held at Maryland University in College Park recently.

The Vegetable Career Development Event allows students to demonstrate their knowledge in vegetable production and marketing. During the competition, each student was tested in vegetable, fruit, and nut identification, vegetable and fruit grading, and disease and insect identification.

Individually, Katelyn Gnegy placed first in the state. She is the daughter of Mary and Daniel Gnegy, Deer Park.

Aaron and Levi Lantz, sons of Arlene and Willie Lantz Jr., placed second and 10th respectively; and Tara Marple, daughter of Marsha and Jay Marple, placed 25th.

Steve Kisner is the Southern Garrett High School FFA advisor.

The FFA Vegetable Career Development Event is sponsored by the Maryland FFA Foundation Inc.

FFA is a national organization of over 449,000 members preparing for leadership and careers in the science, business, and technology of agriculture. FFA is an integral part of the agricultural education program in public schools.

The FFA mission is to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth, and career success through agricultural education.

FSA ANNOUNCES ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

U.S. Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack has announced that orchardists and nursery tree growers can begin applying for benefits under the Tree Assistance Program, which was authorized in the 2008 Farm Bill. Signup began Monday at local Farm Service Agency (FSA) offices.

"This program helps our orchardists and nursery tree growers replant and get back on their feet after natural disasters," said Vilsack.

The Tree Assistance Program (TAP) provides help to orchardists and nursery tree growers who produce trees, bushes, and vines for commercial purposes, to replant or rehabilitate trees, bushes, and vines damaged or destroyed by natural disasters. The 2008 Farm Bill expanded eligibility to include Christmas tree and nursery tree growers that were ineligible under prior legislation. Trees grown for pulp or timber or not grown for commercial purposes are not eligible.

To be eligible for TAP, producers must have suffered more than a 15 percent death loss via a natural disaster after adjustment for normal mortality. TAP is a cost-reimbursement program, with payments covering up to 70 percent of replant costs and 50 percent of pruning, removal, and other salvaging costs for replacing or salvaging damaged trees.

Producers can receive assistance for up to 500 acres of trees, bushes, or vines. Producers must also have purchased a policy or plan of insurance under the Federal Crop Insurance Act or Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program, or for 2008, obtained a waiver of the risk management purchase requirement through the buy-in provision. Eligible losses must have occurred on or after January 1, 2008, and before October 1, 2011.

For more information on the new TAP program, persons are invited to visit the Preston County FSA office, telephone 304-329-1923, or visit the web site at http://www.fsa.usda.gov/tap.

LOAN RATES ANNOUNCED FOR WHEAT, FEED GRAINS, OILSEEDS

The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) has announced county loan rates for 2010 crops of wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats, soybeans, and other oilseeds (sunflower seed, flaxseed, canola, rapeseed, safflower, mustard seed, crambe, and sesame seed). The rates are posted on the Farm Service Agency web site at http://www.fsa.usda.gov/pricesupport.

The 2008 Farm Bill authorizes the national loan rates for the 2010 crops of wheat, feed grains, and oilseeds at the following per-bushel levels: wheat, $2.94; corn, $1.95; grain sorghum, $1.95; barley, $1.95; oats, $1.39; soybeans, $5; and other oilseeds, $10.09 per hundredweight.

As required by the 2008 Farm Bill, these 2010 national loan rates reflect increases for wheat, barley, oats, and each "other oilseed" relative to the corresponding 2009-crop levels. For corn, grain sorghum, and soybeans, the 2010 national loan rates are established at the same levels as those authorized for the 2009 crop.

For more information about USDA Farm Service Agency programs and commodity loan rates, persons are invited to visit the Preston County FSA office, located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza.

COUNTIES CONTIGUOUS TO MARYLAND INCLUDED IN EMERGENCY DESIGNATION

Alfred J. Lewis, West Virginia Farm Service Agency (FSA) state executive director, announced this week the eligibility of seven counties in West Virginia for FSA emergency (EM) loans.

"Public Law 98-258 provides for counties that are contiguous to another county that has been designated as a disaster area to also be eligible for EM loans," Lewis said. "On May 6, 2010, President Obama designated 22 counties and independent cities in Maryland as disaster areas as a result of severe winter storms and snowstorms that occurred February 5-11. The West Virginia counties of Berkeley, Grant, Hampshire, Jefferson, Mineral, Morgan, and Preston are contiguous to one or more of the designated Maryland counties and are therefore eligible for assistance."

To be eligible for an emergency loan, the farmer must have suffered at least a 30% production loss or a physical loss, be able to evidence adequate repayment ability, and be unable to obtain adequate credit from other sources. Loans to one operation are limited to $500,000 outstanding principal balance at any one time or the amount of the calculated loss, whichever is less. Loans are also limited to owners and/or operators of not larger than family-sized farming operation.

"Farmers in the eligible counties may apply for EM loans up through January 6, 2011," said Lewis, who added that applications should be filed in one's local FSA county office.

Gov. O'Malley Signs Variety Of Agricultural Bills Into Law

Governor Martin O'Malley signed into law this week 12 agriculture-related bills as the culmination of what was deemed a positive legislative session for the farm community. The bills define the terms "locally grown" and "local" for agricultural product sales, reduce the regulatory burden for farmers selling at farmers' markets, reform Maryland winery laws, authorize a nutrient credit trading program, and provide more opportunities for landowners to preserve their farmland.

"Working closely with the General Assembly this session, we passed key legislation to expand and enhance Maryland's agriculture industry, and keep it strong and profitable in the long-term," said Governor O'Malley. "When our agricultural businesses are profitable, the next generation will see farming as a viable career opportunity, and Maryland will preserve its open space and locally grown food industry for a smart, green, and growing future."

"We are very pleased by this year's legislative session and have started the process to define 'locally grown' and 'local' for the benefit of Maryland farmers, consumers, and retailers," said Agriculture Secretary Buddy Hance. "We thank Governor O'Malley, the General Assembly, the farm community, and the citizens who pushed for passage of these bills. Their support for bills addressing nutrient trading, estate taxes, licensing fees, market opportunities and land preservation shows that more people are recognizing how important farming is to their lives."

Agriculture-related bills signed this week are:

•SB 59, which alters Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation funding methods and adds flexibility to the acquisition of easements using a settlement option the landowner prefers through a partnership with Maryland Agricultural & Resource-Based Industry Development Corporation.

•SB 93, which alters and increases the fee structure for pesticide applicator certification examinations, registration of pest control employees with MDA, and late fee payments for license, certificate, or registration renewal under the Pesticide Applicator's Law.

•SB198, which changes the definition of "food service facility" to exclude the sale of raw farmers' market products from regulation as a food service facility. It also requires the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene to establish a producer mobile farmers' market license.

•SB858, which reforms 20 issues documented in a report by the Governor's Advisory Commission on Maryland Wine & Grape Growing, titled "Impediments to Growth." The new law clears up inconsistent and confusing laws, and provides a clear path for winery development and growth.

•SB 1128, which authorizes the Board of Public Works to issue a license to dredge and fill on state wetlands for a development project that would expand a marina to support aquaculture or seafood operations.

•HB 420, which expands

the activities and ways that the MDA Mosquito Control program can work in order to make it a more effective and efficient program.

•HB 421, which authorizes the secretary of agriculture to adopt standards to regulate the use of the terms "locally grown" and "local" to advertise or identify an agricultural product, and prohibits a person from knowingly advertising or identifying an agricultural product in violation of standards.

•HB 89/SB3, which exempts aquacultural activities for which the Department of Natural Resources has issued a specified permit from a requirement to pay application fees under the Wetlands and Waterways Program.

•HB 611/SB 477, which expands a provision of law that prohibits mobile seafood vendors from operating on a state highway right-of-way without a state lease to include mobile produce vendors, and expands restrictions in certain situations and locations.

•HB 974, which authorizes MDA to implement a nutrient credit trading program and facilitates transactions between participating parties.

•HB 1571, which provides for a specified payment deferral under specified circumstances for Maryland estate tax imposed on specified agricultural property.

Persons can find a full listing of bills signed by the governor online at www.gov.state.md.us.

HYDRATES
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. The attempts to stop the oil leak in the Gulf of Mexico haven't worked, and on TV they said it was because "hydrates" formed. What is a hydrate?

A. In the field of chemistry, a hydrate is any compound that forms a crystal structure with a certain number of associated water molecules. Copper sulfate has five H_2O molecules, magnesium sulfate has seven, lithium chloride has one; the number of H_2O molecules depends on details of the crystal structure, whatever leads to the lowest-energy state.

The hydrates of interest here are combinations of methane (natural gas, CH_4) with H_2O. These resemble ice crystals, but are more dense (heavier) than normal ice.

Under ordinary conditions, methane is a gas and water a liquid, and no combinations of the two will form. But down on the ocean floor, conditions are far from ordinary. The great pressure from all the water above adds up to about 100 times normal atmospheric pressure. Such pressure forces the water to reach its maximum density (1 gram/cc), and that density coincides with a temperature of 4° C (= 39° F). So no matter whether the surface water is balmy and equatorial or icy and arctic, the temperature of water deep in any ocean is 4° C.

At those enormous pressures, methane gas doesn't necessarily just bubble up to the surface. Instead of remaining a gas, methane can combine with water to form a crystal, which is known as a hydrate. It's akin to ice, but remains solid at temperatures above 0° C (32° F). Unlike standard ice, the CH_4-H_2O combination is denser than water. Therefore, those rock-like crystals just sit there undisturbed on the ocean floor.

It has been recognized for decades that methane hydrates are a source of free natural gas, but engineers have never figured out a cheap way to recover the gas. If you lift a hydrate and bring it up to the surface, the decreasing pressure on the way up would allow the crystal structure to melt, dissolving into ordinary water and releasing methane gas. How to confine the hydrate while lowering the pressure is a question that is still beyond practical technology.

What happened in the oil-well containment effort was that hydrates, starting from the vicinity of the well, moved upward from the ocean bottom into the enclosing apparatus. An icy slush formed, and with the pressure reduced, some methane gas expanded and filled the dome, pushing it upward and defeating the purpose of the attempt to cap the leaking well.

In the time that has passed since, plans B and C haven't worked very well either.

DEEP CREEK LAKE STATE PARK/ DISCOVERY CENTER

The following activities have been scheduled for this week at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Programs and center hours are subject to change without notice. All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067, or by visiting the web site: www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands/western/deepcreeklake.

Friday, May 14

Saturday, May 15

11 a.m. – Spring Awakening Hike. Guests are invited to take a walk with a naturalist to a forested wetland at the top of Meadow Mountain. Walkers will be in search of signs of spring, such as frogs, salamanders, and black bears. Walkers should wear proper footwear. (Approx. 2 hrs.)

• 11 a.m. – Wild About Mammals. Guests will learn about the mammals of Garrett County and their history as people settled in the area. The center's animal skins will be used to discuss animal identification. (45 min.)

Sunday, May 16

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK
Sunday, May 16

• 2-4 p.m. – Would You Survive? Guests are invited to meet at parking lot #5 for a session on how to survive being lost in the woods. The park naturalist will lead hikers out into the woods and demonstrate some simple techniques to increase chances of survival. The naturalist will also review what to include in a hiking survival kit.

DEFENDANTS

NOTICE AND ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District 16, Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and State of Maryland to James P. Tasker and Donna L. Tasker on May 9, 2008.

All that lot, piece or parcel of land situate in Election District No. 16 known as Lot 244 E/S Hazel Glade Rd., Mountain Lake Park, as described in a deed conveyed from the Mountain Lake Park Association of Garrett County to Thomas S. Wildox, dated September 4, 1884, and recorded September 11, 1884, in Liber No. 9, folio 315, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The complaint states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than six (6) months and one day from the date of the sale have expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 5th day of May, 2010, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland,

ORDERED that the notice be given in accordance with Rule 2-121 by certified mail requesting: "Restricted Delivery - show to whom, date, address of delivery" on the defendant named in the complaint, warning the Defendant to be and appear in this Court by the 6th day of July 2010, and redeem the property and answer the complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances,

ORDERED that the notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for three successive weeks before the 28th day of May 2010, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 6th day of July 2010, and redeem the property and answer the complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
527 Deer Run La.
Swanton, MD 21561

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from John A. Scourtis, dated February 20, 2008, and recorded in Liber 1356, folio 421 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on May 14, 2010, at 3:00 P.M.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and described as Tax ID #18-010712 and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $15,000 by cash or certified check. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett Co. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Sub. Trustees. There will be no abatement of interest in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. The noteholder shall not be obligated to pay interest if it is the purchaser. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. All public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, real property taxes, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. In the event taxes, any other public charges or condo/HOA fees have been advanced, a credit will be due to the seller, to be adjusted from the date of sale at the time of settlement. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. Additional terms to be announced at the time of sale.

If the Sub. Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit without interest. If the purchaser fails to go to settlement, the deposit shall be forfeited, to the Trustees for application against all expenses, attorney's fees and the full commission on the sale price of the above-scheduled foreclosure sale. In the event of default, all expenses of this sale (including attorney's fees and the full commission on the gross sale price of this sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. The Trustees may then re-advertise and resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser or without reselling the property, the Trustees may avail themselves of any legal or equitable remedies against the defaulting purchaser. In the event of a resale, the defaulting purchaser shall not be entitled to receive the surplus, if any, even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulting purchaser and the defaulting purchaser shall be liable to the Trustees and secured party for attorney's fees and expenses incurred in connection with all litigation involving the Property or the proceeds of the resale. The purchaser agrees to pay attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00 plus costs, which fee does not include attendance at any hearings, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Hearings will be charged at attorneys' hourly rate. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement, to the Seller's attorney, for review of the settlement documents, $150.00 may be charged for document preparation and review and an additional $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein. Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Beverly A. Taylor and Lawton M. Taylor dated November 30, 2006, and recorded in Liber 01275, Folio 0369 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $260,800.00, and an original interest rate of 7.500, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on

May 28, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $27,500.00 by cash or certified funds is required at the time of auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of foreclosure auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of foreclosure auction. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the foreclosure auction, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of foreclosure auction forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys at settlement, a fee of $295.00 for review of the settlement documents, and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorneys fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of foreclosure auction. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

all that property described in said Deed of Trust including but not limited to:

FIRST: BEGINNING at an iron spike standing in the middle of the private road leading to the coal mine formerly owned by H.C. Stickel and others, it being the beginning of the first line of a tract of land conveyed by Aubrey O. Savage and other, to Clifford James Everetts, et ux, dated September 8, 1942, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 175, folio 17 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and running thence North 60 degrees 47 minutes West 121.5 feet; thence North 88 degrees 20 minutes West 150.8 feet; thence South 53 degrees West 377.7 feet to a stake; thence in a Southeasterly direction 300 feet to a stake on the sixth line of the tract of land 40 degrees East 450 feet to the place of beginning, containing two acres, more or less.

SECOND: BEGINNING at a stake standing in the middle of the private road leading to the coal mine formerly owned by H.C. Stickel, et al, said stake standing North 53 degrees East 110 feet from the end of the third line of the two acre tract of land conveyed by Clifford James Everett, et ux, to Florence M. Casteel by deed dated June 21, 1957, and recorded in Liber No. 205, folio 336 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and reversing part of the aforesaid third line North 53 degrees East, 150 feet to a stake; thence approximately South 60 degrees East, 300 feet to a stake, standing on the fifth line of the aforesaid two acre tract; thence reversing part of the aforesaid fifth line, South 40 degrees West, to a stake standing 110 feet from the beginning of the aforesaid fifth line; thence approximately North 60 degrees West, 300 feet to the place of beginning, containing 45,000 square feet, more or less.

EXCEPTING, however, from the operation of this deed all those lots, pieces of parcels of land heretofore sold leaving 0.57 acre, more or less to be conveyed herein.

Said property is in fee simple and is improved by a dwelling and is sold in "as is condition" and subject to all superior covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easement, rights-of-way, as may affect same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $8,900.00 cash or certified funds shall be required at the time of sale. The balance of the purchase price with interest at 7.3% per annum from the date of sale to the date of payment will be paid within TEN DAYS after the final ratification of the sale. Adjustments on all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by purchaser. If applicable, condominium and/or homeowner association dues and assessments that may become due after the time of sale will be the responsibility of the purchaser. Title examination, conveyancing, state revenue stamps, transfer taxes, title insurance, and all other costs incident to settlement are to be paid by the purchaser. Time is of the essence for the purchaser, otherwise the deposit will be forfeited and the property may be resold at risk and costs of the defaulting purchaser. If the sale is not ratified or if the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey marketable title in accord with these terms of sale, the purchaser's only remedy is return of the deposit. Trustee's File No. 09-173769P. 11-C-10-011424 LOAN TYPE = Conventional.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
555 West Liberty Street
Oakland, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Justin T. Keller and Linda Sherbin, dated November 7, 2008 and recorded in Liber 1397, folio 398 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on May 14, 2010, at 11:00 a.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND AND THE IMPROVEMENTS THEREON situated in Garrett Co., MD and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $14,000 by cash, or certified check. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett Co. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the rate pursuant to the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received in the office of the Sub. Trustees. If the purchaser fails to go to settlement within ten days of the ratification, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Sub. Trustees and all of the expenses of this sale (including attorney fees and full commission on the gross sale price of the sale) shall be charged against and paid out of the forfeited deposit. Purchaser(s) acknowledge the obligation to settle within ten days of ratification of the foreclosure sale. In the event that settlement does not occur within ten days, the purchaser(s) shall be in default. Upon such default, Sub. Trustees shall file a Motion and Order to resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser(s). Purchaser(s) hereby consent to entry of such resale order without further notice. The defaulting purchaser(s) shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, including, but not limited to, exceptions to the sale, bankruptcy filings by interested parties, court administration of the foreclosure or unknown title defects, there shall be no abatement of interest. Taxes, ground rent, water and all public charges including electrical, sanitation and/or metropolitan district charges, if applicable, are to be adjusted for the current year to the date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. The purchaser is responsible for any amount in excess of $250.00 of outstanding water bills, if any, incurred prior to date of sale. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale forward. If the Sub. Trustees are unable to convey good and marketable title, the purchaser's sole remedy in law and equity shall be limited to a refund of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents. (Matter #544648)

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from James O. Bolyard and Pamela L. Bolyard dated December 30, 2005, and recorded in Liber 1195, Folio 324 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $90,000.00, and an original interest rate of 10.950, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on

May 28, 2010, at 1:10 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $10,500.00 by cash or certified funds is required at the time of auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of foreclosure auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of foreclosure auction. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the foreclosure auction, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of foreclosure auction forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys at settlement, a fee of $295.00 for review of the settlement documents, and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorneys fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of foreclosure auction. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

PUBLIC NOTICE FOR JANUARY - MARCH 2010
Reporting Violation of the Safe Drinking Water Act
Accident Water Treatment System
PWSID 011-0001
May 13, 2010

The Town of Accident is required to monitor its drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of the regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not the drinking water meets health standards. For the January - March, 2010, monitoring period, the results for Arsenic testing were not reported to the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) by the tenth of the following month (April 2010).

Reporting was not completed on time due to the reporting procedure being modified from a manual reporting format to an electronic reporting format. The sample testing result for Arsenic was inadvertently not included in the initial electronic monitoring report to MDE. The results were provided to MDE on April 20. 2010.

Please share this information with all other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this publication directly. This notice is also being posted in public places throughout the Town of Accident. If you have any questions, please contact the Accident Town Hall at 301-746-6346 or by mail at the Town of Accident, P.O. Box 190, Accident, Maryland 21520. 5/13

Local Students, Scouts Aid RGS In Habitat Improvement Project

The Backbone Mountain chapter of the Ruffed Grouse Society celebrated Earth Day on Saturday, April 24, by hosting a Habitat Improvement Work Day at the Potomac-Garrett State Forest. The group teamed up with the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Forest Service, the Garrett Forest Conservancy District board, Safari Club International, members of the National Wild Turkey Federation, Oakland Boy Scout Troop #1, and a busload of 4th grade students from Dennett Road Elementary School to plant 'phase one' of a wildlife habitat improvement project in the Wallman area of the Potomac State Forest.

The day's event involved planting trees that will offer both food and cover to a wide range of wildlife species, according to RGS chapter president Rich Skeweris.

The volunteers planted 1,000 native red spruce trees, said forest manager John Denning. This tree was once abundant in the highlands of Garrett County and surrounding West Virginia, Denning said. Now this native conifer is found in only a very few remnant populations throughout the region. These trees will offer dense winter cover to ruffed grouse as well as a variety of other wildlife species.

The workers also planted 12 apple trees to provide food in the form of the obvious fruits, as well as the buds that are favored by grouse. The Garrett Forestry Board also arranged to have 50 American chestnut seedlings planted as part of this project. The planting of this particular species is part of a national effort to reestablish the nearly extinct and famed American chestnut trees that once dominated the Appalachian region.

Phil Kisner of the forestry board said these individually tagged trees will be monitored for growth success and will eventually be part of a regional seed orchard system that will help further the reestablishment of the species.

The spokesmen noted that the day was difficult for all volunteers. Participants met at the Wallman Group campsite at the forest, where they loaded into four-wheel drive pickup trucks and rode over a mile on fire service roads to an "old log landing." They then left the trucks and hiked for about half a mile to the remote planting site. The trees and planting equipment had been transported to the site.

RGS regional wildlife biologist Mark Banker said the event offered "a great opportunity" to mentor students and introduce them to the sportsman's legacy of conserving wildlife habitat for future generations. It also offered the volunteers the opportunity to meet state forest managers, and to work alongside fellow sportspersons and conservation-minded individuals on a habitat restoration project.

The Frederick chapter of the RGS gave a monetary donation toward the project, as did the Safari Club International. These two groups and the local RGS supplied all of the funding for the project.

The local RGS chapter wished to thank all the individuals and businesses that helped make the project a success.

DIGGING IN AND GETTING TO WORK – Conservationists young and old gathered at Potomac State Forest on Earth Day (April 24) to plant more than 1,000 trees in a reforestation project spearheaded by the Backbone Mountain chapter of the Ruffed Grouse Society (RGS). Shown above are four fourth grade students from Dennett Road School as they work with Doug Deberry to plant an apple tree. In the photo at right, RGS member Don Calhoun is at left, shown as he helps students Austin Baker and Vanessa Callin gather spruce trees for planting. In the photo below, student Kaylin Paugh and RGS members Tom Gearhart and April Rohrbaugh are shown as they work together to plant a red spruce. Photos courtesy of Heidi Qualls.

River Association Slates Cleanup Of Trail, Bear Creek

The Youghiogheny River Watershed Association (YRWA) has scheduled this year's spring cleanup for this Sunday, May 16, beginning at 2 p.m. at Friendsville Community Park. The actual clean up will be done along the River Trail and Bear Creek.

Drop-in volunteers are welcome, and should bring gloves, wear boots, and dress appropriately for weather conditions.

The YRWA will furnish trash bags, hot dogs, and drinks, and volunteers are asked to bring picnic-type food to share with the group.

YRWA is a local non-profit organization formed in 2000 to address environmental issues that impact the watershed. The watershed encompasses about 397 square miles in Maryland, with the Yough River flowing north as tributary to the Mississippi River Drainage Basin.

Each year the YRWA selects an area for the spring cleanup, in addition to several ongoing projects. The group meets every other month at Garrett College. For additional information, persons may contact YoughWatershed@gmail.-com.

For additional information, persons may contact Maney Gale at 301-387-3086 or maney.gale@-garrettcollege.edu.

To register for the course, one may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

PARTNERING IN CONSERVATION EFFORT – A group of volunteers from many groups and organizations, including school children and Boy Scouts, took part in an extensive habitat conservation project on Earth Day, April 24. The Backbone Mountain chapter of the Ruffed Grouse Society joined efforts with several volunteers to plant more than 1,000 trees in the Potomac State Forest. See story. Those participated are pictured. In the front row, kneeling, from left, are John Qualls, Heidi Qualls, Luke Bankers, Morgan Qualls (RGS), Nathan Moats, Luke Banker, August Uphold, Amanda Lathbury, Korey Mitchum, Haley Hinebaugh, Dana Wille, Bethany Evans, Morgan Qualls, Kaylin Paugh, and Emma Michael. In the second row, same order, are Tanner Lewis, Joe Embleton, Vada Drummond, Vanessa Calling, Kaylie Hall, Michael Hollingsworth, Elizabeth Warren, Michael Greene, Michael Duggan, Lori Anderson, Austin Baker, Darlene Taylor, and Alan Skidmore. Third row: Lisa Calhoun(RGS), DNR volunteer Jill Speicher, Boy Scout Troop 1 representative Olivia Rawe, April Rohrbaugh (RGS), Mark Banker (RGS biologist), Jamie Michael (RGS), and Emma Michael. Fourth row: Ernie Metz, John Denning (DNR), Aaron Calhoun (RGS), Rich Skeweris (RGS chapter president), Vicki Skeweris, Tom Gear-hart (RGS), Melvin Calling (RGS), and Bonnie Friend (National Wild Turkey Federation). Fifth row: Don Wolf (RGS), Noah Rawe (DNR), Don Calhoun (RGS), Phil Kisner (forestry board), Ed Spurr (RGS), Kris Rohrbaugh (RGS), and Boy Scout Troop #1 volunteers (partially hidden) Doug DeBerry and Mike Cooper. Others in attendance but not in the photograph were Pamela Denning, Jason Savage, and Oakland Boy Scouts Ryan Cooper, Seth Miller, Zach Tichnell, Nathanial Longest, Conner Bosley, Alex Meyer, Justin Bittinger, Danny Hebb, Scoutmaster Mike Cooper and assistant Scoutmaster Michael Kozier.

Dutch Oven Class Scheduled At DCL Discovery Center

Garrett College, in partnership with the Discovery Center at Deep Creek Lake State Park, will hold a three-hour class titled "Dare to Cook with Iron! Introduction to Dutch Oven Cooking" at the Discovery Center. The class will be offered on two separate dates: Friday, July 16, or Saturday, Aug. 14, both from 9 a.m. to noon.

The Discovery Center's Jim Dunn and Caroline Blizzard will instruct this course.

"The thought of learning a new cooking technique or using a new piece of equipment can be frightening for some people," said a spokesperson. "Dutch ovens are actually quite easy to use, once you know how to choose, season, and care for them."

This step-by-step comprehensive workshop will introduce participants to this cooking method and how to integrate Dutch ovens into their camping and backyard cooking tools.

Participants will prepare and cook a meal during class, including an appetizer, two entrees, corn bread, and peach cobbler.

When Investing, Learn All Aspects of Risk

Article 12 — May 10, 2010

In life, you can't avoid all risks — and you shouldn't try, because endeavors that carry risk also bring the prospect of reward. And it's certainly the same in the investment world. So instead of trying to invest risk-free, which is impossible, learn to recognize the different types of investment risk while becoming familiar with your own risk tolerance.

To start with, let's quickly look at some of the most common forms of investment risk:

• Risk of losing principal — This is the type of risk most commonly associated with investing. You could lose some, or even all, of your principal if you sell an investment, such as a stock, whose value has dropped lower than the purchase price. You can't eliminate the risk of losing principal, but you may be able to reduce it by buying quality stocks and holding them long enough to overcome short-term market drops.

• Inflation risk —With an investment that pays a fixed rate of return, such as a certificate of deposit (CD), you run the risk of not keeping up with inflation, which means you could lose purchasing power over time. Consequently, it's a good idea not to "overload" on these types of investments.

• Interest-rate risk — When you own a bond, your investment is somewhat at the mercy of changing market interest rates. For example, if you buy a bond that pays four percent interest, and market rates rise so that newly issued bonds pay five percent, the relative value of your bond will go down; no one will pay you face value of your bond when they can get new ones that pay higher rates. Of course, if you hold your bonds until maturity, which is often a good idea, you can avoid being victimized by interest-rate risk.

• Concentration risk — This type of risk occurs when you have too much of your money concentrated in one area, such as in a particular stock or in one industry. If a downturn strikes that stock or industry, your portfolio could take a big hit. To combat this type of risk, you need to diversify your holdings among stocks, bonds, government securities and other investments. While diversification, by itself, cannot guarantee a profit or protect against a loss, it can help reduce the effect of volatility. In addition to understanding the above types of risk, you also need to be familiar with your own risk tolerance and how it affects your investment strategy. If you are constantly worried about "the market," you've probably got too many investments that are at risk of losing principal. At the other end of the spectrum, if you're always concerned that your portfolio won't grow enough to generate the income you'll eventually need for retirement, you may be investing too conservatively — and, as a result, you're inviting inflation risk.

• Ultimately, you need to match your own risk tolerance with a strategy that allows you to achieve your goals. This will require self awareness, patience, discipline — and, at times, a willingness to move outside your "comfort zone." By learning to balance and manage risk, you can ultimately put yourself in a position to pursue your investment strategy.

A RESCUE CARAVAN – A parade of horse-trailers seen in the county last week could've been mistaken for a traveling rodeo, but in actuality, the animals inside were near death and were on their way to safety and veterinary care. The Garrett County Humane Society seized 50 animals that were determined to be in critical condition, suffering from severe malnutrition and neglect, from a local farm. The animals were first evaluated by officials before they were taken, as required by Maryland law. They were then transported to a rescue facility in Woodbine, where they remain today. While officials feared some would die in transport, all survived and are now undergoing treatment. Charges are pending against the farm owner. See story. Traffic Pattern Changes Enacted For DCL Boaters

Deep Creek Lake State Park officials have announced a new traffic pattern for boaters to use for direct access to the state park boat launch facilities. It is recommended that visitors towing boats or boat trailers go directly to the launch ramp access drive off of State Park Road (third left after crossing the Meadow Mountain Cove bridge) rather than entering the park at the day use gate.

"We have opened the launch ramp gate for 24-hour traffic, which we hope will relieve traffic congestion on State Park Road during the busy summer months," said Ranger Mark Spurrier, assistant manager for the Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area. "Boaters no longer have to pass through the picnic and beach area entrance just to launch their boat onto the lake for the day."

In addition to the change of access, boaters will no longer pay the day-use admission service charge, only the launch ramp service charge. There will be an employee at the ramp to collect the launch service charge and to answer questions.

"We feel it is a win/win situation," said Spurrier. "The boaters will reach the launch ramp staging area faster and save a few dollars, and the beach visitors will not have to wait in boat traffic to enter the park."

The service charge to launch a vessel remains at $10/vessel for Maryland residents and $11/vessel for out-of-state visitors. Boaters are encouraged to purchase a State Park Passport, an annual pass to all Maryland State Parks, if they frequently visit the lake. The passport may be purchased at any Maryland State Park or online at dnr.mary-land.gov/publiclands.

The park staff also reminds vacationers that unhitched boat trailers must be registered with the park before being dropped. Unregistered trailers will be towed at the owner's expense if the owner cannot be located.

Unhitched/dropped trailers occupy valuable parking spaces and may cause other visitors to be turned away, noted Spurrier.

Vacationers are asked to plan ahead and determine where short-term trailer storage is available in the county. To unhitch a boat trailer and leave it on park grounds is illegal if park rangers are not aware of an emergency or situation that requires the trailer being left unattended.

MEDAL AWARDED POSTHUMOUSLY – Congressman Roscoe Bartlett paid a visit to Oakland recently and while here presented the Bronze Star posthumously to Pfc. Lewis B. Naylor, who received the medal for meritorious service on the front line against the enemy in France from Nov. 8 to Dec. 12, 1944. This was during the buildup just prior to the decisive Battle of the Bulge. Naylor drowned at a relatively young age many years ago. Bartlett presented the medal to members of his family, including his brothers and nephews. Pictured from left above are nephews Mike and Lonnie Naylor, brother Allen Naylor, Rep. Bartlett, brother Art Naylor, nephew Paul Naylor, niece Janna Naylor, and nephew Bart Naylor.

Second Redneck Dayz Scheduled By Lions Club

The Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club is finalizing plans for its second annual Redneck Dayz, which will be held on Saturday, June 19, at Broadford Park.

The gates will open at 9 a.m., and various fun, competitive events will begin at 11 a.m., according to Mark Marucci, chairperson.

Among the events will be the Redneck Regatta for "anything that floats that's not a boat," which will begin at 11 a.m.

The Official Redneck Games for four-person teams will get under way at 2 p.m. and feature a tractor pull, a sani-pot race, a 5-legged race, and the Redneck Pit Crew Race. The mud pit belly flop contest will begin at 5 p.m.

The Redneck Custom Car, Truck, and Bike Show will be from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A number of prizes will be awarded for the winners of the various contests.

The day will conclude with the Redneck Concert Series from 6:30 to 11 p.m., featuring country music by Travis Minnick and the Davisson Brothers Band.

There will be a wide variety of food items and beverages available throughout

Garrett Co. Humane Society Rescues 50 Starving Horses, Cows, And Goats

A rescue operation by the Garrett County Humane Society (GCHS) was conducted last Thursday, May 13, on a farm located along King Wildesen Road, in which 50 animals were removed and taken to rescue shelters.

The Garrett County Animal Shelter had received an anonymous call regarding thin horses and cows on the property, and all such calls are referred to the GCHS. The GCHS then dispatched Denise Lohr, animal control officer, and Deb Clatterbuck, investigator for the GCHS, to the site.

As in accordance with Maryland law, the animals were evaluated using a national standard. The examination determined that 26 horses, 18 cows, and six goats were identified as critical. The GCHS Emergency Action Plan was enacted, Clatterbuck said, and the animals were confiscated and relocated to rescue facilities outside of Garrett County.

The GCHS engaged 32 volunteers, 14 trucks and livestock trailers, three rescue facilities, a specially trained "cutting" horse [trained to herd other animals] with a roping rider, and a cattle dog to relocate the suffering animals. Concurrently, GCHS investigators searched for 16 hours, covering 378 miles, looking for additional animals that the owner allegedly purchased at area sales.

During the forensic investigation, it was discovered that these animals had died, Clatterbuck said.

"There were 17 carcass piles on the ground where they fell in the woods on the far side of their pasture," she said.

Clatterbuck said it is important to note that the rescue was not funded by county government, and that the work was completed by the GCHS.

"Not one red cent of Garrett County or Maryland tax dollars was spent on our rescue," she said. "With the assistance of Brooke Vrany from Days End Farm Horse Rescue in Woodbine, we were able to get an emergency rescue grant from the ASPCA [American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty Against Animals]."

While the local HART for Animals Inc. is in the process of constructing an adoption facility, it is not ready to receive animals. So Vrany was able to take the livestock to her facility in Woodbine. She placed the 18 cows at an adjacent farm, and one of her organi-

Oakland Man Receives Six Months In Jail

A 29-year-old Oakland man pleaded guilty last week in Garrett County Circuit Court to driving while his license was suspended. Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced Scot Anthony Bowman to six months in the Garrett County Jail and imposed court costs of $750.

He was charged last November by a Natural Resources Police officer who stopped the vehicle Bowman was driving during the course of an unrelated investigation in the Swanton area.

In an unrelated case, Dustin Charles Wiland, 23, Grantsville, entered an Alford plea of guilty to a second degree assault charge. Related charges were dismissed upon his plea.

After hearing the facts the state would have presented at trial, Sherbin found Wiland guilty and then sentenced him to two years in the Division of Corrections. All but 30 days of the sentence was suspended, and Wiland was also placed on probation. Court costs of $705 were assessed.

Last July, Maryland State Police investigated a report of a 4-year-old having a bruise across her thigh. After interviewing the child

Many Attend Public Hearing For Casselman River Coal Mine Proj.

Approximately 100 people attended the public hearing last evening at Grantsville Elementary School concerning the proposed underground coal mine in the Grantsville area. The hearing was scheduled by the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) to address a tentative determination for a permit to discharge water from the mine.

The permit application was made by Maryland Energy Resources LLC, Indiana, Pa. It involves the discharge of an average of 500,000 gallons per day of mine drainage and variable volumes of storm water from the proposed mine. The site is located along Durst Road, southwest of Grantsville to the north branch of the Casselman River.

Michael Richardson served as the hearing officer for the MDE. He noted that the hearing was ordered in accordance with the code of Maryland regulations, and its purpose was to provide the opportunity for the public to submit comments for the record concerning the permit.

First, there was a time for open discussion and questions from the public. Following the discussion, persons were invited to make a formal comment for the record, and comments were recorded by a court reporter.

Persons were also invited to submit written comments for the record as well. Richardson explained that all comments will be reviewed before a final decision is made concerning the permit.

Written comments will be accepted until Wednesday, May 26. They can be sent to the Maryland Department of the Environment, Water Management Administration, 1800 Washington Blvd., Baltimore, MD 21230-1708, Attn: Michael Richardson. For more information, persons may call 800-633-6101.

During the discussion period, Barb Peles, a representative of Maryland Energy Resources, which is managed by the Joseph Peles Coal Company of Indiana, Pa., noted that the mine will involve 3,000 acres of land which includes 10 million tons of recoverable coal. She stated that the company will be in the area for many years.

Peles noted that the company will have 24 direct employees when underground operations begin, with starting wages of $20 to $43 per hour plus benefits. The company has already hired a local resident to help with the construction to begin operations.

"We are hoping to begin production in early fall," she said.

Peles discussed the benefit to the local economy.

"We've been staying in local hotels, eating at local restaurants for lunch and dinner," she said. "We've bought vehicles here, rented machinery, and hired a local forester to do timbering. In addition, the members of the Casselman Pooless Association will benefit from our operation. So there will be a big economic impact to the area."

Peles noted that the MDE restrictions for their operation have surpassed what have been previously been in place.

"These restrictions mean that we can remove less coal, but we have accepted them, because we are not just in this for profit, but also to be good stewards to the state of Maryland," Peles said.

Some discussion was

Two Arrested In Connection With Check Forgery

Two New York residents were arrested in connection to an utterance of forged counterfeit American Express traveler's checks at the Oakland Wal-Mart.

Abraham Falah, 25, Brooklyn, is charged with theft over $500, issuing a false document, and forgery of private documents. Joe LeGrand, Brooklyn, is charged with theft of $500.

Investigation was initiated by the Garrett Bureau of Investigation in August 2009, when employees with Wal-Mart contacted the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and reported that several American Express checks had been used at the business.

Falah and LeGrand were developed as suspects from physical and additional evidence collected from Wal-Mart by investigators. Arrest warrants were issued and forwarded to the New York Police Department, who arrested them both on May 5. They were extradited back to Garrett County on Monday. They were taken into custody to await a hearing before a District Court commissioner.

Man Charged With Assault, Sexual Abuse Of Minor

An Oakland man has been charged by the Garrett Bureau of Investigation following an investigation into an incident that reportedly occurred in March.

Michael David Hall, 44, is charged with sexual abuse of a minor, fourth-degree sexual offense, and second-degree assault. The incident occurred at Hall's residence, when he allegedly sexually assaulted a female juvenile. He was taken into custody to be held at $50,000 bond.

THE EXCAVATING HAS BEGUN for the construction of the Garrett County Historical Society's transportation museum, which will be located along Liberty Street. Much of the funding for the 10,000-square-foot structure was provided via the Community Trust Foundation with a major grant from the Howard and Audrey Naylor Foundation. The façade of the two-story building will comprise the fronts of the former A.D. Naylor blacksmith shop, Martin's Livery Stable, Lawton's Auto Dealership, and Oakland's original fire hall. The first floor will house a rendition of the Naylor blacksmith shop and a variety of antique transportation vehicles, while the second floor will be dedicated to the history of Deep Creek Lake, and also contain educational space and equipment. Rising Star Award Presented To Local DPU Employee

Robert "Bobby" Witt, preventive maintenance/water service manager with the Garrett County Department of Public Utilities, received the American Society for Public Administration Rising Star Award during a recent ceremony in Baltimore.

This award is given by the Maryland Chapter to individuals who are recognized for their accomplishments, performance, and/or innovations in their field or discipline.

Witt was nominated by county administrator Monty Pagenhardt and Department of Public Utilities director Linda Lindsey. Both officials attended the awards ceremony.

"Bobby is an extremely dedicated employee who strives to accomplish not only his assigned responsibilities but the overall needs and goals of the Department of Public Utilities," said Pagenhardt.

Witt was initially hired in 2005 to operate the newly installed radio frequency water meter reading system and to locate underground water and sewer lines in accordance with the Miss Utility notification system.

"Bobby quickly mastered the radio reading system and became acquainted with the various water and sewer systems and their appurtenances which were extremely beneficial when dealing with contractors, developers and new service requests," Lindsey said.

In 2006, Witt was promoted to the position of preventive maintenance coordinator. He researched and obtained software for the preventive maintenance program, compiled necessary data, and commenced with input of the data and processing of work orders.

In addition to his new duties, Witt continued to perform all duties associated with water meter readings and line locations.

In 2007, Witt began substituting for the department's resident construction inspector during his absence, and in 2009 assumed the responsibility of a full-time construction inspector on the Mountain Lake Water Improvements Project, in addition to performing all other duties and responsibilities.

"Bobby is an exceptional employee and is always willing to work overtime

Memorial Events Slated In Accident

The Accident American Legion Post #208 will hold a Memorial Day ceremony at the Accident Veterans Memorial.

A flag raising will take place at 9:30 a.m. The guest speaker will be Pastor Robert O. Riebau of Zion Lutheran Church in Accident.

Memorial Day Parade, Service Set In Oakland

The American Legion of Oakland, Proctor Kildow Post #71, will once again sponsor a Memorial Day Parade in the town, followed by a commemorative service at the Oakland Cemetery. The events will take place on Monday, May 31.

The parade will form on Liberty Street and proceed through Oakland, up to the cemetery, which is located along High Street.

The starting time for the line-up will be 10 a.m., with the parade to begin at 10:30 a.m. All those who wish to participate in the parade are asked to contact Ron Friend at 301-334-2258 before May 27.

The commemorative service at the Oakland Cemetery will start at 11 a.m. The guest speaker will be the Honorable Judge Leonard Eiswert of Oakland. The legion commander, Jim Stewart, will serve as the master of ceremonies for the program. The Southern High School Band and the Garrett Highlands Pipes and Drums will provide music.

Members of various veterans organizations will place wreaths at the grave of the Unknown Soldier, and the VFW Post #10077 of Deer Park will provide the gun salute.

All veterans are encouraged to participate in the parade, Friend said. Those wishing to march in the parade are welcome to do so. A float will be provided for those who wish to ride.

The public is encouraged to attend the events.

Grantsville Sets Old Fashioned Memorial Day

The Town of Grantsville, along with the American Legion Post 214 and Northern High School, will host an "old fashioned Memorial Day celebration."

Planned events include a parade along Miller Street from Post 214 to the town park Veteran's Memorial beginning at 10 a.m. A program at the memorial will begin around 10:15 a.m., followed by a picnic in the park that is free to the public with free entertainment.

The guest speaker will be Sen. George Edwards. The Grantsville Involvement Group will have games for children, including a three-legged race and egg toss.

Any residents or family members who are active in the military are encouraged to join the parade and/or program dressed in uniform.

Children are also welcome to decorate their bicycles and join the parade procession.

Activities are expected to conclude sometime around noon.

Any business or resident which has not been contacted and would like to donate to the picnic may call the Town Hall at 301-895-3144.

Other participating organizations include Northern Band, Northern FFA, Northern JROTC, Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department, Garrett County Sheriff's Office, and Jimmy B.

Kitzmiller Man Sentenced To Six Months For Obtaining Drug By Fraud

In recent Garrett County District Court hearings, Charles Raymond Housley, 36, Kitzmiller, was found guilty by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert of obtaining drug by fraud. He was sentenced to six months, with five months, 21 days suspended, 18 months of unsupervised probation, and fined $92.50.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office and the GC Narcotics Task Force were called to investigate a November 2009 incident in which Housley allegedly presented a forged prescription for Percocet to a local pharmacy. The attending pharmacist contacted the agency listed on the prescription and found that it had not been authorized by anyone there. Housley was later identified in a photo line-up by one of the pharmacy assistants. He was not prosecuted on charges of forgery of prescription or a controlled dangerous substance obtained by forgery.

In other district court news, Pierce Alexander Grandi, 23, McHenry, was found guilty of theft valued less than $1,000 and two counts of theft valued at less than $100. The three charges stem from three separate incidents. He was sentenced to 30 days, with 30 suspended, one year of supervised probation, and a total of $322.50 in fines.

Grandi was stopped by Maryland State Police in September 2009, after the McHenry Barrack received a theft complaint from Arrowhead Market. When Grandi was stopped, police informed him that he was seen on video surveillance shoplifting a bottle of liquor. Grandi admitted to the theft and was placed under arrest.

It was then reported in November 2009 that Grandi had stolen a bottle of STP Gas Treatment from the BFS in McHenry. He was also witnessed on video surveillance in December 2009 stealing a muzzle-loader from the Oakland Wal-Mart. He was seen concealing the weapon inside his pant leg. Maryland State Police troopers were the arresting officers in these two incidents as well.

Maxwell Kelley Sater, 19, Rockville, and Sean DelJoubar, 18, Potomac, both pleaded guilty to CDS possession of paraphernalia stemming from a traffic stop in January of this year. Sater was the driver of a vehicle stopped by Maryland State Police after it was witnessed traveling at a high rate of speed on I-68.

After the officer allegedly detected an odor of marijuana, a probable cause search was done on the vehicle in which DelJoubar was a passenger. Police recovered a marijuana cigarette, a bag of marijuana, and a burnt marijuana cigarette. Sater and DelJoubar were each sentenced to probation before judgment (PBJ), one day of unsupervised probation, and fines of $207.50. They were not prosecuted for a charge of CDS possession of marijuana.

Shawn Eric Sines, 31, Friendsville, was charged with three counts of theft valued at $500 plus, two counts of conspiracy theft valued at $500 plus, and one count of theft scheme valued at $500 plus. The charges stemmed from an incident that occurred in September 2009. His charges were placed on stet with conditions that he stay off the victim's property and testify for the state at a restitution hearing.

Travis Christopher Holben, 23, Hyattsville, was charged with CDS possession of marijuana stemming from a January incident in the Wisp Resort parking lot investigated by GCSO and NTF. His charge was placed on stet with conditions that he complete 40 hours of community service.

Joel Trevor McDaniel, 36, Grantsville, was not prosecuted on a charge of second degree assault stemming from a domestic dispute in March.

Quovone Deangelo Davis, 20, was not prosecuted on a charge of second degree assault stemming from a domestic dispute in March.

DUI/DWI HEARINGS

The following driving while under the influence (DUI) and driving while impaired (DWI) cases were heard in recent Garrett County District Court proceedings, with Judge Eiswert presiding.

Anthony Scott Coddington, 23, Maryland, was found guilty of a January DWI. He was sentenced to one year, with 10 months suspended, three years' supervised probation, and fines of $257.50. He was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DUI per se.

Wayne Ronald Henke, 39, Pennsylvania, pleaded guilty to a September 2008 DWI. He received a PBJ verdict, 30 days with 30 days suspended, one year of unsupervised probation, and fines of $307.50. He was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DUI per se.

Deborah Marie Hostetler, 49, Pennsylvania, pleaded guilty to a March DWI and received a PBJ verdict, 30 days with 30 days suspended, one year of unsupervised probation, and $307.50 in fines. She was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DUI per se.

Clarification Noted In Watkins Case

This newspaper recently carried an article about a court case involving Mark Robert Watkins, 50, Grantsville, who was the defendant in a DWI case.

In must be clarified that there are two individuals in the county who are known as Mark Watkins. The aforementioned defendant should not be confused with W. Mark Watkins, who resides along Mayhew Inn Road and is the owner of Hot Shots Thermal Imaging.

Produce Coupons To Be Given To Senior Citizens

The Garrett County Area Agency on Aging will be working with the Senior Farmers Market Nutrition Program in June to distribute coupons to eligible older citizens with limited incomes. The program benefits older citizens by supplementing their diets during the summer growing season with locally grown fresh fruits and vegetables.

Each qualified participant can receive $30 worth of coupons, which can be redeemed at designated farmers markets in Maryland.

To qualify for the program, a person must be at least 60 years old, a resident of Garrett County, and participate in at least one of the following qualifying programs:

- Qualified Medicare Beneficiary Program
- Special Low-Income Medicare Beneficiary Program
- Primary Adult Care Program
- Supplemental Security Income
- Extra Help with Medicare D Prescription Drug Program
- Medicaid
- Senior Employment Program
- Food Supplement Program or Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (formerly the Food Stamp Program)
- Maryland Energy Assistance program (MEAP)
- Electrical Universal Service Program

Dates, times, and locations of the distribution sites are as follows:

- Tuesday, June 1, Grantsville Senior Center, 9–11 a.m.
- Tuesday, June 1, Friendsville Community Center, 1–3 p.m.
- Wednesday, June 2, Kitzmiller Community Center/Nutrition Site, 10:30–11:30 a.m.
- Thursday, June 3, Mary Browning Senior Center (Oakland), 9–11:00 a.m.
- Monday, June 7, Mary Browning Senior Center, 1–3 p.m.
- Tuesday, June 8, Swanton Community Center/Nutrition Site, 10–11:30 a.m.
- Monday, June 14, Mary Browning Senior Center, 1–3 p.m.

All participants are required to attend a nutrition education program prior to receiving coupons.

Proof of age, residency, and program participation must be provided at time of coupon distribution.

If an eligible older person is unable to attend the distribution, she/he may designate a proxy to do this for her/him. However, forms must be obtained and completed in advance of the distribution date.

For questions, or to arrange for a proxy, persons may call 301-334-9431, ext. 178.

This project promotes the Garrett County Community Action Committee strategy of creating an environment where vulnerable Garrett County residents have shelter, food, access to health care and support on life skills, thereby increasing the number of families and individuals who are economically self-sufficient and able to live independently.

Man Charged With Robbery, Theft, Assault

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to the BFS in Oakland for a reported robbery on Sunday. Through investigation, it was learned that Jamie Lee Shiflett had robbed the store, and he was subsequently arrested and charged with robbery, theft, and second-degree assault. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Warrants Lead To Two Arrests By GC Deputies

Two men were arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies on the strength of warrants. The following cases are unrelated.

Franklin Delmar Moats, 52, Oakland, was arrested last Thursday after turning himself in to the Garrett Bureau of Investigation. He is charged with second-degree child abuse and second-degree assault. The warrant was obtained following an investigation completed by the GBI into an alleged physical assault to a juvenile that reportedly occurred at Moats' residence earlier this month. He was later released from the Garrett County Jail on $2,500 bond.

Paul Thomas Turner, 42, Grantsville, was arrested on a Garrett County Circuit Court warrant and is charged with failure to appear. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Police Respond To Disabled Car; Driver Arrested

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a disabled vehicle in Mtn. Lake Park on Monday that led to an arrest. Driver Joseph Allen Coddington was allegedly driving under the influence of alcohol. He is charged with DUI, DUI per se, and driving while impaired by alcohol. He was released on personal recognizance.

MSP Seeking Info On Burglary At Accident Home

Maryland State Police are seeking information concerning a theft that recently occurred at an Accident residence. Sometime between March 24 and April 30, unknown suspect(s) gained entry into a Rabbit Hollow Road residence through a basement window. A Samsung 38-inch flat screen television was stolen. Anyone with information is asked to contact the MSP McHenry Barrack at 301-895-1101.

GCSO Responds To Two Car Accidents Without Injuries

Two separate motor vehicle accidents were investigated by Garrett County sheriff's deputies. No one was injured in either incident.

Deputies responded to the intersection of Turkey Neck Road and Maryland Highway (Rt. 135) at approximately 11:30 a.m. Sunday. Investigation revealed that Carl Purcell Rebele had been traveling on Rt. 135, when he attempted a left turn onto Turkey Neck. He failed to yield to oncoming traffic and struck a westbound vehicle on Rt. 135 driven by Sheila Yvonne Shaffer. Rebele's vehicle then struck a third vehicle that was stopped at the stop sign on Turkey Neck Road driven by Randall Lee Friend. Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department also responded to assist at the scene. Rebele was cited for the incident.

Deputies responded to the area of Fourth and Alder streets, Oakland, for an accident without injuries. Investigation revealed that driver Tammie Gonzalez turned onto Fourth Street and struck two parked vehicle. She was cited for failure to control speed to avoid collision.

OFFICIALLY BREAKING GROUND on Monday for the new transportation museum of the Garrett County Historical Society were, pictured from left, Lonnie Naylor, representing the Howard and Audrey Naylor Foundation which is providing much of the funding for the project; Robert Boal, society president; and Steve and Troy Gnegy, contractors for he project. The museum will be located along Liberty Street in Oakland.

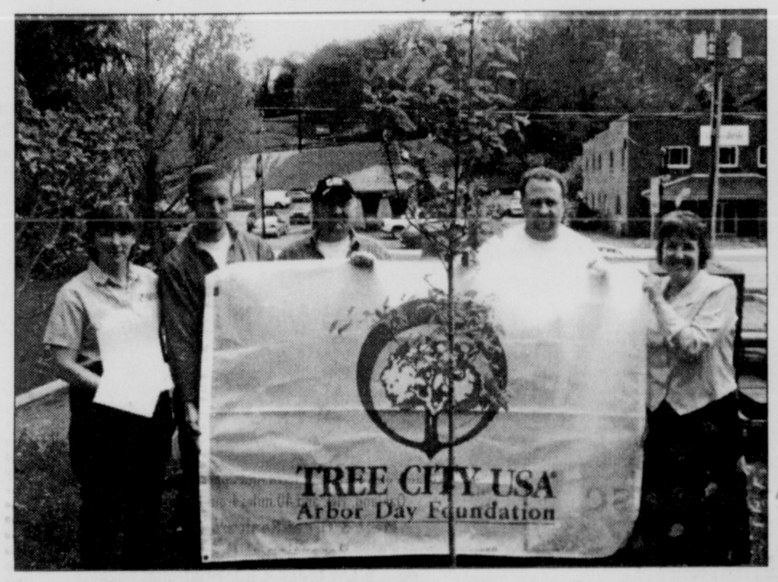
GCSO Deputies Make DUI, DWI Arrests This Week

Two arrests were made by Garrett County sheriff's deputies this week that resulted in arrests for driving under the influence. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies responded to the area of Maryland Highway and Paul Street for a report of a motor vehicle accident. Investigation revealed that a vehicle operated by Ernest Graham left the roadway and traveled down an embankment. He was cited for DUI, DUI per se, driving while impaired, and driver consuming an alcoholic beverage in passenger area of a motor vehicle on highway.

Deputies stopped a vehicle driven by Randy Lee Wiley, 19, on Yoder Street, Grantsville, for a moving violation. Investigation revealed Wiley to be driving under the influence of a controlled dangerous substance. A search of Wiley and his vehicle revealed a quantity of suspected marijuana and a quantity of suspected heroin.

He is charged w th failure to give required signal of intention to turn, motor vehicle without required stop lamp, driving while impaired by CDS, DWI by drugs, CDS possession of marijuana, and CDS possession of heroin. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.



OAKLAND DECLARED TREE CITY USA – The Arbor Day Foundations recently recognized Oakland as a Tree City USA community for its commitment to urban forestry. This is the eighth year Oakland has earned this national designation. The Tree City USA program is sponsored by the nonprofit Arbor Day Foundation in cooperation with the National Association of State Foresters and the USDA Forest Service. Oakland has met the four standards to become a Tree City USA community, which must have a tree board or department, a tree-care ordinance, a comprehensive community forestry program, and an Arbor Day observance and proclamation. The town of Oakland celebrated the annual observance of Arbor Day with a ceremonial proclamation and tree planting. In the photo, left to right, are Becky Wilson, western region coordinator of Urban and Community Forestry for DNR; David Shaffer, Alan Roth, and Scott Bittinger, Oakland street employees; and Oakland Mayor Peggy Jamison. "We commend Oakland's elected officials, volunteers, and its citizens for providing vital care for its urban forest," said John Rosenow, chief executive and founder of the Arbor Day Foundation. "Trees provide numerous environmental, economical, and health benefits to millions of people each day, and we applaud communities that make planting and caring for trees a top priority." For more information, persons may visit the web site at www.arborday.org/TreeCityUSA.

EARTH DAY ACTIVITIES HELD AT GARRETT MEMORIAL – Earth Day activities at Garrett County Memorial Hospital coincided with a visit from Carmela Coyle, executive director of the Maryland Hospital Association. Pictured are Coyle and Donald Battista, hospital president/CEO, with a newly planted dwarf weeping cherry tree. The tree was donated to the hospital by Holland Nursery of Aurora, W.Va. Coyle and other MHA executives – Jim Reiter, senior vice president of communication, and Mike Robbins, senior vice president of finance – spent the day at the hospital to meet with administrative officials and to tour the facility. In addition to the tree planting, several Earth Day activities were organized by the GCMH Employee Events Committee, including a collection for the Garrett County Animal Shelter, a Go Green Contest, and a Leaf Identification Contest. The animal shelter collection included dog and cat food, collars, dishes, toys, treats, blankets and towels, shampoo, cat litter, and monetary donations to aid the shelter's efforts. The Go Green Contest encouraged employees to enter their ideas to make the hospital more "green." Those who participated had a chance to win a drawing for a Pleasant Valley Greenhouse gift certificate. The winners were Gina Artice, Jessica Lucas, and Bobbie Gordon. Barbara Pitt won the leaf contest by correctly identifying the most leaves. She won a book a book about room makeovers with "junkmarket" style.

Enlightened and Reassured...

Making state and probably even national news this week was last Thursday's seizure of what appear to be severely neglected animals on a Garrett County farm by local humane society officials. Besides more than four dozen live animals – some of them barely alive – also found on the property were the carcasses of many others.

We in our newsroom were puzzled about the way this seizure was carried out, basically not understanding why this seizure was not handled by law enforcement officials and agents from the county animal shelter. After all, the abuse and neglect of animals is clearly a violation of the Annotated Code of Maryland, and one would think that an alleged violation of these laws would be handled directly by law enforcement. But in asking questions of Garrett County state's attorney Lisa Thayer Welch, we gained some interesting insight on current laws governing such circumstances.

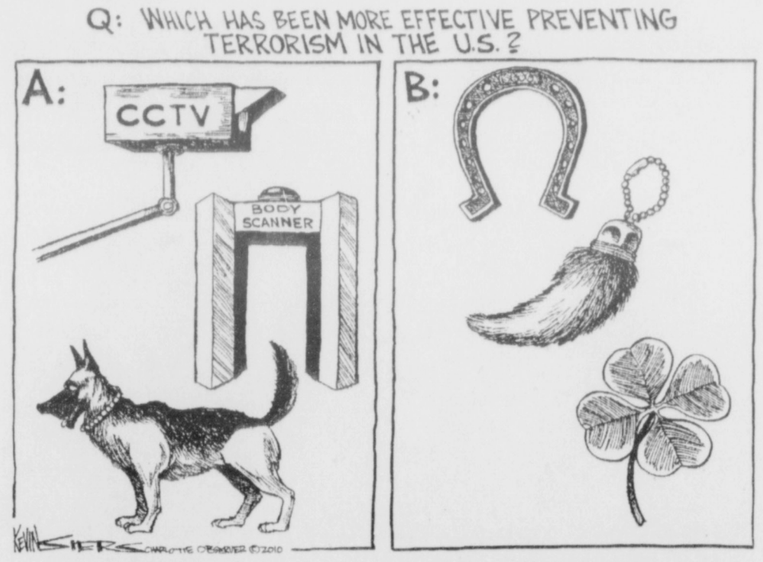
Believe it or not, county law prohibits animal control authorities from conducting animal seizures such as this one. These county-paid employees can seize an animal only when it is endangering human beings, such as a dog that has bitten someone.

On the other hand, members of a recognized, certified humane society, who are generally unarmed volunteers, are permitted by law to enter private property and conduct such a seizure, as long as they act according to certain legal procedures and requirements. As an example, one of the requirements is certification from a veterinarian that such a seizure is warranted. These volunteers may do this without the presence of a law enforcement officer, which to us is both unwise and downright scary.

A discussion this morning with the state's attorney was both helpful and somewhat reassuring, however. When asked why there is a county law that prohibits animal control officers from conducting seizures, she explained that it is primarily a matter of money. (Isn't everything?) Changing this law would add considerable expense to the county budget, forcing the county to pay for something that is currently being handled by volunteers. It would be similar to the county having to pick up the tab for fire suppression if all of the volunteer firefighters had to be replaced with paid personnel.

It was reassuring to find out that in nearly every case of seizure by humane society volunteers, a law enforcement officer goes with them to the property, even though the law does not require that. It simply makes good sense by reducing the chances of some kind of altercation with the property owner.

We were also pleased to learn that, in the opinion of Thayer Welch, the leading volunteers with the Garrett County Humane Society and the other local "animal-rights" organizations (PAWS and HART) are dedicated, competent, trained to handle seizures properly and legally, and generally work in a cooperative way with the state's attorney and local law enforcement, all of which is crucial to the effort to eliminate the horrendous crime of animal abuse and neglect.



Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

I read your editorial of May 13 and thought it most appropriate regarding placement of the cartoon next to it about the 2010 Census.

The problem with big government or "big brother" is that they are never satisfied when we give them just a little access to our rights. They want it all. Remember, when we give up our rights to gain some imagined security, we lose on all sides. We are neither safe nor free.

FYI: People who are angered at receiving a ticket will be angry regardless of the "fairness" of the circumstances.

John Williams
Mtn. Lake Park

To the Editor:

I was glad to receive a reply from Mr. Hebler as to my comments in a previous letter. I am sorry to have offended his sensibilities with what appears to be a vain attempt at wit. Maybe he'd feel better if he'd slam his toe in a door or run off the tax assessor. Lighten up, big fella.

Yes, it's true. Pretty women sitting in mini-skirts halfway up to their elbows makes for great entertainment. I guess I'm no different than the rest of us old guys reliving our youth when we had a half a chance at some good looking elbow. That, however, is not news. The time I spend with Fox News is not for the deviant sexual fashion, but to see what kind of fear and craziness they're foisting on the sheep in their flock.

As to the "scalawags" on Wall Street, I think you give them too much credit for being just a bunch of nice guys exercising their 1st Amendment rights. Credit cards used to have a 700-word agreement. Now it's 30 pages full of stuff you and three lawyers couldn't comprehend. And guess what – none of it benefits the cardholders. Big surprise?

No, Mr. Hebler, it's neither a surprise nor funny. Wall Street and large corporations run this country any way they want to, and the rest of us be damned. Let's just see how this "oil spill" in the Gulf works out.

Until we get the money out of politics with public funding of elections, break up the banking system to a manageable size, get a third party invested in our political system, and start pulling together as a people, we'll continue to reap what we sow.

Bill Thomas

To the Editor:

Continued fiscal irresponsibility is crushing the taxpayer! What is the solution?

Vote them out! We have just seen the ultimate exercise of fiscal irresponsibility by our elected leaders.

The large headline says $23,000,000 for two swimming pools, and the next headline says the commissioners cannot afford text books for school! Citizens, again, the commissioners are saying they do not understand what being responsible is. They do not intend to stop their crushing decisions which continue weekly. Building a 300' connecting road for $750,000 in Oakland is another fiasco and indication that they do not understand. There are already connecting roads between 3rd and 4th streets.

Our only hope is for three new citizens (who understand that tax money comes from us, whether it is state, federal, or local) to run and oust the present commissioners. Garrett County voters, only you can save us from our property being sold because we cannot continue to pay high taxes when so many are losing their jobs.

Thomas E. Doyle
Oakland

To the Editor:

Did you know that if you are a Garrett County resident, over the age of 18, and have $25 you can file to run for a Garrett County commissioner seat to represent the district in which you live. We the people must begin to run for political offices if we want the government to serve all citizens of Garrett County and not the privileged few.

We have asked questions of the current Garrett County commissioners on numerous occasions about the Eagle Rock wind turbine facility, as well as the high voltage substation that will be feet from our home.

We have requested answers to questions like: What is the opinion of the county regarding my family's health and safety? What about my property rights and the rights of others in our neighborhood whose properties are being devalued? What about unsafe structure ordinances? What about current research that indicates that two-mile safety setbacks should be required for residences? What about the documented lack of erosion control measures? What about the sensitivity ordinances? What about the threatened, rare, and endangered species that reside here on Backbone Mountain?

We have only had responses from county administrator Pagenhardt, who continues to fail to address any of the questions or safety concerns that have been presented.

However, the county has managed to keep representatives of Constellation Energy informed about our correspondence by including them on all e-mail responses to us, as well as forwarding Constellation our questions.

The county commissioners could have made provisions to protect property rights and require safety setbacks, as well as to work hand in hand with the community to make sure that we were protected. They did not do that; instead they abandoned our community.

This is a David vs. Goliath situation with the industrial wind energy developers. Neither Constellation nor any other billion-dollar companies need to work with us residents since there are no local regulations providing protection. All residents are open to this type of exploitation.

I am sure that the wind developers will soon distribute a mass marketing propaganda piece. They will enlist a marketing campaign or send more letters to convince Garrett County residents that everything is going well here on Eagle Rock. They do this everywhere they go... they expect resistance and they work diligently to ease your minds. Well, it is not going well.

To the Editor:

"Sorry to disappoint those folks at Clipper Windpower, but I am not intimidated." – Kim Connaughton

"These excerpts speak volumes about the lack of resolve and the apparent lack of ability of the current commissioners and the county administrator to serve and inform [voters]" – Eric Robison

"Of Senator Edwards, I ask, 'Why have you turned your back on the citizens who voted for you and trusted you?'" – Hilda M. Wilburn

"Thanks to the Reagan Administration and the Supreme Court ... the power of the people is gone." – Cynthia Knight

Above is a small sample of large doubts about our elected officials in last week's letters to The Republican editor. Is today as bad as the previous county administrator stealing from the treasury while commissioners' credit card records were lost? No one suggests malfeasance like that; but it is fair to ask how the few dollars lost to malfeasance then compare to the millions at risk to complacency today.

In fact there are plenty of fair questions.

Are officials protecting ordinary taxpayers, or going along to get along with major taxpayers? Are elected officials showing courage or gall? Can you vote for the person instead of the party? Is voting Republican more important than good jobs and open, effective government? Why have taxpayers paid more every year after 2000 despite the largest increases in revenues in county history? Where are specific measurable benefits to taxpayers?

In 2000, government workers averaged $547/wk in Garrett County, 44% over the $381/wk private sector average. By 2008, the government advantage increased to 57%, $766/wk to $487/wk in the private sector. Why are private-sector wages further behind government wages? Why isn't spending controlled, and where are better jobs? What are the specific dollar benefits of official boondoggles like wind farms and the bypass?

If you question official decisions, if you believe jobs and controlling spending should be priorities and that elected officials should be open and responsive, please leave your questions on my home telephone at 301-334-5903, or e-mail questions to <wlwelch@iceweb.net>, or mail questions to the address below. Every question with contact information will be sent a personal response within 48 hours.

Sincerely,
W.L. "Bill" Welch

P.S. I respect every elected official in Garrett County government. Being satisfied with their results is a different subject. This is about measured performance.

To the Editor:

Memorial Day is fast approaching, and while some recognize this holiday as the official start of the summer season by pulling out the lawn furniture, scrubbing decks and porches, and firing up the grill, I would like to ask everyone to take a few minutes to remember to observe its true meaning, a day of remembrance and recognition for those who have died in our nation's service.

A "Gift from the Heart" to Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation is the perfect way to memorialize a loved one's contribution to our country. It has a two-fold benefit of honoring those who have already passed and showing support for quality health care available through our local hospital. Funds from the foundation are used towards patient-care equipment needs at the hospital.

Maintaining the quality of healthcare that is available in Garrett County is a goal that all of us share. Every gift to the foundation, regardless of size, is important and helps ensure high quality, state-of-the-art care in our community. Contributions are recognized in the Memorial Day issue of the Forum, a GCMH publication.

Please consider making a "Gift from the Heart" donation to recognize Memorial Day and honor someone important in your life. Contributions can be sent to the GCMH Foundation, 251 N. Fourth St., Oakland, MD 21550.

Thank you,
Regina Gearhart

To the Editor:

Garrett County has wonderful volunteers. One of the most dedicated groups we have are the volunteers of the rescue squads. The time they give to the community and training they take are essential to our health and safety. I am writing this letter to let you know one way you can support the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

There will be a spaghetti lunch served at the squad hall on June 5, 11 a.m. until we run out; eat in or take out. And please mark your calendars for August 20 and 21 for our annual yard sale, a great way to pick up stuff for the school year.

Living in rural Maryland means that we have to help our neighbors and friends. The rescue squad is one of the most important services we have, and they can really use your support so they will be there when you need them.

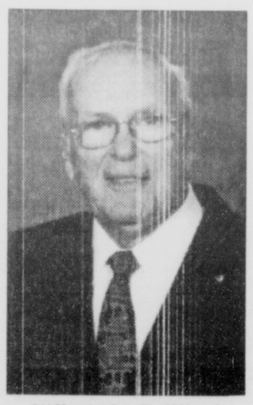
DeWitt Running For Judge Of GC Orphans' Court



Clifford C. DeWitt has announced his candidacy for another term as judge of the Orphans' Court for Garrett County.

DeWitt is a lifelong resident of Garrett County and has previously served as clerk of the Circuit Court.

He was first elected to the Orphans' Court in 1990. He was appointed in 1994 by the governor to his current position as chief judge.

DeWitt said he feels his years of experience in both the Circuit and Orphans' courts qualify him to serve the public of Garrett County "fairly and honestly in matters brought before the Orphans' Court."

He is an active member of the Maryland Association of Judges of Orphans' Courts and attends the organization's sessions as well as the Conference of Orphans' Court Judges classes in Annapolis.

A past president of the Garrett County Historical Society, he currently serves on its board of directors and has been involved in other civic projects in Garrett County. He served two years in the U.S. military and attends the Crellin Assembly of God Church.

J. Robert DeWitt will serve as the candidate's campaign treasurer.

GCHS Rescues

zation's members is fostering the goats.

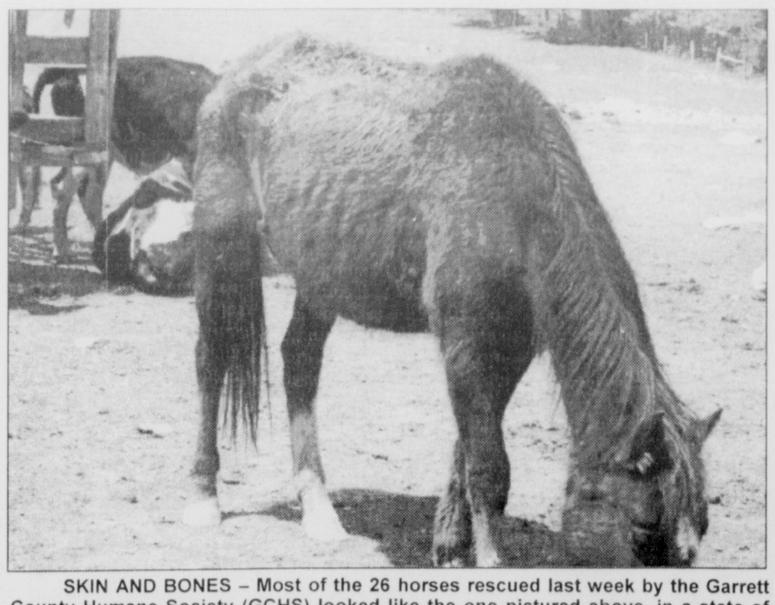
The story of the rescue became national news last week, and Clatterbuck said it has been frustrating to hear a great deal of misinformation about the case. Many questions have been voiced as to why the situation at the farm was allowed to reach such a critical point.

"This farm had been inspected on three previous occasions spanning a 4-year period," Clatterbuck said. "The first visit was made following a report of 'skinny horses.' Upon arrival, Officer Lohr discovered a few thin horses, but the majority were of average or heavy flesh. The owner explained the thin horses were recently purchased at a sale and that he felt sorry for them so he 'rescued' them."

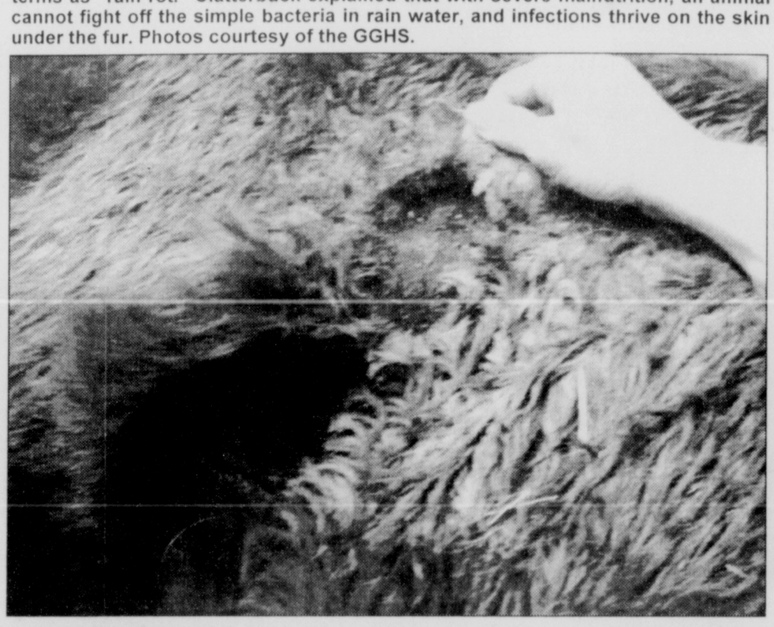
She said another report came to the GCHS in the summer of 2009.

"We realized then that the owner had dramatically increased his herd size," she said. "Most animals showed signs of adequate weight and good health, but needed their feet trimmed. The thin horses were identified as having medical issues, and the owner was instructed to contact a vet."

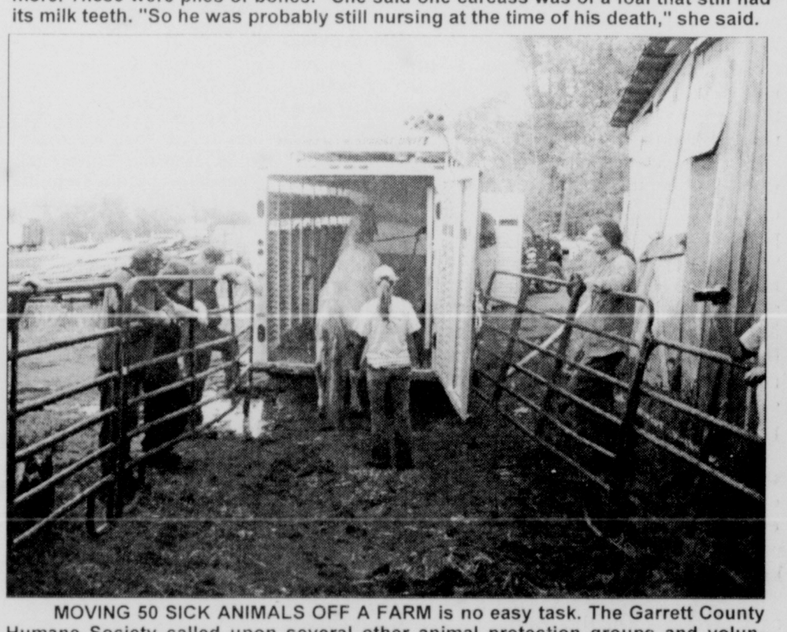
The identity of the owner has not been released pending charges, which have not yet been filed. GCHS has one year and a day to file the misdemeanor animal abuse and neglect charges. Clatterbuck said the GCHS is awaiting evaluations from the three rescue facilities supervised by Days End Farm Horse Rescue, where the animals will be kept and cared for until the trial date. Results of body scoring, blood tests, and veterinary checks will be released.



SKIN AND BONES – Most of the 26 horses rescued last week by the Garrett County Humane Society (GCHS) looked like the one pictured above, in a state of severe malnutrition and neglect. Deb Clatterbuck, investigator for the GCHS, said the animals were simply not fed the amount they need to stay healthy. Several other health issues arise for animals that are compromised by hunger. In the photo below, a horse's matted fur is being lifted to reveal what is known in veterinary terms as "rain rot." Clatterbuck explained that with severe malnutrition, an animal cannot fight off the simple bacteria in rain water, and infections thrive on the skin under the fur. Photos courtesy of the GGHS.



TOO LATE FOR SOME – Deb Clatterbuck, investigator for the Garrett County Humane Society, and animal control officer Denise Lohr spent some 16 hours searching for more animals on the southern Garrett County farm, as they had been told there were at least four more horses on the property. Clatterbuck said she was searching for living animals, but then she looked at the ground and saw bones. "It was just a terrible realization," she said. "We weren't looking for live horses anymore. These were piles of bones." She said one carcass was of a foal that still had its milk teeth. "So he was probably still nursing at the time of his death," she said.



MOVING 50 SICK ANIMALS OFF A FARM is no easy task. The Garrett County Humane Society called upon several other animal protection groups and volunteers to help with the mass exodus of ailing livestock from a farm along King Wildesen Road last week. A total of 26 horses, 18 cows, and six goats were taken to Woodbine, where they are now being cared for at the Days End Farm Horse Rescue. The GCHS recruited 32 volunteers to manage the necessary 14 trucks and livestock trailers. They also engaged a "cutting" horse, which is trained to help herd other animals, along with a roping rider, plus a cattle dog to round up the animals. Several volunteers are pictured as they guide one horse into the trailer, sending it on for medical care. All the rescued animals survived transport, Clatterbuck reported, which was a relief to the volunteers. They had feared the worse for the more compromised animals. Clatterbuck said they are recuperating. "They are all eating, which is a very good sign," she said. "The difference in them after just one week is amazing."

Jeff Eyre, director of the American Humane Society's Northeast Field Investigations and Response, was in the county on Tuesday and Wednesday. He and volunteers from GCHS and Days End Farm bagged and tagged forensic evidence and sent it to Melinda Merck, DVM and specialist in forensic investigations, in Orlando, Fla., for further evaluation.

The cost to house the animals right now is $22 per day, plus the veterinary care will cost $2,000 per animal.

Maryland's prison agency said it is donating two truckloads of excess hay to help feed the Garrett County animals. The Division of Correction reported that inmates from a Howard County facility were to deliver 220 bales to the Days End Farm this morning. The hay is from a thoroughbred retirement farm tended to by inmates.

The entire rescue was handled by the GCHS. There is no county support available for such operations. The GCHS is a volunteer organization with nine active members. In 2009, the group responded to 256 neglect and abuse calls.

"I wish I had the time and resources to do follow-up on every call," said Officer Lohr. "I would like to record that a veterinarian had examined the needy animal, or the owner had followed up with our recommendations, but there are just too many cases to deal with. I am a volunteer and have to make a living as well as care for my own animals. Our county is an agricultural county and needs a full-time animal control officer/investigator. The shelter can only deal with nuisance dogs and cats. The staff can do no investigative work at all."

GCHS founder and executive director Bernadine Friend and board member Nancy Helbig did a county-wide sweep in the fall of 2009 of residences.

"Animal abuse is rampant in our area and consumes thousands of volunteer hours," Friend said. "We raise money through our Dog-Gone FUNdraiser, donations and a $5,000 grant from the county commissioners to assist with our spay/neuter efforts. We spent $34,000 on the spay/neuter program, and $21,000 on investigations and caring for the sick and injured animals in 2009."

There are three local animal protection groups, Clatterbuck said. The GCHS works with abuse and neglect calls, sick and injured, and spay/neuter. HART is building a no-kill adoption facility along Bumble Bee Road. That group operates a spay/neuter clinic for the income eligible, and transports animals to rescue facilities. In 2009, HART transported 620 animals from the local shelter to rescue facilities. The third organization, PAWS, raises thousands of dollars each year at its Passion for Pets event to fund an extensive spay/neuter program.

All three animal groups work closely with the county's animal shelter, providing donated items, contacting national rescue groups, arranging transports to distant rescue centers, transporting animals, vaccinating cats and dogs, bathing and clipping, posting animals on the Internet for adoption, supplying The Republican with the weekly Adorable Adoptables information, and other activities.

"Regretfully, this tragic situation has turned into our own version of Animal Planet's GCHS Animal Cops," said Lisa Baker, president of the GCHS. "Most of our community involvement is financial and educational. Our organization was founded in 1983 by Bernadine Friend, and we have helped thousands of residents and their animals. The Humane Society is in desperate need of volunteers and donations. People call for our help every day."

ETHELWYN B. RILEY

Ethelwyn Blanche Riley, 88, Oakland, died Thursday, May 13, 2010, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Born Oct. 27, 1921, in Westernport, she was a daughter of the late William Lewis and Lena Ellen (Groves) Otto. She was also preceded in death by her husband, Audley Riley; her daughter, Saundra Riley; four brothers, James Lewis Otto, Daniel Fredrick Otto, William Edward Otto, and Clarence Harvey Otto; and five sisters, Mary Jane Valentine, Nina Fannie Otto, Elsie Elizabeth Aronhalt, Ruby Mae DeWitt, and Beulah Alice Otto.

Mrs. Riley had worked for Bausch & Lomb and the University of Maryland Extension Office.

She is survived by four sons, Audley Riley Jr., Dennis Riley, Reece Riley, and Robert Riley, all of Oakland; one sister, Margaret Ellen Dennison, Westernport; 13 grandchildren; 25 great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

At Mrs. Riley's request, her body was cremated.

David A. Burdock Funeral Home, Oakland, was in charge of arrangements.

Online condolences may be made to the family at www.burdockfuneralhome.com.

VIRGINIA F. POLING

Virginia Florence Poling, 87, Oakland, died Tuesday, May 18, 2010, at Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home.

Born Dec. 24, 1922, in Freeport, W.Va., she was a daughter of the late Ray "Simon" and Mamie (Nine) Cogley. She was also preceded in death by her husband, Herman E. Poling; and three brothers, John, Franklin, and James Cogley.

Mrs. Poling was a member of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, where she served as acolyte mother and choir mother, and she was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary. She was a founding member and volunteer at the church's Nearly New Shop.

She enjoyed family gatherings, cooking, fishing, and bingo. As the oldest child in a large family, Virginia helped raise her 10 brothers and sisters, five children, and 35 grandchildren, and she was a positive influence on numerous non-family children through her volunteer service at her church and the community. Virginia was truly loved and will be missed by many.

She is survived by one son, Edward Poling, Harrisburg, Pa.; four daughters, Barbara Cassidy and husband David, York, Pa., Mamie Reckart and husband Elmer, Crellin, Virginia Miller and husband Mike, Fountain, Colo., and Sandra Tasker and husband Randy, Crellin; four brothers, Ellis, Clarence, Joseph, and Simon Cogley; three sisters, Frances Coddington, Delores Reiner, and Linda Lipscomb; 10 grandchildren; 24 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Friends will be received today, Thursday, from 7 to 9 p.m. at David A. Burdock Funeral Home, Oakland, where a service will be conducted at 11 a.m. on Friday, May 21, with Rev. Dr. Chip Lee officiating.

Expressions of sympathy may be made in her name to St. Matthew's Episcopal Church or to the Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home Activities Department.

Online condolences may be made to the family at www.burdockfuneralhome.com.

ENVIROTHON HELD AT 4-H CENTER – Northern and Southern high school students recently traveled to the Garrett County 4-H Center to participate in the county Envirothon competition. The two teams from Northern High School placed first and second overall as well as received category awards. These students will represent the county at the state competition on June 24 and 25 at the William Schmidt Center, Brandywine. Participants have worked throughout the school year to learn concepts in forestry, aquatics, wildlife, soils, and current environmental issues. All students in grades 9 through 12 are eligible to participate in the Envirothon program. Pictured are members of the Northern Lights Envirothon. In the front row, from left, are Jessica Klotz, Chelsea Giron, Kaitlyn Walker, Brittney Allen, Lacey Green, and Kayley Green. Back row: Skyler Roberts and Brandon Williams.

BOE Accepting Kindergarten And Pre-K Applications

The Garrett County Board of Education is accepting applications for pre-kindergarten students born between Sept. 2, 2005, and Sept. 1, 2006. Parents may also still register for kindergarten if their child was born between Sept. 2, 2004, and Sept. 2, 2005.

However, if a parent/guardian believes that his/her child demonstrates educational need, is socially, emotionally, and academically prepared, and would benefit from participation in either program, applications are available for early entrance. The deadline for submission of requests to the Office of Pupil Services is June 1. Applications can be obtained by calling 301-334-8939.

Democrat Dinner Deadline Date Correction Noted

The annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner, sponsored by the Garrett County Democratic Club, will be held on Tuesday, June 8, at the Wisp Resort in the Crawford Room, McHenry.

A story about the dinner was published in last week's issue of The Republican, but the information received for the article contained an error. The deadline for the event's ticket sales is May 30, not May 21 as reported last week.

The reception will begin at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 7.

Tickets may be obtained through May 30 by calling Doris Goldsborough at 301-334-3007 or Rosalee Finch at 301-334-4076. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Graduates From Hesston College

Daniel Coburn, formerly of Accident, was among Hesston College's 100th class of graduates during its commencement ceremony on Sunday, May 9. The college conferred degrees to the 137 members, which represent 16 states and six countries.

Coburn graduated with an associate of applied arts and sciences degree in pastoral ministries. He and his wife Marlena were members of Glade Mennonite Church in Accident before he began his studies at Hesston. They have three daughters.

Hesston College is a two-year liberal arts college of the Mennonite Church, and is located 30 miles north of Wichita, Kansas.

OPTICAL ILLUSIONS

by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. At one time, two bowling lanes were attached to the Mountain Lake Park Town Hall. Those bowling lanes are gone now, but the back wall has on it a mural of those lanes. The observer thinks he is looking down the lanes toward the pins. Now here is the amazing part: If you stand directly in front of the painting, the lanes appear to run directly straight in front of you. But if you move to the left or right, there is an optical illusion that makes the lanes "move," slanting them right or left in line with your sight, so they still appear to be straight in front of you. Why does it appear this way?

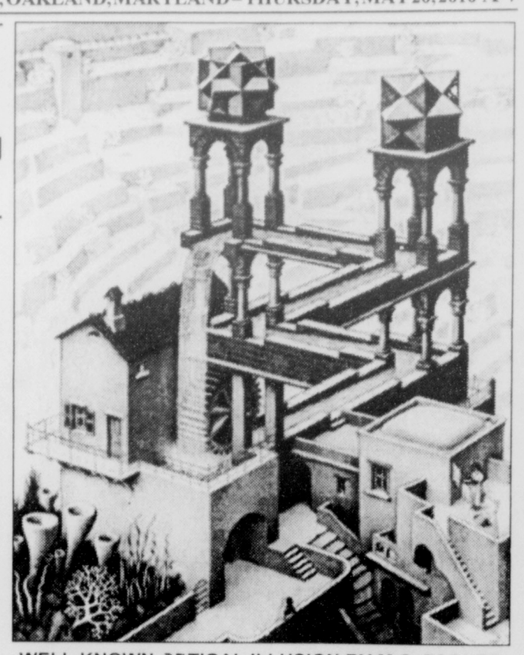
A. This is all about "perception." The science of optical illusions depends on eye-brain coordination, and relies on what you expect to see. The picture presents a two-dimensional representation of the three-dimensional reality that used to be there. Any flat picture relies upon your conventional expectations to fill in the details and convert it to a three-dimensional "concept" or "image" in your brain. Those "conventional expectations" are what allow the optical illusion to occur.

Before the bowling alleys were torn down, a photograph was taken, and that photo hangs on another wall in the building. The mural is a faithful representation of that photo. If you look at the photo and then move left or right, the alleys likewise continue to point straight at you. That is, the very same optical illusion is present in the photograph. So it's not the large size of the wall painting, but the projection downward from three dimensions to two dimensions that facilitates the illusion.

If you go up to the painted wall with a trigonometric measuring device, you can measure that the lines of the floorboards leading toward the alleys are at ever-increasing angles like 10°, 20°, ... 45°, 60°, etc. But those angles never look that steep when you step back and take in the entire picture. Rather, they merely seem to be directed toward where you are standing – because they look like floorboards are "supposed to" look. Your expectations prevail over trigonometric numbers.

Straight down the middle of the picture is a large rail separating the alleys. That is painted straight up and down the picture. When you stand anywhere in the room and look at it, your brain knows that it's a dividing rail, that it ought to be straight, and therefore it must be coming straight at you. That notion is forced upon what you "see," what you "perceive." Therefore, you adjust your perception of all the other lines (floorboards, side walls, windows, ...) to conform to that requirement.

The conversion from three-dimensional reality to a two-dimensional picture is essential to putting across many other optical illusions. Decades ago the artist M.C. Escher made drawings that look like something is really happening – for example, water going over a falls and then flowing downhill in square channels, right back to the beginning (the top of the falls), still going downhill all the way. (See adjacent sketch.) Rationally, you know that can't happen. But every part of the drawing (seen by itself) is normal and reasonable. That is because your eye-brain relationship contains certain expectations about what "normal" looks like, and water falling or flowing in channels is reasonable enough. It is only when you rationally understand that it's physically impossible for all directions to be "downhill" that you realize it's an illusion.



WELL-KNOWN OPTICAL ILLUSION BY M.C. ESCHER

It would probably be possible to photograph the Adventure Sports circular whitewater course atop Marsh Mountain at an angle from the air (concealing the uphill ramp), and thus convey the impression that the course runs downhill forever. That would be essentially the same optical illusion as the Escher drawing. Again, the trick comes in converting from three dimensions (reality) to two dimensions (picture) and relying on eye-brain coordination to fill in the "usual details."

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

Most years, Bittinger in May and June is one of the most lovely places anywhere. But unfortunately, it is not a usual year. It seems like every day it is too cool and wet to be pleasant. I am so tired of gray days when I feel so dragged out I can hardly even think.

I am so sick of hearing all the time about how angry the American people are. And that is why I hope the Tea Party will fail.

I heard a conservative spokesman say that this primary season will be about the climate of anger across the nation. Anger about what? He said maybe it's anger at Obama or Washington, D.C. He did not mention the still sick economy, but it is in far better shape than it was a couple years ago. Why is the average American (whoever that is) so angry?

I wonder what the average income of America is. The range is from a few people earning billions of dollars per year to lots who earn below the poverty line. I'm not sure where that is now, probably under $25,000 per year. And quite a few earn even less than that.

What is the conservatives' proposal to solve the problem of millions of gallons of oil gushing offshore and destroying some extremely valuable natural resources? Besides the seafood industry, we have lost beaches and some extremely valuable coral, which is the source of some valuable medicine, including treatment for cancer, HIV, pain, and many other things. And since we lost so much oil, we should do much more off-shore drilling? That is just crazy.

The first attempt by BP to stop the oil proved to be a failure, so now we will wait until Tuesday when a smaller dome structure might work better. I do not hold much hope.

One fear is that the oil will eventually reach the west side of Florida, then head north to put at risk the entire eastern coastline, including perhaps even our Chesapeake Bay, just when its seafood is making a comeback.

It was bad timing because there has been major undeniable progress in the recovery of the U.S. economy. Last month, 200,000 new jobs were created, although the unemployment rate is unacceptably high because lots of people gave up even trying to find a job. But it is good that some people are feeling some hope.

Although the recession is officially over, there are still way too many Americans who are feeling economic pain. It will take some more time for our economy to fully recover. The unemployment rate is no higher than it was during the Reagan administration, before the healing process was complete.

I think the big reason for hatred for Washington, D.C., is that often our elected representatives are more concerned about their ability to be re-elected. Does anyone act like they believe in the best interest of Americans?

Too often we have a litmus test for certain issues. Or we vastly overemphasize some very complex issue. Do we really mean that someone who is "pro choice" is necessarily in favor of more abortions?

Very recently, a newborn baby was found in a city trash container. That happens all over the place. Clearly, that woman did not see any way that she could cope with caring for that baby. Why not? That is the question we should ask. I don't think it is the condemnation of birth outside of marriage. When I was growing up, that was the end of a girl's life or future. The only solution would be to marry the father.

Extramarital sex is extremely common, and not just now. It existed even in our grandparents' day. Should it be made illegal? That does not seem very sensible. I wonder how Mary felt when she was carrying the baby Jesus, who was the child of God, not of Joseph.

It seems to me that violence or war is only a solution if we behave cruelly and believe that the best weapon is death.

On the other side, we should have empathy – the ability to understand how another human being is feeling in the circumstance he or she is in. It is painful to see so many being deprived, suffering, or being denied any respect and going without the basic necessities. Or being abused or hurt, or in any way denied the opportunity for life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Empathy is when you can feel the pain that someone is feeling. You would rather help than put more pain on them.

I wish the average person would learn to feel empathy, and adopt it as a primary value. If that would happen, it would reduce violent crimes, child abuse, bullying, cruelty to animals, and lots of bad things. For me, it is hard to feel very sorry for a person who has billions of dollars in offshore banks and puts his personal greed above all other considerations. I can't understand how that kind of person feels.

Some desire to go back to the 18th Century when our Founding Fathers worked. That society was pretty simple. The only people who enjoyed any rights were white men, including those who owned property and engaged in professions like doctors, lawyers, and even teachers. Women had almost no rights at all. A majority of Americans were denied even the most basic rights.

My old apple tree is shedding its blossom petals at an alarming rate.

Of course, I would rather have lots of puddles in my lane instead of snow. And the birds seem to enjoy taking a bath in them. The other day I saw two very fat robins who had a real party in one of the big puddles.

During my earlier years of marriage, this was the time for any farm woman to get her vegetable garden started. Well, actually, I would have already planted the cool weather crops, like spinach, lettuce, peas, and onions. They would be loving this kind of weather. It wouldn't be too early now to even put out tomatoes, peppers, and green beans.

I doubt we will get another frost, but I could be wrong. It seems to me that a rogue frost is more likely in late summer or early fall. But since I saw a snowfall on July 4, you never really know about weather in Bittinger.

The birds seem to be pretty busy building nests. Naomi Beitzel has a pair of cardinals building a nest close to her kitchen. I bet baby cardinals will be very cute when they get some feathers. Naomi also has a bluebird. I have not seen them around my house for quite a few years.

It appears there is a tiny bit of progress with trying to contain the oil gusher in the Gulf. It's not time to give any "high five" about it, but these days, a little bit of good news about anything is something to celebrate.

I'm glad that Caitlin and Mere are home from West Virginia University. But they did go over to Morgantown to celebrate a friend's graduation last Saturday. They enjoyed the commencement address delivered by former president Bill Clinton.

I hate the American election system. Primary season, which is now in full swing, is strange. There are so many attack ads. Our neighbors in northern Pennsylvania attracted a lot of national attention. I can't see clearly who I really support in the Democratic primary.

On the one hand, you have a lifelong public servant, Arlen Specter. In his many years in the Senate, he changed his party several times. I admire his independent mind, which sometimes led him to cast an unexpected vote on some issues. I think he always had the best interest of his state in mind.

I wonder what the average age of Americans is. I know we have many more very elderly persons, and I heard that our birth rate is declining. Then there is the huge number of people about my age – the Baby Boom generation.

I'm not sure what the average education is either. My guess is it is probably high school graduate. But that is pretty much a pure guess.

Most Americans are worried about something, but that varies a lot. Not that many worry about environmental health or our poorest people. Most worry about terrorists or their personal finances. Many worry about nuclear weapons around the globe. Most realize that America is the most-free land in the world.

I think I can understand how our president may be feeling. He has so many challenges. But he doesn't have much support from even those who should support his effort to keep our ship of state afloat and moving forward.

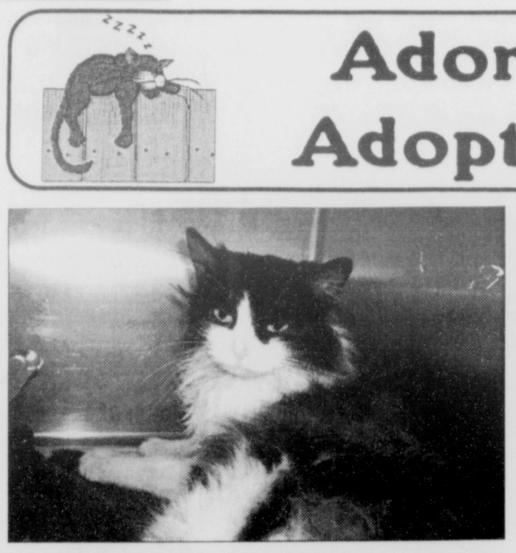
Lots of people are saying that I can't stay in my own home. They think I belong in an assisted-living facility. That is something I couldn't stand, because when I was in the hospital way too long after I almost died from a brain aneurysm, all I could think every minute was, "I want to go home."

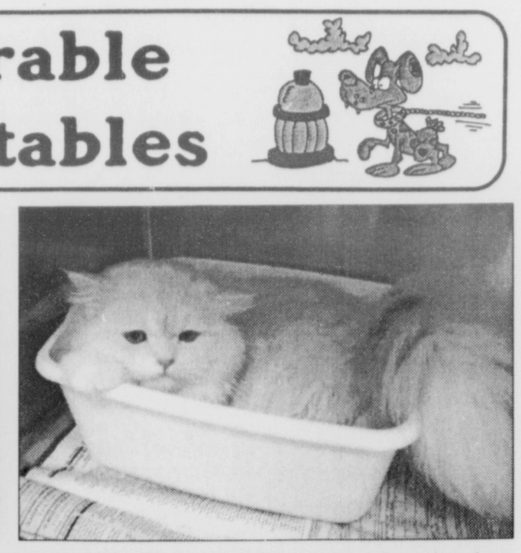
I made a big mistake by getting surgery on my bad (left) ankle. The general reason was so that I would not have so much pain. But I'm sad to say that the pain is much worse now. And I'm still getting bills for it. Medicare did not even come close to paying all the bills. But it has so many big essential challenges without the financial resources to deal with them. I can identify with that. Now my two younger daughters told me that they might need a car to drive to work. That will probably involve deficit spending.

St. John's of Meadow Mountain will hold a yard sale on Saturday, May 29, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Items for sale will include books, anniversary parish cookbooks, clothing, household items, and furniture. Lunch will also be available. The church is located along Route 495 between the North Glade Road and Glendale Road intersections.

Altar flowers at Emmanuel were given by the Kevin and Carol Bass family in memory of Robert O. Glotfelty.

Adorable Adoptables





FELINES FLUFFY AND PRINCE are waiting for someone to adopt them from the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Fluffy, above left, is a male, long-haired black/white tuxedo, and Prince, above right, is a young male Persian whose owner had to travel out of the country and could not take him along. "He is soft and lovable," said a spokesperson about Prince. There are also two female tortoise shells, two big tabbies, and a buff-colored cat available for adoption. Also in need of homes are a male boxer mix, below left, and a female black Lab, below right, who have been at the shelter for a long time. "The recently featured white and gray cats have been adopted and so has the Dalmatian-pit bull mix," said the spokesperson. "A lot of the other dogs had to be taken out to rescues by HART since the dog kennels were full. Pregnant cats and kittens are being brought in. Make sure and have your outdoor animals spayed or neutered; there are not enough homes for them all. Cats can have three litters a year, and dogs can have two litters a year." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday.

CAREER INFORMATION

International Beauty School would like to offer help to those students looking for a new career. Students may stop by the Counseling Center to receive additional information along with a $20 gift certificate.

KRISPY KREME DONUTS

Krispy Kreme donut orders are due this Friday, May 21, to Mrs. Umbel or homeroom teachers. Orders will be delivered on May 27 after 1 p.m. Those who would like to order may call the school at 301-746-8668 or see any freshman/freshman class officer to place an order.

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

McKaig Scholarship Trust: May 31

ATTN: SENIORS

Because of the remodeling of the concession stand and restrooms, along with the placement of new topsoil and reseeding of the football field, this year's graduation ceremony will need to be held in the gymnasium. Each senior student will be provided with six tickets for seating inside the gym. Additional overflow seating will be available in the cafeteria, where the ceremony will be projected on the pull-down screen on the stage. Tickets are not needed for seating in the cafeteria. Tickets will be handed out to seniors during graduation practice on the morning of June 3.

There will be two coach buses taken on the senior trip. The group will leave at 6 a.m. on Monday morning. Those interested in riding a specific bus should sign up with Mr. Nicklin as soon as possible.

There is a graduation program honoring NHS seniors sponsored by Pastor Randy Nairn planned for the Thursday before graduation (June 3) from 7 to 8 p.m. at Northern High School. Any senior interested in attending should see Mr. Nicklin.

AFTER-PROM

Decorating for the after-prom will be held after school this Friday, May 21. Students can get service learning hours by helping with the decorating. Those interested need to stop in Room 200 and sign up, so it is known how many students are staying to help.

SENIOR CITIZEN PROM

Assistance is needed beginning at 4:30 p.m. at St. Peter the Apostle Church in Oakland today, Thursday, and then again for the senior citizen prom this Friday, May 21, from 6 to 9 p.m. at the same location.

LUNCH REMINDER

Students need to have any negative lunch balances paid by May 28. Students will not be able to charge lunches after that date.

FFA/JROTC

The work night for the Nature Trail previously scheduled for May 18 (canceled due to weather) is now tonight Thursday, May 20.

Marcellus Shale Workshop Set At Frostburg State

Frostburg State University will host a meeting on the Marcellus shale natural gas extraction, with a focus on understanding the water allocations permitting process, next Wednesday, May 26, from 10:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. in Room 226 of the Compton Science Center.

The meeting will feature guest speaker Tom Beauduy, deputy director and chief counsel of the Susquehanna River Basin Commission (SRBC). The workshop is intended to be of special interest to landowners, business people, elected officials, media, and the academic community.

Topics to be discussed include the process and policies developed by SRBC in approaching natural gas extraction from the Marcellus shale.

"There are challenges and opportunities inherent in the exploration and development of the Marcellus shale in our communities," said a spokesperson for the workshop. "Recent research by Pennsylvania State University suggests that more than 500 trillion cubic feet of natural gas may be found in the Marcellus shale, and at least 10 percent of that, with an estimated value of $1 trillion, can be recovered with advanced drilling technology."

The workshop registration fee is $20, which includes lunch. Seating is limited. The workshop is co-sponsored by the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, the Allegany County Chamber of Commerce, and the Greater Cumberland Committee. For more information or to RSVP, persons are asked to contact Linda Steele by May 24 at lsteele@frostburg.edu or 301-687-4137.

HABITAT CELEBRATES 26 YEARS – A ground breaking for a new home was recently held to celebrate the start of the 26th year of the Garrett County Habitat for Humanity. The organization also applied for and received a $20,000 grant from Lowe's, who is a Homes Sponsor for 2010, to help build a home this year. Habitat plans to complete three homes this summer, and two of the families have been selected. Those in attendance were, left to right, Ernie Gregg, GC commissioner; J.D. Rinker, Lowe's Oakland store manager; Mike Slone, Lowe's sales manager; Wendell Beitzel, Maryland House of Delegates; Fred Holliday, GC commissioner; Amber Bernard, Lowe's credit manager; Bill Riley, president of the GC Habitat board of directors; and Maranda Jeffreys, Lowe's manager of clerks. For more information about Habitat for Humanity, persons may call 301-533-0600 or visit the web site at www.garretthfh.org.

Movie Events Scheduled By "Live Clean"

Garrett 8 Cinemas and the Garrett County Health Department are teaming up to offer a free ticket to Iron Man 2 to local youth, ninth grade through 20 years of age, interested in having fun without alcohol, tobacco, or drugs.

The "Play Hard. Live Clean" movie night is scheduled for this Friday, May 21, for the 6:50 p.m. showing. A free ticket will be given to the first 100 eligible guests to arrive. Proof of age and residency may be required.

A "Play Hard. Live Clean" movie night for middle school youth will also be held in June. Details will soon be available.

For more information, persons may call Venessa Stacy at the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111. One may also visit the department's web site, garretthealth.org, for up-to-date information on the campaign and other current issues.

"Play Hard. Live Clean" is a campaign to discourage underage drinking and drug or tobacco use and to promote positive lifestyles. It is sponsored by the Garrett County Combating Underage Drinking Committee through a grant from the Governor's Office for Children through the Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families Inc./Local Management Board and the Garrett County Health Department.

Garrett Reading Council Hosts Annual Young Authors Reception

The Garrett Reading Council hosted its annual Young Authors Reception on April 30 at Pleasant Valley Community Center to celebrate the poems and short stories written by winners of its Young Authors Contest.

Each county reading council in the state hosts a local contest, and then sends its winning entries to Maryland's Young Authors Contest, hosted by the state's International Reading Association Council (SoMIRAC).

At the state event, held at Hunt Valley, an author gives a special presentation to the winners, their families, and teachers. The winners receive an autographed book by the speaker, special gifts, and a certificate.

For the third year in a row, a winner from Garrett Reading Council's contest was a winner at the state level. "Black Potatoes," a short story by Swan Meadow 7th grader Joyce Peachey, earned second place in the state competition's seventh grade category.

The evening in Pleasant Valley began with dinner and participation in the Literacy Lotto. For this event, members of Garrett Reading Council contributed new reading and writing materials for gift bags, for which participants bought chances.

Special guests Rita Gaudiello, SoMIRAC treasurer, and Laura Stutzman, local book illustrator, were introduced.

Stutzman gave a presentation about her illustration work, specifically describing her different experiences of illustrating "B" is for Blue Crab, a Maryland Alphabet and a new adaptation of Oscar Wilde's The Happy Prince. She discussed the process she uses to create her illustrations, including model-building and photography, and related how she communicates with the art director, editor, and author of each book while working on the art.

The event culminated in the awards ceremony. Winners received the GRC Young Authors Contest Anthology of Winning Entries 2009-2010, an autographed copy of "B" is for Blue Crab purchased for them by their schools, and the Young Authors Contest achievement certificate.

The poetry titles and writers of the winning 2009-2010 GRC Young Authors Contest are as follows: "Journey with Me" by Paige M. Miller, second grade, Route 40 Elementary School; "A Robin's Beak" by Emily Brobst, third grade, Route 40; "It's Here" by Alexis Erin Opel, fourth grade, Route 40; and "Making a Snowman" by Ellie White, fifth grade, Friendsville Elementary School.

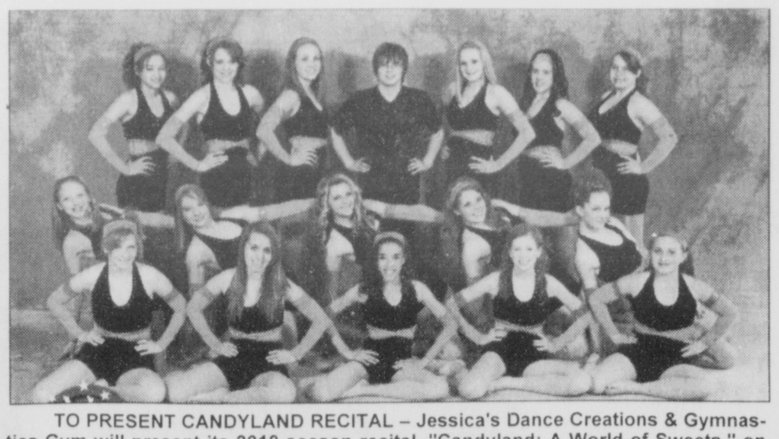
Middle school poetry winners were "Heaven in a Bowl" by Tybie Brenneman, seventh grade, Northern Middle School; and "Grandpa" by Maddy Hayes, eighth grade, Swan Meadow School.

Short story winners are "The Momgini Mystery" by Travis Martin, second grade, Swan Meadow; "Lost in the Jungle" by Benjamin Duff, third grade, Swan Meadow; "Why Turtles Have Shells" by Victoria Miske, fourth grade, Broad Ford Elementary School; and "On the Medicine Trail" by Ryan Yoder, fifth grade, Swan Meadow.

Middle school winners were "War" by Cameron Kauffman, sixth grade, Swan Meadow; "The Escape North" by Maria Duff, eighth grade, Swan Meadow; and Joyce Peachey's "Black Potatoes," as mentioned above.

More information about the Young Authors Contest and all Garrett Reading Council activities and membership can be found on the web at sites.google.com/site/garrettreadingcouncil/.

YOUNG AUTHORS HONORED BY GARRETT READING COUNCIL – The Garrett Reading Council hosted its annual Young Authors Reception late last month to celebrate the poems and short stories written by winners of its Young Authors Contest. The reception was held at the Pleasant Valley Community Center, and featured special guest Laura Stutzman, local book illustrator, and Rita Gaudiello, treasurer of State of Maryland International Reading Association Council (SoMIRAC). The young writers were recognized and given gifts. See story. In the front row, from left, are Emily Brobst, Victoria Miske, Benjamin Duff, and Travis Martin. In the second row, same order, are Stutzman, Maria Duff, Cameron Kauffman, Ryan Yoder, Alexis Opel, Ellie White, and Tybie Brenneman.



TO PRESENT CANDYLAND RECITAL – Jessica's Dance Creations & Gymnastics Gym will present its 2010 season recital, "Candyland: A World of Sweets," on Saturday, May 22, at 7 p.m. and Sunday, May 23, at 2 p.m. at Terra Alta Elementary/East Preston Middle School in Terra Alta, W.Va. The doors will open ½ hour prior to the show. "We will be celebrating the board game Candyland's 60th birthday as well as our third recital," said gym owner Jessica Crosco. "Two hundred students from the surrounding areas will perform their talents they have been working on all year. The show is great entertainment for all ages." Admission is $7 at the door. However, the ticket price for senior citizens is $5, and children 10 years and younger will get in for free. For more information, persons may call Crosco at 301-501-0096. ST. MARK'S LUTHERAN BELL CHOIR TO PRESENT CONCERTS – The handbell choir of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, will present three concerts next week, all open to the public. The group will first play on Monday, May 24, at the Goodwill Mennonite Retirement Home. The next concert will be at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, on Wednesday, May 26. The third will be at the Dennett Road Nursing Home on Thursday, May 27. All three concerts will begin at 7 p.m. In addition to the 11 member handbell choir, a handbell quartet will play. A number of different handbell techniques will be used, including malleting, martellato, martellato lift, ring touch, swing, and thumb damp. St. Mark's handbell choir has been under the direction of Lynn Grimm for four years. In the front row from left are Dawn Scheffel, Grimm, and Nan Gangler. In the second row, same order, are Liz Rees Gilbert, Diana Ashby, Nancy Pagenhardt, and Laura Robinson. Back row: Marilyn Filemyr, Debbie McCombs, Jim Tong, Alex McEwen, and Stan Grimm. The quartet members, who have been playing together since September, are Gangler, Lynn Grimm, Pat Michener, and Robinson. The group will be assisted during the Wednesday concert by percussionist Rob McEwen and reader Lowell Leitzel. The selections will include traditional tunes such as "Do Lord," "This Little Light of Mine," "Blessed Assurance" (with "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring"), and "The Water is Wide." The concert is free, but an offering will be taken to support "It's In the Bag," a weekend and holiday backpack food program for at-risk children in Garrett County. For more information, persons may contact St. Mark's at 301-334-2668.

TOTL Company To Present Little Shop Of Horrors

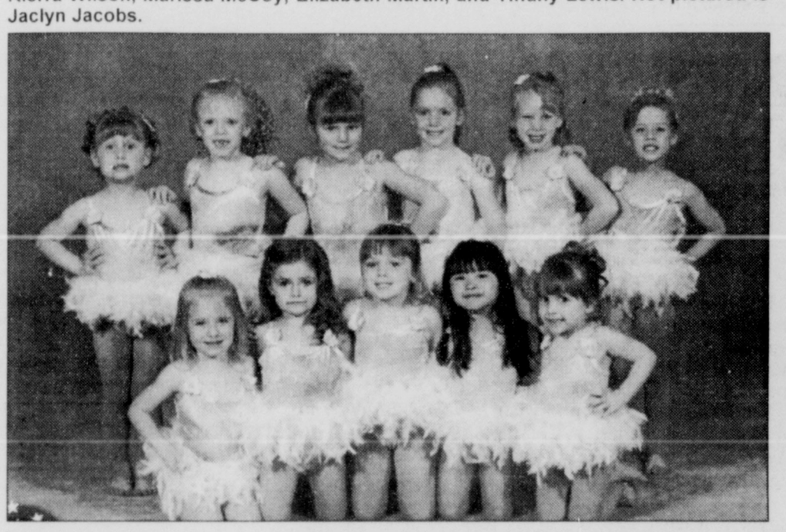
As a result of unforeseen licensing restrictions on the musical Oklahoma, the TOTL (Theatre on the Lake) Theatre Company is changing its opening show for the 2010 summer season, according to TOTL director Lynn Broderick.

Replacing Oklahoma will be the Broadway musical Little Shop of Horrors, to be performed July 14-18. A successful film as well, Little Shop of Horrors is the story of a down-and-out horticulturist who unexpectedly discovers an exotic plant that attracts customers to the florist business. Along with his boss Mr. Mushnik and his love interest Audrey, Seymour Krelborn cultivates a plant and its offspring that grow so large, there is nothing they won't eat; including humans.

"With a rocking '50s musical score, Little Shop of Horrors is appropriate for audiences of all ages," Broderick said.

Additionally, students who are registered in the Summer Apprenticeship program will have the opportunity to appear in the show, along with members of the TOTL company.

Little Shop of Horrors will be performed in the Barn at Ridge View Valley, Deep Creek Lake. Because of limited seating, reservations can be made starting June 1 by calling TOTL Theatre Company at 304-680-1002.



Running concurrent with the opening production is the aforementioned TOTL Theatre Summer Apprenticeship Program, July 5-16, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily at Garrett College. In its second year, only 20 students are accepted for the apprentice training and the opportunity to perform in Little Shop of Horrors July 14-18 with the TOTL Theatre Company members. Students attend classes during the morning and rehearse in the afternoon. Students who wish to attend the camp should call the TOTL Theatre Company (304-680-1002) and request a registration brochure to be sent to their home.

The second summer offering by TOTL will be the comedy Brighton Beach Memoirs, by American comic playwright Neil Simon, to be staged at Garrett College July 21-24. Prior to this play, Simon penned many of his best known works, including The Odd Couple, Plaza Suite, The Last of the Red Hot Lovers, Barefoot In DANCING STUDENTS TO PERFORM – For the past 10 weeks, Dancing Classrooms Western Maryland has conducted its pilot session for all of the 5th grade students at Accident Elementary School. The session's culminating event will be put before the public Friday, May 28, at 1 p.m. at the school's gymnasium. The event is the focal point of the Dancing Classrooms Western Maryland residency. "It will be a very special day for the children as it is their opportunity to share with their school, their families and their friends the skills and etiquette they have mastered over the 10-week, 20-lesson session," exclaimed instructor Jennifer Christophel. Accident is the first school in the state of Maryland to pilot the Dancing Classrooms program. Community members interested in attending the event should RSVP to the school secretary at 301-746-8863.

TOTL To Present

The Park, and his musicals Sweet Charity, Promises, Promises, and Little Me.

According to Broderick, Brighton Beach Memoirs is the first play of an autobiographical trilogy about the Jerome family which weathers the Depression along with a family of Jewish relatives who have come to live with them. The story is narrated by Eugene, a 13-year-old baseball fanatic who is "just discovering some interest in the female species."

The final offering of the 2010 summer season of TOTL will be the musical Children Of Eden, slated for Aug 3-7 at the Barn. Act 1 begins with Chapter 1 of Genesis and the Adam and Eve story. Act 2 continues with the story of Noah and the flood. The musical score was written by a young Stephen Schwartz, who later became famous as a composer for his score for Wicked on Broadway and a number of other major musicals.

The cost of a season ticket is $25, and they can be purchased by mailing a check to the TOTL Theatre Company, 348 Parson Road, Aurora, WV 26705.

Season tickets will be mailed to purchasers, along with instructions on how to make reservations for a specific night. Season-ticket holders are given first priority for seating on all nights. Since the Barn at Ridge View holds only 150 audience members, Broderick recommends that it is best to get a season ticket before the box office opens in late May. All shows will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The TOTL Theatre Company is a non-profit professional theatre production company that is supported by members of the community and by the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council. Tax-exempt gifts can be made to the TOTL Theatre Company at any time.

A FREE BLUEGRASS CONCERT featuring Poverty Hollow will take place on Saturday, May 22, at 6 p.m. at the Folk Meeting House in Springs, Pa. Band members are John Larimer (dobro/guitar), Gary Shaffer (banjo), Don Muhollem (guitar), Pam Muhollem (bass), and Frank Cackowski (fiddle). Their sound is described as "powerful, original, and inspiring." More information on the band can be found at www.povertyhollow.com. The concert is sponsored by the Springs Community Acoustic Music Association. Donations will be accepted at the door. The Folk Meeting House is located at 1711 Springs Road. Bluegrass concerts will be held there at 6 p.m. on the third Saturday of June, July, Aug., Sept., and Oct. For more information, persons may contact Ron at 814-662-9229.

FAMILY HERITAGE TO PRESENT CONCERT – Family Heritage, a local southern and country gospel music group, will be in concert at Bear Creek Church of the Brethren, Accident, this Sunday, May 23, at 7 p.m. Sitting, left to right, are Cindy Sites and Karen Ullery. Standing are Dean Ullery, Trent Sites, and George Park Jr. Preceding the concert, the church will have a covered-dish dinner at 6 p.m. The public is invited to attend both the dinner and concert. The church is located at 1088 Brethren Church Road near Accident Elementary School.

THE DANGEROUS BOOK OF HEROES

by Conn Iggulden and David Iggulden

C. 2010, Wm. Morrow, $26.99; 468 pages

Little kids are so amusing. Take, for instance, the way younger cousins or siblings look up to you like miniature copy-cats. Whatever they catch you doing, you know they're gonna try doing it sooner or later, too. It's as if you've cloned your best (or worst) habits.

Whom did you look up to when you were a kid? Who are your role models now? Before you answer, read The Dangerous Book of Heroes by Conn Iggulden and David Iggulden. You may find a few new people to look up to.

Without a doubt, you've had mentors in your life. Maybe a teacher or a friend's parent has inspired you. Perhaps you want to be like your mom or dad someday. But every now and then, it's good to read about someone who's made a difference in the world with a selfless action that impacted the way we live.

Someone like Sir Randulph Fiennes, whose early interests in history, climbing, and sports led him to a "career" as an explorer. We can thank Fiennes for what we know about certain previously unmapped areas of British Columbia.

When nurse Edith Cavell was offered safe passage to Holland by German officials at the start of World War II, she refused. Her job, she said, was to care for the wounded, but when two fleeing British soldiers asked for shelter, Cavell saw another need. Her hospital became a part of the Belgian Underground, until Cavell was betrayed by a German spy. Before she was arrested for aiding the enemy and was executed in October 1915, Cavell saved the lives of two hundred Allied soldiers.

Before Anne Sullivan became her teacher, Helen Keller had worked out her own version of "sign language." Sioux Chief Sitting Bull got his name by literally wrestling a bull into a sitting position. Ten thousand men and women worked in secret to create the world's first computer in order to decipher codes during World War II. Harry Houdini quietly gave away a fortune in gold to down-and-out soldiers. And a group of prisoners in a musty World War II castle repeatedly tried to escape.

Their tenacity will astound you.

"Courage is perhaps the first requirement for inclusion here," say the authors in their introduction, and they nailed that premise completely in the stories they include in their book.

While The Dangerous Book of Heroes has the unfortunate feel of an old textbook and while I noticed a few "facts" that don't match well-established legends, I nonetheless enjoyed reading the biographies the Igguldens offer. I was also intrigued by the abundance of rogues in this book (the authors explain those devilish inclusions in their introduction), and the wealth of information about famous and not-so-famous individuals whose stories often go untold.

Perfect for older teens or adults in search of quick-to-read mini-bios, this book could also help with scouting projects or school assignments. If you're looking for something inspirational and slightly daring, The Dangerous Book of Heroes is a good book to look up.

Huskies Dominate Manchester V., 19-1; Advance To Quarterfinals

With an 11-run third inning, the varsity baseball team of Northern High School routed No. 13 Manchester Valley, 19-1, in a Maryland 1A West Regional first round playoff game last Saturday in Accident. The Huskies were to host Catoctin in the second round on Monday, but the game was postponed.

Steven Holtschneider and Andy Umbel each hit a three-run homer to boost the Huskies in the third inning. Northern recorded four runs in both the first and second innings for an 8-1 lead. Manchester Valley's single run came in the first inning after a homer from Nick Frock.

Holtschneider also had a double and a single to go with his homer for three hits for the No. 4 Huskies. Andrew Sisler also recorded three hits in the win with an RBI single in the first inning and a two-run single in the second to go with his two-run double in the third.

Umbel's homer and an RBI double accounted for four of Northern's 14 runs. Teammate Teddy Linton had two singles and an RBI, while Cody Rodeheaver added a double and Corbin Brown an RBI single.

Dylan Miller pitched four innings, allowed five hits, and struck out four for the win. Holtchneider took over in the fifth.

Manchester Valley's Frock added a single to go with his homer, and teammate Gerigio Pedilla doubled.

Northern (12-8) is scheduled to play Catoctin tonight in Accident, with game time at 4:30 p.m.

NHS Softball Team Knocked Out Of 1A West Playoffs By Boonsboro

The 2010 softball season has ended for the girls' team of Northern High School as it was edged, 3-2, by Boonsboro in the first round of the Maryland 1A West Regional playoffs last Thursday in Accident.

The Huskies scored first in the opening inning and held the lead until the second inning where Boonsboro recorded two runs. The score was then 3-1, when Boonsboro tacked on another run in the third. Northern got within one run in the fourth inning with a single run.

"It was a good game," said Carol Humberson, head coach. "The girls played a tough game and didn't give up. That's the way our season went this year; we have lost six games this season by one or two runs. But we are right there in each game."

Kirsten Rayner had a double and single for the Huskies, while Miranda Beasom had an RBI and a single. Kaitlyn Fratz and Keirsten Butler each finished with a single. Northern finished with five hits and two errors.

The Huskies were led on the plate by Taryn Brenneman. She struck out two and allowed just four walks and five hits from Boonsboro.

Tristan Hartle led Boonsboro with her triple and single RBI. Teammate Hayle Payne added two doubles in the win. Pitcher Megan Long struck out four and walked two.

Northern concludes its season at 6-13.

SHS Cheerleading Tryouts Scheduled

Persons who will be students of Southern High School this fall are reminded that tryouts for the SHS cheerleading squad will be held May 24-27.

Applications for students interested in trying out are available in the main office, in Harry Biggs' classroom (1240), and also in the main office of Southern Middle School. Those who have not had an athletic physical exam for this year must have one completed before tryouts. The application deadline is this Friday, May 21.

Practice for the tryouts will be held Monday, May 24, through Wednesday, May 26, from 3:45 to 5:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Persons desiring more information may telephone Harry Biggs at the school (301-334-2492).

Tennis Match Change Noted

The Mtn. Lake Park Tennis Club's Garrett County High School Championships, between Northern and Southern high schools, has been rescheduled for Thursday, May 27, at 4 p.m. The matches will be held at the club's clay courts.

Coaches are reminded to bring their own snacks and drinks for their athletes.

NHS SOFTBALL TEAM CELEBRATES NEW FIELD – The Northern High School softball team recently held a dedication and ribbon cutting ceremony at its newly renovated field, which has been under construction for nearly two years and was under the direction of the Huskies' coach Debbie Brenneman. The renovation is not fully complete as the team is wanting to add a batting cage and a new backstop. Several businesses were involved in the renovation, and the new field was dedicated to the 2010 softball team, the community, and to the businesses. The team invited a representative from each business to a complimentary spaghetti dinner at Northern Middle School prior to the ceremony. In the photo, kneeling, left to right, are Hannah Smearman, Kayla Porter, Jesse Yutzy, Whitney Miller, Lauren Yeager, Tori Devine, Kiersten Butler, coach Debbie Brenneman, Brittany Mallow, Breanna Mallow, and Taylor Sines. In the second row, left to right, are Ashley Brenneman, Miranda Beasom, Kirsten Rayner, Ashley Edmonds, Ray Devine of Devine Concrete and Masonry, Kaitlynn Fratz, Taryn Brenneman, Janet Harvey, Carol Voekel of NHS Boosters, Hannah Fike, and coach Gale Keller. In the back row are coach Terry Brenneman, Rigidply Rafters rep.; Bob Carney, Long and Foster rep.; Jack and Crystal Rosenberger of Jack's Auto Sales; Tony Howard, Garrett Containers rep.; Phil Carr, NHS athletic director; George Landers of NHS Boosters; Pete Brosinhan of Concept Associates Builders/Brenda's Body Shop; Roger Sisler, First United Bank and Trust; Principal Gary and Marla Reinchenbecher; and coach and statistician Sheila Butler. Not present for picture coach Carol Humberson, Airica Paugh, and Sonya Thomas.

ASCI To Host Local, National White-Water Events; Seeking Volunteers

During the 2010 white-water season, the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI) will be hosting several local and national events, and volunteers are needed both onsite and for auxiliary activities throughout the season.

ASCI's 2010 events start off with the All-American Whitewater Festival in celebration of American veterans on May 28 to 31. Most events occur on Saturday, but volunteers are needed all weekend. Friday is community rafting for $25 starting after 11 a.m. and running through sunset to celebrate the start of Memorial Day weekend.

Team River Runner, the national Wounded Warrior program that puts vets in kayaks as part of their rehabilitation, will have its second annual Rendezvous at ASCI, and on Saturday will lead whitewater demonstrations alongside a crew of professional extreme and freestyle kayakers.

Saturday also marks the official "Festival Day," with a kick-off opening ceremony with the JROTC Color Guard and a Whitewater Parade and Figurehead Contest. The festival will begin at 10:30 a.m., and demonstrations will occur throughout the day. For Team River Runner, volunteers may help with airport and local transportation, and accompanying activities such as fishing, boating, hiking, and horseback riding.

Other ASCI events needing volunteers include:

• The 2010 Garrett County "Gran Fondo" Bike Rides on June 26 and 27 – The Gran Fondo is a celebrated tradition in Italian cycling culture that consists of a long distance, mass-participation cycling event – not a race – that welcomes professional, amateur, and recreational cyclists of all abilities. The first ever Garrett County Gran Fondo offers three supported ride options on Saturday June 26, all based at ASCI, and a 24-mile "Brag Ride" on Sunday.

• The 2010 Whitewater Slalom Junior and Masters National Championships on June 26-27 – The top Junior athletes from around the country vie for National Champion, while seasoned veterans race for Masters National Champion. A weekend of "top-notch" racing and a chance to see America's whitewater Olympic heroes race alongside the next generation of Olympians. Practices will run Saturday afternoon, and races take place on Sunday.

• The 2010 Open Canoe Slalom Nationals and North American Championships on August 6-8 – This event consists of a race in the traditional "open" canoe. Paddlers race through gates down the rapids, and try to avoid rocks, getting swamped by the waves, or simply flipping in the whitewater. Canadians will compete with Americans for North American Champion title, while the top canoeists in the country vie for National Champion status.

Rams Edge Smithsburg, 5-3, In First Round; Crushed 14-4 By Clear Spring

After a 4-run fifth inning, the Southern High School varsity softball team edged No. 4 Smithsburg, 5-3, in the first round of the Maryland 1A West Regional playoffs last Thursday. The Rams moved up into the quarterfinal round to face Clear Spring on Monday, where they were crushed, 14-4, to be knocked out. The results of this game were not received by press time this morning.

The Rams put the first run on the board in the second inning, and led 1-0 to the fourth until Smithsburg posted a run in the bottom of the inning. Southern answered in the fifth with four runs, while Smithsburg managed just one. The sixth inning went scoreless, and the seventh inning saw just one final run from Smithsburg.

Alycia Horner drove in two runs with a single as a part of a 4-run fifth inning for Southern. She also struck out three in a complete game to earn the victory. Teammates Ayla Fulmer, Kelsey Graham, and April Sisler all added two singles to account for the Rams' eight hits.

Smithsburg outhit Southern with nine, but made five errors.

The Rams end their 2010 softball season at 8-14.

Bowser, Dusenberry Lead Competitors In Race Up The Face

Former Northern Garrett High School standout Ryan Bowser and Allegany High School graduate Anna Dusenberry led 29 competitors to capture victories in the Race Up The Face on Monday at the Wisp Resort.

The 400-meter race featured a 124-meter ascent up the Face, a black diamond ski trail. World records will never fall on this short but grueling race. Bowser's winning time of 3:36 was faster than race organizers expected. Dusenberry finished in 4:38.

"It was pretty tough," said Dusenberry, 20. "I didn't really know what to expect going into it. My brother (Sam) wanted to do it," and asked his older sister to come along. Monday's time and pace "was not typical" of her capabilities, Dusenberry said. "I'm definitely better than the pace that I did up that hill."

The first-year race was held despite pouring rains all day long, and held in conjunction with the 8th annual Taste of Garrett County.

"Well, for a terrible night, we had 29 runners, from ages 8 to 76; that was actually a little better than what we thought we would have considering the pouring rain, said Bob Stephens, Garrett Trails volunteer. "We got a lot of good comments from participants Fortunately after the race, most of the participants were able to stay for the annual Taste of Garrett County. All of us who finished now have bragging rights for competing in the world's hardest 400 meter foot race!"

TAKING IT ONE STEP AT A TIME is the family of Steve, Jacob, and Kelly Ann Green as they compete in the Race Up The Face running event held this past Monday at Wisp Resort. The first-year race was held despite pouring rains all day long and in conjunction with the 8th annual Taste of Garrett County. The 400-meter contest featured a 124-meter ascent up the Face, a black diamond ski trail. Below is Andrew Bowser as he leads a group to the finish. Bowser took second place overall with a time of 4:10. See story for more details and full results of the race.

ASCI To Host

Race on October 10 – The 4th annual Great Pumpkin Festival and Hooligan Race is a fundraiser for the Dove Center, and is the grand finale event for the whitewater season. The race includes an afternoon of fun, including the now legendary Hooligan Race, where participants bring their own boat, dress in costume, and try to beat the other teams, some who may only be dressed in tin foil and Styrofoam. The core event is the actual "Great Pumpkin Race," where participants buy pumpkins which are then set loose on the whitewater and race to the bottom, or go wherever the current takes them. The top 10 finishes win prizes.

Persons desiring to volunteer may e-mail ASCI at asci@adventuresportscenter.com or call 301-387-3250. Additional event details are available at the web site at www.adventuresportscenter.com. Donations are also being accepted to support the Team River Runner adaptive paddling programs and are tax-deductible.

and other witnesses, Wiland was arrested and charged. Child Protective Services workers from the Department of Social Services also participated in the investigation, the state's attorney noted.

In other Circuit Court proceedings from last week, a possession of marijuana charge against Warren David Cook Jr., 45, Oakland, was placed on the stet docket by the state's attorney. The charge stems from a traffic stop conducted by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office on Hutton Road last June.

WAXING NOT SO POETIC

In small amounts, earwax is a natural ear cleanser. As it migrates outward from the ear canal, it gathers dead skin cells, hair, and dirt along the way. Earwax has antibacterial and antifungal properties that protect the ear from infections. However, if earwax accumulates a lot of debris and sits in the ear canal for a long time, it can become hard and dry enough to cause a blockage. Hearing instruments, which block the normal migration of earwax out of the ear, may be a contributing factor. Hearing instruments may also stimulate glands in the ear canal to produce more secretions. Keeping this in mind, hearing instrument users are advised to check for earwax buildup and treat it accordingly.

When it is difficult to tell whether ear wax or another physical impairment is causing a hearing loss, or because of the continual bombardment of noise, it's time for a hearing test. Have a comprehensive hearing evaluation at AUDIBEL so that we may accurately determine the reason behind your hearing loss. And if a hearing instrument is indicated, rest assured we carry a full range of brands and types, and we'll find the one that is right for you.

P.S. By some estimates, between 60% and 70% of the hearing instruments sent for repair are damaged by earwax.

Ag Happenings 2010

Ag Vision 2030 and Garrett County Economic Development Strategic Plan Meeting, Tuesday, May 25, Garrett College Continuing Education Building, Room 205, McHenry. The Economic Development Strategic Plan meeting is being conducted by the Garrett County Department of Economic Development, the Garrett County Economic Development Corporation, and the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. Agriculture and natural resources are among the nine identified areas of economic development in the county. The organizers' plan is to continue collecting information from farmers through the Ag Vision 2030 process and to have that available to the Ag and Natural Resources group. At that meeting the recommendation will be identified and prioritized, and then will be forwarded to the Economic Development Strategic Planning Committee and will be used to develop the Ag Vision 2030 Strategic Plan. Organizers stressed that local agriculturists' input in the process is very important, as these strategic plans will be used by many different government agencies and private industries to guide the future of economic development in Garrett County. For more information, persons may contact Willie Lantz or Cheryl DeBerry at the Extension Office at 301-334-6960. Persons who wish to attend the meeting are also asked to contact the Extension Office. A [illegible] meal will be made available.

University of Maryland Extension programs are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, gender, disability, religion, age, sexual orientation, marital or parental status, or national origin.

The Garrett Co. Extension web site is located at www.garrett.umd.edu.

HEADED TO BUCKNELL for summer study is GC student Shantelle Spiker.

Spiker Recipient Of Scholarship From Bucknell

by Greg Jenkins

"Excited!"

That was the word Garrett College student Shantelle Spiker kept using when asked how she felt about being awarded a summer scholarship to prestigious Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pa.

"It hasn't really hit me yet," she said. "But I'm excited and nervous. And my husband Josh is even more excited than I am."

Spiker, who lives in Accident, is a participant in the Bucknell Community College Scholars Program, which in recent years has benefited several high-achieving GC students. In early June, she'll take up residence in a Bucknell sorority house, and for the next six weeks she'll be enrolled in two demanding courses: Existentialism (a philosophy course) and the Psychology of Genders.

The summer courses, which are taught by faculty from Bucknell and from some of the five community colleges that participate in the program, are graded and count for credit. Students who distinguish themselves in the summer program could be offered a full, two-year scholarship to Bucknell, culminating in a bachelor's degree, a possibility that appeals strongly to Spiker.

"I'd love it," she said. "I'm interested in business, and if I could go to Bucknell fulltime, I'd study business management or marketing."

This summer, Spiker will have the company of other students chosen from Community College of Philadelphia, Harrisburg Area Community College, Lehigh Carbon Community College, and Montgomery County Community College. All the students will live on campus, take two courses, receive a stipend, and participate in campus orientation, team building, research, technology, and writing activities.

The Bucknell Community College Scholars Program is ongoing. Anyone interested in applying for a scholarship should be aware that Bucknell is looking for students who show potential to succeed in a bachelor's program at Bucknell; have a GPA of about 3.5 or higher; have completed at least 12 community college credits as of January 15; demonstrate leadership abilities and problem-solving skills; and have low- to moderate-income financial status.

Asked what advice she had for other students who might aspire to a Bucknell scholarship, Spiker said, "They should talk to their advisor as soon as possible. They need to find out about their options – about what's available and what they need to do."

"This is a wonderful opportunity for Garrett College students," said Phil Rivera, associate academic dean at Garrett College. He said the college will be making efforts to publicize the scholarship program in area high schools and throughout the community each academic year.

Those desiring more information are invited to telephone Rivera at 301-387-3077 or Dana Shimrock at 301-387-3003.

Garrett College Confers 98 Degrees During 2010 Spring Commencement

Garrett College students celebrated their academic achievements during the college's 38th annual commencement ceremony held Saturday, during which 98 associate degrees and 51 certificates were conferred.

"It is always so wonderful to see the expressions of joy on the faces of graduates and their family members and friends," said Dr. Rebecca DiLiddo, dean of academic affairs at Garrett College. "It is a day when the graduates, and their families and friends, can take pride in what they have accomplished and take a few moments to just have fun before setting off on the next leg of their journeys. I wish them the best."

Guest speaker for the commencement ceremony was the Honorable Leonard J. Eiswert, associate judge of the District Court of Maryland for Garrett County, who offered the graduates inspirational outlooks on their future endeavors.

Other participants included Elizabeth Grant, director of juvenile justice at Garrett College, who gave the invocation and benediction; Dr. Jeanne Neff, president of Garrett College, who presented introductions, conferral of degrees, and recognitions; Dr. DiLiddo, who presented outstanding contribution recognitions, announced degree and certificate candidates, and presented graduate awards; and Gerald McGee, pipe major, who performed the processional and recessional.

Of the 149 students who graduated, 57 received associate in arts degrees, 41 received associate in applied science degrees, and 51 received certificates.

11 INDUCTED INTO 1800 CLUB – Eleven students were inducted into the 1800 Club this year at Southern High School. They scored an 1800 or above on a recent administration of the SAT. The high school offers after school SAT test preparation, as well as an in-school prep course, to help assist students in preparing for the exam. In the front row, from left, are Claire Wilkinson, John McGettigan, Andrew Mowbray, Anthony Storck, and Paige Fitzwater. Back row: Travis Wolfe, Brian Bramande, Michael Paugh, Caitlin Simpson, and Dylan DiGioia. Not pictured: Julia Jordan

16 INDUCTED INTO SHS NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY – Sixteen juniors and two seniors from Southern High School were recently inducted into the Foster D. Bittle Chapter of the National Honor Society at the 45th Induction Ceremony held at the school. Inducted members distinguished themselves in the areas of scholarship, service, character, and leadership. Chapter historian Jerica Bennett shared the history of the chapter, which celebrated its 45th anniversary this year. Honor Society advisor Heather Savage welcomed parents and family members to the ceremony. President Jacqueline Fries conducted the ceremony during which the four qualities of membership were shared by senior members, and inductees were hooded while summaries of their accomplishments at the high school and in the community were read. "The students should pride themselves on this accomplishment," Savage said. "A lot of hard work in school and support from their families brought them to this point to be recognized." New inductees are pictured above. From left, beginning with the front row, are Caitlin Simpson, Paige Fitzwater, Summer Mossman, Katelyn Gnegy, and Lora Ashby. Second row: McKenzie Wotring, Karen Bonser, Julia Jordan, Angel Rasel, Courtney Strubin, Amber Sheally, and Gina Stuck. Back row: Amy Bittinger, Bethany Rexroad, Aryne Riley, Michael Ludle, and Conor Forrester. Not pictured: Claire Wilkinson. Below are senior members, secretary/treasurer Rachel Flinn, Fries, Kathryne Gindlesberger, and Dylan DiGioia. Second row: Jessica Steyer, Bennett, Kaitlin McDade, Alicia King, Julie Morton, and Lora Ashby. Back row: Conor Forrester, Johnathan Corbin, Travis Wolfe, Ryan Shreve, and Andrew Mowbray.

Local Residents Join In Nat'l Day Of Prayer Events

A number of Garrett County residents participated in National Day of Prayer observances throughout the county on Thursday, May 6, the theme of which was "Such a Time as This."

The primary local event was held at the Garrett County Historical Society's Deer Park Hotel gazebo at noon in downtown Oakland, where prayers were offered by representatives of government, businesses, military, churches, education, families, and media. Also among the speakers was Juin Killingsworth, Maryland state coordinator for the National Day of Prayer.

County, state, and federal government officials who participated were: Senator George Edwards, Delegate Wendell Beitzel, Brenda Frantz from Congressman Roscoe Bartlett's office, Garrett County commissioners Ernie Gregg and Fred Holliday, clerk of the court Sondra Buckel, register of wills Rita Watson, chief judge of the Garrett County Orphans' Court Clifford DeWitt, retired register of wills Joe DiSimone, Garrett County Board of Education president and Mtn. Top Ministerial Association president Don Forrester, and Board of Education member Rodney Durst.

Other participants were: Olen Beitzel, president of Beitzel Corporation; Paul Mullan of WMSG/WKHJ Radio; Rev. Sam Wachter of Deep Creek UM Ministries; Donna Cook of St. Peter's Catholic Church; and Pastor Ross and Linda Glotfelty, Garrett County NDP coordinators and Western Region of Maryland NDP coordinators.

From 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. NDP gatherings were held throughout the county, according to the Glotfeltys. Coordinators of these events were Linda Buckel, Bittinger; Dessie Welch, Bloomington; Elaine Bateman, Crellin; Sue Virts, Deer Park; Pastor Phil Smith, Friendsville; Rev. Nevin Umbel, Friendsville; Rev Ed. Moore, Friendsville; Naomi Yoder, Gortner/Pleasant Valley; Teresa Durst, Kitzmiller; Dale Carpenter, McHenry; John and Sonya Hinebaugh, Mtn. Lake Park; Pastor Ross and Linda Glotfelty, Oakland; Fran Ford, Youth Gathering, Oakland; and Mary Wilson, Swanton.

The NDP state coordinator, the county coordinators, and the community coordinators noted appreciation to all who participated.

Maryland state NDP coordinator Killingsworth, was the honored guest at a dinner given by NDP community event coordinators and hosted by Rev. and Mrs. Glotfelty on Wednesday evening.

Former Md. Gov. Ehrlich Speaks At Republican Dinner

Former Maryland governor Robert L. Ehrlich Jr. was the keynote speaker before a sell-out crowd at the 2010 Garrett County Lincoln Day Dinner, held Friday, May 7, at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Garrett County Republican Central Committee chairman Brandon Butler described the event as "a tremendous success."

Ehrlich, who will be seeking a rematch against Gov. Martin O'Malley in November's election, spoke of how vital the 2010 election will be to the immediate future of Maryland and its citizens.

Maryland Republican Party chair Audrey Scott was also among the speakers. Scott, who took the helm of the Maryland Republican Party late last year, is a former mayor of the city of Bowie, was secretary of planning during the Ehrlich administration, and also served at the federal level in the Reagan administration.

Following Ehrlich's address, the committee awarded its 2010 lifetime achievement award to former Garrett County register of wills Joseph DiSimone, who was selected by the group for "his dedication to the people of Garrett County and to the principles of the Republican Party."

Both Delegate Wendell R. Beitzel (R-District 1A) and Senator George C. Edwards (R-District 1) also addressed the gathering, thanking all for allowing them to represent the people of Garrett County in Annapolis and noting their intention to seek re-election.

Margroff Running For Judge Of GC Orphans' Court

James F. Margroff has announced his candidacy for a third term as a judge of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County. He was appointed in July 2002 by Gov. Parris N. Glendening to fill a court vacancy and was subsequently elected to two full terms as judge in the fall of 2002 and 2006.

Margroff had retired in June 2002 after 30 years of service with the Maryland Department of Assessments and Taxation.

He is an active member of the Maryland Association of Judges of the Orphans' Court and attends all association conferences and continuing education classes through the Judicial Institute of Maryland.

"I feel that my many years of experience, including those as supervisor in the assessment office in Garrett County, dealing directly with Maryland law concerning real property values, in addition to the eight years serving as judge, qualify me to continue to serve the people of Garrett County as judge of the Orphans' Court," Margroff said.

The candidate resides on his family farm in the Cove near Accident with his wife Ruby. They have a son and daughter and four grandchildren.

Margroff is a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, LCMS, in the Cove and has served in various church positions.

Ruby Margroff will serve as his campaign treasurer.

Attend Hearing

made about the monitoring of the company's compliance with the mine permits.

John Carey, director of the Bureau of Mines, explained that the system involves self-monitoring, with periodic monitoring by the MDE.

He noted that the company has currently been working for about 10 days, and a total of seven inspections have been made by the MDE.

"So far, they're doing what they said they would," Carey said. "We don't want anything to go wrong here."

Another discussion topic was the existence of Maryland state protected species in the Casselman River. They include the stonecat (catfish) and hellbender (salamander), which reportedly do not exist anywhere else in the state of Maryland.

It was reported that the MDE is working with members of the Department of Natural resources concerning the preservation of the species, but at this time the matter has not been resolved.

Numerous people made public comments for the record during that portion of the hearing, both for and against the proposed permit.

Shawn Bender thanked the Peles group for their economic benefit to the local people who are out of jobs.

"I have confidence in both Maryland Energy Resources and the MDE to operate the mine in a fashion that is not harmful to the environment and respectful to the local people," he said. "It will get the economic engine rolling for the benefit of the people."

David Maust, who lives in the Casselman Valley and owns land directly over the mine, expressed his support of the operation.

"I think the scrutiny given this project is unprecedented," he said. "The discussion of the flow variations of the stream are red herrings. The extra gallons of water put into the stream by this mine will have no impact on the species if the floods we've seen over the years haven't changed them. If they've survived the floods, they'll survive Peles."

Maust also questioned why the process has taken too long.

"The permit should have been issued by now," he said. "This shouldn't be a political issue, and I hope it's not."

Steve Putman, director of law enforcement for the Patuxent Conservation Corps., which owns a 52-acre conservation parcel next to the mine area, noted that he has "serious concerns about the discharge permit."

Putman noted that not enough is known about the reproductive cycle of the endangered species to determine if they will be affected.

"I'm concerned about the pH monitoring of the water flowing into the aquifer and into the river," he said. "I suspect that it will be logged continually, but not reported in real time."

Putman said that his organization will be willing to pay for Internet service so that the reports can be posted in real time for everyone to view.

Putman also expressed concern over the absence of a biological study for a particular stream.

"I am strongly against this mining operation," he said. "I am not against coal mining or the Peles company, but this mine portal was placed recklessly. I cannot support a plan that is reckless and financially driven."

Frostburg resident Amy Capri also spoke in opposition to the mine because of the effect to the environment.

"We've discussed endangered species, but I'm talking about the human species," she said. "I'm worried about my young son growing up in a coal producing community."

Melisa Carrico of the group Save Western Maryland expressed her concern as well.

"I believed they would protect me at Eagle Rock, and they're not putting in controls as they said," she said. "This is with wind turbines, but I'm living it first hand. I didn't want this battle...I didn't want this fight. I'm living beside people who are making money, and it's not nice. My home and my life are ruined."

Greg Wilburn stated that while he is a member of the Pooless Association and stands to make a small amount of money, he is "totally against" the mine.

"No amount of money is worth it to jeopardize where I live," he said. "We chose to stay in Garrett County because we like the environment. I do have trust in some of the agencies, but after what happened in the Gulf, I don't trust anybody to monitor things.

Andrew Diliddo expressed his opposition as well.

"When times are tough, it's easy to put economics in front of the environment," he said. "These same people who say they support the mine now will be complaining in five years about the potholes in the roads because of the coal trucks."

Speaking in favor of the permit for various groups were Richard Carter, president of the Western Maryland Building and Construction Trades Council; John Rosenberger with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; and Adrienne Ottaviani with the Maryland Coal Association.

"SICK" BEAR EUTHANIZED – The Maryland Wildlife and Heritage Service and wildlife biologist Harry Spiker shot and killed an emaciated bear last Saturday after observing it for a considerable amount of time. This 1-year-old bruin had been approaching people in search of food, and weighed 42 lbs., about half of the normal weight for a bear that age. "Because of the thickness of its hair, you couldn't see that it was emaciated, but when you felt it there was no body fat," said Spiker. He said the bear was unable to climb a tree in an effort to avoid the agency crew that investigated. "A couple years ago we had a case like this and the bear turned out to have a congenital heart defect," said Spiker. "We may end up finding something like that." A necropsy has been scheduled and will be performed by agency veterinarians.

BALLOONS OF HOPE – A voluntary Youth National Day of Prayer rally was held at Southern High School on May 6. Students wrote personal prayers and then attached them to helium-filled balloons, which were then released. This photo was taken by SHS junior Tess Tharp. A number of National Day of Prayer events were held throughout the county, coverage of which can be found elsewhere in this section.

HART Fundraiser To Feature "K-9s, Tunes & Brews"

HART for Animals will kick off Memorial Day weekend festivities with its K-9s, Tunes & Brews (KTB) fundraiser on Saturday, May 29, at Wisp Resort from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

"This – our third - year, KTB will be our best event yet," said a HART spokesperson. "It offers something for every member of the family, including the family dog, and raises money for a good cause."

As far as "K-9s" are concerned, KTB – under the direction of Tom Hertz – will showcase dog agility and obedience, Newfoundland water rescue demonstrations, a dog show with prizes for categories such as "Best Costume," "Looks Most Like Owner," and "Best Tail Wagger."

Among the exhibitions will be a Garrett County Sheriff's Office K-9 and his handler, Officer Chris Helbig, and Mid-Atlantic Disc Dogs, a regional group specializing in demonstrations with Frisbee-catching dogs.

The "Tunes" activities, organized by John McCracken, include three bands: Mike Whitehead of Time Flies, contemporary rock; The Lake Effect, classic and contemporary rock; and The Wild Rumpus, bluegrass.

The "Brews," organized by Vickie Buckel, will feature 17 award-winning breweries representing 25 different beers. IDs will be checked and "Over 21" wristbands will be required for beer tasting.

A variety of food will be provided by Wisp Resort and pit beef will be served by the Knights of Columbus.

This year, KTB will have many more activities for children in its "Kid Central" area, all planned by Nadine Baughman.

"Bring the family and check out the Moon Bounce, carnival games and prizes, spin art, miniature horses and donkeys, Daffydil the Clown, free balloons, air brush tattoos, and a fun scavenger hunt," said the spokesperson.

For a complete schedule of events, persons may visit HART's web site at hartforanimals.org and click on the KTB logo. Admission to the event is $10 for adults; children 12 and under accompanied by an adult are free.

Admission includes music on the Stage, dog ring events, and a souvenir KTB mug. Tickets for food and beer sampling as well as many of the Kid Central carnival games can be purchased at the admission tent and throughout the event grounds.

HART for Animals, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. Additional information on KTB, HART programs and the Spay/Neuter Clinic is available by visiting the group's web site or by calling 301-387-SPAY (7729).

Course Schedule Announced For Southern Center

Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development division has scheduled various courses this summer at the Southern Outreach Center, located in the Oakland Community Center (armory).

"A Microsoft Word for Seniors" class will take place on Tuesday and Thursday, June 15 and June 17, from 9 a.m. to noon. The class will cover the basics of the Microsoft Word application. It is open to all interested adults, not just to seniors.

"Learning Your Laptop for Seniors" will be held on Friday, June 18, from 9 a.m. to noon. Instruction will be given on how to use your personal laptop. Students must bring their own laptop for class. Class is open to all interested adults, not just seniors.

"Understanding Wills & Probates" will take place on Monday, July 12, at 6:30 p.m. The class will be taught by Rita Watson, register of wills, and will cover topics including the definition and purpose of a will, drafting a will, and choosing an executer.

For additional information, persons may contact Jessica McDaniel at 301-334-8304 or jessica.mcdaniel@garrettcollege.edu.

The Southern Outreach Center office will be open Mondays and Tuesdays from June 7 through Aug. 10. To register for any of these courses, one may call McDaniel or Patricia Baer at 301-334-8304.

Scholarship To Be Awarded By CDA Court 2209

Catholic Daughters of the Americas, Court 2209, Oakland, will award a scholarship to an eligible Catholic woman from Garrett County. The Mildred G. Maroney Scholarship is in the amount of $1,000 for one scholarship to be applied to the 2010-2011 school year.

Applications and criteria information will be available through the guidance offices at either Southern Garrett High School or Northern Garrett High School, and at the Garrett College guidance office, or persons may telephone St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church office at 301-334-2202 to request an application.

The eligible student must have a grade point average of no lower than 2.50. A letter of application must be sent from the student describing her academic and career plans, her need and qualifications for the scholarship, and her experiences as a Catholic woman. This letter should be no more than 250 words.

The scholarship is available to all Garrett County Catholic women who are graduating from high school or returning to college. The Catholic Daughters award this scholarship annually.

Applications must be received by June 30. The members of Court 2209 will decide the winner of the scholarship in July and notify the student by July 31. Checks will be made payable to the college or university.

For more information, persons may telephone Donna Miller, scholarship chairperson, at 301-334-4480.

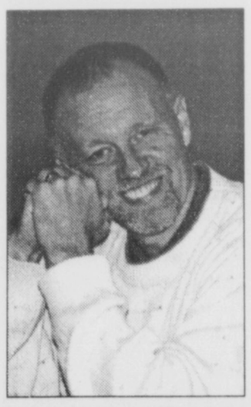
Local Church To Host Salt & Light Ministries Director



Divine Hope Church in Loch Lynn will feature Salt & Light Ministries director Jeff Smith during its 9 and 10:30 a.m. services this Sunday, May 22. Salt & Light Ministries is based near Richmond, Va.

After graduation from Indiana University of Pennsylvania in 1980, Smith spent eight years as a commissioned officer in the U.S. Army. Besides various military awards and decoration, Smith was selected Best Male Vocalist in major Army commands in 1982, 1983, and 1985.

In 1985 and 1987, he was selected to join the All-Army Soldier Show that toured the U.S., Europe, and the Far East. While stationed at Ft. Lee, Smith had leads in Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, The King and I, Grease, Pippin, and I Do! I Do!

In May 1988, he resigned his commission to start Salt & Light Ministries. While getting his ministry started and working in the local church setting, Smith finished his master's degree in communications with an emphasis on script and screenwriting from Regent University in 1995.

In 2010, he graduated with a master of arts degree in worship arts from Liberty University in Lynchburg, Va.

Smith has performed throughout the world as a featured performer and master teacher at local, state, and national training conferences and seminars in drama, worship arts, music ministry, teacher training, children's ministry, and creative arts.

A love offering will be taken for Smith at the close of each of his services. Divine Hope Church is located at 121 E. First Avenue.

BUSINESS PARTNERS RECOGNIZED AT LUNCHEON – The Garrett County Board of Education and the Chamber of Commerce recently held their 21st annual Business Partnership Luncheon at Will O' the Wisp to celebrate Garrett County's business and education partnerships. Speakers for the event were Robert Scardina, Southern High School's ProStart food service instructor, and some of his students. The ProStart Culinary Arts Program is a career building program that gives the students a "taste for success" in an industry that's "hungry for talent." Based on input from restaurant and food service professionals nationwide, the ProStart program offers the high school students both the work experience and classroom learning they need to succeed in the food service career fields. Several local business partners were recognized for their contributions to the educational experience. Above left are Garrett County superintendent Dr. Wendell Teets, Donna Blamble and Kris Miller from Oakland Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, and BOE president Dr. Donald Forrester. The center provided internship experiences for the students. Above right are Teets, Jim Kesselring from Garrett Containers, and Forrester. Garrett Containers provided internship experiences as well as donated a welder to each Southern and Northern high school. Below left are Teets, Don Mason from Naylor's, and Forrester. Naylor's Ace Hardware, Oakland, provided internship experiences. Below right are Teets, Bill Ingram from Uno's and Garrett 8 Cinemas, and Forrester. These facilities donated space for alternative education during the mercury incident.

Brenda Beckman Named "Employee Of The Quarter"

Brenda Beckman has been named "Employee of the Quarter" for the first quarter of 2010 at WEPCO Federal Credit Union. She has been employed by WEPCO since February 2003 and is a full-time teller at its Oakland drive-up branch.

"Brenda is friendly and courteous and provides exemplary service to our members," said Vicki Thayer, Oakland branch manager.

Beckman performed a total of 8,626 transactions from January through March. Her accuracy ratio during this period was 100 percent.

"Brenda has excellent attendance, and member service skills have given her great rapport with our members in the Oakland area," Thayer said.

Beckman has completed 15 BVS Performance Systems training courses since January. BVS courses are offered on a voluntary basis to all employees to educate them on such topics as "Putting Members First" and "Detecting and Preventing Fraud."

Beckman has also completed certificates in Teller I, Teller II, and Teller III.

Master Gardeners Slate Program At Folk Mtg. House

A group of Pennsylvania master gardeners will present a program called "How Does Your Vegetable Garden Grow" on Monday, May 24, at 7:30 p.m. at the Folk Meeting House in Springs, Pa. Admission is free.

Marlene Powell of Hooversville, Nancy Merrill of Berlin, Patty Ream of Somerset, and Deb Cook of Fairhope qualified for the master gardener designation by attending classes sponsored by Penn State University and by performing 50 hours of gardening.

Using a visual presentation, the women will cover such topics as watering, companion planting, how to use trellises, "upright" soil and pH levels, and insect control.

Along with sponsoring this and other monthly programs for the general public, the Springs Historical Society oversees the Springs Museum, Museum Store (offering antiques and collectibles), and the Springs Farmers Market. All will open for the season on Saturday, May 22.

The museum hours are Wednesday through Friday, 1–5 p.m., and Saturday, 9 a.m.–2 p.m. A special exhibit featuring items of interest of Claude "Simps" Miller will be on display.

The Museum Store and Farmers Market hours will be Saturdays, 8 a.m.–1 p.m.

The Folk Meeting House is located at 1711 Springs Road (Rt. 669). For more information, persons may call 814-442-4594 or 814-662-4366, or visit online at springspa.org.

RAM STUDENTS OF THE MONTH NAMED – The April and May Perkins Random Acts of Maturity (RAM) Students of the Month for Southern High School were recently named. Destiny "Nikki" Capan was chosen as the April RAM and Brittany Burns as the May RAM. Capan lives in Oakland with her father, Richard Capan. Main office secretaries Kayla Cathell and Janet Cosner nominated her for the maturity she demonstrates as she assists in the main office. "Destiny has the maturity to handle any situation that may arise in the office with students and/or parents," said Cathell. "We can laugh with her and at the same time trust her professionalism to maintain the confidentiality that our office demands." She is pictured above left with vice principal Kent Huber. Burns lives in Oakland with her mother, Brenda Burns, and she was nominated for this award by Jane Gibson. This year Burns worked at the Overlook Center as part of her Child Care II class and was recognized by her supervisor, Tammy Tichinel, for her outstanding attitude and work ethic. "[Brittany] was awesome! We didn't even need to guide her in what to do, she got right in there and began fulfilling each child's needs," said Tichinel. "She was very respectful to the children and to us adults. If she were to pursue [a career in] early childhood development, she would be very successful and her heart would be in it fully." She is pictured above right with Huber.

SHS GRADS RECEIVE AWARDS – Two Southern High School graduates were recognized at the recent West Virginia University School of Pharmacy Scholarships and Awards Convocation. Robbin Gregg was a recipient of the Merck Award. She was also recognized for her academic achievement in making the fall 2009 president's list. She is the daughter of Fred and Carol Gregg, Oakland. Evan Lantz was a recipient of the West Virginia University School of Pharmacy Dean's Scholarship. He was also recognized for making the fall 2009 dean's list. He is the son of Steve and Mary Lantz, Oakland. Pictured above at left is Gregg receiving her award from Dr. Yon Rojanasakul, professor, WVU School of Pharmacy Department of Basic Pharmaceutical Sciences. At right, Lantz is presented his scholarship by Dr. Patricia Chase, dean, WVU School of Pharmacy.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSESSMENT FLOODING SCHEDULED

High School Assessment flooding (after-school review sessions) began May 10. Sessions are as follows: biology is offered May 18–21 with Ms. Marks in Room 2122; algebra is offered May 17–20 and May 24 with Mr. Krupa in Room 2120; government is offered May 17–25 with Mr. Oxford in Room 1237; and English is offered May 17–21 and May 24–25 with Mr. Graham, Ms. Spiker, and Ms. Farmer. Students should see the English teachers or schedules posted at school for specific places and dates. Pizza and cold drinks will be served during tutoring sessions. Daily prizes include Garrett 8 Cinemas coupons, Denny's coupons, extracurricular coupons, Smiley's Fun Zone coupons, Lakeside Creamery coupons, and iTunes gift cards.

SENIOR AWARDS ASSEMBLY

An assembly to honor seniors at Southern High School will be held Thursday, June 3, beginning at 7 p.m. in the high school cafetorium. Seniors, their parents, and members of their families are welcome to attend this program, which recognizes the achievements of many of this year's seniors. Students will be recognized who have completed career technology programs as well as those who have earned top honors in their career programs. Students receiving top academic awards or receiving scholarships will also be among those honored. Other awards to be presented include citizenship, service learning, attendance, music, art, and participation in school activities.

SENIOR CLASS TRIP MEETING

There will be meeting on Sunday, May 23, in the SHS cafeteria at 2 p.m. to discuss next year's senior class trip to Walt Disney World. A slide show will be presented of this year's trip plus highlights of the four parks at Disney World. Students can sign up for the trip at this time with a non-refundable $75. This will give parents the opportunity to ask questions, and students to get an idea of what to expect at Disney. This will be our fourth year at Disney for Grad Night.

NEWS FOR SENIORS

All senior obligations are due. Many seniors still have not paid for their T-shirts and hoodies. The senior picnic will be held on June 3 following graduation practice. The picnic is free to all graduating seniors and is held at Broadford Park at the pavilion next to the boat ramp. The menu will consist of several varieties of wings, lasagna, salads, fresh fruit, cupcakes, and drinks. All seniors attending the picnic are asked to sign up at the Attendance Office. The last senior meeting before graduation will be on May 19, during activity period, when graduation handbooks will be distributed and discussed. All seniors are to be present.

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

SHS will present Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream on May 20, 21, and 22 at 8 p.m. on the school stage. General admission is $5.

GRADUATION PRACTICE

Graduation practice will be on Thursday, June 3, at 8:30 a.m. The senior class picnic is immediately after the practice on Thursday at Broadford Park and is free to all graduating seniors.

SCHOLARSHIPS

•Catholic Daughters of the Americas: One $1,000 scholarship will be awarded to a Garrett County Catholic woman for the 2009-10 school year. Applicant must have a GPA of 2.5 or higher, provide three references, and write a letter describing financial need. Applications are available in the Guidance Office, and the deadline for submission is June 30.

GIVE THEM A HAND

With all of the changes enacted in real estate and related industries, the appraisal process has not been immune. Because lenders were found to be pressuring the appraisers they hired, banks now must largely work with independent appraisers, and they're finding themselves buried in a backlog of jobs.

Because of their workloads, appraisers will gladly consider any information you can provide about your property, and will hopefully generate a more accurate report. Your real estate agentwill list the best features of your home, including recent improvements, professional landscaping, or even benefits of your location (like access to public transportation and schools).

While you won't necessarily be graded for your housekeeping skills, appraisers do pay attention to the very appearance and cleanliness of your home. You can positively affect your appraisal's outcome if your lawn is mowed or raked, your windows sparkle, and your closets look spacious. Appraisers are practically looking through the buyer's eyes, so pretend you're preparing for an open house before their arrival.

Finally, through your agent, you should request a copy of the report, because lenders are required to provide it, but you've got to ask. If you find any errors in important features like square footage or property description, contact the appraiser directly. Let the lender and your agent know, too, but understand that they cannot take any direct action under the new rules.

DNR Service Will Be Closed Friday, May 28

All Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) offices will be closed Friday, May 28, as part of the state's Furlough and Temporary Salary Reduction Plan. This includes regional service centers, which are historically busy the Friday before Memorial Day weekend. Maryland state parks and other public lands managed by DNR will remain staffed and open to the public.

"Maryland's state parks and other public lands have become traditional venues for Maryland families to enjoy their holiday weekends," said DNR Secretary John Griffin. "We remain committed to keeping these amenities open and operating for citizens and visitors despite the suspended service day."

DNR asks all boaters to plan accordingly, and register their boats early. Anglers can purchase fishing licenses online at http://www.dnr.state.md.us/service/license.asp, or by telephone at 800-918-2870.

For more information on state parks, persons can go online to http://www.dnr.maryland.gov/publiclands/.

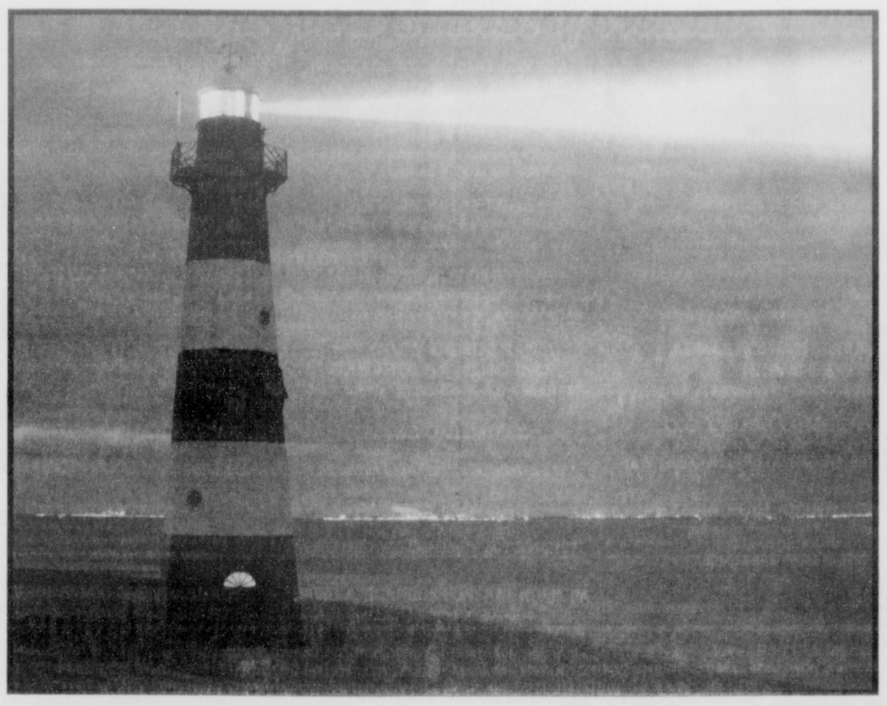
Expecting the Glow



© istockphoto.com/MikLav

The lighthouse, always a symbol of hope and stability, waits to guide the voyager traveling the unpredictable coastline. The glow from the beacon of light brings safety and guidance; ships are expecting it.

Our Creator knows our path through life, even before we do. He can bring us the hope and joy we need to traverse the future; He will light our way! Isaiah 60:20 says, "Your sun will never set again, and your moon will wane no more; the Lord will be your everlasting light, and your days of sorrow will end."

Do you have faith in God's guidance and protection? Visit your house of worship this week and let God light up your life.

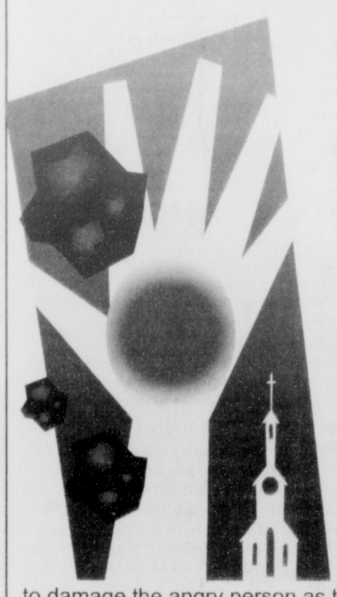
Don't Throw Hot Coals



There is an instructive metaphor that compares lashing out in anger to picking up hot coals to throw at your enemies. In so doing, you may hurt your enemy, but you will almost certainly hurt yourself in the process. Anger is like that. It often hurts the person harboring it more than the person toward whom it is directed. All of the negative feelings and resentments associated with anger are as likely to damage the angry person as they are to hurt the one they lash out against. Nelson Mandela has remarked, in this vein, that "Resentment is like drinking poison and hoping that it will kill your enemies." Anger is sometimes justified, but more often than not it is a sign of our selfishness and egotistic peevishness. So, we should try to let go of our anger and resentment and resist the urge to pick up those hot coals. We will save ourselves a lot of pain and frustration.

You shall not take vengeance or bear any grudge against the sons of your own people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself: I am the Lord.

Recommended Treatments for Hemophilia

Hemophilia is an abnormality in the blood clotting process due to deficiency in one or more clotting factors. There are several types of hemophilia. Hemophilia A, the most common type, is cause by an insufficient amount of clotting factor VIII. Hemophilia B is caused by a deficiency in the amount of clotting factor IX, and also occurs commonly. Persons with hemophilia may experience bleeding for longer duration following an injury. Signs and symptoms include large bruises, joint pain, nose bleeds, and bleeding of the gums.

Although there is no cure for hemophilia, different treatments are available, depending on severity of the condition. Clotting factor replacement may be administered to prevent bleeding. For mild hemophilia, desmopressin may be prescribed. This hormone works to increase the release of clotting factor, which works to stop bleeding. Antifibrinolytic medications include tranexamic acid and epsilon aminocaproic acid (EACA). These medications inhibit fibrinolysis by inhibiting the substance plasminogen, which improves the stability of the clot. Persons with hemophilia should not take aspirin or other nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs), because of the increased risk of bleeding.

The sound of 'Glee': Simply mouthing it?

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Q: My brother and I both watch "Glee." He insists the actors are lipsyncing the songs, and I say no way, that they are all singing their own songs. Who's correct? –Susan Spencer, Ormond Beach, Fla.

A: You've actually merged two different questions here ... whether they are lip-syncing, and whether others are singing the songs for them. In this case, Lea Michele and the other stars of Fox's "Glee" often prerecord the songs, then lip-sync to their own singing while performing the complicated choreography in the final versions of the show's musical numbers.

And just to emphasize this for all the "Gleeks" out there, by no means is that meant to be criticism. On the tight production schedule of a series episode, and with as much as clearly is involved in "Glee," it might be impossible to do it any other way.

Q: Do you know if "Spartacus: Blood and Sand" will have a second season on Starz, or is it just a one-season program? –Bruce Gardner, Denver

A: In fact, it was planned to be more than one season before the show even premiered, since Starz already had ordered a second round late last year. However, when that will be produced and shown is in question; title star Andy Whitfield was diagnosed with non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, found at an early stage, several months ago. It's been reported that in the meantime, Starz is attempting to keep much of the production staff by developing a "Blood and Sand" prequel.

Q: What happened to the CBS series "Flashpoint"? It was one of our favorites. –Kirk and Allison Evans, Allen, Texas

Lea Michele

A: The police drama will be back, though no specific date had been set at this writing. CBS has yet to air the last half of what was filmed as the second season of the Canadian-American co-production, though those episodes already have been shown by Canada's CTV network. Beyond those, the show started up production again in January for a third season, into which CBS could fold the nine episodes from season two not yet shown in the United States.

Q: Is or isn't "Tonight Show" bandleader Kevin Eubanks leaving the show? –Steven Kendall, Seattle

A: He is ... in fact, he may be gone by the time you read this. Eubanks gave what was, in effect, his six weeks' notice on the NBC program in mid-April. He's spent 18 years as Jay Leno's music man, and it didn't take long for the show to find a replacement for him.

Rickey Minor, who has served as music director of Fox's "American Idol" since 2007, will be assuming that role for Leno. The timing of that is good, since "Idol" is just concluding its ninth season.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was British Prime Minister Benjamin Disraeli who made the following observation: "My idea of an agreeable person is a person who agrees with me."

• Hunters, take note: The largest deer that ever lived was the Irish elk, which became extinct more than 7,000 years ago. Though it stood a remarkable 7 feet tall at the shoulders, the creature's most amazing characteristic was its antlers, which could stretch 12 feet from tip to tip and weigh up to 90 pounds. Imagine that rack hanging on your living-room wall!

• If you are a parent, you probably won't be surprised to learn that among the under-18 crowd, strawberries are the favorite fruit, followed closely by grapes and bananas.

• Google Earth, the virtual geographic information program, isn't just a fun thing to fiddle with on your computer; it can be a law-enforcement tool, too. Just last year, police in Switzerland noticed a cornfield that looked a bit odd; it turns out that the farmer was raising marijuana and had hidden the two-acre plot within his corn fields.

• The koala bear, that cute and cuddly icon of Down Under, never drinks water. The critters get all the water they need from the food they eat.

• Medical experts say that coconut water has the same pH and electrolyte balance as human blood. In fact, during World War II, doctors who were running low on supplies used coconut water in plasma transfusions.

• In 2002, in an effort to be more environmentally friendly, Ireland decided to try to reduce the use of plastic grocery bags by levying a 15-cent tax on each one. It worked, too — use of the bags dropped by 95 percent.

Moments in time

• On May 28, 1754, George Washington, a young lieutenant colonel in the British Army and future president of the United States, leads an attack on French forces at Jumonville Glen in western Pennsylvania. The battle is later credited with being the opening salvo in the French and Indian War (1754 to 1763). It was Washington's first time in combat.

• On May 26, 1897, the first copies of the classic vampire novel "Dracula," by Irish writer Bram Stoker, appear in London bookshops. In 1890, Stoker published his first novel, "The Snake's Pass." Stoker would go on to publish 17 novels in all, but it was "Dracula" that eventually earned him literary fame.

• On May 29, 1922, the United States Supreme Court rules that organized baseball did not violate antitrust laws as alleged by the Baltimore franchise of the defunct Federal League in 1915. The Supreme Court held that organized baseball is not a business, but a sport, in spite of the fact that its clubs and players crossed state lines in order to play.

• On May 25, 1935, at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh, Babe Ruth hits his 714th home run, a record for career home runs that would stand for almost 40 years.

• On May 30, 1963, a New Jersey teenager named Lesley Gore makes her first appearance on "American Bandstand," singing her hit-to-be "It's My Party". Lesley Gore (née Lesley Sue Goldstein) was just a few weeks past her own 17th birthday when she performed one of the greatest teen-drama songs of all time.

• On May 27, 1972, Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev and U.S. President Richard Nixon, meeting in Moscow, sign the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) agreements. At the time, these agreements were the most far-reaching attempts ever to control nuclear weapons.

• On May 24, 1991, the critically acclaimed road movie "Thelma and Louise" debuts in theaters, stunning audiences with a climactic scene in which its two heroines drive off a cliff into the Grand Canyon in a vintage 1966 green Ford Thunderbird convertible.

Collecting

by Larry Cox

Q. I am nearly 52 years old and have inherited a marble sculpture of a sleeping lamb. My family used it as a doorstop when I was a child. I do not see any markings on it, but wonder if it has any monetary value and, if so, how much? — Pat, Willmar, Minn.

A. Although you didn't include an image, I suspect what you have is a piece of cemetery art. Throughout the Victorian era, the graves of infants and children often were marked with marble statues of sleeping lambs. As I have often said in this column, cemeteries are never abandoned, and it is never proper to take anything from one, no matter how neglected the site appears. Because of this, I make it my policy to never assist in determining the values of such items.

Write to Larry Cox in care of King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475, or send e-mail to antiquequestions @aol.com. Due to the large volume of ma il he receives, Mr. Cox is unable to personally answer all reader questions. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.

AUDUBON SOCIETY SLATES FIELD TRIP – The Potomac Valley Audubon Society has scheduled a field trip to Finzel Swamp on Saturday, May 29. The event is free, and anyone may participate. Those interested are to meet Frostburg State University biology professor Frank Ammer at the swamp's parking lot at 9 a.m. For directions, one may visit the Nature Conservancy web site, nature.org, and type "finzel" in the search box. The Finzel Swamp preserve is often referred to as "a window into the ice age's past." It is located in a high-altitude "frost pocket" where the surrounding hills capture an unusual amount of moisture and cold air to create a landscape more reminiscent of Canada than Maryland. The elevation of the preserve is 2,700 feet. Its 326 acres contain a shrub swamp, other plant communities, and the headwaters to the Savage River. "The preserve offers good opportunities for sighting a number of bird species near the southern edge of their geographical range," said an Audubon spokesperson. "These include the alder flycatcher and Nashville warbler, both listed as 'In Need of Conservation'; and two other rare species, the northern saw-whet owl ad northern water thrush. Several state-rare species have bred here periodically, including the sedge wren, Henslow's sparrow, sora, purple finch, and the golden-winged warbler. Other bird species that can be found on the property include the American bittern, rail, rose-breasted grosbeak, woodcock, cedar waxwing, scarlet tanager, wild turkey, and whip-poor-will. Short-Term CDL Training Slated Near Grantsville

Garrett College is accepting applications for a new series of courses geared toward training individuals to obtain a Class A, commercial driver's license (CDL) in a short time frame.

The training will begin on Monday, June 14, for the weekday program and on Saturday, June 19, for the weekend sessions. It will encompass 210 hours (30 days) of training through the Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute, located near Grantsville.

The weekday option will be offered in a 7½-week timeframe, Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The weekend option will be held on Saturdays and Sundays, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., for 15 weeks.

This program offers a professional truck driving curriculum for the purpose of qualifying students for entry level positions as drivers in over-the-road or local driving vehicles.

The curriculum provides information about trucks, truck driving and the trucking industry, and the fundamentals of operating trucks and tractor trailers. No prior education or experience with trucks is required.

Near completion of training, students will be taken to test at their local department of motor vehicles to demonstrate and obtain their licenses.

Students entering the course must show proof of high school diploma (transcript), GED, or passing score on his/her ASSET test; currently possess a valid license; be 18 years of age; be able to pass a Department of Transportation physical and drug screen; and communicate in the English language sufficiently, as required by the U. S. Department of Transportation.

"With the reduced training period, in addition to the decreased cost, we can hopefully offer potential students quick reentry into the job market," said Terry Beachy, director of Mountaintop Truck Driving Institute. "Additionally, the local job services may be able to assist students with funding to attend this training and be on their way to a successful driving career."

For more information or to register for this course, persons may contact Beachy at 301-895-4700 or terrry.-beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Many Find Money Via Supplement From Comptroller

Comptroller Peter Franchot announced this week that his office will be cutting checks to nearly 9,000 Marylanders as a result of this year's 144-page advertising supplement. As part of an aggressive campaign to reunite Marylanders with property and money owed to them, the comptroller's office released the insert in newspapers across the state, including The Republican, earlier this month. The supplement included 60,000 recently identified owners of more than $42 million in unclaimed funds.

"While some states allow these accounts to lie dormant, my office works hard to find the rightful owners," said Comptroller Franchot. "I'm pleased to be able to return all of this money to hard-working Marylanders."

Financial institutions, utility and insurance companies, and other corporations are required to report to the comptroller any bank accounts, security deposits, wages, insurances benefits, and contents of safe-deposit boxes that have been unclaimed after three years. Funds remain the property of the owners or their legitimate heirs, and can be claimed anytime. There is no statue of limitations.

Franchot urges everyone to check the agency's complete unclaimed property records online at either www.marylandtaxes.com or www.missingmon-ey.com. The agency has records on approximately 800,000 accounts worth more than $900 million.

In addition, numerous property items held by the agency that remain unclaimed are now eligible for auction on eBay. Since this program began in July 2006, nearly 3,300 items have been sold, totaling more than $820,000. These items can be viewed and bid on by clicking the eBay icon at www.marylandtax-es.com.

Along with newspaper advertising, the comptroller's office also searches for owners of unclaimed funds by matching files with the Internal Revenue Service and state Motor Vehicle Administration records, as well as setting up computers at the Maryland State Fair and other events to allow people to check the agency's files of unclaimed funds.

In fiscal year 2009, which ended on June 30, 2009, the comptroller's office honored nearly 43,000 claims totaling more than $42 million.

YODER HOUSE TO OPEN FOR THE SEASON – Spruce Forest Artisan Village, Grantsville, will open be for tours from Memorial Day through October. Daily visiting hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. In addition to artisans demonstrating such crafts as weaving, wood carving, painting, and pottery, this arts and heritage center features the Yoder House, a living history museum. The four-story structure was built on the premises to show how houses were constructed and what lives were like in Switzerland during the period of 1700–1750. Yoder House hosts will be available during the season to discuss the features of the structure, which includes a massive fire place, draw-string latch, "around-the-corner" stairway, stone arched root cellar, and more.

Survey Says Health Insurer Practices Jeopardizing Access To Effective Care

MedChi, the Maryland State Medical Society, this week released the findings of a membership survey that explored the impact of health insurance protocols on the ability of Maryland physicians to provide effective care. The survey revealed near universal dissatisfaction with health insurer requirements and the ways in which the requirements dictate how doctors treat patients.

"Maryland physicians have increasingly voiced their concerns about the significant and potentially dangerous ways that health insurers are intruding in the doctor-patient relationship" said Gene Ransom, MedChi CEO. "Insurance practices such as requiring pre-approval for medical procedures and prescription medications, step therapy, and therapeutic substitution are intended to be cost-control measures, but in reality they deny patients access to care and are tantamount to practicing medicine without a license."

Specific findings of the MedChi survey include:

•95% of Maryland physicians surveyed said that health insurer protocols that impact how and what treatments physicians can prescribe their patients had a "somewhat" or "very" negative effect on the doctor's ability to effectively treat patients;

•88.5% of physicians identified insurance barriers such as pre-approvals, step therapy, drug switching, and other protocols as "burdensome," "very burdensome," or as a "major hassle";

•94% of survey respondents said that health insurance companies in Maryland delay or deny prescription medications or diagnostic testing for patients;

•26% of physicians surveyed report that they and their staffs spend between 21 and 60 hours per month interacting with insurance companies just to obtain pre-approval on prescription medications and medical procedures, and to determine requirements for other insurer protocols such as step therapy; while another 19% report spending more than 150 hours per month;

•More than 70% of responding doctors indicate that the hidden costs associated with meeting health insurer protocols have a "significant to crippling" impact on their practice;

•Nearly 77% of respondents said that they had considered moving their practice to another state, retiring early, leaving the profession, or re-establish-ing their practice as fee-for-service only in order to avoid the administrative requirements associated with health insurance requirements.

The pre-approval process – when an insurer requires a doctor to obtain authorization from the insurance carrier before the carrier will agree to cover the cost of a procedure or medications – proved to be a particularly onerous burden for Maryland physicians. One busy surgical practice reported hiring two additional employees solely to deal with the administrative requirements of insurance companies, at a cost of $75,000 annually.

"Health insurer protocols not only delay treatment for individual patients, but they also cut into the time that a doctor has to spend with his or her patients – every hour that a doctor spends on administrative tasks is an hour not spent on patient care," explained MedChi president Murray Kalish, MD.

In response to the survey, MedChi also announced that it will take the following actions to help address intrusive health insurance protocols:

•Petitioning the insurance commissioner to conduct a comprehensive review of pre-approval, step therapy, therapeutic switching, and other "cost containment" practices currently interfering with Maryland patients and their access to affordable, timely health care;

•Urging the Health Care Reform Coordinating Council to identify ways to eliminate or streamline insurance "cost-containment"

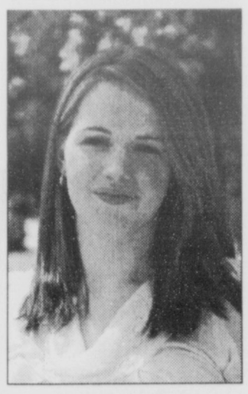
Hannah Byler To Speak At FSU Commencement



A Garrett County student will be among the speakers for the 136th commencement of Frostburg State University, which will be held Saturday, May 22, in the Harold J. Cordts Physical Education Center's Main Arena on the FSU campus.

Among the three featured student speakers will be Hannah Byler of the College of Education.

Byler, a resident of Grantsville who will graduate as an elementary education major, has excelled in and out of the classroom at FSU. A recipient of the Perry Smith Jr. Scholarship and the Garrett County Commissioners' Scholarship award, she is ranked at the top of her class with a 3.93 grade point average.

Byler is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the International Reading Association, Garrett County Reading Council, and Maryland Student Education Association. She has been a dean's list student both at FSU and previously at Garrett College.

Byler says that her love of learning and of children has influenced her life in many ways. Through internships, summer camps, and tutorial settings, she strives to find strategies that work best for each child. She has a particular passion for children's literature.

She has participated in the State of Maryland Reading Conference and the annual Spring Festival of Children's Literature at FSU.

"Hannah is continuously seeking knowledge," said an FSU spokesperson. "She is extremely dedicated, professional, and reflective in her attempt to actively involve her students in engaging and challenging activities."

Dr. Jonathan C. Gibralter, FSU president, will confer degrees on graduates during two exercises throughout the day. The College of Business and the College of Education ceremonies will start at 10 a.m., and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will present degrees beginning at 2 p.m.

Tickets are required for admission to the spring commencement. For more information, persons may go online and visit the commencement web site at www.frostburg.edu/events/commencement.

practices as federal health law is implemented in Maryland;

•Investigating the development of a universal electronic process for streamlining and expediting health insurance carrier requirements;

•Developing patient protection standards that will more clearly define the boundaries around patients and their providers, reinstating providers as the primary decision-makers for their patients' health needs.

In conjunction with the release of the survey results, MedChi CEO Ransom sent a letter to Maryland insurance commissioner Elizabeth Sammis requesting a formal review of the most egregious health insurer practices.

"As Maryland moves toward implementing the federal health bill, we ask that you please review preapproval requirements, step therapy protocols and therapeutic switching policies to ensure ALL Maryland patients have timely access to the care they deserve – as directed by their doctors, not their insurance plans," Ransom said in the letter.

Complete results of the survey can be found online at http://www.medchi.org/news-and-bulletins/surveys.

MedChi is a non-profit membership association that speaks on behalf of over 22,000 licensed physicians in the state. Its mission is to serve as Maryland's foremost advocate and resource for physicians, their patients, and the public's health.

Thank You

Too often, life just rolls along and we don't take the time to tell those who have touched our lives in some special way how much they have meant. The phone calls, flowers, cards and words of encouragement I received from so many family and friends after my recent fall have meant so much. I would especially like to express my sincere appreciation to Dr. Tuel, Dr. Savopoulas and Dr. Friedkin for the skilled and knowledgeable care you all provided me. I would like to extend my appreciation to the GCMH Emergency Room staff, Dr. Perry, the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad, and the Wound Care Center for all your care and professionalism. thanks to the 3rd floor nursing staff, Sub-acute nurses, housekeeping and the hospital chaplains for your compassion. I offer my gratitude to home health and their skilled nursing and aide assistance which has meant more than you can ever know. My regret is to anyone I may have missed.

God Bless Everyone! Letha Hanlin

STUDENTS PERFORM LONG-DIVISION RAP – Linda Teets' fourth grade class at Aurora Elementary School recently completed a performance of their mathematics rap song, which they had learned to reinforce the concepts of long division. Teets often has students learn songs and mnemonic devices in order to help them master challenging material, according to principal Brad Martin. Students also have learned songs that help them with prepositions and the 55 counties of West Virginia. Pictured, left to right, in the front row are Jared Baker, Sidney Harsh, Kenny Auvil, Megan Harsh, Jacob Brookover, Tiffini Sisler, and Christian Watring. In the back are Donovyn Flester, Amanda Sigley, Erika Ritchey, Sierra Evans, Camren Kemphfer, and Justin Moats.

Aurora Historical Society Slates Heritage Days

The fifth annual Heritage Days in Aurora will be held June 4-6, with a variety of events slated each day. The celebration is hosted by the Aurora Area Historical Society (AAHS).

An evening of reminiscing will start off the three-day event. Guests are invited to come to the area behind the Union District History/General Store at 6 p.m. There will be hotdogs, marshmallows, popcorn, and drinks available.

The Aurora Community Building will be the site of a large display of historical photographs and information. It will be open on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

A chicken barbecue will be offered at the General Store on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The dinner will include chicken, baked beans, coleslaw, and rolls. There will be a bake sale as well.

Demonstrations of beekeeping and spinning will be given, and there will be various craft tables. Persons may reserve a space for a table for $10 by calling 304-735-5832 or 304-288-6850.

A yard sale to benefit the Relay for Life will also be held on both Saturday and Sunday.

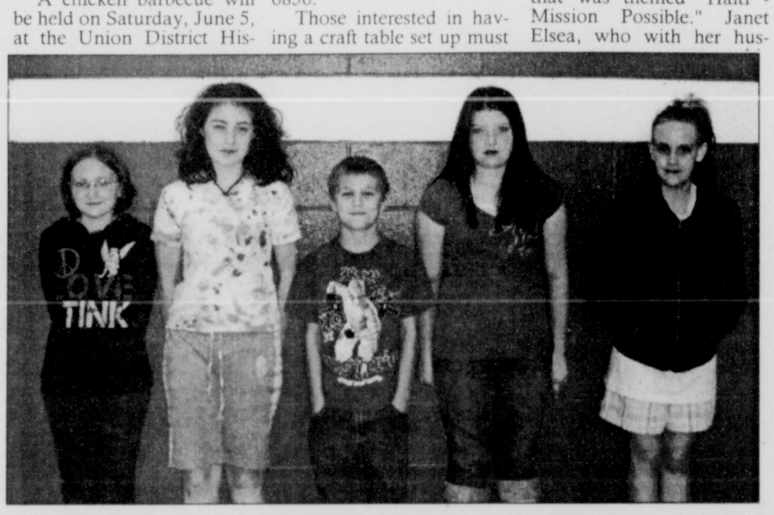
The annual AAHS meeting will take place on Sunday, and will include the election of officers.

For more information, persons may call either of the two numbers noted above.

Cancer Survivor To Give Testimony At Blaine Church

Mtn. Lake Park (Md.) resident Mike Fulmer will tell his story through a testimony at Blaine Full Gospel Church in Blaine this Sunday, May 23, at 10 a.m.

"Mike will tell how God has answered the prayers of all His people who have sent prayers to heaven for him these past 12 years as he has battled cancer (and major lung issues the last four years)," said a spokesperson. "All are welcome to come out and share this wonderful experience as Mike gives all the glory to God."



WIN MARBLES TOURNAMENTS – Aurora Elementary School recently hosted its annual marbles tournament. Students who wanted to participate practiced during April. The tournament concluded the third week of April. The following students were winners at the school level: Nicky Auvil, first place, and Michael Chappelle, second, boys' middle school division; Lena Mersing, first, Emily Snyder, second, and Danielle Blamble, third, girls' middle school; Kenny Auvil, first, boys' elementary school; and Michelle Harsh, first, girls' elementary school. Some Aurora students then participated in the county tournament, held on May 1. In their divisions, Nicky placed third, Kenny placed third, and Michelle placed second. Students who placed third or higher in the county tournament are eligible to compete in the Mountaineer Marble Tournament in Charleston, which takes place July 22–24. The winners of the boys' and girls' competitions receive a $1,000 scholarship after graduation from high school. Marvin George is founder and president of Mountaineer Marbles and supports the school and county tournaments with trophies and marbles. Pictured, left to right, are tournament winners Michelle, Lena, Kenny, Danielle, and Emily. Nicky and Michael are not pictured.

4-H Club News

NORTH STAR
by Kara Savage, reporter

The North Star 4-H Club held its April meeting at the Accident Town Park. The meeting was called to order by Kevin Haenftling, president. The roll call question was "What is your favorite chore around the house and why?" There were three members, two Clovers, two pre-Clovers, five parents, and two leaders present.

The program was an Easter egg hunt for the younger children.

Kara Savage, Kevin Haenftling, and Isaac Brenneman reported on Bowl for 4-H. Kara Savage reported on the Myers View Farm sale, and Kevin Haenftling reported on the FRC Robotics Tournament in Cleveland and the leadership training at Garrett College. Sheena Brenneman attended and reported on the MCE Volunteer Training that was held recently.

Discussion included Achievement Night and the livestock sale.

Members will plant flowers for the sidewalks in Accident again this year. A date to plant them will be scheduled as soon as the flowers are purchased.

A countywide rabbit workshop is scheduled for Sunday, June 13, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. The club will run a concession stand there.

Members decided to participate in the Accident Fishing Rodeo and to prepare "One Plus Kits" again this year.

Kara Savage will work on a promotional brochure for the club.

Kara Savage and Kevin Haenftling led an Easter egg hunt for the younger members as their junior leadership demonstration. Isaac Brenneman gave a demonstration on his woodworking project.

The Clovers shared the puzzles that they made.

The next meeting was also planned for the Accident Town Park.

Senator Edwards To Address Next GGBA Meeting

State senator George Edwards will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Greater Grantsville Business Association on Wednesday, May 26, at 8 a.m. at Penn Alps in Grantsville.

The GGBA meets monthly to promote the Grantsville community, to foster local businesses, and to support growth of the business community. Senator Edwards has been a member of the Maryland Senate and of the Budget and Taxation Committee since 2007. He is also a resident of Grantsville.

His presentation will highlight some of the significant legislation of the 2010 session. The meeting is open to everyone. For more information, persons may call 301-895-5488.

luncheon at the Aurora United Methodist Church memorial building. Devotions were provided through a story that took place during WWII, read by Martha Bolyard. It was announced that veterans may obtain help for installing ramps and handrails, as well as bathroom changes needed for accessibility. The local senior center can be contacted for further information.

The annual county-wide Spring Fling will be will be held at Big Bear Lake this Friday, May 21.

A shopping trip to Clarksburg is scheduled for May 26, with the bus departing at 8:30 a.m.

There will be no trip to Terra Alta this month for senior dinners but will resume in June for those who wish to go. Wilma Teets will be the contact person for the trips.

It was voted to have game day at Stemple Ridge on May 24 at 1 p.m. Guests should bring games to play and finger-food refreshments.

Mildred Stemple was selected as Senior of the Month for May.

Members were warned of another phone scam. It was advised that residents do not answer the phone if it is a call from an 809, 284, or 876 area code, as it will charge them a large fee.

The next meeting is set for June 10, with Shirley Parsons in charge of devotions. The meeting adjourned and those who wished to stay played Bingo.

PERSONAL

Pastor Gary and Bonnie Meeks have returned from the trip to Washington and Idaho, where they visited with and attended the graduation of their son Timothy Meeks, from the Western Nazerene University at Nampa, Idaho.

Kari Harsh, daughter of Ronnie and Delores Harsh, Fairmont, is now residing in Charlotte, N.C., where she will be completing a one-year internship following her graduation from West Virginia University. She will graduate with a doctorate in audiology.

Micah Nissley will graduate June 5 from Liberty Christian Academy, Virginia, and will be attending Liberty university in the fall. His brother Nathan has recovered from a number of surgeries which finally seem to have provided healing for his health problems. They are the sons of Glenn and JoAnn Nissley, who were pastors at Maple Spring Church of the Brethren prior to the Meekses.

Jerry Hauser is still not well, but was told that rest and care at home will suffice.

Rowena Dameron has been moved to a rehabilitation location in Morgantown and is progressing with increasing strength.

Carl and Nancy Winters visited briefly Saturday with his parents Claude and Jean Winters, Eglon.

Pastor John Foy and his son Dr. Andrew Foy have been called to Florida, where their mother/grandmother is very ill.

DEFENDANTS

NOTICE AND ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District 16, Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and State of Maryland to James P. Tasker and Donna L. Tasker on May 9, 2008.

All that lot, piece or parcel of land situate in Election District No. 16 known as Lot 244 E/S Hazel Glade Rd., Mountain Lake Park, as described in a deed conveyed from the Mountain Lake Park Association of Garrett County to Thomas S. Wildox, dated September 4, 1884, and recorded September 11, 1884, in Liber No. 9, folio 315, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The complaint states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than six (6) months and one day from the date of the sale have expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 5th day of May, 2010, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland,

ORDERED that the notice be given in accordance with Rule 2-121 by certified mail requesting: "Restricted Delivery - show to whom, date, address of delivery" on the defendant named in the complaint, warning the Defendant to be and appear in this Court by the 6th day of July 2010, and redeem the property and answer the complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances,

ORDERED that the notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for three successive weeks before the 28th day of May 2010, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 6th day of July 2010, and redeem the property and answer the complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances.

OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Beverly A. Taylor and Lawton M. Taylor dated November 30, 2006, and recorded in Liber 01275, Folio 0369 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $260,800.00, and an original interest rate of 7.500, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on

May 28, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $27,500.00 by cash or certified funds is required at the time of auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of foreclosure auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of foreclosure auction. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the foreclosure auction, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of foreclosure auction forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys at settlement, a fee of $295.00 for review of the settlement documents, and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorneys fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of foreclosure auction. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Toi Elizabeth Elliott dated September 29, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1256, Folio 0390 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $165,000.00, and an original interest rate of 6.875, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on

June 4, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $16,000.00 by cash or certified funds is required at the time of auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of foreclosure auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of foreclosure auction. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the foreclosure auction, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of foreclosure auction forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys at settlement, a fee of $295.00 for review of the settlement documents, and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorneys fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of foreclosure auction. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
2576 Fingerboard Rd.
Oakland, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Richard L. Ward dated September 8, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1346, Folio 149 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $63,000.00 and an original interest rate of 8.5% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on June 7, 2010, at 1:10 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $6,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

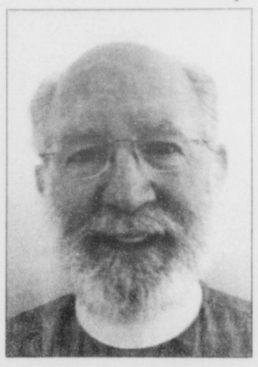
Rev. Dunlavey To Speak At GCMH Pastoral Workshop



Rev. Jack Dunlavey will serve as the guest speaker at an all-day pastoral workshop scheduled for next Monday, May 24, at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Sponsored by the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Chaplaincy Service and the Mountain Top Ministerial Association, the workshop is titled "Pastoral Care to the Sick and Dying."

This workshop, which will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., is designed to refresh pastoral care skills for visiting the sick and dying, especially in a hospital setting.

Jack Dunlavey is the staff chaplain at Howard County General Hospital in Columbia. He is a retired U.S. Department of Navy engineer. He has 23 years of experience in the field of hospital chaplaincy – 17 years as a volunteer, and six years as a part-time staff chaplain. He is presently responsible for training all pastoral care volunteers at Howard County General Hospital.

This workshop is being offered free of charge to area clergy. Anyone interested in attending is asked to contact Jessica Lucas at 301-533-4041 or via e-mail at jlucas@gcmh.com to reserve a space in the workshop.

Barbecue Slated By Salisbury, Pa. Ambulance Group

A chicken barbecue will be served by Salisbury Ambulance Service Inc., Salisbury, Pa., on Sunday, May 23, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. or until sold out.

The cost will be $8 for a full dinner and $5 for half a chicken. The meal will also include baked beans, macaroni salad, a roll, and cake. Meals will also be available for take-out.

INVASIVE PLANTS REMOVED – Savage River Watershed Association (SRWA) volunteers continued to make a difference this spring by removing countless Japanese spiraea and garlic mustard plants from the Bear Pen Wildlands area of the Savage River State Forest. A total of 100 hours was donated by SRWA volunteers who removed "botanical bullies" that reduce regional biodiversity. Though Japanese spiraea has been removed by SRWA volunteers in years past because it crowds out native species, garlic mustard was also targeted for removal this year. Garlic mustard not only out-competes native wildflowers, but it inhibits the growth of a fungus needed for successful forest regeneration. In addition garlic mustard threatens a rare butterfly, the

Garrett College's Southern Center Offers Summer Classes For Children

Garrett College's Continuing Education and Workforce Development division has scheduled various courses this summer at the Southern Outreach Center (the former armory) in Oakland for children.

Abbi Kifer from the University of Maryland Extension Office will teach a class titled Cooking for Kids, which will provide hands-on instruction on how to prepare a no-bake, low-cost, and healthy meal or snack that children can make at home with their parents. The class is open to children from age 7 to 14, and will be presented July 12 and 13 from 9 a.m. to noon. Recipes will include a minimal amount of ingredients, and supplies will be provided at no cost.

Kifer will be back July 19 and 20 to teach a class titled Kitchen Science. Students will participate in a food experiment in each class that combines food science and nutrition. It will also meet from 9 a.m. to noon.

Decorating with Icing will be a hands-on class offered to those ages 8 to 12 on Mondays, July 26 through Aug. 9, from 6 to 8 p.m. Children will be taught decorating tips to create cakes, cookies, and other treats. A supply list is available upon registration.

Youth ages 8 to 14 who are interested in learning more about sign language are invited to take Basic Sign Language on Tuesdays, July 13 through Aug. 10, from 6 to 8 p.m. Instruction will include an introduction to sign language, including the signs for the alphabet, family names, and foods.

For teens ages 13 to 16 who are interested in brushing up on their math skills, an algebra refresher course will be offered July 13 through Aug. 17 from 6 to 8 p.m. This class does not count for credit, but is designed for students who would like extra help or a review before taking algebra at their school.

For additional information and/or to register for any of these classes, persons may contact Jessica McDaniel at 301-334-8304 or via e-mail to jessi-ca.mcdaniel@garrettcol-lege.edu, or Patricia Baer, also at 301-334-8304.

Donations Sought For Trinity Church Cemetery Upkeep

Trinity United Church of Christ, New Germany, is accepting donations to defray the cost of upkeep of its cemetery. Persons with family members in the cemetery are encouraged to give donations.

Checks can be made payable to Trinity UCC Cemetery Fund and mailed to Helen Oester, 1735 Lower New Germany Road, Grantsville, 21536.

DNR Amends Alcohol Policy In State Forests

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is amending its alcohol policy on public lands to provide for a limited exception for state forest campsites, effective immediately. The policy prohibiting alcohol in all Maryland state parks, including family campgrounds, remains in place.

"We are grateful to the citizens and elected officials of western Maryland who gave us the opportunity to hear their voices in person on this matter," said DNR Secretary John Griffin. "They persuaded us that many of the disruptive and unacceptable behaviors which formed the basis of the alcohol policy in the family-style campgrounds found in state parks do not apply to the same degree in the more isolated individual campsites found in the remote settings in our state forests."

DNR will continue to monitor the number and type of incidents and unacceptable behavior associated with the consumption of alcoholic beverages on state forests. Additional restrictions may be imposed in the future only if incidents increase to a level which interferes with the ability of state forest visitors to enjoy a peaceful and safe camping experience, or the Department's resource protection objectives are compromised by the irresponsible consumption of alcohol.

The Department will pursue the possibility of new partnerships with county tourism and retail liquor stores to establish a public outreach effort to educate state forest visitors about drinking responsibly and employing "Leave No Trace (LNT) Ethics," a policy DNR has been promoting in its parks.

In order to preserve the beauty and serenity of Maryland's state forests, visitors are asked to leave their campsites litter-free, refrain from nailing and cutting trees, report vandalism of recreation facilities, pack out all food waste, and be considerate of others. A public outreach effort will strive to raise the level of compliance with LNT ethics, in order to improve campsite conditions and the outdoor recreation experience in the state forests.

"I hope all our visitors who enjoy alcohol while camping in our forests continue to do so responsibly," said Griffin.

DNR is the state agency responsible for providing natural and living resource-related services to citizens

TAKING TIME TO REMEMBER – The Memorial Day holiday is nearly here, and people everywhere are planning picnics, yard sales, and other activities for the three-day weekend. But more important preparations are under way in the many towns of Garrett County, as well as across the country, as citizens will take this given time to remember the sacrifices made by military personnel. A number of ceremonies, parades, and services are slated this weekend throughout the county, and residents are urged to attend and/or participate. This is the time to remember and reflect, and to consider the freedoms enjoyed now, hardwon by millions of soldiers throughout the country's history. Photo by John McEwen.

Garrett Co. Man Pleads Guilty To Child Porn Charge

Matthew Allen Skillman, 29, Oakland, pleaded guilty last Friday in U.S. District Court in Baltimore to distribution of child pornography.

The guilty plea was announced by U.S. attorney for the District of Maryland Rod J. Rosenstein; special agent in charge Richard A. McFeely of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; Harford County sheriff L. Jesse Bane; Sgt. Dave Betz of the Harford County Sheriff's Office, director of the Harford County Child Advocacy Center; Col. Terrence Sheridan, superintendent of the Maryland State Police; Garrett County sheriff Gary Berkebile; and state's attorney Lisa Thayer Welch.

According to the plea agreement, on Aug. 19, 2008, an undercover FBI agent, connected to a network on the Internet, using a file-sharing program. The agent conducted a search using terms generally associated with child pornography, which indicated that Skillman was sharing files associated with those terms. The agent downloaded 18 of those files, a number of which contained child pornography.

On Nov. 18, 2008, a federal search warrant was executed at Skillman's home and his computer was seized. On Jan. 26, 2009, an image scan on that computer located 34 movies and 45 images containing child pornography, including images of pre-pubescent minors, according to the FBI.

Skillman faces a mandatory minimum sentence of five years and a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison for distribution of child pornography, followed by supervised release up to life.

Sentencing has been scheduled for Aug. 3 at 9:30 a.m. before U.S. District Judge Richard D. Bennett.

This case was brought as part of Project Safe Childhood, a nationwide initiative to combat the growing epidemic of child sexual exploitation and abuse

GC Commissioners Review Short List Of Proposed Road Projects

Garrett County Roads Department personnel met with the county commissioners on Tuesday and reviewed their bridge, roadwork, and paving projects scheduled for the remainder of Fiscal Year 2010 and upcoming FY 2011. Because of economic conditions, however, that "to-do" list is short.

Swallow Falls Road Bridge

General roads superintendent Jay Moyer said the bid advertisement for construction of a new Swallow Falls Road bridge has been delayed until next year. In the meantime, there is a weight restriction on the bridge, which is located near Swallow Falls State Park.

When construction does begin on the new bridge, a temporary one-lane structure with no weight restriction will be placed over the Youghiogheny River. Moyer said it was important to keep the roadway open because of the park and a nearby business that relies on tourism.

"The estimated cost of that bridge is going to be in the neighborhood of $3.5 million, of which 80 percent will be federally funded with the county share being 20 percent, or roughly $720,000," Moyer said.

Glendale Road Intersection

Moyer said the State Highway Administration (SHA) has approved the design contract for the Glendale Road Intersection Improvement Project.

"[But] SHA still has a problem with the estimated cost of that project," the superintendent said. "And we're going to be looking at ways to lessen the financial impact of that project on the county."

Moyer said the cost will be well over $1 million, with approximately $742,000 available in grants. The county's responsibility will be roughly $258,000.

He added that actual construction on the project will not begin until next year.

Exhibit Hall

If approved by the Garrett County Fair Board, improvements related to the exhibit hall will begin soon at the fairgrounds, Moyer indicated. County engineer Dwight Emory has proposed a schedule of what needs to happen, how it needs to happen, and how long it should take, the superintendent noted.

That work includes a new acceleration/deceleration lane, new entrance, a new roadway, two parking areas, and a stormwater system.

The estimate cost is $1 million. A $300,000 USDA grant is available, Moyer said, and the county is responsible for the remainder of the cost. He noted that as much "in house" work as possible will be done in order to get the cost down to the county's budgeted amount.

Bridge G-84

Moyer also reported that replacement of Bridge G-84, located over Mill Run on Chet Kelly Road, has been delayed. The superintendent explained that based on an inspector's report, the Roads Department was going to use a prefabricated bridge that it already has on hand to replace the current structure.

But when Moyer's staff measured the site in preparation for the replacement, they discovered that the inspector's numbers were off by two feet. As a result, a new bridge has to be purchased. The estimated project limit is $50,000 in county funds.

Savage River Road

Moyer said road repairs, including a tar and chip overlay, will be completed on Savage River Road during the 2010 construction season. Estimated at $30,000, the project will be funded by the county.

"That road is open; it's usable," Moyers said. "It just has a section that no longer has tar and chip; it's been washed out."

The superintendent noted, as temporary measures, a Grantsville garage crew has put crusher run gravel down and done work to prevent the river from

Annual McHenry Highland Festival Slated June 4–6

The 23rd annual McHenry Highland Festival will take place Friday through Sunday, June 4–6. Scheduled to kickoff the festival is a Celtic concert at Wisp Resort Friday evening. A cash bar and light fare will be available at 7 p.m., with the concert slated at 8 p.m.

The event will feature world renowned Scottish fiddler Bonnie Rideout, Celtic rock band MacTalla Mór, Celtic singer-songwriter Christina Harrison.

Tickets are $35 per person and may be purchased in advance at Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland; the Visitors Center, McHenry; or online at highlandfest.info.

The festival will continue Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. Admission is $12 for adults, $6 for students, and free for children 12 years of age and younger.

This year's honorary clan chieftain is Odette Lueck, who will preside over the festival.

A wide variety of activities have been scheduled throughout the day. Those include Scottish country dancing, Irish dancing, sheepdog herding demonstrations, a birds of prey exhibition, a parade, clans and genealogy displays, a Celtic climbing wall, buggy

Prominent Business Couple Die In Apparent Murder-Suicide

The lives of two prominent local business people came to an end last Friday evening, May 21, in an apparent murder-suicide that took place at their home along Herrington Manor Road near Oakland.

According to a report from the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, officers responded to a 7:32 p.m. call reporting a shooting. Upon arrival at the home, deputies discovered the deceased body of Sharon Jean Markwood, 46. Her estranged husband, 48-year-old John Robert Markwood, was found alive but suffering from a gunshot wound, apparently self-inflicted. They were in the lower level of the house.

A shotgun and a handgun were both found at the scene, according to Sheriff Gary Berkebile. While initial appearances point to the shotgun as the weapon used, a ballistics investigation is under way to make the final determination, the sheriff said.

A Health-Net helicopter was summoned to the scene and the surviving Markwood was air-lifted to Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown, W.Va. He was pronounced dead upon arrival, according to the police report. Sharon Markwood was declared dead at the scene by forensic examiner Sam Moon, the police report states.

The sheriff said autopsy and toxicology reports on both of the deceased are being completed in Baltimore.

Several family members were on the Herrington Manor property tending to cattle at the barn at the time of the incident. But Berkebile said initial indications are that the Markwoods were alone in the house at the onset of the shooting. Officials believe no one witnessed the actual event, he said.

The sheriff said the investigation is continuing, and autopsy and other results are pending. As more information comes to light, it will be released to the public.

The Markwoods were known locally and into West Virginia as developers and business people. Together they managed a number of car dealerships, real estate projects, and convenience stores. Among the several local businesses previously owned and operated by the couple were Cornish Manor Restaurant and Markwoods' Citgo (now Luke's Liquors/7 Eleven), both in Oakland.

Mr. Markwood was originally of Preston County, and Mrs. Markwood was a native of Garrett County.

The obituaries for both individuals can be found in this section of today's issue of The Republican.

Commissioners Approve Revisions To Land Development Ordinances

The Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday unanimously approved revisions to three major land development ordinances: the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning, Garrett County Subdivision, and Garrett County Sensitive Areas. The changes become effective on June 1.

Director John Nelson, Garrett County Department of Planning and Land Development, noted that adoption of the revised ordinances was the "end of the road" in a very long process, involving much public input and work by the county and local Planning Commission.

"The Planning Commission is pleased with the outcome of the amend and hope that you will see it the same way and approve it," Chairman Troy Ellington told the commissioners prior to the adoption.

Ellington thanked everyone who took the time to provide comments about the proposed revisions. The chairman noted, however, that the commission had to "strike a balance" between those who said the changes went too far and those who said they did not go far enough.

The revisions to the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning Ordinance include new zoning districts, new standards for subdivisions, a new Scenic Protection Overlay District, and provisions for wind energy devices and gas wells.

Changes to the Garrett County Subdivision Ordinance include expansion of the Agricultural Resource and Rural Resource classifications, a provision to retain trees and other vegetative cover for new subdivisions, and provisions to delineate the boundaries of wetlands or Source Water Protection areas on subdivision plans.

The Garrett County Sensitive Areas Ordinance will now include provisions to protect Source Water Protection Areas, a provision to prevent construction of buildings on man-made slopes exceeding a 30 percent grade, and a provision to limit the exemption from the steep slope requirements to lots of record that are less than four acres.

The revisions to the old ordinances were needed in order for them to be consistent with the county's new comprehensive plan, which was adopted in October 2008. The document serves as a policy guide for future

Lonaconing Man Receives Three-Yr. Sentence For DUI

A 42-year-old Lonaconing (Garrett County) man pleaded guilty in Circuit Court on Tuesday to driving under the influence of alcohol per se. Related citations against Paul Thomas Turner were dismissed upon his plea.

Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced Turner to three years in the Division of Corrections, with two of those years suspended. Turner will be on probation when he is released, with conditions that include abstaining from alcohol consumption. Fines and costs totaling $4,345 were also assessed.

Turner was stopped in August 2009 by a Garrett County sheriff's deputy who saw his vehicle cross the center line on the road. After making observations, including the results of field sobriety tests, the officer arrested Turner for DUI. The "per se" violation was charged after Turner's breath test results were found to exceed the statutory limit, the state's attorney noted.

CDS Charges Issued Following Search Of Hotel Room

A Pennsylvania man was arrested by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force on Monday, according to spokesperson Lisa Welch, state's attorney.

Nathan Neil Himmelberger, 30, Annville, is charged with possession of marijuana and possession of Percocet.

NTF members responded to the McHenry Comfort Inn for a reported drug violation. As a result of an investigation, a search warrant was issued for Himmelberger's room. Upon execution of the warrant a quantity of suspected marijuana and Percocet were recovered. He was taken into custody to be held at the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

THE DISTINCT SOUND OF BAGPIPES will soon resound throughout the Deep Creek Lake area, as the 23rd annual McHenry Highland Festival is scheduled for next weekend. The festival features a Celtic concert at Wisp Resort on Friday evening, June 4, a wide variety of activities on Saturday, June 5, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds, and a Kirkin' o' the Tartans on Sunday, June 6. See story. Pictured is the Parade of Clans from a few years ago. The parade is scheduled for noon on Saturday at the fairgrounds and will feature clan representatives, military units, Celtic dogs, and, of course, pipe and drum bands. Photo by John McEwen.

Recycling Division Launches Prog. For CFL Bulbs

Garrett County Solid Waste and Recycling Division officials are urging residents to use care when handling compact fluorescent light bulbs (CFLs) for disposal by screwing and unscrewing the bulbs by the base.

"CFLs are an important tool in the efforts to reduce energy use, which benefits air and water quality and addresses climate change," said recycling coordinator Kimberly Madigan.

She noted that CFL bulbs contain up to 5 milligrams of mercury, the amount that would cover the tip of a ballpoint pen, as compared to older home thermostats and mercury fever thermometers, which contain between 500 to 30,000 milligrams of mercury.

"CFL bulbs and lamps can currently be disposed of in the Garrett County landfill; however, they should be recycled after use, if at all possible," said Madigan.

In an effort to be more environmentally responsible, Solid Waste and Recycling has launched a new pilot recycling program for fluorescent bulbs, lamps, and polychlorinated biphenyls (non-PCB) ballasts.

"Non-PCB ballasts can be identified by their label. If the ballast does not have a 'No PCBs' label, it is assumed that the ballast does contain PCB and, therefore, cannot be accepted in our recycling program," Madigan said.

Fluorescent bulbs, lamps and non-PCB ballasts may be taken to the landfill location at 3118 Oakland Sang Run Road, Oakland, for recycling. The hours of operation are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The following items will be accepted: CFLs, U-tubes, 4-foot lamps, 8-foot lamps, and non-PCB ballasts. A refuse sticker is not required to participate in the free recycling programs offered to Garrett County residents.

Garrett County businesses are permitted to bring CFLs, fluorescent lamps (only those manufactured with green colored ends), and non-PCB ballasts to the landfill for disposal by paying a commercial waste tipping fee of $35 per ton.

There are also independent contractors who accept fluorescent bulbs, lamps, and ballasts from commercial sites for recycling. A list of independent contractors is available at the Solid Waste and Recycling Division office or in the recycling directory at mdrecycles.org.

For additional information on the free recycling program in Garrett County, persons may contact Madigan at 301-387-0322 or garrettcounty.org.

JROTC COLOR GUARD TO LEAD FESTIVAL – The Southern High School U.S. Army Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (JROTC) Color Guard will lead the opening ceremony to the All-American Whitewater Festival, starting at 10:30 a.m. this Saturday, May 29, at the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI). Local bagpiper Jerry McGee will accompany the Color Guard. Southern High School graduate Joanna Guy, Miss Maryland's Outstanding Teen 2008 and current Cornell University student, will perform the national anthem. More than 30 U.S. military veterans from around the country, most of them members of Team River Runner (a Wounded Warrior organization), will visit Garrett County and take part in the festival. A "whitewater parade" will start at 11 a.m., with kayaking veterans leading a boat procession down the ASCI whitewater course. School students, volunteers, and professional kayakers will follow in rafts and kayaks. Some of the rafts will be fitted with homemade figureheads, including submissions from Southern Middle School's sixth grade students. The festival is free and open to the public. For more information, persons may visit adventuresportscenter.com, call 301-387-3250, or e-mail asci@adventuresportscenter.com.

Charged After Leaving Vehicle Accident Scene

A woman was cited after Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a reported motor vehicle accident on West Shale Road, near Otto Lane.

Investigation revealed that Leanora M. Green, 50, had been operating a vehicle southbound, when she lost control of it and struck a tree. Further investigation revealed that it had happened the night before it was reported. There were minor injuries reported in the accident.

Green is charged with failure to return to or remain at the scene of an accident involving attended vehicle damage.

Sondra Buckel Hopes To Retain Clerk's Position

Sondra R. Buckel announces her candidacy for election to the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County. She has held this position since June 2007, having been appointed to the office following the death of clerk David K. Martin. Prior to her appointment as clerk, she served for 13 years as Martin's chief deputy clerk.

Buckel is a lifelong resident of Garrett County and has been employed in the clerk's office for over 31 years. A graduate of Northern High School and Catherman's Business School, she has a background in business and accounting. She has furthered her education through the University of Maryland in partnership with the James MacGregor Burns Academy of Leadership, having completed a course in executive leadership in the trial courts. However, she says that her best education came from her years of experience in the clerk's office.

During those years of service, she has held the positions of licensing clerk, recording clerk, civil clerk, fiscal officer, courtroom clerk, and supervisor. She was the first woman appointed to perform civil marriage ceremonies and the first to clerk for the judge in the courtroom in Garrett County history.

"I am honored and privileged to have worked under the strong leadership of former clerks Richard Davis, Clifford DeWitt, and David Martin," Buckel said. "I bring that knowledge gained along with a commitment to excellence and a dedication to serving those who entrust their valuable records to my safekeeping."

Two successful audits have been accomplished during her three-year appointed tenure as clerk through the State Office of Legislative Auditors and the Administrative Office of the Courts Internal Auditors. Clerks are charged with maintaining complete and accurate records in full compliance with Maryland rules and procedures. Separate audits showed no evidence of impropriety.

Buckel is an active member of the Maryland Association of Circuit Court Clerks, the Mid-Atlantic Association of Court Management, and the National Association of Court Management. She has served as a committee member on a project "of personal importance," the People's Law Library.

"I'm a strong advocate for public access to the courts, whether it be through my office or the Internet. Currently, land records, court cases, many forms and related information are now available on the Internet with direct links to the clerk's office and other agencies that can provide assistance," she said

Buckel serves as co-chair of Garrett County Habitat for Humanity Women's Build and is an active participant in building for Habitat. She is a member of the Southern Republican Women's Club and has been involved in many civic projects throughout the county, including rescue squad service and many years of keeping stats for Little League games. A member of St. John's Church in the Cove, she has served as a council member and as both secretary and president of the women's society.

She resides on a farm in the Bittinger area. She is the mother of two sons, Randal and Jerod, and also has two grandsons, Nicholas and Neil Buckel.

"I truly enjoy and consider it a privilege to work for the residents of Garrett County," Buckel said. "It would be an honor to continue to serve as clerk of the circuit court."

Frances Martin is serving as the candidate's campaign treasurer.

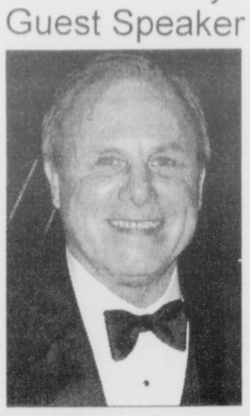
Eiswert To Be Memorial Day Guest Speaker



The Honorable Leonard J. Eiswert, judge of District Court of Garrett County, will be the speaker at this year's Memorial Day commemorative service at the Oakland Cemetery.

The American Legion of Oakland. Proctor Kildow Post #71, is the host of the day's events, beginning with a Memorial Day Parade in town at 10:30 a.m., and followed by the 11 a.m. service in the cemetery. The events will take place on Monday, May 31.

Born in Baltimore, Eiewert is the oldest of six children of Leonard and Helena Eiswert. He married the former Kathy Ahl on June 14, 1969. They have five children and 11 grandchildren.

Eiswert graduated from Loyola College, Baltimore (now Loyola University in Maryland), and earned a law degree, magna cum laude, in 1965 at the University of Baltimore School of Law.

He was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Army ROTC at Loyola College in 1965. He entered active duty in August 1965, assigned to the 459th Signal Battalion at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz. He served with the 459th Signal Battalion in the Republic of Vietnam when his company was deployed there in 1966. He served there for a year. He was then assigned to reserve duty with the 1176 Transportation Headquarters in Curtis Bay, Baltimore, in 1968. He terminated his military service in 1973 with the rank of captain, United States Army Reserve.

Eiswert was appointed assistant state's attorney for Baltimore City in 1972, and served there until 1977. At that time, he became the assistant state's attorney for Garrett County. With Ralph M. Burnett, he started the law firm of Burnett & Eiswert in 1977. Lawyers who were members of that firm through the years include Susan J. Crawford, Thomas R. Janes, Suzanne X. Conger, and Christine Kepple. The firm continues to operate as Janes & Kepple, PA.

Eiswert was appointed as associate judge of District Court of Maryland for Garrett County in October of 2008. He was sworn in as the district court judge in November 2008 and has remained at the post since.

The legion commander, Jim Stewart, will serve as the master of ceremonies for Monday's program. The Southern High School Band and the Garrett Highlands Pipes and Drums will provide music.

Members of various veterans organizations will place wreaths at the grave of the Unknown Soldier, and the VFW Post #10077 of Deer Park will provide the gun salute.

All veterans are encouraged to participate in the parade, a spokesperson said. Those wishing to march in the parade are welcome to do so. A float will be provided for those who wish to ride.

The public is encouraged to attend the events.

Historical Society Annual Dinner Meeting Slated

The Garrett County Historical Society will host its annual dinner meeting and election of officers and board members on Thursday, June 24, at the Bittinger fire hall. The baked steak dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Following the dinner and election, GCHS president Bob Boal will give a short presentation concerning the new Garrett County Museum of Transportation now being constructed along Liberty Street in Oakland. The project is being largely funded via donations from the Howard and Audrey Naylor Trust by way of the Community Trust Foundation.

Tickets to the dinner meeting are $12. Reservations are required and may be made at the museum in Oakland or by calling the museum at 301-334-3226.

Crawford To Run For District One Commissioner Post

Gregan T. Crawford, Oakland, has filed for candidacy to run for the position of Garrett County commissioner, District One.

Crawford is self-employed, and for 20 years has been designing and producing custom cabinets, fine furniture, and woodwork.

"Such experience has taught me to be detail oriented and realize how important it is to persevere in order to create and facilitate positive solutions while remaining viable," Crawford said. "I believe that I can bring leadership, new ideas, and a new approach to problem-solving that better addresses the issues and challenges in our community."

Crawford earned a bachelor of fine arts degree from the Maryland Institute, College of Art, in Baltimore, after having attended Hampden-Sydney College for two years. He resides in Pleasant Valley with his wife of 24 years and their two children, who are currently enrolled in the Garrett County public school system. Crawford attends St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park.

"I have enjoyed the many blessings of Garrett County since age 11 when my parents purchased a farm here, and I have resided here for the past 20 years," the candidate said. "Like many residents and visitors, I enjoy the outdoors and unique quality of life that Garrett County offers."

Eric Tribbey will serve as Crawford's treasurer for the campaign, which is titled "Citizens for Gregan Crawford."

Info Sought By State Police On Vandalism

Maryland State Police are investigating the damage of a drilling rig that was being used at Youghiogheny Mtn. Resort, near Oakland.

Sometime between May 6 and May 11, unknown suspect(s) willfully caused damage to the engine of the rig by placing discharge soil and grit into the valve cover pans. The rig was being used to drill water wells for the construction of new homes. The rig belonged to Glenn Ford Drilling.

Anyone who can provide information is asked to contact Tfc. Brick at the MSP McHenry Barrack at 301-387-1101. Callers may remain anonymous.

Makes Sense To Us...

While this column typically consists primarily of the opinion of the editor, often with a bit of take-it-or-leave-it advice mixed in, we digress somewhat today and offer just the opposite – mostly advice (from an outside source), with a small dose of opinion. But the information/advice seems both timely and important.

With another school year about to come to a close, the job market will soon be flooded with lots of teens looking for summer employment. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the current teen unemployment rate has increased to 25.4%, up from last year's 21.7% and the 2008 rate of 15.8%. The 25.4% is the highest rate in nearly 20 years, as more experienced job seekers are competing for fewer jobs in this tight economy.

Older teens without summer employment often end up as frustrated, bored couch potatoes, whose possibly already fragile self-esteem can take a nose dive.

Malcolm Gauld is president of Hyde Schools, known widely for a unique approach to helping students develop character and leadership skills. His wife Laura is co-author of The Biggest Job We'll Ever Have and co-founder (with Malcolm) of The Biggest Job parenting and teen seminars. The Gaulds offer the following advice to unemployed teens and their parents:

Find a mentor – Teens and their parents can seek out a mentor, such as a family friend, or business or community leader, to work with voluntarily and thereby learn their business and help them in whatever way they can. This opportunity would be scheduled, like any job, and thus keep the teen engaged. He or she would continue to learn new things and gain valuable experience for the future.

Volunteer – There are neighbors, churches, and numerous non-profit organizations throughout the community, most of which can use and would appreciate help. Volunteers are typically needed for everything from filing to cleanups to assisting the elderly.

Assign a home project – Parents can offer their teen an important task to do at home, and pay them something for it. Whether it's painting the garage or planting a garden, it needs to be done well. Teens can gain self-esteem when entrusted with an important project at home.

The Gaulds also suggest a three-point plan for the family that will help them as individuals and as a unit.

1. Weekly family meetings – Take charge and schedule a weekly family meeting where everyone is invited to share ideas, thoughts, challenges, and stories. Communication remains extra important through this time.

2. Jobs – Everyone in the family needs a job, and, as a member of the family, a teen is no exception. All members must take on part of the responsibility of creating a clean, welcoming, and organized home.

3. Mandatory fun – This is a time (parents should determine how often) when the family comes together to do something fun. Family members take turns choosing the activity, and all must agree to participate.

The Gaulds underline these points by reminding parents to always "be the parent" and not engage in a power struggle with their children.

"In the end, parents can show their children how to continue to grow as people, as family members, and as citizens, regardless of the economy, by sticking with core values," said Laura Gauld.

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor:

Eric Robison recently wrote a letter to the editor critical of the leadership of county government. We believe that, in the interest of providing accurate information, it is necessary to respond.

Mr. Robison did not present all of the information available concerning the county's request to terminate the turbine lease on Garrett County Sanitary District property. A media statement issued by the wind developers confirmed that the county did in fact ask that the lease be terminated. This statement was made during the Public Service Commission hearing on May 6, 2008, and is part of the record of that public hearing. Media coverage of the public hearing and, specifically this statement, was printed in the May 13, 2008, edition of The Republican.

The developers, however, declined the county's request.

Mr. Robison's letter also suggests that the placement of wind turbines on Sanitary District property will have a negative impact on the public water source for the towns of Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights. He fails to disclose to the readers, however, that two separate private hydrologists were retained by the county and by the town of Mountain Lake Park to evaluate the potential impact of wind turbines on the water sources of the district and the towns. Independently, each of the hydrologists found that the proposed development would not have any significant negative impact on the water sources.

In addition, the wind developer agreed to relocate the turbines to ensure that all stormwater runoff would be directed away from the water sources.

The county appreciates that the issues concerning the development of wind energy are, for some, controversial. The county believes, however, that it is important that, no matter one's view of the issues, complete and accurate information is essential to a meaningful understanding and discussion of the issues.

The Board of County Commissioners and County Administrator

To the Editor:

I enjoy all the interesting letters, lately, and the interest sharing. Active, concerned citizens make democracies strong. How lucky we are to have a local, independently owned newspaper. I say that because I want to speak about damage being done to our country by large corporations – and the lack of real free market capitalism. Unfettered capitalism is not good for the general welfare, but cycles of deregulation are voted in by the politicians just the same.

Now Garrett County is getting a big dose of corporate practices coming out of deregulation and power out of control. As a victim of the Gulf BP fiasco said, "Those who have the gold write the golden rule."

I'm glad people all over the country are finally speaking out for themselves. But they had better get their vision clear on who rightly deserves criticism. Things would not be so ugly now if they had raised their voices against the Reagan/Bush and Bush/Cheney connection to Big Oil, Big Pharma, and Wall Street. But, they said the magic words "cut taxes," and the electorate fell into line.

And, of course, that resistance to paying taxes shows up in the local problems. My question is – Are the county commissioners protecting us from paying taxes by going after the taxes promised by the wind, gas, and coal corporations? Isn't that a possibility? You get what you pay for.

And just who is to blame for the lack of zoning, required safety setbacks, and ordinances that would protect our well-being? Ms. Carrico asks great questions that should be answered.

I want to know if Republican values of privacy and property rights rule the day so that any commissioner has his hands tied in many ways. Or, can we vote into office those who could see a way to meet the rights and needs for the well-being of all? We are especially vulnerable to the power of others when we don't take responsibility for ourselves – like paying our way. A case in point – volunteers to do the job of a full-time animal control officer. A matter of money and changing the law – Oh well, business as usual. What sad sight do we need to get change – a dead volunteer? Thanks to Denise and Deb.

Good citizens, good business, and good commissioners are what we need – and maybe we have them. Who knows?

Sincerely,
Cynthia S. Knight

To the Editor:

We've all seen the infomercials on TV with the smooth-talking marketing masters who can convince almost any viewers they need to buy their product. These products usually end up in storage awaiting the next yard sale. Wind plants are the infomercial junk being marketed to the consumer with key tag words like "clean energy," "jobs," "tax revenue" and "economic opportunities," and, yes, they even claim it will increase your "tourism."

Powerful corporations like the wind industry trust that most consumers will remember the key marketing words and think green; but just in case, the wind industry's marketing master will be close by to discredit anyone who stands between them and the money they stand to gain. Wind energy isn't about clean, green energy; it's about lining corporate pockets with the consumer's tax dollars.

While our Garrett County commissioners and the county administrator may have been mesmerized by the marketing master manipulators of Clipper Wind, members of Save Western Maryland have not. Months of research about wind power have revealed this source of power to be inefficient, unreliable, and above all, not green!

Hundreds of acres of land and trees are destroyed for minimal output of electricity. Wind energy cannot be stored and must be sent to the grid. When wind is received by the grid, coal plants must be cycled, which causes an increase release of CO_2 into the atmosphere. Low-frequency vibration disturbs wildlife and humans who live near wind turbines. But the least green move of them all, by state legislators, was the removal of the PSC review on wind projects 70 MW or less; Public Utility Code Section 7-207.1, signed into law in 2007, exempts Big Wind from comprehensive environmental review, which is why the Eagle Rock and Roth Rock wind plants have been reduced to 70 MW. This is not an environmentally friendly policy, but hey, at least we will get 4-6 full-time jobs for our sacrifice.

Our Garrett County commissioners have been sold infomercial junk by the marketing masters behind Big Wind, at our expense. If we continue to believe this marketing propaganda push, we will line our beautiful mountains with miles of 415'-492' tall wind turbines creating skyline junk that cannot be returned or sold at a yard sale.

Trusting powerful corporations when they seek your money is like trusting the wind will blow when you need power.

To the Editor:

The Garrett County Humane Society sincerely thanks you for your factual editorial to clear up misconceptions about our role in this county. State's attorney Lisa Thayer Welch did well explaining the unique Garrett County situation, with no county employees permitted to check abuse/neglect calls. GCHS volunteers go to investigate because there is no one else to do it, and state law authorizes a member of a humane organization to go onto private property to check on animals.

Much uproar started when the horror story about the Garrett County horses, cows, and goats hit TV and newspapers last week. Unknown to all but a dedicated few, Garrett County has its own version of a TV show on "Animal Planet" almost every week, and the unarmed, unpaid volunteer members of the non-profit GCHS respond. As you pointed out, county employees do not go, and your tax dollars are not being used by us.

Garrett's "Animal Planet" you did NOT see, hear, or smell: the emaciated horse dead under a tarp with the rest of the thin crippled herd gathered around; a yearling colt with bloody bite marks as the herd stallion attacked him time and again; the dog near Crellin frozen at his dilapidated dog house; the mother and child screaming on a cell phone about dead puppies on Dung Hill Road (our representatives found three dogs killed by blunt trauma near six drowned puppies in a Budweiser box); the 60 or more meat rabbits in Accident in cages so full of manure that their backs were against the roofs; the 25 dogs tied to cars at Keyser's Ridge, and so on.

Please remember that we rely on donations, and don't forget our July 24 FUNdraiser. Mail any amount to Treasurer, 1124 Mary Drive, Oakland, MD 21550, and receive a tax-deductible receipt and heartfelt thanks. Last year we spent over $20,000 for spay/neuter and vet care for those in need, and another $1,800 to send Denise Lohr to Animal Control Officer training so she can go on calls and advise us about laws and prosecutions for animal abusers. We pay the veterinarian who comes for farm animal calls to diagnose and advise.

Keep alert for abuse and neglect – Call 301-334-4470 or 301-746-5725 right away. Our sources remain anonymous. Thank you for enabling us to continue to help animals who cannot speak for themselves.

With sincere thanks for your help, growth in the county.

Nelson noted that the whole process of developing the new plan and ordinances took four years, beginning in spring 2006. Numerous informational meetings and public hearings were conducted during that period.

The commissioners commended the Planning and Land Development Department and Planning Commission for their efforts during those years.

"I think everybody worked very hard to come up with these ordinances, kept it very open, and tried to keep the public aware of the changes and how they could be involved," said Commissioner Denny Glotfelty.

Commissioners Fred Holliday and Ernie Gregg also noted the large amount of public input in the revision process.

"In these days of public scrutiny and insecurity about transparency in government, I think this is one issue that certainly passed the transparency test, and anyone who wanted to be involved could be involved," said Gregg. "Many people availed themselves of that opportunity, and we're certainly appreciative of that."

Holliday said transparency was, indeed, the right word, as the Planning Commission operates out of a "clear glass jar."

"There's not one person in Garrett County, I don't think, unless they live in a cave, that can't say they didn't know this was going on and didn't have the opportunity to participate," Holliday said.

coming onto the road.

ARRA Stimulus Project

Moyer said the resurfacing of Chestnut Ridge and New Germany roads is expected to proceed the first week of June.

The commissioners awarded the project to Keystone Lime, which submitted a bid of $1,068,236.60. Purchasing agent Brian Bowers noted that the bid was $248,958.75, or 18.9 percent, below the engineer's estimate.

Funding for this project is through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 in the amount of $1,204,000. Driveway "tie-in" work and costs, however, will be the county's responsibility.

Keystone has 30 working days to complete the project.

In addition to the major projects list, Moyer presented the commissioners with his four-year improvement plan for various other county roadways.

"This is an ever-evolving document," Moyer stressed. "As of our staff meeting Monday morning, we've already made changes to it."

Moyer told the commissioners he would just have to update the commissioners on plan changes, based on funding availability and road conditions.

"We're going to have to be very conscientious of where we put asphalt," the superintendent said. "We're definitely going to try to do any road that we feel is likely to fail in the next year."

He asked the commissioners to once again consider "banking" half of the paving money for winter operations. Moyer said, hopefully, that money will "still be there" in the spring to use for paving projects.

The commissioners earmarked some of the county's paving money for this past winter's operations. This was very beneficial to the Roads Department, as the local area received a record amount of snow, more than 260 inches, this past season.

The commissioners' next scheduled public meeting is Tuesday, June 1, beginning at 11 a.m. at the courthouse in Oakland.

Spotlight on Garrett County Non-Profits:

The Work They Do, The People They Serve

This column, sponsored by the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland, is the second in a series of articles on local non-profit organizations. The purpose of this series is to inform citizens about the services offered by the organizations, and to let them know the volunteer opportunities available within these organizations.

This week's feature:

WESTERN GARRETT COUNTY STATE PARK VOLUNTEERS

What is WGCSPVI?

WGCSPVI stands for the Western Garrett County State Park Volunteers Inc., a non-profit group that works directly with Herrington Manor, Swallow Falls, and Deep Creek Lake state parks.

The purpose of the organization is to assist park staff in operation of programs, work the desk when necessary, conduct special events, assist in trail maintenance, lead or assist with interpretive hikes, conduct fundraising for special projects, handle gardening tasks, and much more.

Volunteers may choose in what projects they will become involved. New volunteers are welcome and needed.

What has the WGCSPVI done?

Some of the organization's events and programs are Art in the Park, a park open house in December, natural egg dyeing workshops, an annual ramp cook-off, butterfly tagging at Deep Creek Lake State Park, the annual fishing rodeo, an apple butter boil, maple syrup demonstrations at Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls state parks, and an open house at the Friends Store. All of these are volunteer-sponsored events.

What Are Some of the Special Projects of the WGCSPVI?

The Thayerville Fire Tower: The park volunteers worked hard to obtain grants, along with the Maryland Forest Service, to restore the historic Thayerville Fire Tower in Deep Creek Lake State Park. It was originally installed in 1921. As a result of the restoration, volunteers may now conduct guided, interpretive tours on specified days during nice weather.

Volunteers learn about the history involved with fire towers and are then able to conduct tours. After the 109-step climb to the top of the tower, the view is spectacular, a spokesperson said. A photo of the view is

LOCAL DRIVERS COMPETE IN ROADEO – Three Garrett Transit Service drivers competed in the recent Transportation Association of Maryland (TAM) Inc.'s annual Statewide Roadeo in Baltimore. The event gives an opportunity for drivers from every transit organization in Maryland to compete against each other and to demonstrate their safety and driving skills in one of two categories: Small Bus Class or Van Class. Drivers demonstrate their skills by conducting a pretrip inspection, using wheelchair securements, and providing passenger assistance. Competing against 36 participants, local drivers Rocky Ford (27 years with GTS) won first place in the Van Class, Jim Kisner (12 years with GTS) came in first in the Small Bus Class, and Matt Paugh came in third in the Small Bus Class. Paugh has only worked at GTS for about a year, and this was his first roadeo attempt. Pictured, left to right, are Ford and Kisner. The winners received award certificates and were given scholarships to attend the national community Transportation Association of America Roadeo, being held this year in Long Beach, Calif. Ford has won first place in the TAM event 10 of 14 years and has been sent to the national competition 10 times. "These awards indicate the quality of the drivers who work for GTS," said John Hill, director of GTS for Garrett County Community Action. "We are very proud of their accomplishments and skills. Community Action strives to develop the skills of its staff and takes pride in recognizing their outstanding work."

GIRL SCOUTS TO HOLD CAR WASH – Girl Scout Troop 55004 will hold a car wash on this Saturday, May 29 starting at 12:30 p.m. at the First United Bank in McHenry, located on the corner of 219 and Sang Run Road. There will be no required cost, but donations will be accepted as the girls raise money for their trip to Disney World. Pictured above, in front, is Christina Cortez. In the back are Rachel Reichard, Emily Huxford, Elizabeth McClean. Not pictured is Corinne Weaver.

Special Events

The births of two babies were announced this week, both girls.

A daughter, Jessie Louise, was born to Anthony and Nikki (Donley) Hinebaugh, Oakland, on May 3 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Daniel and Sylvia Donley and the paternal grandparents are Dale and Debbie Hinebaugh.

A daughter, Abigail Nicole, was born to Joel T. and JonnieJo L. Stratton McDaniel, Grantsville, on May 19 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Gaylord and Selma Stratton, Oakland, and paternal grandparents are Bob and Jean McDaniel, Belington, W.Va.

Man Charged

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a Swanton Road residence this week in reference to a reported assault.

Rubben James Everett was arrested and is charged with second-degree assault. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

PAUL J. BENNEAR

PAUL J. BENNEAR

Paul Junior Bennear, 59, Elk Garden, W.Va., died Saturday, May 22, 2010, in Oakland.

Born Nov. 11, 1950, he was a son of Dolly Dawson Bennear Baker and the late Paul Bennear.

Paul loved his family and friends more deeply than most souls could see. In his presence, a merry occasion became filled with riotous laughter and even the most somber events were peppered with happiness he was able to bring to others. When Paul loved someone, he would give everything he had without a moment's hesitation.

Paul loved laughter and music and was a surprisingly good dancer, but most of all he gave his family and friends all of the love, affection, and devotion they could have wanted and then some. He remains a beloved son, brother, husband, father, and friend. His loss brings great sorrow to all who knew him, but his memory is a treasured gift to us all.

Paul was a member of the American Legion and the Terra Alta Moose.

He is survived by his wife, Starla Bennear; one son, Paul Joseph "P.J." Bennear, Texas; two stepsons, Christopher and Nicholas Linton, both of Oakland; one daughter, Faith Bennear, Oakland, two brothers, Mark Bennear, Oakland, and Kevin Bennear, Hollywood; and two sisters, Angela Oronzio, Media, Pa., and Debra Bolyard, Mtn. Lake Park.

Friends were received at David A. Burdock Funeral Home, Kitzmiller.

A service was conducted on Tuesday, May 25, at the House of Prayer Church, with the Rev. Leslie Hipp officiating.

Interment followed in Kalbaugh Cemetery.

Online condolences may be made to the family at www.burdockfuneralhome.com.

MARY S.B. DAVIS

Mary S. "Sue" Beckman Davis, 77, Swanton, and Frostburg Village Nursing Home, died on Monday, May 24, 2010, surrounded by her family.

Born Feb. 19, 1933, in Garrett County, she was a daughter of the late George and Florence (Friend) Beckman. She was also preceded in death by three brothers and two sisters.

Sue worked at the sewing factory, Bausch & Lomb, and at Beaver Flat Restaurant.

She is survived by her husband, Howard Davis, Swanton; five sons, Guy Edward Davis, Swanton, Michael Owen Davis, Michigan, Joseph Henry Davis, Swanton, Douglas Eugene Davis, Swanton, Andrew Dale Davis, Swanton; two daughters, Leora Jean Davis, Rio, W.Va., and Lesia Louise Crawford, Maysville, W.Va.; one sister, Norma Hargrove, Florida; and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at David A. Burdock Funeral Home, Kitzmiller.

A funeral service was conducted today, Thursday, May 27, with the Rev. Larry Shrout officiating.

Interment followed in Mt. Zion Cemetery.

GENE W. MAXSON

GENE W. MAXSON

Gene Wayne Maxson, 67, Oakland, died Friday, May 21, 2010, at his residence.

Born Feb. 7, 1943, he was a son of the late Ralph and Louise (Haskell) Maxson.

Gene is survived by three daughters, Shella Maxson, Somerset, Pa., Michelle Maxson, Maysville, W.Va., and Tracy Baker, Somerset; one brother, Richard Bolyard, Newburg, W.Va.; two sisters, Carolyn Tichinel, Masontown, W.Va., and Linda Bolyard, Newburg; and 10 grandchildren.

At his request, his body was cremated.

Arrangements were handled by David A. Burdock Funeral Home, Oakland.

Online condolences may be sent to the family at www.burdockfuneralhome.com

SHARON J. MARKWOOD

SHARON J. MARKWOOD

Sharon Jean Markwood, 46, Oakland, died Friday, May 21, 2010, at her home.

Born Oct. 22, 1963, she was a daughter of Jean A. Beachy and the late John Edward Wright.

In addition to her mother, she is survived by one son, Shawn Markwood, Oakland; one stepson, Jonathan Markwood, Birmingham, Ala.; one daughter, Jacqueline Markwood, Oakland; two brothers, Samuel Wright and John Wright, both of Swanton; and two sisters, Susan Duggan and Teresa Wright, both of Swanton.

Friends were received at David A. Burdock Funeral Home, Oakland.

A funeral service was conducted on Wednesday, May 26, at the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church, with Rev. Angie Cosner officiating.

Interment was held in Garrett Memorial Gardens.

In lieu of flowers, expressions of sympathy may be made in the form of memorial donations to Clear Mountain Bank for the Jacki and Shawn Markwood benefit account, 12599 Garrett Hwy., Oakland, MD 21550.

Online condolences may be made to the family at www.burdockfuneralhome.com.

THOMAS B. DABNEY

Thomas Bullard Dabney, 97, died on Friday, May 21, 2010, of natural causes.

He is survived by his wife, Lillian E. Dabney, living in Annapolis.

He was preceded in death by one son, Charles P. Dabney, and is survived by eight children, Margaret M. Dabney, Lora L. Dabney, Mary Victoria Conroy, Thomas B. Dabney Jr., Oakland, Lawrence L. Dabney, Fr. Philip A. Dabney CssR, Richard W. Dabney, and David B. Dabney; 12 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Born in Rogers, Ark., on April 23, 1913, to Mr. Charles Dabney and Mrs. Laura Dabney, Tom joined the U.S. Naval Fleet before enrolling in the U.S. Naval Academy in 1932.

After graduating in 1936, he served in the North Atlantic with the war in Europe, and later became a submarine commander in the Pacific theater after the attack on Pearl Harbor. He met his wife and lifelong companion, Lillian Elizabeth Lynch from Brooklyn, N.Y., during training at the USN Submariner School in New London, Conn. In the Pacific, he was based out of Fremantle, Western Australia, performing several successful patrols on Japanese convoys.

He was awarded the Silver Star by Admiral Nimitz for gallantry and intrepidity in action against the enemy. After the war, he served in Germany as part of the Marshall Plan and the European Recovery Plan. He later took command of the amphibious assault ship the USS Chilton and was instrumental in the relief effort on the siege of Beirut, Lebanon.

After retiring from active duty at the rank of captain in 1961, he returned to work for the U.S. Navy as a civilian at the Department of Defense in Washington, D.C., on the Rickover Nuclear Submarine Program. He retired in 1979 to St. Petersburg, Fla., where he and Lillian lived for the next 25 years, traveling afar and entertaining often. He and Lillian moved to Annapolis in 2006 to be near family during their remaining years after 65 years of marriage.

He was a gifted storyteller and considered a close personal friend by all who knew him. An avid admirer and student of Will Rogers, "he never met a man he didn't like," and the same can be said of those who met him. Simple pleasures punctuated his life: spending time with his family, camping, fishing, and hunting, and playing tennis, which he played until he was 92 years of age. As a father of nine children, he delighted in their achievements and adventures, none more so than when they had their own children, and he played the role of grandfather.

His insatiable appetite for history was only eclipsed by his love of a good story. Impromptu and subtle, he would captivate and delight his audience with a quick story and a dry wit. His favorite refrain, "oh boy," could be heard as he arose first thing in the morning and at the slightest suggestion of something he might enjoy. Never one to complain, he managed most things easily and joyfully, even in the waning days of his life. He was a wonderful husband, father, friend, and compatriot to all those around him.

A vigil will take place on Monday, May 31, at Bay Woods of Annapolis in Norair Hall from 7 to 9 pm.

A funeral mass will take place on Tuesday, June 1, at 10:30 a.m. at St. John Neumann's Catholic Church, Annapolis.

(Paid Obituary)

RICHARD F. BRADY

Richard Franklin Brady, 65, Middle River, died on Tuesday, May 25, 2010.

He was born and reared in Shallmar.

He was a devoted son of Clarice M. Brady and the late Floyd W. Warnick Sr.; beloved grandson of the late John T. and Blanche E. Brady; dear brother of Floyd W. Warnick Jr. and his wife Janis, Unicoi, Tenn., and Mary Jane and Ruth E. Warnick; loving uncle of Scott Warnick, Ramon Diaz, and Lisa Coreas; and dear friend of Bill and Deb Penn. He is also survived by his stepdaughter, Tina Bell, Garrett County; six great-nieces and great-nephews; numerous cousins; and a constant companion, Odie;

Friends will be received from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday, May 28, at the Bruzdzinski Funeral Home, Essex, where a funeral service will be conducted that evening at 8 p.m.

Private cremation will follow.

(Paid Obituary)

JOHN R. MARKWOOD

John Robert Markwood, 48, Oakland, died Friday, May 21, 2010, at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va.

Born June 27, 1961, in Kingwood, W.Va., he was a son of JoAnn and John William Markwood Jr., Oakland.

He was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Terra Alta, W.Va. He was a self-employed entrepreneur and owned several car dealerships and a real estate development company.

He is survived by two sons, John William Markwood III, Birmingham, Ala., and Shawn James Markwood, Oakland; one daughter, Jacqueline Renae Markwood, Oakland; two brothers, Brent Allen Markwood, San Francisco, Calif., and Michael Shawn Markwood and wife Tammy, Oakland; one sister, Christi Markwood Baker and spouse Shawn, Oakland; and several nieces and nephews.

At his request, there was cremation with no service.

STEPHEN D. MITCHELL

Stephen Darrell "Steve" Mitchell, 66, Orlando, Fla., died Thursday, May 14, 2010, at his home.

Born in Kingwood, W.Va., on May 25, 1943, he was a son of Dorothy Mitchell, Chino, Calif., and the late Darrell Mitchell. He was also preceded in death by his younger brother, Randy, and one sister, Janet Shaffer.

After being born and reared in Bruceton Mills, W.Va., Steve followed his dream to Florida (where he was out of the snow) and worked for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. He left there in 1979 and opened Mitchell's Automotive, his own automotive repair shop, which is still being run today by his son Robert. Steve became known as the "go-to man" in Orlando for those with a carburetor or engine that just wasn't running right.

Steve was a member of Trinity Lutheran Downtown Church, Orlando.

He is survived by his wife, Charlene Mitchell, Orlando; one son, Robert J. Kasper and wife Wendy; two daughters, Lorrie Fowler and husband David, Bethpage, Tenn., and Jodi Mitchell, Louisiana; three grandchildren, Lauren, Cody, and Taylor; one great-granddaughter, Alexis; one brother, Myron Mitchell and wife Carole, Chino; three nephews; and one brother-in-law, Carl Shaffer, Columbus, Ohio.

A Celebration of Life service will be held at 11 a.m. on Sunday, May 30, at Glade Farms United Chapel, Bruceton Mills, with John Grady, Orlando, presiding.

A meal will follow at the community center.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests donations in his name be made to Glade Farm United Chapel

Sheila Says:

Well people, hope I gave you something to think about last week.

Here is some more info to wig-bubble, or think about.

IT IS OK to enhance your home decor with vintage finds and one of a kind DIFFERENT creations.

IT IS OK to use cast off items that have been redone.

IT IS OK to recycle your existing collections of stuff.

IT IS OK to think out of the box and use things you love to decorate with.

IT IS OK for everything in a room not to be matchy matchy!

IT IS OK to have humorous accessories and repurposed one of a kind accent pieces!

So I suggest you look around a room or space you are bored with, WIG BUBBLE on what would make you smile when you walk in and stop into Eco Chic at Decorator's Nook. I guarantee you will be stepping out of the box!!!

And, as always, design services are available for your particular needs.

Barbara Baker (left), director of elementary education for Garrett County Schools, and Janet Gregory (right), Friendsville Elementary School Principal, also attended the ceremony. Friend is a parent volunteer at Friendsville Elementary School. For more than ten years, she has coordinated and administered the Fluoride Rinse Program. In addition to dispensing the weekly rinse routine, Friend follows up to ensure students are maintaining good dental hygiene practices. She coordinates Santa's Workshop, the fall/spring school festivals, Box Tops for Education, and many other fundraising events. She also manages field day competition, and serves as a mentor through the school's Lunch Buddy program. The Comcast Parent Involvement Matters Award is an annual event honoring parents making contributions to public education. The program highlights the positive impact parents have on public schools in the hope of encouraging all parents to get involved.

Student Accepted Into Summer Arts Program In Calif.

SKYLER BROWN'S PORTFOLIO includes this recent colored pencil drawing titled "Summer!" The young artist has been accepted into the California State Summer School for the Arts InnerSpark program for 2010. The son of former Garrett County resident and Southern High School graduate DiAnne (Rook) Brown, Skyler will study visual arts. See story.

Skyler Brown, great-grandson of Mable Smouse, Oakland, grandson of the late Jim and Bev Rook, and son of DiAnne (Rook) Brown and Jeff Brown, Sacramento, Ca., has been accepted into the California State Summer School for the Arts InnerSpark program for 2010. Brown will study visual arts.

The California State Summer School for the Arts, commonly known as CSSSA or InnerSpark, is a four-week program held at the California Institute of the Arts, Los Angeles, for high school students.

The goal of CSSSA is to provide an educational experience that goes beyond the practice and improvement of aesthetics and technique. Artistic disciplines offered include animation, creative writing, dance, film and video, music theatre arts, and visual arts.

In addition, admitted applicants are designated as California Arts Scholars and are presented with a Governor's Medallion, the highest distinction in California for artistically talented students.

Admission to the program is given first and foremost to California state

Christina Nassif Will Perform At Festival Of Arts

Renowned soprano Christina Nassif will make a special appearance at the third annual River City Festival of the Arts in Rowlesburg, W.Va., scheduled for this weekend.

Nassif will be featured in An Afternoon of Arias, Art Songs, Popular Songs, and Broadway Tunes in the Szilagyi Center on Saturday at 3 p.m. Dr. Thomas J. Nassif, a native of Rowlesburg, will serve as accompanist.

Of Spanish and Lebanese descent, Nassif has been acclaimed for her "powerful and expressive voice" and "electric stage presence." In addition to a joint concert with husband/baritone Jamie Kotmair at last year's River City Festival, Nassif's 2009 engagements included her international debut as Carmen at London's Royal Albert Hall; Strauss's Four Last Songs with the McLean Orchestra; Countess Almaviva in Mozart's The Marriage of Figaro with Opera Delaware; soloist in Opera New Jersey's Concerts in the Park Series; Beethoven's Symphony No. 9 with the Buffalo Philharmonic; Lyric Fest of Philadelphia Series Concert Biography in Music: Shakespeare; as well as the closing concert of the Montserrat Caballe Competition and Masterclasses in the Sala Mozart del Auditorio de Zaragoza, Spain.

This year, Nassif's engagements include Beethoven's Symphony No. 9 with the Virginia Symphony, the role of Donna Elvira in Mozart's Don Giovanni with Virginia Opera, a solo program of operatic arias at the Al Bustan Festival in Beirut, Lebanon, a revival of Raymond Gubbay Ltd's Carmen at London's O2 Arena, and the role of Donna Elvira in an upcoming production of Don Giovanni with Opera North.

Nassif has performed with the Washington National Opera, London Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, Shanghai Opera Orchestra, Shenzhen Symphony, Virginia Opera, Shreveport Opera, Piedmont Opera, Opera Tampa, Opera Delaware, Virginia Symphony, West Virginia Symphony Orchestra, Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra, Pan-American Symphony Orchestra, Wichita Grand Opera, Central City Opera, and Opera Theater of Pittsburgh.

THE HIP-HOP HANDBOOK dance group recently gave a presentation at Accident Elementary School. The group provides students with the opportunity to experience and enjoy varieties of urban music and dance expression in a safe, respectful, and positive format. The presentation elaborated on respect, math, and music. Pictured above are students participating in a freeze frame dance that was demonstrated to the kindergarten class.

NANCY-ELIZABETH NIMMICH

Arthritis Group To Feature Music And Meditation

Guest speaker Nancy-Elizabeth Nimmich will teach basic principles of using music and meditation to relax, manage pain, and increase one's sense of well-being at the Arthritis/Fibromyalgia Support Group meeting scheduled for Thursday, June 3, at 6:30 p.m. in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Board Room.

Nimmich earned her master's degree in social work from Catholic University in 1978. She has worked in a number of mental health settings, including community mental health centers and women's centers. Nimmich began her study of music and sound for healing in the early 1990s when the field was first being developed.

She was a mentor and teacher for the Therapeutic Sound School started by Don Campbell, and has taught numerous workshops for both the general public and mental health professionals on related topics in this field.

The Arthritis/Fibromyalgia Support Group meeting schedule includes Aug. 5, Sept. 2, and Oct. 7. The meetings are held from 6:30 until 8 and are open to the public free of charge. Persons may contact Lisa Schad at 301-533-4366 for additional information.

MUSIC STORIES ON DISPLAY AT RUTH ENLOW – Now on display at the Oakland Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library are music stories from 4th and 5th graders in Dan Taylor's music class at Dennett Road Elementary School. The stories were created as a classroom assignment to promote reading and creativity in the music classroom. They are available for in-library reading for several weeks, and can be found on the magazine rack in the children's section. Each story is based on some aspect of music. "I received many good stories," said Taylor, "but could not pick them all. I was very impressed by the children and the work that they did." Taylor explained that the students used the computer lab to finalize their thoughts into a professional look, which expanded their keyboarding kills and knowledge of the computer. They discussed and used many aspects of Microsoft Word, gaining knowledge that will benefit them in the future. "Reading and writing have an important place in the music classroom," said Taylor. "I wanted to impress upon the children the importance of reading and learning how to put their thoughts into word form. I hope that by doing this project, they have learned things that they can take with them for the rest of their lives." Each student was given a free book by Keela Pfaff, children's specialist at Ruth Enlow. Students who participated in the project, above, first row, left to right, are Vada Drummond, Bailey Ward, Haley Friend, Brooklynn Flanigan, Sylvia Watson, and Allan Hughes. In the second row, left to right, are Taylor, Alanna Kinney, Julia Hershman, Billy Pariseau, Kelby Green, and LeAnn Beachy. In the far back right is Pfaff. Not pictured is Michael Hollingsworth.

TO PERFORM AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH – The Mountain Anthems, under the direction of Michael Yoder, will be presenting a concert at St. John's Lutheran Church, Red House, next Thursday, June 3, at 7:30 p.m. The a capella chorus, which comes from the Allegheny Mountains of western Maryland and western Pennsylvania, sings gospel music at churches, retirement homes, and gatherings. The group has approximately 30 members that range in age from 15 to 50, and features solos, duets, trios, and quartets as well as full-chorus numbers. Members of the Mtn. View Mennonite Church, Salisbury, Pa., the group has been ministering through song for over 45 years and serves on a voluntary basis. They have produced 21 recordings and also have CDs and cassettes available at their concerts. For more information on the group, persons may visit the web site at www.mountainathems.com.

GLAF ENTERTAINS LOCAL STUDENTS – Choral and band students from both Northern and Southern middle and high schools attended a master class last week at Garrett College taught by the West Virginians, a vocal ensemble from Alderson-Broaddus College. The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival sponsored the trip for the students. On the following day, 480 4th and 5th graders from 10 county elementary schools were also brought by bus to Garrett College to see the group. The students were engaged in the show, a GLAF spokesperson said, and joined in the clapping with the music, singing along, and doing the "wave." Some of the younger students are pictured as they take part in an audience-participation portion of the show. GLAF works in partnership with the Garrett County Board of Education to expose the county's youth to the performing arts. The educational programs of GLAF are made possible in part by a donation from the Howard and Audrey Naylor Family Trust. Photo by Dan Tice.

Shepherd Of Hills Notes Selections For Book Club

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church at Deep Creek Lake recently announced a summer book club reading series, which will begin on Thursday, June 3, 7 p.m., at Perkins Restaurant in McHenry.

The book to be discussed on June 3 is Glass Castles by Jeannette Walls. July's book selection is The First to Follow: The Apostles of Jesus by John R. Claypool, and for August, the selection is Leaving Church: A Memoir of Faith by Barbara Brown Taylor.

The book club meets the first Thursday of each month in the back room at Perkins Restaurant. All visitors, regardless of church affiliation, are welcome to attend. For more information, persons may contact Lisa Swift at 301-334-6544 or visit the church's web site at www.shepherdofthehills-lutheran.org.

Rams' Quest For Region, State Titles Dashed By Brunswick, 5-4

Despite having runners on second and third in the bottom of the seventh inning, the Southern High School varsity baseball team was eliminated from the 1A West Region state playoffs last Thursday by Brunswick, 5-4.

The score was knotted 4-4 going into the final frame, but it was in the top of that inning that the Railroaders scored an unearned run that would give them the victory.

The contest was supposed to be played at Southern, as the Rams were the higher seeded team, but the SHS diamond was too wet and the contest was moved to Jim Holler Field in Potomac Park.

After spotting Brunswick one run in the top of the second, the Rams tied the score with a run in the bottom of the second and then took a 3-1 advantage with two more runs in the third. Brunswick took a 4-3 lead with three runs in the fourth, and the Rams tied the score again with one run in the bottom of that inning.

Each team finished with nine hits. The Rams were paced at the plate by Nathan King, who stroked a double and a single, and by Bubba Scheffel, Corey Helbig, and Shane Peck, who each rapped two singles. Helbig sent home two runs, Peck drove home one, and Ryan Bennett chipped in with a run-producing single.

King went the distance on the mound for the Rams, striking out five and allowing three earned runs. Cutsail and Webber combined for Brunswick, fanning seven batters and allowing just one walk.

The Railroaders were led offensively by Omdahi with two doubles and one RBI, Cooper with three singles and an RBI, and Brown with two singles.

The Rams, coached by Dan Holler, finished their season with an overall record of 12-6.

Brunswick went on to defeat Allegany in its second game, but then lost to Clear Spring in the regional championship contest.

Huskies Eliminated From Region Playoffs By Catoctin Cougars, 9-5

After easily winning their first 1A West Region playoff game over Manchester Valley (19-1), the 2010 baseball season came to an end for Coach Phil Carr and his Northern High School boys' varsity squad last Thursday when the Huskies fell to visiting Catoctin, 9-5.

The Huskies seemed in control of the game after three innings, having scored five runs in the bottom of the third to take a 5-1 advantage. But the visitors came back to score two runs each in the fourth and fifth innings to tie the score at 5-5, and then added four runs in the sixth to seal the victory.

The Huskies were out-hit by an 11-6 margin. Cody Rodeheaver had two of Northern's hits, both singles, and one RBI. Corbyn Browne provided a run-producing double, and Teddy Linton added an RBI single.

The Cougars took a 1-0 lead via a solo homer by Austin Cater in the first inning.

After putting all five of their runs on the board in the third to take a 5-1 advantage, R.J. Smith took the mound for Catoctin, and with Tyler Ausherman who came on in the sixth, the duo retired the next 12 Husky batters.

Meanwhile, the Cougar offense rallied for two runs in the fourth, tied the score at 5-5 with two runs in the fifth, and took the lead for good with four runs in the sixth.

Carter would add two singles to go with his first-inning round-tripper, while Ausherman provided a pair of two-run singles, Smith hit two singles and had one RBI, and Krietz also recorded a pair of singles.

The Huskies concluded their 2010 season with an overall record of 12-9.

The Cougars fell to eventual West Region champion Clear Spring in a semifinal game, 3-1.

Oakland Oaks Open Pen-Mar Season With Pair Of 3-2 Wins

The Oakland Oaks opened the 61st Pen-Mar Baseball League season with a pair of 3-2 victories, sweeping West Virginia Powerhouse in a doubleheader played Saturday at Romney, W.Va.

The Oaks took a 2-0 lead in the first game with single runs scored in the first and second innings. Powerhouse rallied with single runs in the bottoms of the fourth and sixth to knot the score at 2-2.

Jason Ashby singled home the winning run in the top of the seventh.

The Oaks out-hit the home team by a 10-3 margin, with Bryan Lenhart recording a double and a single. Ashby finished with two singles, as did Williams, while Patsy and Wright, the winning pitcher, each contributed a double.

Wright struck out five batters in four innings of relief.

Cody Moreland had a double for Powerhouse, and it was a single by J.T. Thomas that knotted the score at 2-2 in the sixth.

The Oaks fell behind 2-0 in the first inning of the second game, but rallied for one run in the fourth and two more in the fifth to record the victory.

Oakland finished with a 10-9 edge in hits, as Billy Reams and Ashby each doubled and singled, and Patsy hit two singles.

The Romney team was paced at the plate by Ronnie Loy with three singles, Adam Foltz with two singles, and Nick Campenelli with a double.

Women Golfers Resume Play At Oakland Course

The Oakland Ladies Golf Association resumed play for the season at the end of April. New members are welcome to join the group on Thursday mornings.

The women played a game called Flags last Thursday, with each placing a flag where they hit their last shot representing par for the course plus their handicap. Winners were those who progressed farthest on the course before using up their strokes.

First Flight leaders were Jessie Stowell, first place, with Evie Harrison and Susan O'Neal tying for second.

Pearl Daniels placed first in the Second Flight, and Becky Glotfelty was second.

In the Third Flight, Betsy Polce won, while Pam Trydahl was the runner-up.

Barbara Levin was first in the Fourth Flight, and Judith Evans finished second.

Charlie's Angels Golfing Results Are Announced

Charlie's Angels, the Oakland Golf Club senior men's group, played a Two Best Balls Net of Four event on Tuesday.

Placing first with a score of 117 was the team of Bill Fredlock, Charlie Riley, Bob Moran, and Red Guthrie.

In second place, just one stroke back, was the team of Ernie Shotwell, Roger Levin, Paul Cotter, and Tom Mirras.

Finishing third with a 119 was the team of Ken Metheny, Bill Salter, John Hetrick, and Lowell Echelberger.

Falling in a scorecard playoff was the team of Larry Dixon, Jerry House, Rudy Cvetnick, and Gordon Stetz.

Two Record Aces

Recording aces (holes in one) at the Oakland course this past week were Larry Dixon and Betsy Polce.

Dixon aced hole #13 from 170 yards with a 26 degree hybrid club on last Wednesday.

Polce holed out an ace last Friday on #17 from 113 yards with a 7 wood.

Rams Qualify For State Track, Field Competition

Four members of the Southern High School track and field team have qualified to compete in this weekend's Maryland state high school championships at Morgan State University. The top finishers at the regional meets qualify for the state event.

Shane Davis finished sixth in the boys' 1,600-meter run at the West Region championships with a time of 4:40.6 and will be running in the state event Saturday.

Southern's Samantha Taylor placed second in the pole vault at 9'2" and will be vaulting at the state meet today. She also placed third in the 100-meter hurdles (16.55 seconds) and will be running the state semifinals today. If she advances to the finals, she will run again Saturday.

Rachel Flinn pole vaulted a qualifying height of 7'8" and will also be vaulting today, while Summer Mossman placed fourth in the high jump (4'7") and will be competing Saturday.

Teams Sought For Softball Tourney

Frostburg Mountain Thunder has openings for under-10 and under-13 teams for the Thunder in the Mountains Tournament, which will be held in Frostburg the weekend of June 26-27. The tournament format provides a four-game guarantee, with three-pool play on Saturday and single elimination on Sunday.

Mtn. Top Soccer Registration To Begin This Week

The Mountain Top Soccer Association (MSA), which organizes a fall soccer recreational league, is currently in the process of sending out registration forms for the 2010 season. All former players still of age should receive a form within the next several days.

Others who wish to register may obtain the forms at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland or at the PaintWorks store, located along Rt. 219 near Sand Flat Road. The forms should be in these locations by the weekend.

The league has five co-ed age divisions: Under 6 for 4- and 5-year-olds; Under 8 for children age 6 and 7; Under 10 for children 8 and 9; Under 12 for children 10 and 11; and Under 15 for players 12, 13, and 14.

Matches are played from the end of August through October. They are played at Broad Ford Elementary and at the soccer fields in Loch Lynn.

Registration is available by mail only. The deadline to register is June 14. The forms contain all the information as to where to send the completed papers and what fees are due.

For more information, persons may call Curt Miske, president of the MSA, at 301-334-3033.

Maryland Deer Test Negative For Wasting Disease

Recent laboratory tests conducted by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Wildlife & Heritage Service confirm there is no evidence of chronic wasting disease (CWD) in Maryland.

Tissue samples collected from 1,106 deer during the 2009-2010 Maryland deer hunting seasons revealed no signs of the disease. Additional samples collected from sick or injured deer also tested negative for CWD.

LOCAL SOLDIER HONORED – Emily Bowman, Oakland, recently graduated from the U.S. Army Basic Officer Leadership Course, a 15-week school held at Fort Sill, Okla. Bowman was recognized at the ceremony for achieving the highest score in the class on the Army Physical Fitness Test with a score of 339 out of 300 (includes bonus points). Bowman was one of two females in the class, which consisted of 168 Army and Marine lieutenants. She is pictured above receiving her award from Col. J.T. Thomson, commander of the 41st Fires Brigade. Bowman was also a finisher in the Oklahoma City Memorial Marathon on April 25, completing the 26.2-mile event with a time of 4:10. She placed 28th among 98 in her division, and 850th out of 2,634 overall. She is pictured below with teammates Marine 2nd Lts. Geoff Smith and Adam Vetter. Bowman is currently serving as the executive officer of the 41st Fires Brigade's target acquisition battery at Fort Hood, Texas. She is the daughter of Bryon Bowman, Oakland, and Laura Metzker, Cumberland. She is the granddaughter of Luke and Dessie Bowman and Patricia and Sonny Newhall, all of Oakland.

Over 6,700 Maryland deer have been tested and confirmed as CWD-free since 2002.

"CWD surveillance remains an agency priority and is essential to maintaining a healthy deer herd," said George Timko, DNR's assistant deer project leader. "DNR biologists and technicians will continue to collect and test tissue samples from hunter-harvested deer, as well as from sick and injured deer."

Timko explained that CWD is a neurological disease that is fatal to white-tailed deer and other members of the deer family. Similar to mad cow disease in cattle, the disease attacks the brain and spinal cord of deer, and is believed to be caused by prions, rogue proteins that destroy healthy tissue. CWD is not known to be transmissible to humans.

CWD was first identified in 1967 at a Colorado research facility. Since then, CWD has been found in 18 states and two Canadian provinces. CWD has not been found in white-tailed deer or sika deer in Maryland.

Additional CWD information is available on the DNR web site at http://www.dnr.md.gov/wildlife/Hunt_Trap/deer/disease/cwdinformation.asp and on the Chronic Wasting Disease Alliance web site: www.cwd-info.org.

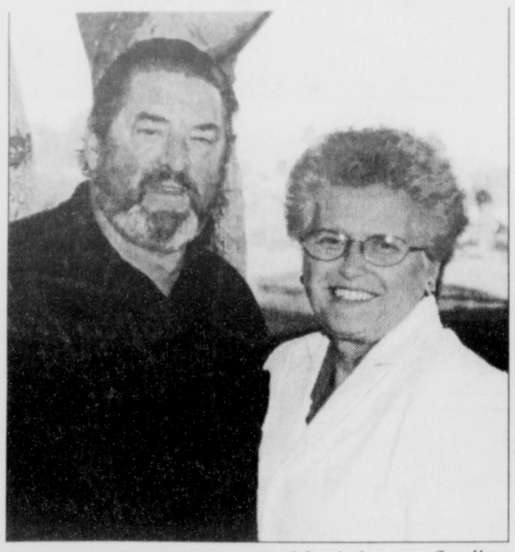
Davis Couple To Celebrate 50th



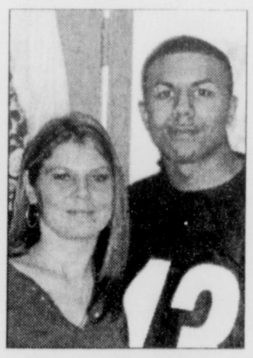
Edd and Carolyn (Sines) Davis, Swallow Falls, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday, June 18.

Married at Swallow Falls, they are the parents of three children: Karen, Sharon, and Chuck. They also have five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The Davises will celebrate their anniversary by taking a cruise and land tour of Alaska.

"We praise God for 50 great years together," said Mrs. Davis.

Miss Bauer To Wed Mr. Burton



James Bauer and Cynthia Littleton and Robert Burton and Kerry Dillsworth announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their children Christina V. Bauer and Charles R. Burton.

The bride-to-be is employed at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital as a CNA and is currently getting her nursing degree.

The prospective groom is employed at Garrett Container as a welder and was recently accepted into the Boiler Makers Union.

A July 24 wedding is planned. Invitations have been sent.

THANK YOU!
Thank you so much to my friends and family for the beautiful shower of birthday cards. May God bless each one of you!
In appreciation,
Fannie Mae Kolb

Greens To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Howard and Kathleen Green, Oakland, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on June 3. The couple were married on June 3, 1960, at the McHenry United Methodist Church.

The Greens resided in McHenry for some years before making their permanent home in Oakland. There they operated a dairy farm until 1998. At that time they transitioned to beef cattle. Mr. Green is currently employed with Bowman Trucking, Grantsville, and Mrs. Green is retired from Wal-Mart.

Howard is the son of the late Harold and Thelma Green, who resided in Bittinger. Kathleen is the daughter of Edna Sebold, McHenry, and the late Paul Sebold.

The couple had five children: Ron Green and wife, Tina, Oakland, Dan Green and wife Kim, and Mike Green and wife Amanda, all of Oakland; Karen Sister and husband Joe, Virginia; and Nancy Arnold and husband Barry, Aurora, W.Va.

They have 10 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The children will host a celebration for their parents at the Oakland fire hall on Sunday, June 6, from 1 to 4 p.m. Family and friends are invited. The family requests no gifts. Persons may send cards to the couple at 97 Kings Run Road, Oakland, MD 21550.

FREE FRIES FOR LIFE - Gertrude Bernard, age 105, has recently been rewarded for her salty tooth. She will now receive her favorite food, McDonald's french fries, free every week from the Deep Creek Lake location for being such a loyal customer. Her daughter, Helen Wolfe, and granddaughter, Nancy Fazenbaker, are caregivers for Bernard and always keep her supplied with fries. Bernard is pictured above with Linda Mayle, manager of the Deep Creek Lake McDonald's.

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Ten couples recently applied for their marriage licenses, according to Sondra R. Buckel, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court. One couple requested that their names not be published.

Kyle David Hunt, 33, and Brynn Evans Calef, 30, both of Potomac Falls, Va.

Brian Matthew Covell, 24, and Jessica Ann Lottmann, 28, both of McHenry.

Kenneth Franklin Tobias, 43, and Christy Lynn Harrison, 41, both of Morgantown, W.Va.

Robert William Morris, 43, and Lydia Jane Coleman, 50, both of Fairfield, Pa.

Charles Richard Burton, 23, and Christina Veronica Bauer, 27, both of Mtn. Lake Park.

Casey Charles McCrerey, 39, and Danielle Marie Bogdon, 34, both of Bridgeville, Pa.

David Michael Gouge, 51, and Susan Lynn Reed, 51, both of New Freedom, Pa.

Darwin Weldon Maust, 33, Meyersdale, Pa., and Christina Marie Grogg, 28, Fairmont, W.Va.

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I saw a very sad and touching story in the news. When our first lady and the first lady of Mexico visited an elementary school in Silver Spring, a little girl in the third grade said that she was very afraid they will take away her mommy because she doesn't have the right papers. In other words, her mommy is probably an illegal immigrant.

But that little girl is an American citizen, and she doesn't look like a child of illegal immigrants. She looks like the average brown-haired little girl from Silver Spring.

Speaking of illegal aliens, the elderly aunt of our president stayed in the USA after her visa ran out, even though the president didn't even talk to his aunt about her problem. In fact, he didn't get involved at all. But a court decided she could remain in America because she is at risk in Kenya because of her nephew's job.

As much as some yell about family values, maybe America should respect family values. We shouldn't take that sweet little girl's mommy away, or send her from the country of her birth where she spent her whole life. I guess that is considered "compassionate conservatism." No, there is no compassion in either story.

How can anyone believe it is healing for American society to allow the guns to flow so freely? Because of the number of military-type weapons going into northern Mexico, life is unbearable for ordinary Mexican people so they have no choice except to cross the border into the USA.

Plus, it appears that even our well-trained police cannot always use their fireworks properly. A 7-year-old girl peacefully sleeping on her home sofa got shot and killed by a policeman when her house was raided. And they are supposed to be highly trained?

It's very clear that either BP is totally ignorant of its business, or else they spin endless lies. Like about how much oil actually came out of the ruptured well when they said it was "only" five barrels or so. Anyone who sees the National Geographic video knows that is a falsehood. I mean, that is not even 100th of the amount of oil that's gushing out into the gulf. And then they rolled out a series of "solutions," each as hopeless as the last one.

I heard about the toxic dispersant, which made the desperate fishermen really sick when they tried their best to hold back the oil. A knowledgeable environmental scientist said it may certainly destroy one of the most uniquely valuable natural resources – the Florida coral beds, which already provide some very valuable medicines, including some for the treatment of cancer and pain. We can't allow that coral to be destroyed. But what can we do about it?

The first thing I thought of was to call the Environmental Protection Agency, but the phone number is not listed in the government section of the phone directory. So I tried to call Kevin Dodge at the college and have him e-mail the EPA and demand that they stop it. But I only got his voicemail, so I don't know if anyone took action.

Luckily, I examined the government section of the phone directory and found a phone number for "general information," and, sure enough, they gave an EPA phone number. But even when I got through to the EPA, there was a menu of options of whom I could speak to. So I finally selected a number for the press relations officer, and I just told him to please tell someone that they should tell BP to stop using the toxic dispersant. He said okay.

I'm sure it was not only my call that caused the EPA to tell BP that they must use a less toxic dispersant, but they did that. And I hope it is enough. Please, everyone pray for the coral and all the threatened environmental treasures.

I don't think my civics class was adequate. I don't remember any serious discussions about the Bill of Rights, and what each amendment means. That was because of the teachers, not what was or was not included in textbooks. They just wrote names and dates, but had very little discussion. That was what was wrong with our social studies curriculum, not alleged Left bias of textbooks. I can't think of any example of that.

I learned something pretty interesting today while I was watching a program about the Pittsburgh Pirates during the 1960s and 1970s. I never saw the wonderful 1960s World Series. I only heard it on the radio from the voice of Bob Prince. But what I learned today was about some tension between some white payers and Roberto Clemente.

But surprisingly, in 1971 on the way to another World Series victory, the Pirates had the most integrated team among all the major league teams. The starting roster included many minority players. If you were one of the best players, you could play, regardless of race, background, or religion.

I don't know if the third game of the 1971 World Series was the first World Series night game, but it allowed the whole nation to see what a great player Roberto Clemente was. I remember that series because I watched it with the only Pirates fan in East Hall. The rest were from the Maryland metro area, so, of course, they rooted for the Baltimore Orioles.

Against all odds, the Bucs took the series from the much-favored Orioles. I remember that it was Clemente who led the team to victory.

He remained in his role as team leader until the tragic plane crash killed him only four years after the Series of 1971. Then Willie Stargell stepped into that role.

I am constantly frustrated at how few Americans understand that capitalism and democracy are not the same thing. Capitalism is a economic system, and democracy is a government system. And America happens to be both a democracy and a capitalist nation, like France, Great Britain, and Canada.

Far fewer Americans have any idea what the word socialist means. It is true that it does not fit in with true market capitalism. But try to address the unfairly distributed wealth in a completely free market. Yes, it does involve some redistribution of wealth.

How could we have small government when our nation is in such a challenging time? Look at the Gulf disaster. Some people are angry at the president for not taking the initiative to fix it. With what money?

The Tea Party is angry at our government. But I believe that is misplaced anger.

I can't help being very concerned about the new coal mine coming to Grantsville. I'm not clear on whether it is a deep mine or a mountain-top strip mine. It should be a big deal with the county's economy. But it also may lead to a major ecological disaster. In my area, there were many strip mines, and only now has the land more or less recovered. But it ruined some fine farmland.

I can hardly believe what my daughter Meredith shared with me as her new favorite music. It happens to be a little-known African-American poet and song writer and performer Gil Scott-Heron. One of his best known works is "The Revolution Will Not Be Televised."

It was pure coincidence that we did our Black literature section only days before Los Angeles exploded with rioting after the over-the-top beating of Rodney King by L.A. police officers.

I pray there will never be another Civil War in America. That is something on which we liberals work very hard to prevent.

Most parents told their children, "If you work hard enough, there is nothing you can't accomplish." Well, I really never believed that. No matter how hard I work, I will never be an NBA player.

Or often you hear someone say, "In America, any child can grow up and become the president." Yes, that truly reflects the most important idea that our country is based on. So why all this anger and hate focused on the man who did that?

Many middle-class, hard-working people can't afford to buy health insurance even if it were available to them. I know I never could get insurance for my beautiful, smart, good daughters. They used to be covered when I worked at the college. But it will be awhile before they can get any kind of job with insurance.

Preston County
Farm Service Agency Reports

Eric M. McCartney, County Executive Director
Preston County FSA Office

DEADLINES ANNOUNCED FOR FARM RECONSTITUTIONS

The Preston County Farm Service Agency notifies producers that farms resulting from reconstitutions requested by June 1 may enroll in the 2010 Direct and Counter-Cyclical Program (DCP) or Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) Program by the later of June 1 or 30 calendar days following the completion of the reconstitution.

August 1, 2010, is the final date that FSA can accept a completed request for a farm reconstitution for fiscal year 2010 farm combinations and/or farm divisions for a farm with DCP base acres or protecting crop acreage bases (CABs) under a Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) contract.

As of August 15, 2010, fiscal year 2010 farm combinations or farm divisions cannot be initiated on a farm with DCP base acres or a farm protecting CABs under a CRP contract. Farm combinations or divisions on these farms must be initiated by close of business August 14.

For additional information regarding farm reconstitutions, persons are invited to visit the Farm Service Agency office located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza or telephone 304-329-1923.

FSA WILL ACCEPT COMMITTEE NOMINATIONS JUNE 15 - AUGUST 2

Eric McCartney, executive director of USDA's Farm Service Agency in Preston County, has announced that the county office will soon begin accepting nominations for eligible candidates from Local Administrative Area (LAA) 2 (Kingwood, Valley, and Portland districts) to serve on the Preston County FSA Committee. The nomination period is June 15 - August 1.

"I encourage local producers to become a member of the county committee and make a difference," said McCartney. "County FSA committees have an important role in the decision-making process on important agricultural issues in their community."

All nomination forms must be received in the Preston County FSA office or postmarked by August 2. Voting will take place between November 5 and December 6.

To serve as a county FSA committee member, a person must meet the basic eligibility requirements. Local persons uncertain about their eligibility to vote for a committee member should contact the Preston County FSA office. Affirmation of eligibility to vote must be determined in order for a vote to count in an election.

County FSA committees oversee local FSA operations. They make decisions on commodity price support payments and eligibility, conservation programs, disaster assistance, and other agricultural issues. Established in 1936, the county committee system works to make federal agricultural programs serve the needs of local producers, according to McCartney.

The Preston County FSA Committee has three elected members. More than 8,000 county committee members serve in more than 2,300 offices nationwide.

More information on the county committee election, including the nomination form, is also available at the Preston County FSA office, located in the Corner Mall of the Kingwood Plaza. Persons may telephone the office at 304-329-1923 or via fax to 304-329-3056. Nomination forms are also available online at: http://www.fsa.usda.gov/pas/publications/elections/De-fault.asp.

Adorable Adoptables

I am terrified that something really bad might happen to them, requiring hospital care; not just a quick trip to the E.R. Like what I got hit with when I was 41, fit, and healthy (as far as I knew, anyway). But the biggest plus was that I had a job with good medical insurance and at least a half-decent pension that I qualified for when I became disabled.

There is no way Congress will solve our deficit by cutting Social Security benefits. Believe it or not, it's not enough to live on, with no other income. It's only a small amount. Medicare is a big help, but it does not cover all my medical expenses; not even close.

The other day, I was talking to another high school classmate and friend, Dorothy Hanft, now an R.N. at a major Baltimore area hospital. But she cannot depend on regular income because there are often too many empty beds because there are not enough patients. It is not because there are just not many sick people or those needing hospital care. It's not just uninsured people or those on Medicare. Even people with insurance still may get a hefty bill, because anything most insurance companies can deny, they will.

I don't know how many working Garrett Countians lack health insurance.

One nice provision in the Health Care Reform is that it will allow anyone under 26 years old to stay under his/her parents' health insurance from their employer, which I don't have now, just Medicare. I can't even buy a Medicare supplemental policy because United Health does not allow anyone under 65 to do that. Many disabled people can't add that coverage. That is not fair. But quite a few things about those who qualify for insurance are not fair either.

I heard a rumor that Garrett College has Baltimore gang activity, which is total nonsense. That is not the kind of people that Coach Gibson recruits to play on the Laker team, and furthermore, the rest of the faculty would not tolerate it. What I was fulltime there, we were keenly aware of what a difficult situation our African-American students were in. They needed to perform well on the court as well as in the classroom, and some also had to deal with threats.

Lauren Powell celebrated the end of the first face of her higher education. She picked up her bachelor's degree from Frostburg State University. She will go on to her post-graduate phase as a graduate assistant, which is a big positive thing because of her tuition. They had friends and family over after the long ceremony.

Rodney and Marci Glotfelty returned from a week-long vacation to the Outer Banks area of North Carolina. The weather was perfect. And so far, thank goodness there was no sign of any oil on the beach.

Our babies were delivered by our beloved Dr. William Pope. Before he entered into private practice in Garrett County, he served in the Third World; I think with the Peace Corps. He even served Amish women who wanted a home birth, as well as a few friends who wanted that, too.

It does make good sense, with no big hospital bills. Birth is not a disease, it is just a natural event. Of course, sometimes hospital care is needed, but it is just a short ride to the hospital. And it is a much more pleasant event at home where the mother can be surrounded by close friends and family.

Cheryl and Tim Bender watched their daughter Devon tie the knot with Wesley Brenneman. The wedding was held at Cherry Glade Mennonite Church and the reception was in the fellowship hall.

I hear we can expect a heat wave soon. Actually, it feels like it here already.

Members from Emmanuel and St. John's Lutheran churches met at the parsonage Sunday evening for a covered-dish dinner and a planning meeting for the annual Vacation Bible School. Attending were Pastor and Cindy Richardson, Dee, Dave, Ruth and Marvin Beckman, Terry Caparella, and Wanda Reynolds.

Bible School is planned for June 27 to July 1 at Emmanuel. It was noted that teachers are still needed.

The fifth Sunday joint parish service is planned for May 30 at St. John's of Meadow Mountain at 10 a.m. Trinity Sunday will be observed during the service. In addition, a Memorial Day tribute will be included. Pastor Randy Richardson invites everyone to attend, and to stay for a time of fellowship after the service.

We'll beat or match anyone's price!

Ask The Everyday Scientist

THE CARBON OFFSET SCAM
by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. I've heard a lot lately about people buying "carbon offsets." What are "carbon offsets?" Should I buy some? Where and how?

A. This entire business is a complete scam, and it's embarrassing how many people worldwide have been taken in by it. This was all carefully exposed in the Christian Science Monitor of April 26, 2010, in a lengthy article titled "Blowing Smoke?" The article's subtitle was "Got eco-guilt? The carbon offsets you buy to neutralize your carbon footprint may be junk." The Monitor did an investigation in cooperation with the New England Center for Investigative Reporting at Boston University.

Basically, there is a "wild west" situation going on in which anybody can sell a "carbon offset" with only the flimsiest excuse about saving energy or reducing carbon emissions. The field is totally devoid of controls, and buyers of carbon offsets are often relieved of their money with nothing tangible in return – only a "feel good" sense of doing something to make up for emitting carbon.

Even the Vatican has been scammed with regard to carbon offsets, although the Monitor article didn't say how much the Vatican paid to the sellers.

The way it works is this: Let's say you are an emitter of carbon dioxide; perhaps because you heat your building via a furnace that burns natural gas or oil, or perhaps your business owns a fleet of vehicles which, of course, emit CO_2. You may create carbon indirectly when you use electricity since over half our electricity is derived from burning coal. Anyway, further suppose that you feel guilty about this, and want to reduce the total CO_2 level of the world, so you seek something to "offset" your own carbon emissions. You then go shopping to buy "carbon offsets" equivalent to the amount of carbon you're responsible for emitting. Assorted eco-friendly sounding retailers on-line allow you to add a carbon offset onto your airplane ticket or whatever … for a small fee. It's all made very painless and requires no thinking.

The seller of the offset promises to take some action that will reduce net carbon in the environment. For example, a new forest could be planted, and the forest would soak up CO_2 as the trees grow over a period of many years. (It is certainly possible to calculate roughly how much carbon is in a tree, and fair to presume that it all came from CO_2 removed from the air.) By accepting your money, the seller promises to do something that would not happen otherwise. That "offsets" carbon emissions.

The reasons to buy carbon offsets are primarily associated with public relations. A national chain trying to sell high-priced coffee would like to have the customers feel good about themselves while drinking it. The notion that the electricity used to boil the water for the coffee is produced by some "green" pathway makes the coffee more appealing to some folks. If that electricity came from burning coal, the customer might feel guilty about drinking hot coffee; but if the carbon emitted in the process has been "offset" in some way, then guilt goes away and once again the coffee tastes good. The chain of coffee shops is thus able to charge more for the coffee, profiting enough to easily cover the cost of buying the carbon offsets which gave them bragging rights.

Similarly, the Vatican gained bragging rights among churches when it became "the first carbon-neutral sovereign state" in 2007, by agreeing to have a new forest planted somewhere in Hungary. The agreement was universal: taking that action offset a lot of guilt. And so it goes, worldwide, as various companies and big energy users buy carbon offsets to prevent being branded as wasteful or uncaring toward the environment. Al Gore excused his jet-setting and several very large houses by pointing to the carbon offsets he had acquired.

Trouble is, the seller doesn't actually have to come through, and that is what the Christian Science Monitor investigation revealed. The Monitor said, "There is little regulatory oversight of them in the U.S., no enforcement of requirements to prove their environmental claims, no certain way of measuring the carbon savings sold, and no guarantees …" The Monitor quoted others, too: A spokesman for Greenpeace said, "I think you are looking at 75% of them as garbage, at least." The British parliament looked into the business and concluded they have "no overarching, enforceable standards." The U.S. General Accounty Office gently cited, "limited assurances of credibility." Somewhat tougher, the Australian government has begun a crackdown on phony claims by carbon offset merchants.

The Monitor noted that offset-industry leaders are concerned that fraud "could blemish the reputation of the entire industry." There is a Voluntary Carbon Standard (VCS) association, with absolutely no teeth in the certification process or the standards. "Voluntary" is a huge understatement! Anybody can file an application for "certification" and then go off and do exactly what they please. A major environmentalist was quoted, "There is no monitoring; they are monitoring themselves."

Of course, the customer is really only buying bragging rights in the first place, and once those are secured, who cares if any carbon actually gets eliminated? The scam benefits both sides, as long as "feeling good" is for sale.

An example of a typical outcome is that the forest promised to the Vatican was never planted, thereby disappointing a lot of Hungarian villagers who looked forward to associated employment. The promoters simply dissolved one business enterprise and started another.

No doubt one more new government bureaucracy could be created to oversee trading in carbon offsets, but surely the better approach is to follow Nancy Reagan's advice and "Just say no." There is no real reason at all to buy carbon offsets, and no real environmental improvement accruing from them. Under those circumstances, it really doesn't matter if somebody doesn't keep a promise to do something irrelevant. The price is totally arbitrary, essentially random, and any attempt to regulate it is a fools' errand. If people ever found out how phony the entire business is, the market would collapse and the price would drop to zero, where it belongs.

In this big world, it is entirely possible that some product or service more worthless than "carbon offsets" is for sale; but no such item has yet come to my attention.

GCEMA To Meet In New Building

The Garrett County Electrical Mechanical Association (GCEMA) will hold a meeting on Wednesday, June 2, at 7 p.m. at the new Career Technical Training Center (CTTC) in the Garrett County Industrial Park in Accident.

Connie Meyers, program director at Garrett College, invites all GCEMA members, guests, area contractors, and their employees associated with electrical, plumbing, and HVAC work to meet at the new training center for a private tour.

GCEMA is a non-profit, member-driven organization for electrical, plumbing and HVAC contractors and their employees, established to advance professionalism and represent a collective voice to communicate on local, state, and national levels.

Forest Canopy Walkway (FCW): Members of the WGCSPVI are spearheading this innovative project at the Discovery Center. When the canopy walkway is completed, persons will be able to explore the treetops from the lowest branch to 80 feet above the ground.

The WGCSPVI, in partnership with the Maryland Department of Natural Resources and the State Forest and Park Service, is working to build the forest canopy walkway at the Discovery Center at Deep Creek Lake State Park.

The walkway will allow access to the upper parts of the forest (the canopy), where visitors will be able to see birds, butterflies, flowers, and various other species of animals, plants, and insects. The Forest Canopy Walk (FCW) will be attached to the Discovery Center.

Three sections of the FCW are planned: a canopy bridge, swinging bridge, and a canopy tower. The proximity to the Discovery Center and access to trained staff will facilitate a better understanding of the forest canopy through park interpretation and education.

This project is dependent upon the participation and donations of visitors, patrons, volunteers, and local businesses. Residents and visitors alike are encouraged to stop by the Discovery Center to see the future site of the FCW.

There are other projects under way, so persons are also encouraged to contact Patty Manown Mash at 301-387-7314 or pmanownmash@dnr.state.md.us to learn more and to become a park volunteer.

Mary Browning Senior Center Activities

The following programs are scheduled for the month of June at the Mary Browning Senior Center in Oakland. Pre-registration is required, and is available by calling the center at 301-334-9431 on Mondays, Wednesdays, or Fridays. Those who wish to stay for lunch are asked to make their reservations at the time of registration.

June 1 – Enhance Fitness begins. Enhance Fitness is a specially designed exercise program recommended for seniors by the Arthritis Foundation. Classes, which are free of charge, will be held from 9 to 9:45 a.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, beginning June 1.

June 2 – Attorney Angela Blythe will be speaking about Creditor Rights for Senior Citizens at 11:15 a.m.

June 9 – Linda Danjou, RN with GCMH, will speak about infections and MRSA at 11:15 a.m.

June 16 – Gadgets and Gizmos, Assistive Technology for the Home, with Dr. B.J. Gallagher will be presented at 11:15 a.m.

June 16, 18, 23, 25 – Hands-on Chair Caning Course, 1 to 4 p.m., with Garrett County master caner Ed Bittinger. Cost is $116. All proceeds from this course will be donated to the Community Garden in McHenry. Participants should bring their own chairs (all cane removed, but save a piece of original cane) and plastic pail with lid for soaking cane. Also needed will be an awl. Persons are advised to preregister early, as spaces are limited.

June 23 – Bird Banding with Connie Skipper, Garrett County DNR, at 11:15 a.m.

The Mary Browning Senior Center promotes the Garrett County Community Action Committee strategy of providing older adults with lifelong learning opportunities.

6th Graders Complete First "Wilderness Week" Program

Students from Southern Middle School completed the first ever "Wilderness Week," an environmental education program designed by 6th grade teacher Mary Jane Fike and ASCI executive director Matt Taylor.

The SMS 6th grade faculty and guides from ASCI and the Adventuresports Institute (ASI) also contributed to the program, leading student teams and providing overall guidance throughout the week.

The five-day program centered around visits to Deep Creek, Herrington Manor and New Germany state parks, ASCI, and Broadford Park. At each park, students conducted field research, hiked, and played outdoor team-building games.

Rangers from New Germany and Deep Creek delivered naturalist briefings, and for many of the participants, Wilderness Week was their first visit to one or any of the local state parks.

Before Wilderness Week, students chose one of seven field study groups in which to specialize: flora, fauna, fungus, rocks, water, clouds or geography. Teachers on the 6th grade team led each study group, and students focused their research and field observations on characteristics of each environment that pertained to their particular field study group.

"It was a thrill to see the students deeply engaged in their field study and excited by the outdoors. The kids had a blast," said Fike, a 32-year-veteran of the Garrett County Public Schools.

Each day the students traveled to a park in the morning and followed a basic routine. First, students explored by hiking in the park for about half an hour. Then, students made field sketches and observations based on their focus group.

After sketching, students played team-building games led by guides and instructors from ASI. The afternoon was filled with research, composition and detailed drawings based on their field studies.

Highlights of the week included orienteering games, a five-mile hike at ASCI, raft races, and a barbecue at Broadford Park.

"We had a lot of fun, especially on the epic hike and raft racing," said Taylor. "I was totally impressed with the students' great attitudes and intellectual curiosity."

The five-day program served not only as a memorable example of experiential education, but also introduced Garrett County students to the parks and natural resources in their back yard.

WILDERNESS WEEK – Southern Middle School 6th graders participated in several outdoor activities, including a five-mile hike from ASCI to Fork Run Recreation Area and a field study at Deep Creek Lake State Park during Wilderness Week, a new program designed to reconnect students with nature and increase environmental literacy.

Almost 100 students were able to participate, and the goal is to expand the program to Northern Middle School and possibly offer it to other school districts throughout the state. The event has evolved because of positive student response to these various incentive experiences.

"Every day was fun and I want to do it again," one student wrote. "I am very excited to see how our next group of sixth graders reacts to these fun adventures."

Wilderness Week continues a three-year collaboration between SMS and ASCI called the "Adventure Sport Incentive" Program, where the "Reward Is Outside." Qualifying 6th graders, who are students without major disciplinary or academic issues, are rewarded with a spring rafting adventure at ASCI.

The program has expanded to include a spring rock climbing and rappelling incentive for 7th graders, and a discovery adventure for 8th graders.

This year's 8th grade incentive trips included rafting, biking and hiking at Ohiopyle with the Wilderness Voyageurs, hiking the five-mile trail at Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls, and canoeing and kayaking on the Youghiogheny River from Crellin to Oakland.

Anyone witnessing vandalism in the community park is asked to call the police department.

LIBRARY NEWS

Friendsville library will have a summer treasure hunt beginning Tuesday, June 1, and continuing through Saturday, Aug. 14.

Children through grade 5 may come in to find the weekly treasure and receive a prize. There will be special prizes for all who participate during the month of June. Children should look for the treasure chest at the checkout desk to see what treasure they need to find.

Charged With DUI Following Stop

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested a local man following a traffic stop on Steyer Mine Road, near Gorman, last Saturday.

James Brian Reckart was stopped for traveling above the posted speed limit. Investigation reportedly revealed that he was operating the vehicle under the influence of alcohol. He is charged with DUI, DUI per se, and driving while impaired. He was released on personal recognizance.

Have You HEARD?
by M. Keith Nester, Sr., BC-HIS
M. Keith Nester, Sr., BC-HIS
Cathy A. Nester, HIS
LISTENING IN SILENCE
The ear's ability to transmit and the brain's ability to discern silence are critical to understanding speech. In noisy environments, in particular, it can be difficult for the brain to find the boundaries between the different parts of words, making understanding conversation difficult. In an effort to better understand this mechanism, researchers studied the brain's listening ability. They found that the brain switches to a different mechanism to interpret silence. That is to say that there is a whole separate channel that travels all the way from the ear to the brain that is specialized in detecting silence. This discovery could lead to new treatment in helping children with speech and learning problems, as well as new hearing instrument designs.
Even though we hear with our ears, the ability to understand what people are saying occurs in the hearing center of the brain. So when an uncorrected hearing loss causes diminished communication, it's time to rediscover the benefits of healthy hearing and the wondrous hearing instruments available today. Begin with a hearing test at AUDIBEL and a consultation with a hearing specialist.
P.S. In today's noisy world, silence is something to be venerated.

FRIENDS STORE TO REOPEN – The historic Friends Store in Sang Run will reopen for the summer season on Saturday, May 29. The Maryland Park Service acquired the 81 acre property in 2008. "We have been working hard to reopen the store as an Appalachian heritage showcase for the area," said Ranger Caroline Blizzard. "The store will be replicated as closely as possible to keep its historic nature and place in the community. We hope to bring to life through interpretive programming the traditions of Garrett County. Programming of this nature will help ensure that our heritage is preserved and passed on to the next generation." Demonstrations in the store will include those of area gardening techniques, native plant uses, and musical and craft traditions. Nature study such as bird walks, reptile programs, Junior Ranger activities, and hikes are slated as well. The store will also serve as a point of contact for river activity by rafters and tubers. The Friends Delight shelter is also now open to public use through reservations. The store will be open on Saturdays, Sundays, and Mondays throughout the summer.

Teachers Invited To Register For Award Funding

U.S. Cellular has announced the return of its Calling All Teachers campaign, and will award a total of $1 million to help teachers erase classroom needs.

In a partnership with DonorsChoose.org, the company and its local associates are encouraging Maryland teachers to register on the site in May and throughout the summer. Then, they can come back this fall and post their classroom projects for potential funding. DonorsChoose.org is a philanthropic web site that helps public school teachers find money for classroom projects that exceed their limited budgets.

"Teachers can request everything from textbooks to microscopes to art supplies," said Charles Best, founder and CEO of DonorsChoose.org. "It's important to give teachers the opportunity to have unique projects for their classrooms that help them provide creative ways for children to learn and be engaged."

A 2010 national survey said K-8th grade teachers spend hundreds of dollars of their own money every year to help teach their students. The study also said 70 percent of teachers believe their schools are financially unable to provide all of the necessary teaching tools.

U.S. Cellular associates are encouraging teachers to visit DonorsChoose.org and register as a "U.S. Cellular Teacher." In August, as the new school year kicks off, they can revisit the site for more details on posting their classroom projects.

During September and October, U.S. Cellular plans to fund $1 million in posted projects in the areas where it does business. During last year's Calling All Teachers campaign, the company funded classroom projects at Fort Hill High School and Northeast Elementary School in Cumberland valued at $720.88.

According to a company spokesperson, no teachers from Garrett County registered.

"Our associates live and work in this community, and we are excited to show our local teachers how much we appreciate them," said Dee Taylor, director of sales for U.S. Cellular in the Mid-Atlantic.

During last year's campaign, U.S. Cellular funded more than 2,000 classroom projects nationwide, benefitting nearly 175,000 students. More than 40 percent of the funded projects were in rural schools, while another 26 percent were in urban schools. Because of the overwhelming response to the campaign last year, the company decided to increase its funding to $1.1 million to cover all of the projects in the areas where it does business.

For more information, persons are invited to go online and visit uscellular.com/callingallteachers.

ARC Releases Schedule For June Classes

The Western Potomac Chapter of the American Red Cross has scheduled several health and safety services courses for next month.

An adult, child, and infant cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be held from 6 until 10 p.m. on Tuesdays, June 8 and 29, at the Cumberland chapter house.

This four-hour course includes caring for and recognizing breathing and cardiac emergencies, includ-ing choking, in adults, children, and infants. Automated external defib-rillator (AED) instruction for adults and children is included with CPR.

The cost is $30 for new certification and $25 for recertification, and includes text, a CPR kit and one-year certification.

A professional rescuer CPR/AED course will be held on Saturday, June 19, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Cumberland chapter house.

This is an eight-hour class developed for volun-teers and career profession-als who routinely respond to emergencies. It empha-sizes how to recognize and respond to respiratory and cardiac emergencies in adults, children, and in-fants. Two-rescuer CPR and AED training are included.

This course meets the standard requirements for nursing, allied health professions, and emergency medical services.

The cost is $35 for new certification and $30 for recertification, and includes text, pocket mask, and two-year certification.

A lay responder CPR/first aid/AED course will be held from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Wednesdays, June 9 and 23 and July 7, at the Oakland ARC office; and Saturdays, June 5 and 26 and July 10, and Thursday, June 17, at the Cumberland chapter house.

This eight-hour course combines adult, child, and infant CPR, AED, and first aid into one entire day of training. The cost is $40 for new certification and $35 for recertification, and includes text, CPR kits, first aid practice kits, and two certification cards.

A first aid class will also be held from 6 until 9 p.m. on Thursdays, June 10 and July 1, at the chapter house in Cumberland.

This three-hour course offers recognition and car-ing for life-threatening emergencies in adults, such as burns, injuries to muscles, bones, and joints, sudden illnesses, bleeding, and poisonings, as well as heat- and cold-related emergencies.

This course meets OSHA guidelines and is designed to fit the needs of businesses and industries.

The cost is $25 for new certification and $20 for recertification, and includes text, a practice first aid kit, and a three-year certification card.

The ARC will also hold a babysitters training class on Saturday, June 5, at 9 a.m. The cost is $40, and the class size is limited to 10 students. For more information, persons may call the number listed below.

Registration and payment are required in advance for all courses. To sign up, persons are asked to contact Lorri Wharton, ARC health services director, at 301-722-1760, ext. 105, or lkwharton@-allconet.org.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP

Many retirees are facing dwindling incomes from their battered investments, which explains why applications for "reverse mortgages" have risen nearly 50% in the last two years. It sounds like a great option: a lender essentially gives you a cash advance on your home's equity, which doesn't have to be paid back until you either move or "move on."

There are drawbacks hidden in the details, however. Although recent legislation has raised maximum allowable home values, the formula for determining how much you'll get includes other factors like your age and current interest rates. Your current mortgage balance and the loan's fees are then subtracted from that number.

Although loan origination fees have been capped at $6,000, the monthly mortgage insurance premiums and service charges could push the total cost of the loan up to twice that much. If you think you might move anytime soon, this just doesn't make sense.

While anyone 62 or older may qualify, it's the youngest who run the biggest risk with a reverse mortgage, because you may very well outlive the life of your payments. When that happens, the equity you would have fallen back on has disappeared.

It's best to seek other alternatives first, with your best option being to make your move now and downsize to a smaller home, pocketing the equity from your sale for the future.

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

God Bless America

Words so seldom spoken today.
How often do you hear someone remembering our freedom and the lives that were lost giving freedom so generously to us? Today is Memorial Day. We ask you, please, to remember.
Don't just celebrate with a picnic and family times. But rather stand tall and proud and salute your freedom. Brothers and Sisters, Fathers and Grandfathers of ours were lost fighting for our freedom.
The least we can do is remember. The simplest and yet grandest gift you can give back to them is teach your children the true meaning behind Memorial Day. Stand tall next to them when the flag passes in a parade. Cross your hand over your heart and remember.

Year after Year I attend our town parade. My parents have taken me as long as I can remember. I am now a parent and i take my children. But we attend the parade with a meaning. A purpose. Not to see clowns and kids characters. But rather to pay respect to the men and women who gave so much for us and asked so little in return.

Every year the Veterans pass us. Remind your children to stand up and pay their respect.
We urge you to join us in this reminder. We urge you to help teach our future what our past did for us. The extent they gave. Together we can remember, salute, praise and love. Teach your children today so the future remembers tomorrow!

To all the men and women who served to give us the freedom we have today, thank you and God Bless. You are not forgotten by my family!

SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT/DONOR MEET – Potomac State College of West Virginia University hosts receptions throughout the academic year, giving donors and scholarship recipients the opportunity to meet. During the event, donors learn about the future plans of the students while the students learn the history of their particular scholarship. Pictured at right is Vicki Wilt, recipient of the Alliant Techsystems Inc. (ATK) Scholarship. Wilt is a graduate of Southern High School and majored this past year at Potomac State in electrical engineering. She is the daughter of Margaret Upperman of Oakland. At left is Gretta Ramsey, ATK training and education specialist. To learn more about contributing to or establishing a scholarship at Potomac State College, persons may contact Libby Nichols, alumni/development associate, at 304-788-6870 or lmnichols@mail.wvu.edu.

Classes Offered On Special Permit Needed At DCL

The Deep Creek Lake Management staff will offer three opportunities this summer to learn about the written permission needed to be obtained before any alteration or changes can be made to the state buffer strip or the conservation easement properties around the lake. Classes are set to begin at the Discovery Center's Discovery Room at 9:30 a.m. on Saturdays, June 19, July 17, and Aug. 7.

Lake permit holders who are considering making changes to the above-mentioned properties are encouraged to attend and participate in any of these informative classes. Each session will use a PowerPoint presentation to facilitate discussion.

Topics covered will include the application and review process for structures, pathways, play areas, electrical improvements, planting native vegetation, and shoreline erosion control measures. Also offered will be suggestions on how to make lakefront property less attractive to geese, such as a simple landscape changes and affordable management practices that any property owner can do.

Those seeking further information should contact Ranger McCann at the Department of Natural Resources at 301-387-4111 or via e-mail at cmccann@dnr.state.md.us.

Garrett Chamber Schedules Annual Dinner, Meeting

The annual Garrett County Chamber of Commerce membership dinner and meeting will be held next Thursday, June 3, at 6 p.m. at Pine Lodge Steakhouse, Deep Creek Lake.

A cocktail hour with a cash bar will kick off the festivities at 6 p.m., with dinner scheduled for 7 p.m. and music and dancing starting at 8 p.m.

The event will also include the presentation of the Heise Entrepreneurial Spirit Award and the President's Award.

Tickets are $50 per person in advance. There are a limited number of tickets available, so interested persons are asked to RSVP by today, Thursday, May 27, by contacting Jessica Stullenbarger at 301-387-2050 or Jessica@garrettchamber.com.

Summer Reading Program Slated By Board Of Ed.

In its goal to promote reading, the Garrett County Board of Education is again sponsoring the summer reading program for next year's sixth and ninth grade students. This program, supported in part by the Board of Education and the Garrett Reading Council, distributes free books to these students for summer reading.

Students have their choice of books this summer. Choices for fifth graders going into sixth are Running Out of Time by Margaret Peterson Haddix, Baby Mouse: Queen of the World! by Jennifer and Matthew Holm, and Heat by Mike Lupica. Choices for eighth graders going into ninth are Atilla the Hun by Sean Stewart Price, Ten Great Mysteries by Edgar Allan Poe, and Red Kayak by Priscilla Cummings.

Studies have shown that when students are given a choice of reading material, they are more likely to read and do better in school. Students are encouraged to read and share their books with parents and friends.

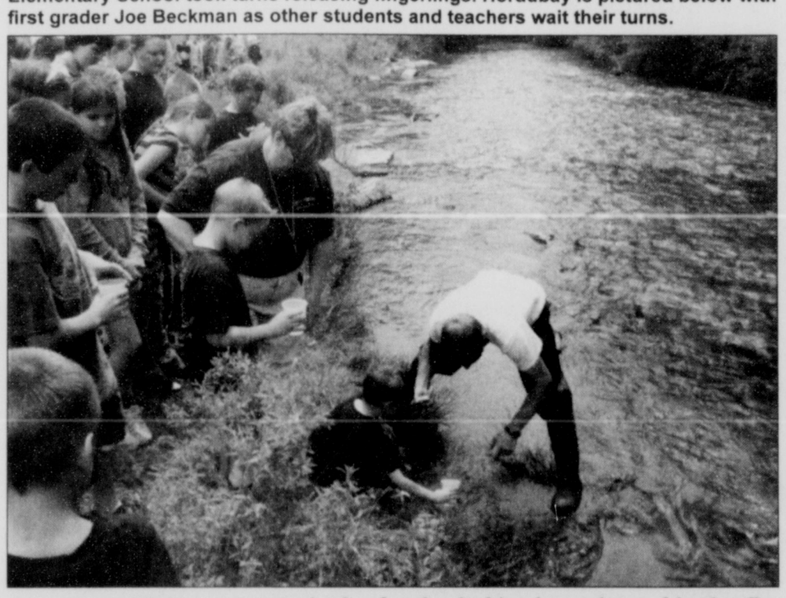
Promoters of this program include all branches of the Ruth Enlow Library, the Book Mark'et, Brenda's Pizzeria, and the Lakeside Creamery. The Creamery is offering a free ice cream cone for those who read the book, and bring a coupon and their summer book to the Creamery. They must answer a question about the book to earn their cones. The Book Mark'et is offering summer readers 10% off any books, with coupon, on the "If you liked...try" reading list located in their summer reading packet.

Brenda's Pizzeria is offering a free slice of pizza and a Coke with its coupon. Book talks will be held in August at the Oakland and Grantsville branches of the library as well as at Trader's Coffee Shop, Deep Creek Lake.

Even those who have not received a free book this summer are encouraged to check the summer reading program at the board of education web site at www.ga.k12.md.us. under GCPS Summer Reading Page. The link provides activities, library dates of book talks, the "If you liked ...try" reading list, web connections with hyperlinks, and a link to the Garrett County Virtual Librarian.

Anyone interested in contributing as a donor or a memorial should contact Sandy Rodeheaver, the County-Wide Library media resource teacher, at 301-334-8910.

SNOWY CREEK HAS 197 NEW RESIDENTS – With assistance from Trout Unlimited and the Department of Natural Resources' Wildlife and Fisheries Division, Crellin Elementary School fifth grade students raised Kamloops rainbow trout as part of the Trout in the Classroom Project. This year, the trout had an 82 percent survival rate, allowing the students to stock 197 fingerlings in Snowy Creek. Above, fifth grade teacher Rebecca Sanders releases fingerlings as her students – Seth Adams, Nichole Snyder, George Zimmerman, Alexis Spiker, Alex Butina, Jasmine Corby, Destiny Shahan, Macey Walker, Luke Rikey, and Samuel Burns – look on. Aaron Hordubay assisted as each student from Crellin Elementary and visiting fourth grade students from Broad Ford Elementary School took turns releasing fingerlings. Hordubay is pictured below with first grader Joe Beckman as other students and teachers wait their turns.



Democrat Club To Hold Mtg. Next Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of the Garrett County Democratic Club will be held on Thursday, June 3, at 7 p.m. in the meeting room of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad hall, located along Rt. 135 in Mtn. Lake Park.

"All members and interested Democrats are urged to join us for a discussion of politics and issues which affect Garrett County," said club secretary Zelma Neary.

An update will be given to members on the upcoming Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner, slated on Tuesday, June 8, in the Crawford Room at Wisp Resort. Maryland lieutenant governor Anthony Brown will be the keynote speaker.

For more information, persons may call Rosalie Finch at 301-334-4076 or Neary at 301-334-4643.

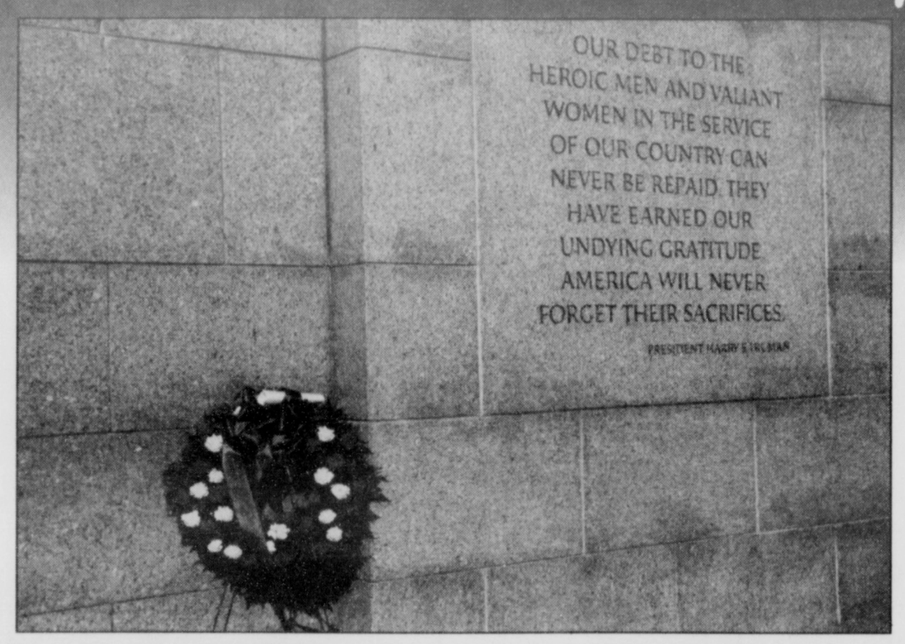
From Dreams to Reality



© istockphoto.com/NoDerog

How do dreams become reality? How did such qualities as freedom, individualism, justice and opportunity advance from conception to completion? What was the catalyst here?

The answer to these questions is also the reason we celebrate Memorial Day. These dreams did not become reality without the sacrifice of thousands of lives in battle. We live in freedom today, thanks to the heroes who gave up their fledgling futures for us. They gave us a personal definition of patriotism.

Though these courageous men and women were afforded little goodness in battle...there was one item many insisted on keeping close to their heart. That was the Bible, the comfort of God's Holy Word that saved souls even when life could not be preserved.

Honor those who have served our country when you worship this week.

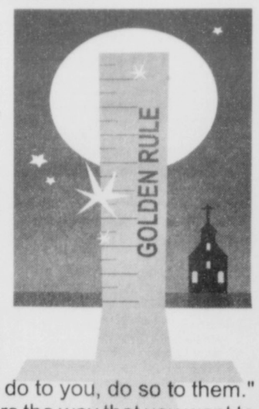
Fairness



The American Heritage dictionary defines the word "fair" as "having or exhibiting a disposition that is free of favoritism or bias; impartial." Fairness is an important character trait anywhere justice is expected, and indeed, the Bible is full of lessons and instructions which aim at inculcating fairness. Consider the Golden Rule: "And as you wish that men would do to you, do so to them." (Luke 6.31) Treating others the way that you want to be treated is one way to exhibit fairness. Consider also the many lessons where Jesus challenged his disciples to give up their culturally conditioned prejudices. Jews living in Palestine at the time of Jesus thought very poorly of Samaritans, who were considered "half-breeds" (i.e., Jews who had married with the non-Jewish natives of Samaria), and so when Jesus tells the parable of the good Samaritan he is trying to tell his disciples that even these people who were habitually thought of as contemptible might behave better than the so-called paragons of virtue within their own culture. On another occasion, Jesus' willingness to speak to the Samaritan woman at the well is a further lesson in giving up one's cultural bias in favor of fairness or impartiality, since not only is she a Samaritan, but even worse, she was a woman at a time when women were thought unworthy of a man's conversation. So, we should take a lesson from Jesus and treat everyone with fairness and impartiality.

If a king judges the poor with equity his throne will be established forever.

Influenza: Vaccines and Antivirals

Influenza is a respiratory tract infection that typically occurs during the winter months. The condition can be passed from person to person through sneezing, coughing, and even talking. Signs and symptoms of the flu include a cough and a sore throat. Although replication of the virus is limited to the respiratory tract, persons infected with influenza may also experience a fever, headache, muscle aches, and weakness. Typically the condition resolves with gradual improvement over 2 to 5 days, but may last for a week or more. Persons with other medical conditions such as diabetes or a heart condition are considered at high risk for influenza, and may be more likely to experience a more severe case if infected.

An annual flu vaccine is the best way to prevent influenza. There are also two types of antiviral medications to treat the flu. Zanamivir and oseltamivir are treatment drugs called neuraminidase inhibitors. They prevent new infections with influenza from influenza A and B strains, and can be used for prevention and treatment of influenza. The adamantanes include amantadine and rimantadine. These medications work by inhibiting a protein in the influenza A strain; they do not work against influenza B strain.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was American novelist, poet and painter — and prominent member of the Beat Generation of artists — William S. Burroughs who made the following declaration: "I don't care if people hate my guts; I assume most of them do. The important question is whether they are in a position to do anything about it."

• If you wanted to dig to the center of the earth, you'd have to go down about 4,000 miles.

• Those of you who need your daily java fix probably won't be surprised to learn that coffee is one of the most popular drinks worldwide and is one of the most traded agricultural commodities. Due to limitations in cultivation, however, Hawaii is the only state in the U.S. that produces the beans.

• The world's largest dam, located in Canada, is 2,790 feet long — twice as long as Arizona and Nevada's Hoover Dam. The truly amazing thing isn't its size, though; it's the manner of construction. Over the course of several months, the dam was built entirely by beavers.

• According to industry experts, beverage makers sell 9 billion cases of carbonated soda in the United States every year.

• If you ever open a magazine or watch TV, you've probably seen at least one ad from the "Got Milk?" campaign. You probably didn't know, though, that the same campaign also broke new advertising ground with ads at bus stops that weren't just visual; they also gave off the odor of freshbaked cookies. That particular approach was quickly abandoned due to concerns about allergies.

• Popular cooking expert and television host Rachael Ray reportedly has a sign hanging outside her door that says "Martha doesn't live here."

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On May 31, 1859, the famous tower clock known as Big Ben, located atop the 320-foot-high St. Stephen's Tower, rings out over the Houses of Parliament in Westminster, London, for the first time. Its famously accurate timekeeping is regulated by a stack of coins placed on the clock's huge pendulum.

• On June 2, 1924, President Calvin Coolidge signs the Indian Citizen Act, granting automatic American citizenship to Native Americans born in the United States. The law attempted to finalize Indian assimilation into white culture while permitting Indians to retain some of their tribal traditions.

• On June 6, 1933, eager motorists park their automobiles on the grounds of Park-In Theaters in Camden, N.J., the first-ever drive-in movie theater. Advertising it as entertainment for the whole family, Richard Hollingshead charged 25 cents per car and 25 cents per person, with no group paying more than one dollar.

• On June 4, 1942, the Battle of Midway begins. During the four-day sea-and-air battle, the outnumbered U.S. Pacific Fleet succeeded in destroying four Japanese aircraft carriers while losing only one of its own, the Yorktown.

• On June 3, 1956, in Santa Cruz, Calif., city authorities announced a total ban on rock and roll at public gatherings, calling the music "Detrimental to both the health and morals of our youth and community." Two weeks later, Time magazine reported on similar bans enacted in Asbury Park, N.J., and San Antonio, Texas.

• On June 5, 1968, Senator Robert Kennedy is shot at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles after winning the California presidential primary. Kennedy was shot several times by 22-year-old Palestinian Sirhan Sirhan. He died a day later.

• On June 1, 1980, CNN (Cable News Network), the world's first 24-hour television news network, makes its debut. The network signed on at 6 p.m. EST from its headquarters in Atlanta, with a lead story about the attempted assassination of civil-rights leader Vernon Jordan.

Hand Saws

Q. We have some very old hand saws that we would like to find out more about. — Clyde, Montevideo, Minn.

A. There are several pages devoted to hand saws in the Antique Trader Tools Price Guide edited by Kyle Husfloen (Krause, $19.99). A cast steel saw with applewood handle made by Dusston lists for $150. On the other hand, one with a fancy hardwood handle featuring the likeness of a panther and manufactured by Woodrough & McPharlin is valued at 10 times that amount. The value of any collectible, whether it is a hand saw or a doll, depends on several factors, including condition, rarity and desirability. At recent farm auctions I've attended, most of the older work saws have sold in the $25 to $75 range.

Write to Larry Cox in care of King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475, or send e-mail to antiquequestions @aol.com. Due to the large volume of mail he receives, Mr. Cox is unable to personally answer all reader questions. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.

TV Pipeline

According to ABC, 'Jim' finally is gone

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Q: What happened to "According to Jim" starring Jim Belushi? Will it be back, or did they cancel it? –Randy Wilson, Oklahoma City

A: It's understandable that some people still might not be sure, since the sitcom had a habit of popping back up on ABC when least expected in its later years. However, its lives finally ran out, and the show finished its eight-season run in 2009. However, repeats continue to appear in local syndication, and the first two seasons have been issued in DVD sets.

Q: Could you tell me how many seasons "Barney Miller" was on? Will they all be out on DVD? –Barb Frame, Vienna, W.Va.

A: Including its half-season when it premiered in the winter of 1975, the Hal Linden-starring police comedy ran on ABC for eight seasons. Whether they all will be issued on DVD is uncertain. since Sony Pictures Home Entertainment has been cautious in releasing them. After the first season came out in 2004, it took four years for the company to offer season two, then another year beyond that to present the season-three set that arrived this past March. At this point, it's a case of wait and see.

A: As has been addressed before here with other network programs, it's a matter of math and economics. A network series generally has 22 new episodes per season. A television season runs roughly 36 weeks. For the 12 weeks of that differential, there will be repeats or pre-emptions – and given the strong ratings "The Good Wife" was yielding in its freshman season, CBS opted for the repeats.

Q: I've always enjoyed watching James Lipton and "Inside the Actors Studio," but I can't find it anymore. What's happening? –Betsy Selman, Wichita, Kan.

A: What's happening is Bravo's erratic-at-best scheduling of the interview series that once was a staple of the network. May has had only a single new episode, featuring guest Sean Combs. Lipton still maintains blog entries for the program at www.bravotv.com, and past episodes also can be viewed there.

NRP Reminds All Boaters To Exercise Caution

As Marylanders prepare to take to the state's waterways and parks this Memorial Day weekend for the traditional start of the summer season, the Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) advise boaters, park patrons, and users of Maryland's natural resources to exercise caution this summer and throughout the year. To promote safety, NRP will be conducting an extensive statewide enforcement effort during the Memorial Day weekend.

"Memorial Day is generally considered to be the official beginning of the boating and camping season in Maryland," said Colonel George F. Johnson IV, superintendent of the NRP. "During the busy Memorial Day weekend, we urge citizens to make safety a number one priority while enjoying Maryland waterways and parks."

NRP will be educating boaters on a new law that was signed by Governor Martin O'Malley on April 13, effective immediately, that requires children under 13 to wear a personal flotation device (PFD) while aboard a vessel under 21 feet in length. This legislation helps in protecting children while on the state's waterways.

According to Johnson, the NRP will aggressively target boaters operating in a reckless or negligent manner and/or under the influence of alcohol on the waterways. They will also focus on boaters not maintaining a proper lookout and not having the required safety equipment on board.

Last year, Maryland had 16 fatal accidents, resulting in 17 deaths, up from a 5-year average of 12 fatal accidents. NRP reports that 16 of the 17 victims were not wearing life vests, and stresses that wearing a life jacket could be the single most important factor in preventing boating deaths. Alcohol and drugs were a contributing factor in seven of the fatal boating accidents.

NRP responded to 299 boating accidents last year. Of these, 202 resulted in injuries that required treatment more than first aid and/or had damages to the vessels in excess of $2,000.

Johnson said that boaters should use good judgment and take precautions before they depart from the dock. Boaters can help ensure their safety and the safety of others by remembering the acronym "SAFE":

• S – Survey or examine the vessel's hull, engine, and navigational equipment for serviceability. Ensure the hull is sound and free of cracks, holes, and defects. Inspect the vessel's engine performance. Take it to a certified mechanic to ensure the engine is operating properly. Survey and examine all navigational lights, communication, radar, GPS, and other electronic equipment to ensure that they are functioning properly.

• A – Anticipate the needs of the trip prior to leaving the dock. Ensure that fuel, clothing, and medical needs are met during the trip. Plan for unexpected events like severe weather or sudden storms.

• F – Boaters should file a float plan with a friend or relative, telling someone where they are going, how long they plan to stay, and when they expect to return.

• E – Equipment. Ensure that all safety equipment is in good condition and sufficient quantity for the people on board the vessel. Basic equipment includes correct size and quantity of life jackets, fire extinguishers, visual distress signals (flares etc.), and sound-producing devices such as a whistle or horn.

Meanwhile, patrols in the parks and forests will focus on picnic areas, pavilions, campgrounds, and waterfront areas for alcohol consumption, and will educate the public as to where these types of beverages are permitted. Patrols will also focus on underage alcohol possession and individuals driving under the influence of alcohol.

Additional emphasis will be placed on conserving Maryland's natural resources. Officers will concentrate on possession and size limits of the fisheries resources throughout the state this Memorial Day weekend.

For more information on safe boating in Maryland, persons are invited to visit the DNR web site: http://www.dnr.state.md.us/boating/.

PERENNIAL SALE TO BE PART OF 10TH GARDEN CLUB TOUR – A perennial sale will be featured during the 10th annual Secret Country Gardens tour, sponsored by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club. The event will take place on Saturday, June 26, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The club's horticultural committee, chaired by Linda Harris, will operate the sale. A variety of perennials appropriate for the local climate will be available for purchase on the day of the tour at the Cupler's Windy Acres Garden. Pictured from left are Barbara Chesley, Jerry Crabtree, Louise Wilson, and Barbara Sanders, all members of the horticulture committee who will be among other members volunteering at the sale. Five gardens will be on the tour this year. Information on each will be published in future weeks. Tickets for the tour may be purchased for $7 on the day of the event at the Gazebo in Oakland, or in advance from garden club members and/or at the following locations: Gregg's Pharmacy, Jan Florist, Green Acres Garden Center, Julie's Greenhouse, Nature's Own, Annie's Restaurant, Accident, and Beachy's Pharmacy. Proceeds from the tour will be used by the garden club for area beautification efforts, as well as the group's promotion of gardening and conservation. For more information about the tour, persons may contact Becky Zellefrow or Kathy Long at 301-252-9917, or log on to www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

Microsoft Excel Class Scheduled

Garrett College has scheduled a Microsoft Excel I, 2007 version, course at the Northern Outreach Center, Grantsville, for Tuesdays and Wednesdays, June 8 to 16, from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m.

"Attend this class to learn about the new tools that make working with spreadsheets easier and more efficient," said a spokesperson. "Commands and features that were often buried in complex menus and toolbars are now easier to find on task-oriented tabs that contain logical groups of commands and features."

Additional information is available by contacting Terry Beachy, Northern Outreach Center coordinator, at 301-895-4700 or terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

To register for this courses, one may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division at 301-387-3069.

Correction Noted

The May 31 American Red Cross bloodmobile in Grantsville will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Maple Glenn Mennonite Church, Dorsey Road.

Baptist Church To Hold Southern Gospel Concert

Deep Creek Baptist Church will host a southern gospel concert this Saturday, May 29, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. The event will feature local singers Karen Tyree, Tara Bittinger, and Frank and Helen West performing southern gospel favorites.

Tyree has been singing for 17 years and released a music CD in 2007. She is a member of Loch Lynn Church of God.

Bittinger is from Barton. The Wests are members of Oak Park Church of the Brethren and have been performing for 14 years.

There is no charge for the concert; however, a freewill offering will be taken, with proceeds going toward a mission trip to the Cheyenne River Indian Reservation in Eagle Butte, S.D. Members from Deep Creek Baptist Church will be returning to a second year Eagle Butte, working to build a new addition for church while evangelizing in that area.

For more information, persons may call the church at 301-387-5688.

"Quality of Service Is What Sets Us Apart From the Rest"

SRWA PLANT SALE SET – The Savage River Watershed Association (SRWA) will sponsor a native plant sale this Saturday, May 29, to help gardeners create eco-friendly landscapes around their homes, schools, and businesses. A selection of plants and seeds native to Garrett County and the surrounding region will be available for purchase, including ferns, grasses, wildflowers, shrubs, and trees. Pictured above, from left, are black cohosh, ostrich fern, and Turk's cap lily. The sale will take place at the private Elk Ridge Native Plant Preserve near Bittinger from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Free guided tours of the demonstration garden will begin promptly at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. A variety of conservation landscaping and wildlife habitat practices that enhance biodiversity will be showcased during these educational tours. (Pets are not allowed and no restroom is available.) To reach the site from the entrance to New Germany State Park, drivers should turn left into the park onto McAndrews Hill Road, travel two miles to the stop sign at Westernport Road, turn right and travel .25 mile to Red Hill Road, turn right and drive .5 mile to Elk Ridge Lane, turn left onto private Elk Ridge Lane, and drive .3 mile. For more information, persons may telephone Liz McDowell, SRWA native plant sale coordinator, at 301-895-3686. For general information about SRWA, persons are invited to contact Shannon Philbin at SRWAcoordinator@gmail.com or 301-689-7156.

Man Charged With DUI Following Stop By GC Deputies

Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested a man following a traffic stop on Garrett Highway early Tuesday morning.

James Robert Mullenax was stopped by deputies near the intersection of Maryland and Garrett Highways. He was initially stopped for reported failure to drive right of center. Investigation allegedly revealed him to be driving under the influence.

Mullenax is charged with failure to drive right of center, DUI, driving while impaired, possession of marijuana, and possession of controlled dangerous substance (CDS) paraphernalia. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

More Travelers Anticipated For Memorial Day

AAA today projected that the number of Americans traveling on vacation this Memorial Day holiday weekend will increase 5.4 percent from 2009 with approximately 32.1 million travelers taking a trip away from home.

"While the economy continues to be rocked by waves of occasional uncertainty, and a significant number of Americans are still unemployed, it seems improved economic performance from a year ago is encouraging more Americans to take vacations this Memorial Day holiday weekend," said Ragina C. Averella, manager of public and government affairs at AAA Mid-Atlantic. "AAA travel agents are reporting double-digit increases in the percentage of travelers making advance bookings for tours and cruises. Hotel bookings via AAA.com are increasing and AAA's many travel industry partners have reported improved business conditions this spring."

Averella cautioned, "Increased travel can also mean reduced availability, especially in markets like central Florida where the opening of exciting new attractions is expected to make the area one of the summer's most popular destinations."

Averella says her best advice is to "talk to a travel agent to find the best package deals and be sure to jump on a bargain if you find one."

AAA's projections are based on economic forecasting and research by IHS Global Insight. The complete AAA / IHS Global Insight 2010 Memorial Day holiday forecast can be found at AAA.com/news.

Trips by auto are expected to increase in popularity with 87 percent or 28.0 million people reaching their destination by driving. This is an increase of 5.8 percent from last Memorial Day.

AAA does not expect the nationwide average price of gasoline to exceed $3 per gallon for Memorial Day weekend.

Leisure air travel is expected to grow very slightly, a 2.4 percent increase – 2.15 million holiday flyers projected – compared to those of last year's holiday. Approximately 7 percent of travelers will take to the skies.

Trips by other modes, including rail, buses, and watercraft, will be the dominant means of travel used by an estimated 3 million Americans, or 6 percent of all travelers.

The average distance traveled by Americans this Memorial Day holiday weekend is forecast to be approximately the same as for last year's holiday: 626 miles versus 620 in 2009.

Sixty-one percent of Americans will spend time with friends and relatives over the holiday, and traveling as a family will be the most popular way to go, with 27 percent of travelers making a journey with children or other family members. Median spending is estimated at $809 this Memorial Day holiday.

According to AAA's Leisure Travel Index, air fares over the Memorial Day holiday weekend are expected to remain unchanged from last year's, as air passengers will pay a lowest average fare of $176 per ticket. Weekend daily car rental rates will drop 15 percent to an average of $36.65 from an average of $43.30 in 2009.

Hotel rates for AAA Three Diamond lodgings are expected to remain a bargain, but will decline only one percent from a year ago, with travelers spending an average of $141.60 per night. Travelers planning to stay at AAA Two Diamond hotels will pay four percent less, at an average cost of $99 per night.

AAA Mid-Atlantic is based in Wilmington, Del., and serves nearly 4 million members in the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Two Arrested By Deputies On Court Warrants

Two people were arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies on the strength of court warrants. The following cases are unrelated.

Scott Daniel Doolan was arrested on Saturday on a district court warrant. He is charged with second-degree assault and reckless endangerment. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Michelle Kathleen Kerr was arrested on a West Virginia warrant on Saturday. She is charged with driving uninsured. She was taken into custody.

IT'S SHORTBREAD TIME AGAIN – St. John's Episcopal Church, Deer Park, will sell authentic Scottish shortbread on Saturday, June 5, during the McHenry Highland Festival at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. Pictured are Pat Mullinix and Madalyn Hoffeditz, church members, helping customers at last year's shortbread fundraiser, of which proceeds benefit local church charities.

Bittinger Church To Hold Fifth Joint-Parish Service

Bittinger Lutheran Parish will hold its fifth joint-parish Sunday church service this Sunday, May 30, at St. John's of Meadow Mountain at 10 a.m.

Trinity Sunday will be observed during the service. A Memorial Day tribute will also be included. Pastor Randy Richardson invites the public to attend. A time of fellowship will follow the service.

Northern High School Receives Maryland Green School Award

Northern High School, along with 76 other Maryland schools, 19 re-certifying Green Schools, and six model Green Schools, recently received the 2010 class of Maryland Green Schools Award.

The Maryland Green Schools Award Program, developed and administered by the Maryland Association for Environmental and Outdoor Education (MAEOE), challenges schools to integrate the environment into all aspects of the school culture, including professional development for teachers, curricular integration, modeling of best management practices inside and outside the school, community involvement, and celebration.

"Achieving Green School status does not happen overnight, and it can't happen unless the whole school is involved," said a spokesperson. "On average, it takes a school two years to effectively fulfill the requirements associated with certification."

Northern High School participates in various environmental awareness activities that involve students in all grades. Currently, regular, merit, and advanced placement environmental science courses are offered, making environmental education accessible to all students. Additionally, environmental awareness activities are integrated into courses of various disciplines.

For example, a project in art class allows students to create sculptures from recycled materials and enter the completed sculptures in a state contest. This year, members of the science department attended the MAEOE conference at Rocky Gap Resort to discover additional strategies to educate students about the environment. National Environmental Education Week is celebrated annually with school-wide activities organized by students that teach environmental awareness in enjoyable ways.

Several extensive, ongoing environmental projects actively involving a majority of the students occur at NHS. The school became the first in the state with solar panels in October 2008. Students were involved in the planning and installation phases of the panels and continue to monitor the electrical output. Paper, plastic, aluminum, and old cell phones and ink cartridges are currently recycled to reduce the amount of solid waste produced by the school. An underutilized walking trail on the school grounds is undergoing renovation to create an outdoor learning lab that will pass through a constructed wetland and meadow. Funding for this project was obtained by a grant written primarily by students.

"Academically, Maryland Green Schools have been proven to outperform non-Maryland Green Schools in math and reading even when socio-economic factors are removed," said the spokesperson. "This prepares students for becoming environmental stewards as adults as well as for 21st-century "green" jobs."

Additionally, the projects that are implemented within the school buildings and on the school grounds contribute to lowering greenhouse gas emissions, reducing pollutant export to waterways, staunching solid waste disposal, and increasing wildlife habitat.

"When I hand those Maryland Green School flags to the schools, I know without a doubt that Maryland's future is bright and strong and in good hands," said Bronwyn Mitchell, MAEOE's executive director.

Northern High School will be officially recognized as an MAEOE Certified Maryland Green School on Friday, June 4, at a ceremony scheduled to be held at Sandy Point State Park as part of the first annual Maryland Green School Youth Summit.

"Though this is a great honor recognizing tremendous effort expended by parents, teachers, administration, students and volunteers, there is still more work to be done," said the spokesperson. "The MAEOE certification expires in four years; however, if we continue on the green path we can recertify at that time – and that is what NHS intends to do."

For more information about the Maryland Green School Program, persons should visit the MAEOE's web site at www.maeoe.org.

NHS NAMED GREEN SCHOOL – Northern High School was recently one of 76 Maryland schools declared a Green School by the Maryland Association for Environmental and Outdoor Education. Pictured above on this year's Earth Day, students participated in a water taste test to determine their preference between well water, filtered tap water, and bottled water. Students then learned about the negative environmental impacts of consuming large amounts of water from plastic water bottles. Sitting, from left, are Charlee Cramer, Casey Kinzey, Kerah Umbel, Taylor Day, and Marley Kamp. Standing in the front row are Jarred Dennis, Christina Ferrell, Carrie Large, Nick Buckel, Nicole Collins, Zachary Green, Thomas Kovach, Alex Smith, Whitney Murphy, Kaitlynn Fratz, Terra McKenzie, Brody Fike, Matt Thomas, and Matt Snyder. Back row: Kameron Kamp, James Beitzel, Tyler Bowman, Becca Engle, Eric Elenfeldt, Austin Tombley, Gunnar Stubler, Tyler Sweitzer, and Adam Finzel. Below are students with aluminum cans collected from a homeroom contest. The cans were recycled, with all proceeds benefiting the Tim Umbel Memorial Scholarship. The school collected 3,899 cans in one week's time. Pictured are Nikkole Diehl, Ariel Slagle, Brian Umbel, Jordyn Milton, Shayla Wilt, and Haylee Baer.

TERRA ALTA NEWS

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE FUNDRAISER

The Women of the Moose will host a fundraiser on June 12 at the Terra Alta Moose Lodge. It will be an "all-you-can-eat Hillbilly Brunch," and will be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The menu will include sausage gravy and biscuits, bacon, sausage, pancakes, scrambled eggs, orange juice and coffee.

HOT DOGS IN THE PARK

The Terra Alta Council of Churches is preparing to host Hot Dogs in the Park on Monday, May 31, from 1 to 3 p.m.

The menu will include hot dogs, chips, and iced tea or lemonade. There is no charge.

TERRA ALTA PUBLIC LIBRARY NEWS

Catherine Nardi, a former resident of Terra Alta, has presented a one-year subscription of Every Day With Rachel Ray to the Terra Alta Public Library.

The CEOS (Community Educational Outreach Service) members have been hosting Wednesday afternoon Story Hours. Mother's Day baskets were made by several attending children. Una Kisamore was the reader of a Mother's Day story, with Stacie Upole reading poems. Sandy LaRue instructed the craft-making.

Kisamore was again the spokesperson for the May session. She spoke about asthma, noting that May as declared Asthma Month. Nancy Hoffman also attended and added information.

Doug and Carolyn Auvil presented a monetary donation along with some new releases to the library. Others donating books, tapes, periodicals, and other items are as follows: John Blundell, Cindy Cramer, Janet Elaine Stickler, Lawrence Sypolt, Linda Wakefield, Sharon Roy, Brian Schoolcraft, Diana Harrison, Susan Miller, Helen Brandon, Greta Hauger, Charles D. Trembly, Ray and Patti Artice, Nancy Gardner, and Tonya Park.

The Dolly Parton Imagination Library will be launched on July 8, 4-7 p.m., at the Craig Civic Center in Kingwood. The program is for children from birth to 5 years of age, who may register to receive a book each month mailed to their homes. Persons may contact the library for more information.

AURORA KIDS' CLUB DONATES FOOD – The Aurora Kids' Club, along with the students of Aurora School, recently helped the Terra Food Bank by donating cans of food. Those youngsters who brought in four or more cans were given prizes. Pictured are some of the Kids' Club members (names not provided), along with Pastor Shaun Phillips on the left and Janice Mersing on the far right, who is the coordinator of the Terra Alta Food Bank. Students who donated four or more cans of food were Kaylee Chadderton, Jacob Hauser, and Taunsend Stemple, all of prekindergarten; Mason Moats, kindergarten; Willie Bachtel, Dannielle Calcamp, Zach Conrad, and Savannah Hauser, first grade; Emma Harsh, second grade; Erica Myers and Rayann Hemerick, third grade; Erika Ritchey, fourth grade; and Daniel Conrad and Michelle Harsh, fifth grade.

BLOODMOBILE RESULTS

The Terra Alta Civic Club's president, Jenni Mills, announced that there were 29 donors present and 21 units collected at the club's Red Cross blood drive last Thursday.

Elaine Stickler provided oatmeal raison cookies, Sue Kehoe provided the tea bread, and Sharon Golmitz and others donated the drinks. Carol Burdick, Laureen Wilson, and Sue Kehoe were among those who manned the stations.

AURORA/EGLON

LANTZ RIDGE FESTIVAL

The annual Memorial Day festival, sponsored by Mt. Olivet Cemetery Association, will be held this Saturday, May 29, beginning at 5 p.m. Chili dogs, hamburgers, homemade pies, ice cream, and cakes are some of the items that will be available. There will also be musical entertainment at the event, which will be held at the Lantz Ridge Community Building. Proceeds will benefit the upkeep of the cemetery.

MTN. ANTHEMS

The Mountain Anthems, a Christian a cappella group, will present a program at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Red House, on Thursday, June 3, at 7:30 p.m. There will be a freewill offering to help defray costs of the group's travel. Following the program, refreshments will be served in the social room. All are invited.

SOUP AND SALAD

A variety of soups, salad, and bread plus drinks and desserts, including ice cream, will be available at Maple Spring Church of the Brethren on Saturday, June 5, at 3 p.m. Donations asked are $7 for adults and $4 for children preschool-age to 12, with younger children eating for free. The dinner is sponsored by the Family Life Center Committee.

HERITAGE DAYS

An evening of fellowship and refreshments will be offered on Friday, June 4, in the History House's back yard, beginning at 6 p.m. Hot dogs, marshmallows, popcorn, and drinks will be available for free.

The Aurora CEOS and Ridge Walkers Relay Team will hold a yard sale at the Union Ambulance squad hall on Saturday, June 5, with proceeds to benefit the Relay for Life.

Aurora area photos will be on display on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Aurora Community Building. John Slawter will prepare his barbecue chicken to be served at the History Center. There will also be demonstrations involving bees, honey, and spinning.

The History House will be open both Saturday and Sunday and will have a variety of items for sale such as Aurora alumni books, pottery, paper items, and craft items. Craft tables will be set up on Friday and Saturday.

Those interested in reserving space for a craft or vendor table are asked to contact John Adams at 304-288-6850. Tables are $10 each, and vendors are responsible for providing rain shelter if needed. Special group tours and visits may also be coordinated through Adams.

AURORA CEOS

Are you able to buy food locally? Is there a Farmer's Market in your community? These were some of the questions addressed at the May meeting of the Aurora Community Education Outreach Service club, which was held in the home of Dee and Keith Douglas. Dee was also the leader of the lesson. She learned that local farmers have a much fresher product, which makes the food more nutritious as well. Much of the food in West Virginia is shipped as far as 1,500 miles before going to sale. Although West Virginia has the highest percentage of family farms in the nation, Dee commented that farming is a vanishing occupation. Farmers receive less than $0.10 of the food retail dollar.

President Opal Myers called the meeting to order, and devotions were read from "Our Daily Bread" by Ressie Conrad.

An exhibit in celebration of CEOS Week last week was placed in the Aurora Post Office. An area meeting was held in Clarksburg and was attended by Myers, Conrad, and Douglas. Preston County will host an international student from China this year, and she will be in the country from June 20 to 30, with details of her visit not yet in place.

Many county CEOS members and friends took a coach tour of the Fenton Glass factory, Blennerhassett Island, and Crafts 2000, which ended at Ryan's for dinner.

The annual Relay for Life teams from Preston County will hold an annual walk and memorial on June 19 and 20 at Rowelsburg City Park. From noon to 4 p.m., the Aurora Area Historical Society will join the CEOS members to set up for the yard sale to be held in conjunction with Heri-

4-H Club News

EGLON MOUNTAINEERS

by Wesley Spaid, reporter

Members and parents of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club were treated to a "tour" of Denmark by Preston County extension agent David Hartley, who was also an IFYE (International 4-H Youth Exchange) student to Denmark from West Virginia a decade ago. He explained what the program is, when and why it began, and its continuance. He gave important information to all present, but especially to those first-year members taking "This Is 4-H."

Devotions were given by the citizenship committee: Danielle Blamble, Sierra Evans, and Alex Rinker. Brooke Uphold led the pledges.

This month's safety lesson led by Jackie Blamble was on Summer Job Safety. First aid kit items were brought in by members.

The club picked up trash along the Eglon Road on April 21 with the help of Dave Moran and parents.

Picnic table raffle ticket stubs are due to Linda Lewis by May 21. These tickets are being sold to provide members money for county 4-H camp expenses.

Savannah Arnett, Derek and Samantha Chambers, Sierra Evans, Alex and Matt Rinker, and Brooke Uphold attended First Year Weekend Camp May 7 and 8. The club voted to award camp scholarships to members attending camps this summer.

The June 14 meeting will begin at 6:15 p.m. at the home of Jesse Schalker for his horse project demonstration. The group will then go to Tyler Pomeroy's for his sheep project demonstration before going back to the Eglon Memorial Building.

Talks were given by Sierra Evans on "What I've learned about 4-H"; Trevor Spaid on "How to pick a good campsite"; Alex Rinker on "My pig project"; and Haley Rocha talked about her experiences at 4-H Teen Leader Weekend.

Demonstrations were given by Savannah Arnett on "How to make an ojos de dios (eye of God)." Sierra Evans showed how she's making her three-dimensional 4-H Clover exhibit; and Trevor Spaid explained "How to make potato skins in a Dutch oven."

Savannah led the group in singing "A Boy and a Girl in a Little Canoe."

Other members present at the meeting were Johathon Blamble, Tyler Pomeroy, Chelcee Rinker, Jesse Schalker, and Wesley Spaid. Members who are in the fifth grade at Aurora were on a class trip to Pittsburgh this day.

C.A. Lovett Named Volunteer Of Month

Carole Ann Lovett has been honored as the Loar Auxiliary Volunteer of the Month for May at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. She joined the auxiliary in June 2008.

"Carole Ann makes shopping in our Gift Shop an exciting and fun event for our customers," said Denise Shay, shop manager. "She is enthusiastic about showing and selling the merchandise. Customers are welcomed with a smile and a warm, 'hello.' Sales totals on the days that she works reflect her successful sales techniques."

Anyone interested in volunteering at Garrett County Memorial Hospital is asked to call the Volunteer Services Department at 301-533-4041.

Garrett College To Hold Equine Assisted Course

Garrett College will be offering a course titled "Your Communication Style and Developing Your Team: An Equine Assisted Course" at the Broken Spoke Stable in Pleasant Valley. The course will run from 12:30 to 5 p.m. on Saturday, June 12.

This half-day course uses the sensitivity of horses to teach participants about verbal and non-verbal communication.

"Horses communicate with one another using cues that are sometimes subtle and sometimes not so subtle," said a spokesperson.

Students will practice their observation skills, reflect on their own nonverbal messaging, and experiment with changing their own style of interaction.

"The program demonstrates the importance of knowing how to engage in different communication and leadership styles," said the spokesperson. "The course does not involve riding and requires no prior horse experience."

The instructor of this course is Paige Hull Teegarden, who has 15 years of experience working with businesses and nonprofit organizations of all sizes. As a consultant she has facilitated strategic planning processes for multimillion dollar organizations, as well as, small start-up companies.

Teegarden is also the lead author on two books about nonprofits and organizational culture. She has published a variety of other articles on leadership, leadership transition, and collaboration.

She has a master's degree in public policy from Johns Hopkins University and a bachelor of arts degree in political science from Davidson College, N.C.

For additional information or to register, persons may call the Continuing Education and Workforce Development office at 301-387-3069.

Garrett County SKIES

By Dr. Bob Doyle
Frostburg State Planetarium

JUNE SUN – As June begins, the sun appears in front of the stars of Taurus, moving a degree a day eastward relative to the stars. On June 21, the sun enters the star group Gemini, where it stays through July 20. Both of the above star groups are lost in the sun's glare in June. The star group Cancer is to the east of Gemini so it sets after the sun, appearing low in the western dusk. The star group Aries (to the west of Taurus) rises before the sun and is visible low in the southeastern dawn. In early June, sunrises in Garrett County are at about 5:53 a.m., while sunsets are about 8:38 p.m. (14.75 hours of daylight). June 21 is the first day of summer, the day when the sun rises farthest to the north, crests highest in the sky (73 degrees) and sets farthest north. Around the end of June, Garrett County's sunrises are at about 5:54 a.m. and sunsets occur about 8:49 p.m. (14.9 hours of daylight). So during June, the stars are last seen around 5 a.m. (early dawn) and then reappear about 9:40 p.m. (late dusk).

JUNE MOON – There will be a full moon on May 28, so the moon will be rising after midnight on June 1 and following nights. On the morning of June 4, the moon appears half full in the southern dawn sky (like a backward D). The crescent moon will appear above the bright planet Jupiter on Sunday, June 6, low in the 5 a.m. southeastern dawn.

On June 12, the moon swings from the morning to the evening side of the sun (new moon). On June 14, the moon reappears low in the 9:30 p.m. western dusk below the brilliant planet Venus. On the next evening, the crescent moon appears to the left of Venus. On June 16, the moon appears underneath the bright star Regulus and the planet Mars (to the left of Regulus). On June 17, the crescent moon will appear to the left of Mars. On June 18, the evening moon appears half full and below the planet Saturn. The half-full evening moon offers very good viewing of the moon's craters and mountains through binoculars or telescope.

The evening moon appears full on June 25, then in front of the star group Sagittarius. This full moon has the lowest sky track of any 2010 full moon. When low in the sky, the moon often appears yellowish or honey filled; this may have given rise to the term "honeymoon," as many weddings are in June. After full, the moon rises about an hour later each night. By the last night of June, the moon is again rising after midnight.

JUNE PLANETS – The five nearest planets are easily seen by eye, four of them shining steadily in contrast to the twinkling stars. Of the five, Mercury is usually the most difficult to see, at a low angle to the sun and seen very close to the horizon at dawn or dusk. Mercury can be seen very low in the 5:20 a.m. dawn in early June. The bright planet Jupiter is the main morning planet, seen easily in the southeast from 4 to 5 a.m.

In the western evening sky, Venus is glorious in June, not setting until after 11 p.m. To the left and above Venus is the modest planet Mars, appearing near Leo's heart star Regulus on the evening of June 6. The planet Saturn is about as bright as Mars and appears on the left side of Virgo (to the left and above Mars). With the two bright spring evening stars (Arcturus and Spica), Saturn forms a triangle in the southwest and lies at the right tip of the triangle.

JUNE STARS – The Big Dipper is nearly upside down high in the north. The two lower scoop stars point right and down to the North Star, a modest star about halfway up in the north. If you extend the Big Dipper's handle outward, you come to the bright golden star Arcturus and then the white-blue star Spica in the south. In the eastern evening sky, there is a trio of bright stars called the Summer Triangle. At the top of the triangle is Vega, a bright white-blue star about as bright as Arcturus. In the first half of June (when there is no bright early evening moonlight), the Milky Way can be seen as a gentle glow in the lower portion of the Summer Triangle from a dark sky location (away from streetlights and stores).

JUNE PROGRAMS – There are no regular public planetarium programs at the Frostburg State Planetarium in the months of June, July, and August. The Sunday public programs will resume on September 12 with "Calendars, Ancient and Modern." To receive a Planetarium bookmark, persons may telephone 301-687-7799 and leave name and mailing address. One can also access the Planetarium section of the Frostburg State web site at www.frostburg.edu/planetarium .

Dr. Doyle writes this column for those who like to identify the brightest stars, planets, and sights in their backyards.

INDUCTED INTO BUSINESS SOCIETY – Alan Gnegy, an accounting student at West Virginia University College of Business and Economics, was recently inducted into Beta Gamma Sigma, an international business honorary. Gnegy is the son of Ron and Susan Gnegy, Mtn. Lake Park, and is a 2008 graduate of Southern High School. This organization accepts only students ranking in the top 10% of the baccalaureate and top 20% of graduate programs at schools accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB). WVU's College of Business and Economics is accredited for both business and accounting programs, one of 173 schools worldwide to have the dual accreditation. With collegiate chapters on five continents, Beta Gamma Sigma has had 560,000 members since its inception in 1913. Gnegy is pictured at right with Dr. Scott Fleming, assistant professor of accounting at WVU.

Academic Pep Rally Held At Northern High

Northern High School held its annual Academic Pep Rally on Wednesday, May 19. The pep rally, sponsored by the Northern High School Chapter of National Honor Society, recognizes students for their achievements throughout the school year with awards, certificates, and trophies.

The theme of this year's pep rally was "Are You Smarter Than a 5th Grader?" To play the game, students received a ticket as they entered the gym and several tickets were drawn throughout the event. Those students answered questions from the game show.

Angie Rush's 5th grade classes at Accident Elementary School were videotaped with their answers for the game. Northern High students who gave the correct answers were awarded prizes, and consolation prizes were also given.

At the end of the event, three tickets were drawn for grand prizes: an iPod stereo system, an athletic pass for 2010-2011, and a Wal-Mart gift card. Many organizations throughout the school donated items for the pep rally.

Financial Focus
Like the benefits of a 401(k) or an IRA? Check out the 529 Plan

If you have young children, the end of another school year means you are now one year closer to the day when you send them to college — and one year closer to dealing with the high costs of higher education. However, you still have time to save and invest — and one of the best investment choices you can make is a Section 529 college savings plan.

In fact, a 529 plan contains, in just one account, some of the key advantages found in other attractive investment vehicles, such as a 401(k) or IRA. Consider the following:

• Tax-advantaged earnings — Roth IRA earnings accumulate tax free and are distributed tax free, provided the account is at least five years old and the account owner doesn't start taking withdrawals until at least age 59½. Similarly, a 529 plan's earnings accumulate tax free and are distributed tax free, provided they are used for qualified higher education expenses. (Keep in mind, though, that 529 plan distributions not used for qualified expenses may be subject to federal and state income tax and a 10% penalty.) Furthermore, your 529 plan contributions may be deductible from your state taxes. However, 529 plans vary, so be sure to check with your tax advisor.

• High contribution limits — For 2010, you can put up to $16,500 into a 401(k) plan, or $22,000 if you're 50 or older. If you have an IRA, you can contribute up to $5,000 in 2010, or $6,000 if you're 50 or older. The lifetime contribution limits for 529 plans may be more generous. While the limits vary by state, many plans allow contributions in excess of $200,000, according to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Contributions to 529 plans are considered gifts; therefore, the $13,000 gift limit should be considered.

• Asset allocation — One key to being a successful investor is choosing the mix of investments — such as stocks, bonds and government securities — that are appropriate for your risk tolerance and time horizon. A professional financial advisor can help you create a suitable asset allocation for your 401(k), IRA or other investment accounts. Most 529 plans also offer an asset allocation strategy, typically based on the age of the child or the number of years until college enrollment. For example, if your child is younger, your plan might start off with a higher percentage of aggressive investments in order to maximize your growth potential. As your child gets closer to college, the plan may take a more conservative approach to help reduce the effects of volatility before you start tapping into the plan.

Clearly, a 529 plan has much in common with popular investment vehicles, but it has other characteristics of which you'll want to be aware. For one thing, the financial aid impact: Assets in a 529 plan are considered an asset of the account owner, usually the parent. Federal financial aid formulas generally expect parents to use a smaller percentage of their assets for college funding. Consequently, you'll want to explore all aspects of any 529 plan, possibly in consultation with your financial and tax advisors, before taking action. But don't wait too long — your children will move from day care to dormitories in what seems like a blink of an eye.

Bucknell Awards Full Scholarships To Four Outstanding Garrett Students

by Melissa Parker

Garrett College recently announced the names of four scholarship recipients of the 2010 Bucknell Community College Scholars program. They are Devynn Brant, Karel Parve, Seth Friend, and Marko Agbaba. These students have each been offered a full-tuition scholarship to the prestigious liberal arts college, located in Lewisburg, Pa.

The Bucknell Community College Scholars program, which is sponsored by the Jack Kent Cooke Foundation, seeks out highly motivated, high-achieving, low-to-middle income level community college students from five surrounding colleges, including Garrett.

GC students apply for the Bucknell program during the spring semester of their freshman year to first be considered for Bucknell's summer program. Then, a select group of successful students are awarded the full-tuition scholarship based on their performance during the summer program, as well as maintenance of a 3.5 grade point average during their time at Garrett. In addition, the students must demonstrate leadership skills, meet income requirements, and earn an associate's degree prior to transferring.

Garrett has produced a number of successful Bucknell Scholarship recipients in the past few years.

Devynn Brant came to Garrett College two years ago with every intention of competing for the Bucknell Community College Scholars program. She had heard about the scholarship in high school, and it was one of the leading factors in her choice to attend Garrett College. Another reason for her choice: encouragement from one of her high school teachers.

"I was inspired by my psychology instructor Doug Oxford's enthusiasm and high recommendations to seriously consider Garrett College as an option," said Brant, a Southern High School graduate from Oakland. "That, in addition to the Bucknell Community College Scholars program, cemented my decision to attend Garrett."

Working hard to earn the scholarship is what Brant has been doing ever since, and that work at the college has paid off. Brant was also accepted to Arcadia University, but declined after finding out about the Bucknell scholarship offer.

"I feel exhilarated, terrified, awed, and excited to know that I have been given such a great opportunity," said Brant. "I have been driving my friends insane talking about it as often as I do."

Brant studied social and behavioral sciences at Garrett and earned an associate in arts degree in the field. Although she doesn't know exactly what path she'll take at Bucknell, she hopes to study international relations with a focus in either Middle East or African studies.

She also hopes to get involved with the Bucknell Brigade, a student-initiated service-learning project that works to build a sustainable way of life for residents of Nueva Vida, a Nicaraguan resettlement community formed after the 1998 devastation of Hurricane Mitch. Brant also plans to attend graduate school upon graduation from Bucknell.

Although she is excited to begin Bucknell in the fall, Brant says she will always remember and be thankful for the friends she made and the professors from whom she had the opportunity to learn at Garrett.

Karel Parve says he never quite felt like he belonged in his hometown of Viljandi, Estonia, so when he got the opportunity to come to Garrett College through the Baltic Scholarship two years ago, he jumped on it. Two of his Estonian friends had previously attended Garrett and thoroughly enjoyed their experiences at the college. So, he decided to follow in their footsteps, even applying for the Bucknell program, through which his friends were also recipients.

"I decided to come and experience the world and perhaps do some maturing away from home," said Parve.

Parve earned an associate degree in liberal arts from Garrett this spring. He was an exemplary student, becoming a member of the honor society Phi Theta Kappa and the college's Honors Program during his first year, in addition to being named to the All-USA Academic Team and All-State Academic Team this year.

His total academic experience at Garrett has certainly prepared him for the next step in his educational journey, he said, but he does have a favorite academic experience from GC.

"My personal academic highlight was definitely Dr. Steve Herman's philosophy class," said Parve. "His class impacted me very deeply, challenged all of my old convictions, and truly made me see the world through so many different perspectives."

There are some things Parve says he will take with him from Garrett, including fond memories of the staff and faculty, with whom he made some dear friends.

"The people I have met here have helped me become so much more confident about myself and have truly enabled me to have an experience filled with self-discovery," he said.

Parve says he is overjoyed with his Bucknell scholarship.

"To know that someone appreciates your work so highly and wants to invest so much into you is absolutely overwhelming," he said. "I am extremely grateful to both Bucknell and the Jack Kent Cooke Foundation for having so much faith in community college

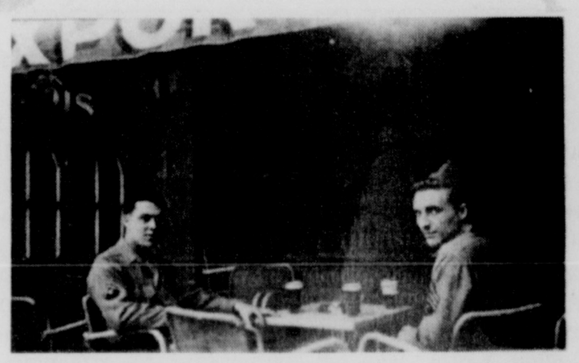
We Remember

Memorial Day

May 31, 2010



Memorial Day is a time to remember all of our loved ones but especially those who have served in our military preserving our freedoms. Take a moment of your day to remember those who have served or are currently serving in our armed forces. I certainly will.

Columbus O. McVicker - My Great-Grandfather who was wounded in France during WWI in 1918. He was the only member of his unit who survived a gas attack. He later named his first daughter (my grandmother) after the nurse that stayed by his bed during his recovery.

Mike McVicker - Great Uncle 30 years retired US Army Cavalry 1939-69 with tours in France, Italy, Japan and Pearl Harbor.

Kelly McVicker - Great Uncle 20 years retired US Air Force. Pearl Harbor 1941-1961.

Bobby McVicker - Great Uncle 30 years retired US Air Force. 1949-1979.

John McVicker - Great Uncle 20 years retired US Air Force. 1954-1974.

Robert E. Charlton - My Great Grandfather. Served in the US Army during WWI.

Robert S. Charlton - My Grandfather. US Army 1943-1945 Europe/African Campaign. He is also the Sergeant seated to the right in the above photo.

John P. (Spud) Charlton - Uncle. Enlisted June 7, 1960, Discharged December 21, 1968, Fort Hood, TX, Fort Bragg, NC. Served in Vietnam combat duty, stationed in Germany. 2 Silver Stars, 2 Purple Hearts, National Service Defense Medal, Republic of Vietnam Service medal/battle stars, Combat Infantryman Badge, parachutist badge. After his tour Spud worked for the Disabled American Veterans where he held the rank of Inspector General from 1985 to 1993. Spud died of cancer in 1996.

Bucknell Awards

students and for recognizing our hard work."

He hopes to study either political science or international relations at Bucknell. Whatever he chooses, Parve believes his future will entail many exciting learning experiences.

"Life is all about creating the person you want to be, and I feel like by moving away from Estonia I began that process. Hopefully the future will enable me to continue doing that," he said.

After he completes his studies at Bucknell, Parve plans to attend graduate school. His ultimate dream is to work with the Human Rights Campaign to end discrimination for the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender community.

"These issues are close to my heart, so I hope to be a part of ending some of the discrimination that these minorities have to face," he said.

Seth Friend came to Garrett College because he wanted the opportunity to stay at home for the first few years, although, he noted, the Garrett County Scholarship program that offered him free tuition "didn't hurt."

The Southern High graduate from Oakland majored in math/science at Garrett, where he was one of the college's outstanding students, making the dean's list every semester. He was also a member of Phi Theta Kappa and the National Society of Leadership and Success.

After being awarded the Bucknell Community College Scholars program summer scholarship last summer, Friend realized his education at Garrett was paying off.

"After spending six weeks at Bucknell last summer, I saw that GC had prepared me better than other colleges had prepared their students," said Friend. "I believe this was due to GC's size and one-on-one attention between faculty and students."

Although Friend isn't quite sure whether he will accept the Bucknell scholarship or accept an offer from the University of Maryland College Park, he says he's flattered by the award.

"It's an honor to be given the opportunity to attend Bucknell, as it is one of the most prestigious schools in the nation," he said.

Whichever university he chooses, he plans to major in mechanical engineering. He wants to attend graduate school after he earns his bachelor's degree and pursue a career in engineering.

Friend says he is looking forward to the future, but he's quick to acknowledge Garrett's role in his success so far.

"I would like to thank everyone at Garrett for being so helpful to me on my path and for helping to lead me toward my goals," he said. "It would have been almost impossible without their guidance."

When Marko Agbaba was exploring his college options two years ago, he quickly decided Garrett was the place for him, since he could play basketball, acquire a basic foundation of knowledge, and have good transfer opportunities to four-year colleges and universities. Agbaba, who is from Belgrade, Serbia, came to the college on an athletic scholarship.

During his time at the college, Agbaba has flourished, earning a high grade point average each semester and becoming a member of Phi Theta Kappa. During the 2010 commencement, Agbaba, who studied business administration at Garrett, was also awarded the All-American Academic Award, the Best Transfer Student award, the Highest Grade Point Average award, and the Best Male Scholar Athlete award.

Like many GC students who are transferring this year, Agbaba says he is excited about the next step in his journey, but he'll take many memories of the college with him, including his favorite memory of the area: When he first saw Swallow Falls.

"It is a really beautiful natural resource of Garrett County that needs to be utilized even more," he said.

When asked how the college has prepared him for the next step, Agbaba said, "Garrett developed in me the critical thinking and problem-solving skills that will help me adapt to the more challenging surroundings of Bucknell University."

Agbaba will enter Bucknell's School of Management. He plans to earn his bachelor's degree there, and an MBA at Johns Hopkins University, where he was also offered an undergraduate scholarship. He plans to eventually obtain a doctorate in economics.

"I believe these two fields of management and economics will successfully supplement each other and create unique knowledge for my career in business," he said.

Before he gets ahead of himself, though, Agbaba is focusing on his upcoming start at Bucknell.

"I feel excited and blessed that I have been given this opportunity to excel at Bucknell University," he said. "Especially, I am glad that my family supports me and is equally excited for this opportunity."

The four students were guests of honor at a recent reception, at which Dr. Rebecca DiLiddo, GC dean of academic affairs, told the students, "One of the best parts about being a dean is when you get to honor students for their academic excellence. We thank Bucknell for having confidence in our community college students."

Two other students were also honored at the reception. Shantell Spiker, Accident, was recognized for receiving a summer scholarship to Bucknell as part of the first step in the Bucknell Community College Scholars program. If successful this summer and next year at Garrett, she could be eligible for a full-tuition scholarship to Bucknell for fall 2011.

Dan Wampler, an Accident resident originally from Waldorf, was recognized for receiving a National Science Foundation grant to study physics at Bucknell University this summer in a 10-week program that begins June 1. Wampler is one of only two community college students and one of only 10 students nationally to receive this highly competitive grant.

For additional information about the Bucknell Community College Scholars program, persons may telephone Dana Shimrock at 301-387-3003.

Garrett Co. 4-H Public Speaking Results Released

Numerous local 4-H members recently participated in the county Communications Event at Garrett College, also known as the Public Speaking Contest. Presentations by the youth ages 8 to 18 were provided in four categories.

The first category was prepared speeches that the 4-Her's wrote and practiced prior to the event.

Second were extemporaneous speeches, which required the youth to select a topic at that site. They then had 15 to 30 minutes to plan and present their speeches.

The third option was to prepare and present a 30-second radio spot to promote 4-H participation.

The fourth option was interpretation, which could be a dramatic, humorous, or poetry presentation.

The following awards were presented:

In the prepared speech category, Mikail Perrine, Country Explorers 4-H Club, received a champion ribbon in the senior division.

In the extemporaneous speech category, Andrew Hauser, Country Explorers 4-H Club, received a champion ribbon in the intermediate division.

In the senior division, winners were Katelyn Gnegy, Country Explorers, champion; and Kerri Skipper, Red House, reserve champion.

Other participants were Aaron Lantz, Country Explorers; Levi Lantz, Country Explorers; and Kelsey Skipper, Red House.

In the radio/public address speech category, ribbons were presented as follows.

In the junior division, Lane Savage, Country Explorers, champion; Erika Ritchey, Trailblazers, reserve champion.

Other participants were Breann Robinson, Country Explorers; Jacob Hauser, Country Explorers; and Kayla Harris, Country Explorers.

In the intermediate division, winners were Kaya Rinker, Country Explorers, champion; and Faith Tichnell, Country Explorers, reserve champion.

Also participating was Sunni Royce, Country Explorers.

In the senior division, winners were Katelyn Gnegy, Country Explorers, champion; and Mikail Perrine, Country Explorers, reserve champion.

Other participants were Aaron Lantz, Allison Roth, Nathan Tichnell, Levi Lantz, and Zack Frick, all of Country Explorers 4-H Club.

In the interpretation speech category, Sadie Powell, Avilton 4-H Club, won the champion ribbon in the junior division.

Judges for the event were Linda and Ross Glotfelty, Linda Fike, and Marvin Beckman. Assistants for the event, serving as announcers and time keepers, were Lauren and Heather Frick, Rachel Skipper, and Alana Morgan.

tage Days on June 4 and 5. CEOS will be responsible on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the Relay.

The CEOS club joined the Union Senior Citizens last weekend for fellowship and activities held at Stemple Ridge pavilion.

Members have been asked to come up with ideas for a July activity. A decision will be made at the June meeting, which will be held at the home of Dorothy Spaid.

Certificates of long-term membership were given by president Opal to Wilda Adams Harsh and Dean Sisler, who both have served for 50 years, and Martha Bolyard, who has been a member for 55 years. Conrad's presentation featured a quiz describing different names for quilt patterns. Health motivators this months impressed upon those attending the importance of walking in prevention of diabetes.

The next meeting at Dorothy Spaid's home will be held at 1 p.m. on June 15, with Pat Stemple leading the program discussion and Dean Sisler in charge of devotions.

BLOODMOBILE

A total of 17 units of blood were collected from 19 donors at the bloodmobile held at the Union Ambulance squad hall last Friday. The next scheduled bloodmobile is set for July 23. Those who are regular donors will be notified. New donors are always welcome and encouraged.

LICENSED TO MINISTER

Charles "Chaz" Stoner and Mark Teets, both of Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, were licensed Sunday to minister at the Elkins Church of the Brethren, at which they have been serving as a team, alternating Sundays. Approximately 35 choir members, deacons, and family were present. The service was followed by a dinner provided by Elkins members.

YARD/BAKE SALE

Amboy United Methodist Church will hold its annual yard and bake sale on Friday, June 4, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday, June 5, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. There will be hot dogs and drinks available for lunch. Those who would like to have a table in the sale may rent one for $10. For more information, persons may contact Linda Snyder at 304-735-5740.

REUNION

The Shaffer children, Carl, Erma, and Carolyn, invite friends and family to join them at Maple Spring Church of the Brethren this Saturday, May 29, for their annual reunion. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish for the 1 p.m. meal.

CHET ROTH SING

Chet Roth will sponsor a day of bluegrass, country, and gospel string music on Saturday, June 12, beginning at 10 a.m. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and chairs. All are welcome to listen or join in.

PERSONAL

Bliss Harsh was recently a patient at a Morgantown hospital after she collapsed while on a treadmill stress test. She has returned to her Stemple Ridge home.

Jessica Hartsell, Corinth, was hospitalized at Ruby Memorial Hospital this past weekend.

Those visiting Rowena Dameron at Golden Living Center report that her condition is improving slowly.

Paul Teets chauffeured his father and mother, David and Wilma Mae Teets, to Franklin, N.Y., last week for a visit with his sister and husband, Mary Lou and Michael Miller. They have returned to their Horse Shoe Run homes.

Bill and Diana Bachtel, Eglon, went to New York City to attend a graduation ceremony at Columbia University, where their son Matthew Bachtel received his master's degree in journalism.

Eugene and Mary Shaffer, Bunker Hill, were visited last week by Eugene's sister and brother-in-law, Debbie and Roger Strawser, Eglon. They also visited area relatives Iris and Gene Simmons and Carolyn Wiles, all of Aurora, Evelyn Hatley, Gormania, and Nancy Baker, Terra Alta.

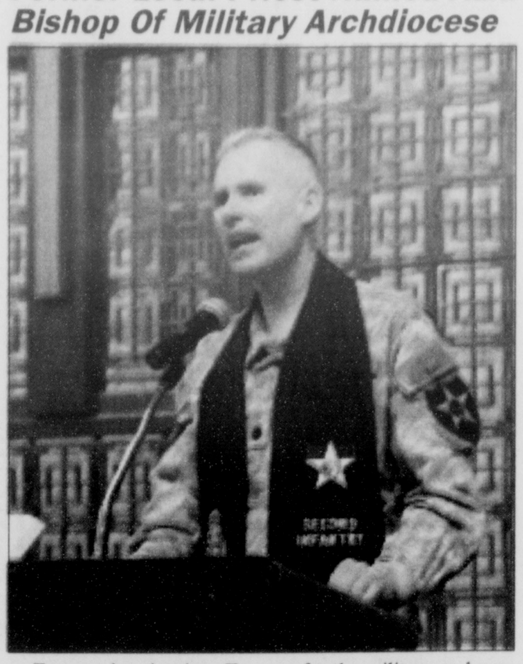
Former Local Priest Named Aux. Bishop Of Military Archdiocese



Former local priest Fr. Richard Spencer was recently named auxiliary bishop of the Military Archdiocese and Titular Bishop of Auzia by Pope Benedict XVI. The priest of the Archdiocese of Baltimore was currently serving as an Army chaplain and stationed in Germany. Spencer was named bishop at a ceremony held in Rome last Friday. The date of his ordination has not yet been set.

"I have known Fr. Spencer well for many years first in my capacity as archbishop for the military and now as archbishop of Baltimore. We are proud the Holy Father has chosen him, one of our own, to continue serving our brave and generous women and men in the military," stated Archbishop Edwin F. O'Brien, Baltimore, and former archbishop of the Archdiocese for the Military Services.

Bishop-elect Spencer was ordained to the priesthood by the late Archbishop William D. Borders at the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen in 1988. In addition to serving at Sacred Heart Church, Glyndon, the Msgr. Clare J. O'Dwyer Retreat House, Sparks, he served as pastor of St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church, Oakland, for 4½ years. He left Oakland in December 1998.

Spencer has served as chaplain for the U.S. Army since 1991. During that time, he has provided for the spiritual care of Catholic soldiers serving throughout the world. His assignments have taken him to such areas as Germany, the former Bosnia/Herzogevina, Seoul, Korea, and the Sinai Peninsula in the Middle East.

Promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army in 2005, he was appointed an Episcopal vicar for the Archdiocese for the Military Services in 2006.

"In addition to his priestly ministries, [he] brings to his new ministry a wide variety of experiences in many fields," said Archbishop Timothy Brog-lio, archbishop for the Military Services. "That experience will certainly contribute to the richness of the Episcopal ministry to which he is now called."

Frank Richard Spencer was born on June 10, 1951, in Sylacauga, Ala. He holds degrees from Jackson (Ala.) State University and the University of Wisconsin, LaCrosse, and served active duty as an officer in the U.S. Army from 1974 to 1980, including with the Army's Military Police. He completed his studies for the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary in Roland Park.

His brother, Fr. Robert Spencer, is a priest of the Diocese of Charleston (S.C.) and serves as a chaplain for the U.S. Navy.

4-H Club News

SNOWY CREEK
by Kendra Friend, reporter

The Snowy Creek 4-H Club held its monthly meeting at the Sand Spring Church on May 13. Business discussed included the Quality Assurance class at Garrett College and Adopt-A-Highway.

Club members held a hoagie fundraiser.

Members attending Achievement Night were Toby, Colton, and Jordan Grove and Carly Sisler. Club members will meet at the Goodwill Nursing Home on the second Saturday of each month at 2 p.m. for Adopt-A-Senior-Citizen starting on Saturday, June 12.

Derrica and Kendra Friend, Austin and Colby Lowdermilk, Madi Gallagher, and Brianna Lowdermilk helped at the Blooming Rose Cemetery cleanup.

Derrica and Kendra Friend, Austin Lowdermilk, and Carly Sisler helped with landscaping at the Laurel Run Church.

The next meeting is planned for Thursday, June 10, with a Livestock Skillathon and guest speaker Barb Holler.

RYAN'S GLADE
by Cheyenne Harvey, reporter

The Ryan's Glade 4-H Club held its monthly meeting on May 18 at the Ryan's Glade Community Building.

Pledges were led by Brooklyn Tasker and Jessica Steyer.

Special guests from the Dove Center spoke about their upcoming event called Walk-N-Rock, which will be held on Saturday, July 24, at 9 a.m.

Members gave reports on the road and community grounds cleanup that was held at the last meeting, and the Quality Assurance Program, which was held on May 14.

Brookyn Tasker gave a demonstration on how to plant a flower. New business was also discussed, including the District Show, second animal health checks, Livestock Association Annual Rodeo, camping with Red House 4-H Club, the club trip to Idlewild, the annual club hayride and picnic that will be held at the next meeting, and other events.

The next meeting of the Ryan's Glade 4-H Club will be held on Tuesday, June 15. The group will meet at Jessica Steyer's farm at 7 p.m. to begin the hayride.

Garrett County Register Of Wills Audit Error-Free

The Maryland Office of Legislative Audits released its report of an audit completed May 14 of the Garrett County Register of Wills office. Issued by state auditor Bruce A. Myers, CPA, the report said the audit covered three years of the operations of the local office, now headed by Rita Watson, from May 21, 2007, to March 21, 2010.

In a letter to Senator Verna L. Jones, co-chair of the Senate Joint Audit Committee and others, Myers said that the audit "did not disclose any findings that warrant mention in this report."

A report of "no findings" means that no significant mistakes or errors have been uncovered.

The audit report showed that the office had gross receipts from inheritance tax collections and fees, mandated by state law, of $439,127 for fiscal 2009. The report showed that the local register of wills office paid almost $300,000 to the Maryland General Fund from its operations last year.

The audit, carried out at the local office, took five weeks to complete. Of the total collections, at least $299,698 was paid into the Maryland General Fund. The remaining funds were disbursed for operating expenses and refunds, or remitted to the General Fund, according to the report.

Watson was appointed register of wills on July 1, 2009, upon the retirement of long-serving register Joe DiSimone. She joined the office in April of 1979 and was appointed chief deputy on September 1, 1979.

The local office was commended in a letter from Maryland state treasurer Nancy Kopp.

G'ville Museum Opens, Summer Schedule Noted

Many items are currently on display at the Grantsville Community Museum, which opened for the summer on Friday, May 14. Persons may visit on Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m.

Volunteers are needed to help in the museum during these hours. Each volunteer will have the opportunity to learn about each item on display, in order to be able to discuss them with visitors. New volunteers this year are Linda Strider, Ann Kolbfleisch, Ruby Margroff, Carol Warnick, and Pat Adams.

Local residents are encouraged to bring historical artifacts from the Grantsville area to the museum that can be donated or loaned for display. Items are reviewed by the artifact committee for consideration.

The Grantsville Community Museum is the home of the Leo Beachy photography exhibit. It includes many black and white photographs taken by the famous Grantsville photographer. His niece and museum board member Maxine Beachy Broadwater has saved many of the negatives from destruction and has a goal to preserve his legacy. A presentation created by WQED Public Television of Pittsburgh, Pa., "Leo Beachy's Legacy" is available for purchase, with the proceeds going to the museum.

Museum visitors are encouraged to identify persons in pictures that are on display. Many of the photos were taken in the early 1900s in the Grantsville area. Also currently on display is a collection of class photos donated by Betty Kolb, a former teacher at Grantsville Elementary School.

The museum is a branch of the Garrett County Historical Society Museum in Oakland. For more information, persons may contact Earleena Tressler at 301-895-5314 or Maxine Broadwater at 301-895-5124.

Private visits to the museum can be arranged by appointment. Tax deductible donations can be sent to Grantsville Community Museum, P.O. Box 413, Grantsville, MD 21536.

By virtue of the power and authority contained in a Deed of Trust from ROGER H. JARRELL, JR., dated March 2, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1197 at Page 512 among the land records of the COUNTY OF GARRETT, in the original principal amount of $43,900.00 with an interest rate of 7.375%. Upon default and request for sale, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale at public auction at the front of the Courthouse for the COUNTY OF GARRETT, 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland, on all that property described in said Deed of Trust including but not limited to:

June 16, 2010, at 5:04 p.m.

All that parcel of land situate in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, which is described as follows:

Beginning at a cement block standing in the West margin of the Cranesville County Road, said cement block stands North 55° 35' East 646.62 feet from a cement monument, Md.-W.Va. 1910 No. 22, said monument is the second corner of R. L. McConnell's 62.49 acre tract, recorded in Liber No. 190, folio 74, and running thence from said beginning corner, North 56° 16' West 118.14 feet to a cement block, thence North 3° 12' East 113.18 feet to a cement block, thence North 85° 15' East 185.37 feet to an iron pin standing in the West margin of the Cranesville County Road, thence two courses with the said road, South 19° 16' West 115.67 feet to a stake, thence South 32° 31' West 100.76 feet to the beginning, containing 0.55 of an acre, more or less.

Being the same property that was conveyed to the herein Mortgagor from Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, by deed of even date herewith and recorded or intended to be recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

Said property is in fee simple and is improved by a dwelling and is sold in "as is condition" and subject to all superior covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easement, rights-of-way, as may affect same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $4,400.00 cash or certified funds shall be required at the time of sale. The balance of the purchase price with interest at 7.375% per annum from the date of sale to the date of payment will be paid within TEN DAYS after the final ratification of the sale. Adjustments on all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by purchaser. If applicable, condominium and/or homeowner association dues and assessments that may become due after the time of sale will be the responsibility of the purchaser. Title examination, conveyancing, state revenue stamps, transfer taxes, title insurance, and all other costs incident to settlement are to be paid by the purchaser. Time is of the essence for the purchaser, otherwise the deposit will be forfeited and the property may be resold at risk and costs of the defaulting purchaser. If the sale is not ratified or if the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey marketable title in accord with these terms of sale, the purchaser's only remedy is return of the deposit. OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Toi Elizabeth Elliott dated September 29, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1256, Folio 0390 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $165,000.00, and an original interest rate of 6.875, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on June 4, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $16,000.00 by cash or certified funds is required at the time of auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of foreclosure auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of foreclosure auction. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the foreclosure auction, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of foreclosure auction forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys at settlement, a fee of $295.00 for review of the settlement documents, and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorneys fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of foreclosure auction. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

DEFENDANTS

NOTICE AND ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District 16, Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and State of Maryland to James P. Tasker and Donna L. Tasker on May 9, 2008.

All that lot, piece or parcel of land situate in Election District No. 16 known as Lot 244 E/S Hazel Glade Rd., Mountain Lake Park, as described in a deed conveyed from the Mountain Lake Park Association of Garrett County to Thomas S. Wildox, dated September 4, 1884, and recorded September 11, 1884, in Liber No. 9, folio 315, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The complaint states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than six (6) months and one day from the date of the sale have expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 5th day of May, 2010, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland,

ORDERED that the notice be given in accordance with Rule 2-121 by certified mail requesting: "Restricted Delivery - show to whom, date, address of delivery" on the defendant named in the complaint, warning the Defendant to be and appear in this Court by the 6th day of July 2010, and redeem the property and answer the complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances,

ORDERED that the notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for three successive weeks before the 28th day of May 2010, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 6th day of July 2010, and redeem the property and answer the complaint, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiff a title free and clear of all encumbrances.

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Scott J. Toelle and Carol J. Snyder dated June 30, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1234, Folio 92 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $650,000.00 and an original interest rate of 4.7090% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on June 7, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $77,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Patricia V. Boehl to B. George Ballman, Trustee(s), dated August 26, 2004, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber No. 1063, folio 467, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees dated December 17, 2009, and recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Kristen K. Haskins, Gerard F. Miles Jr.,and Shannon Menapace as Substituted Trustees under the Deed of Trust aforesaid, US Bank National Association, as Trustee for WFMBS 2004-W being the current holder of the Note(s) secured thereby, and default having occurred under the terms thereof, the undersigned Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland, on Monday, June 14, 2010, at 3:45 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust dated August 26, 2004, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County, in Liber 1063, folio 467, also being further described in a Deed dated June 6, 2003 and recorded among the land records of Garrett County in Liber 973, folio 697. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $12,600.00 will be required of the purchaser other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 5.50000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. All taxes, water/sewer charges and condo/HOA dues, shall be adjusted to the date of sale. Ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis shall be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

State Park Programs

DEEP CREEK LAKE STATE PARK/ DISCOVERY CENTER

The following activities have been scheduled for this week at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Programs and center hours are subject to change without notice. All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067, or by visiting the web site: www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands/western/deepcreeklake.

Friday, May 28

• 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. – Friends Store at Sang Run will be open for business. It has been restored and contains several exhibits.

Saturday, May 29

• 11 a.m. – Wildflower Walk. Guests are invited to take a walk around the Discovery Center with the naturalist to learn the many species of flowers in the area. Participants may taste native wildflower tea and learn of some of the medicinal values of these plants.

• 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. – Friends Store at Sang Run will be open for business. It has been restored and contains several exhibits.

• 1:30 p.m. – Roving Naturalist. Participants may meet the naturalists at the beach and learn about many items, plant and animal.

• 7:30 p.m. – Campfire: The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly. Guests are invited to meet at the amphitheater for a scales and tales program. There will be several animals to see, including hawks, owls, turtles, snakes, and others. Guests may come early to roast marshmallows.

Sunday, May 30

• 7 a.m. – Morning Hike. Participants may join the naturalist for an early morning hike through the woods. Many species of wildlife may be seen, such as deer, bear, and various birds.

• 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. – Friends Store at Sang Run will be open for business. It has been restored and contains several exhibits.

• 1:30 p.m. – Aviary Encounter. Guests are invited to the aviary to see and learn about birds of prey. The birds will be perched, which will provide photo opportunities, so guests should bring cameras. (1 hr.)

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK

New Germany State Park Is located at 349 Headquarters Lane, south of Grantsville. The office can be reached at 301-895-5453. All programs are free of charge unless otherwise indicated. This schedule is subject to change without notice. Persons are advised to contact the park office to confirm program information.

Friday, May 28

• 5-8 p.m. – Welcome Back at the Lake House. Open house with information about New Germany and Garrett County. The snack bar will be available from 5 to 6 p.m.

• 6 p.m. – "What's New at New Germany" presentation at the lake house, followed by a question and answer session with a park ranger.

• 7 p.m. – Movie: Outdoors Maryland: Love Our Parks.

Saturday, May 29

• 2 p.m. – Wildflower Discovery Hike. Guests may meet at Parking Lot 5 to learn what is blooming at New Germany. The park naturalist will lead hikers on the trails to find spring wildflowers. No charge. Appropriate for all ages.

• 4 p.m. – Preserving Your Favorite Flowers. Meet at the Schoolhouse Nature Center and learn how to press flowers to save them or to make gifts. No charge. Suggested for ages 6+.

• 7 p.m. – Growing Up at New Germany. Meet at the Schoolhouse Nature Center to see presentation by Bill Martin, son of the first forest warden for the area, who spent his youth exploring New Germany. He will share tales of his school days and childhood spent in this small community. No charge. Appropriate for all ages.

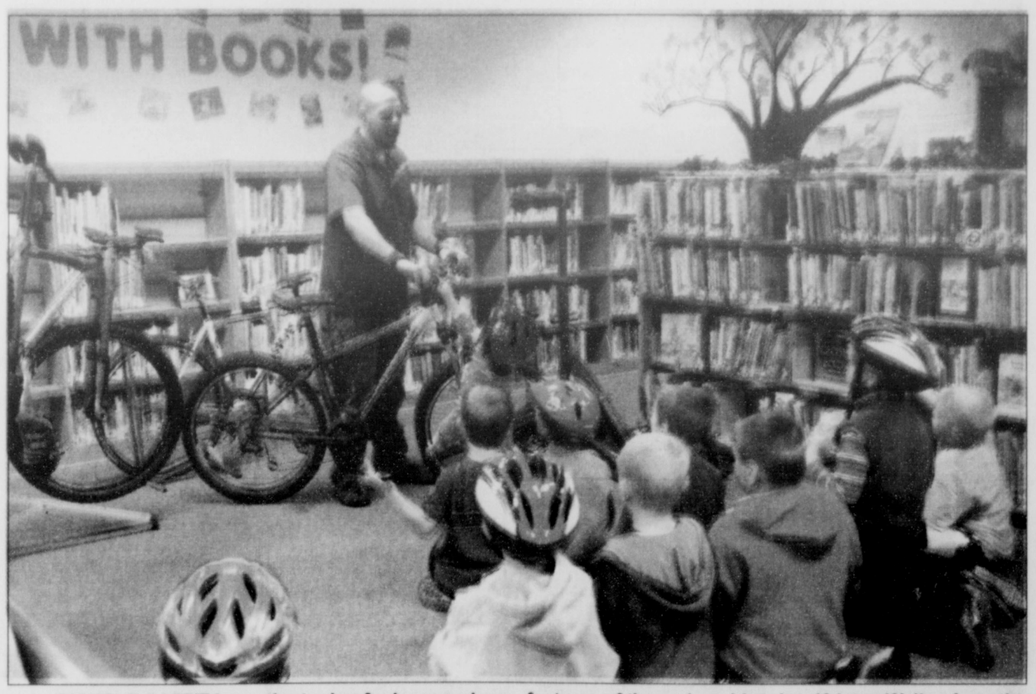
Sunday, May 30

• 1 p.m. – Beach Safety Squad. Children age 3 to 12 are given a glimpse into the work of a lifeguard through this program. They will learn skills for helping someone in need. The program concludes with an award ceremony, in which participants will receive a certificate. Preregistration preferred.

• 3 p.m. – Fishing: From Hook to Grill. Meet at the boat ramp to engage in an afternoon of fishing, followed by a meal. Naturalists will be on hand to offer fishing tips, and then to explain the best way to prepare fish for grilling. There is no charge, but persons will need to bring their own fishing gear. The program is appropriate for all ages, but is geared toward novices.

Monday, May 31

• 10:30 a.m. – Salamander Scramble. Meet at Parking Lot 5 to join the park naturalist in a hunt to find salamanders. Participants will get their feet wet in the search for the animals. No charge. All ages welcome.



BICYCLE SAFETY was the topic of a lesson given by Josh Frick of High Mountain Sports to youngsters attending the Ruth Enlow Library's Bicycle Party in Oakland recently. Frick brought a mountain bike and a road bike, and discussed safety, maintenance, and the features of the various bicycles. Kristen Walker from the Garrett County Health Department explained why it is important to always wear a bike helmet and demonstrated how one should fit properly. She checked the helmets that the children brought with them for proper fit. After the presentations, the children engaged in various craft activities related to biking. Information about the library's services and programs can be viewed on the web site at www.relib.net.

IRS Offers Info On New Health Care Tax Credit

The Internal Revenue Service has issued new guidance to make it easier for small businesses to determine whether they are eligible for the new health care tax credit under the Affordable Care Act and how large a credit they will receive. The guidance makes clear that small businesses receiving state health care tax credits may still qualify for the full federal tax credit. Additionally, the guidance allows small businesses to receive the credit not only for regular health insurance but also for add-on dental and vision coverage.

Notice 2010-44, now posted online at IRS.gov, provides detailed guidelines, illustrated by more than a dozen examples, to help small-business employers determine whether they qualify for the credit and estimate the amount of the credit. The notice also requests public comment on issues that should be addressed in future guidance.

Included in the Affordable Care Act approved by Congress in March and signed into law by the president, the small business health care tax credit, which is in effect this year, is designed to encourage small-business employers to offer health insurance coverage for the first time or maintain coverage they already have.

In general, the credit is available to employers who pay at least half the cost of single coverage for their employees in 2010. The credit is specifically targeted to help small businesses and tax-exempt organizations that primarily employ moderate- and lower-income workers.

For tax years 2010 to 2013, the maximum credit is 35 percent of premiums paid by eligible small-business employers and 25 percent of premiums paid by eligible employers that are tax-exempt organizations. The maximum credit goes to small-business employers, which are those with 10 or fewer full-time equivalent (FTE) employees paying annual average wages of $25,000 or less. The credit is completely phased out for employers that have 25 FTEs or more or that pay average wages of $50,000 per year or more.

Because the eligibility rules are based in part on the number of FTEs, not the number of employees, businesses that use part-time help may qualify even if they employ more than 25 individuals.

Eligible small businesses can claim the credit as part of the general business credit starting with the 2010 income tax return they file in 2011. For tax-exempt organizations, the IRS will provide further information on how to claim the credit.

More information about the credit, including a step-by-step guide and answers to frequently asked questions, is available on the Affordable Care Act page on the IRS web site.

Openings Noted By After School In Friendsville

The Partners After School @ Friendsville group has open enrollment for students entering third grade and leaving fifth grade for the five-week summer program which runs from June 29 to July 29 on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

To register a child, persons may contact Denise Fazenbaker at 301-334-9431, ext. 121.

Partners After School @ Friendsville is provided by Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc. and funded by grants through Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families Inc., Garrett County commissioners, Community Development Block Grant program, University of Maryland Extension, and the Maryland State Department of Education Snack Program.

Garrett County Community Action's After School programs promote the agency's goal of creating a positive attitude about the value of education among working families and young people.

Local Farmers' Market Season Beginning Now

The Garrett County farmers' market operations are now partially under way, with the Deep Creek market having opened last weekend, and the Oakland market to open this weekend. The market in Grantsville will open in July.

The Deep Creek Lake Farmers' Market will be in operation now through Sept. 2 on Thursdays from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Garrett County Visitor's Center parking lot in McHenry.

The Deep Creek Lake Farmers' Market Association hosts producer-only farmers' markets featuring farmers and bakers within a 50-mile radius of McHenry.

For more information, persons may visit www.dclfarmersmarket.blogspot.com or call 301-334-6960.

The Oakland Mountain Fresh Farmers' Market will be held June 5 through Oct. 30 on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The market is operated at the town pavilion in the municipal parking lot, located off Second Street.

The Mountain Fresh Producers' Association also hosts producer-only farmers' markets, featuring fresh produce, herbs, honey, jams and jellies, baked goods, plants, crafts, and fall decorations from the mountaintop area.

AFTER A LONG, COLD WINTER, the sweet taste of a spring strawberry is especially enjoyable to most. Such treats are either now or soon will be available at the Garrett County Farmers' Markets. The Deep Creek Lake Farmers' Market, which is operated at the county's Visitors Center in McHenry, opened last weekend, and the Oakland market, held at the town pavilion off Second Street, will open this weekend. Grantsville's market will open in July. All the markets are producer-only operations, with fresh fruits, vegetables, baked goods, plants, crafts, and other items available for purchase. See story.

Officer Allegedly Assaulted By Grantsville Man

A Grantsville man is accused by Maryland State Police of assaulting an officer following an incident that occurred on National Pike.

Tfc. Arnold responded to a noise complaint at 1:45 a.m. Wednesday morning. Carl Sherburne Jr., 19, was approached by the trooper and then fled on foot before falling down an embankment. When Arnold approached him again, Sherburne pushed him and attempted to run again. Once apprehended, he was taken to the Western Regional Medical Center, Cumberland, by Northern Rescue Squad. Specific charges are pending.

McHenry Couple Arrested Following Search By NTF

Two McHenry residents are charged with several controlled substance violations according to state's attorney Lisa Welch, spokesperson for the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force.

The charges stem from a search and seizure warrant executed at a Marsh Hill Road residence, the home of Patrick Herbert Dougherty, 49, and Julie Barbara Dougherty, 52. A result of the search reportedly revealed 11 marijuana plants, in addition to CDS paraphernalia and marijuana manufacturing equipment. Also seized was $885 in U.S. currency, a 2003 Chevy Silverado, a 2008 Saturn Sky, and a Glastron boat and trailer.

Both are charged with manufacturing marijuana, possession with intent to distribute marijuana, possession of manufacturing equipment, possession of marijuana, and possession of CDS paraphernalia. They were taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Garrett County Korean Vets To Be Honored By Commissioners June 14

The 60th anniversary of the United States' entry into the Korean War will be observed on June 25, and in commemoration of that milestone, all local Korean War veterans will be recognized in a special ceremony at the office of the Garrett County commissioners on Monday, June 14, which is Flag Day.

According to coordinator and Korean War veteran Carl P. Rebele, each veteran of the conflict, as well as any other veteran who served a tour of duty in Korea at any time, will receive a personalized certificate from the commissioners. The ceremony, to be conducted in the commissioners' public meeting room at the courthouse, will begin at 11 a.m.

Rebele said that a list of veterans has been compiled (which can be found in a paid advertisement on page C-4 of this publication), but he said that there are undoubtedly others whose names are not on the list.

"We don't want to miss anyone who served," he said, "and those whose names are not on the list are asked to send a postcard to me c/o VFW Post 10077, 4107 Maryland Highway, Deer Park, MD 21550. The card should carry the full name of the veteran to be honored so a certificate can be prepared for him or her prior to the ceremony on June 14."

In addition, the same veterans will be special guests of honor at the sixth annual Flag on the Mountain ceremony, to be held later that day at the Wisp Resort in McHenry.

The Garrett County Historical Society will have copies of its publication titled Never to be Forgotten available for purchase at the Flag on the Mountain event. The book is a compilation of student interviews of local Korean War veterans.

The successful efforts of U.S. and South Korean troops in the Korean War, sometimes referred to as "the substitute for World War III," saved South Ko-

"Flag On Mountain Maryland" Set For June 14 At Wisp

The annual Flag on Mountain Maryland celebration will be held on Flag Day, Monday evening, June 14, at Wisp Resort, McHenry. Billed as a patriotic event for the entire family, this year's theme is "Honoring Our Local Korean War Veterans."

A fly-over is scheduled for 5:45 p.m. The program will start at 6 p.m., featuring a "living flag" coming down Marsh Mountain.

Korean War veteran 2nd Lt. Bruce Baker will be the keynote speaker. He was born in Nebraska in 1930, and enlisted in the U.S. Army at the age of 16, serving from 1946 through 1954.

Baker was a radio operator until he entered Officer Candidate School. He was a chauffeur for a general officer in Europe and was a combat infantry officer in Korea from 1952 until the end of the war in 1953.

In civilian life, Baker was the administrator for Walt Disney exhibits at the New York World's Fair in 1964. After that he worked as a ranch-hand and a "real-live" cowboy in Nebraska and

Relay For Life Set June 11-12 At SHS Track

The 2010 Relay For Life of Garrett County will be held next Friday and Saturday, June 11-12, from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. at the Southern High School track. Food from Jearbryo's and fries from the Oakland Rotary will be available.

Team fundraising events will start at 5 p.m. The opening ceremony will begin at 7 p.m., followed by the survivors lap. Participants can purchase a luminaria, which will be lit during a 9 p.m. ceremony, in memory of a loved one lost to cancer or to honor a cancer survivor.

Games, entertainment, and themed laps will take place throughout the evening. Prizes will include two adult year memberships at the Wisp fitness center, a Swedish massage at Sewickley Spa, and a number of gift certificates from area businesses.

Relay dollars fund many local programs such as Road to Recovery, which provides transportation for cancer patients to cancer treatments; Reach to Recovery, which provides one-on-one information for breast cancer patients from women who are survivors of breast cancer; I Can Cope, which offers training to those with cancer and/or their family members on how to cope with the disease; and Look Good Feel Better, which provides an opportunity for persons who are going through cancer treatment to receive a make-over from trained cosmetologists, along with a personal kit of makeup at the session.

Funds also provide free wigs and turbans, which are

Kitzmiller House Damaged By Fire; Under Investigation

The origin of a fire that caused an estimated $20,000 in damages and loss at a Kitzmiller house early Monday remains under investigation by Maryland State Fire Marshal personnel.

Volunteers from the Kitzmiller, Deer Park, and Elk District fire departments were sent to 232 E. Main Street at 2:27 a.m., where they found a two-story, single-family dwelling on fire. The owner of the property, Timothy Wilt, discovered the blaze inside an enclosed porch and called for assistance.

According to the investigators' report, it took some two dozen firefighters about two hours to bring the fire under control. The loss to the structure was estimated to be $10,000, plus an equal amount was estimated in losses to contents.

There were no injuries reported.

Commissioners Approve New Budget, Keep Real Property Tax Rate At $.99

Making do with less money will be Garrett County government's objective in Fiscal Year 2011. The new operating and capital budget is $16.2 million less than FY 2010's and $31 million less than 2009's.

The county commissioners unanimously approved the new $68 million budget on Tuesday. Numerous county department heads and local residents attended the proceeding.

"This budget process began about two years ago, maybe even longer, when the county realized there were going to be some budget shortfalls and some reductions in available revenues," said county administrator Monty Pagenhardt.

Based on that realization, the commissioners set the real property tax rate for FY '11 at $.99 per $100 of assessed value, the same as the current fiscal year's. This will apply to all areas of the county except Mtn. Lake Park. Because of a tax differential agreement, property owners in that town will pay $.942. For FY '10, Mtn. Lake Park's rate is $.937.

"I think this is a very responsible budget," said Commissioner Ernie Gregg. "I wish we could have reduced the tax rate, but we do have a responsibility to provide basic services to our constituency, and I think we're doing that in a responsible manner."

The commissioners noted that if the tax rate were lowered, "drastic" measures would have to be taken, including employee furloughs and reduced work hours, resulting in a reduction of services.

"To my knowledge we're the only county that hasn't reduced work, that hasn't had furloughs, that hasn't had reduced hours," Pagenhardt said.

He attributed that to "strong financial management," particularly on the part of the Garrett County Department of Financial Services staff.

By keeping the tax rate the same, Financial Services director Wendy Yoder estimates the county will garner an additional $2.3 million in tax revenue in the new year. Local officials hope this will help offset substantial reductions in various revenues that have traditionally been allocated to counties by the state.

Commissioner Fred Holliday said he has heard Annapolis officials comment numerous times during recent years about reducing allocations as a way to help solve the state's budget woes.

"I kept hearing, 'Let's hit the counties because they're fat and happy,'" Holliday said.

He noted, for example, that state highway user funds distributed to Garrett County were decreased from $5.2 million in FY '08, to $4.5 million in FY '09, and to $223,300 in FY '10. For FY '11, the state has cut that allocation even further, down to $222,370.

When new budget planning began, therefore, the commissioners stressed that all departments and agencies submit appropriation requests that were equal to or less than those of FY '10. The commissioners commended those departments and agencies on Tuesday for their cooperation.

"Everybody thought outside of the box and figured out ways to make it happen," said Commissioner Denny Glotfelty about developing the new budget. "I think we're very fortunate to live in the area we live in and to [be able to] work together like that and maintain our services."

He said maintaining those services and making the county a better place to live for its citizens were the main goals.

"Somehow we're accomplishing it, and I hope we can continue that," Glotfelty said.

The county is "accomplishing it" by reducing costs in several areas. For example, the new budget does not include any salary increases for county employees, including unionized Roads Department workers. Earlier this year, the workers agreed to defer their scheduled 4 percent pay raise until FY '12.

"As with all employees, they came to the table and helped us," Holliday said about the union workers. "And that means a lot, whenever those folks do that – when they have a contract that we've agreed to that they will get raise, and then they say, 'Well, let's put it off for a year.'"

The FY '11 budget also does not include any new employees. Eighteen workers plan to retire on June 30, and funding has not been

CALLING ALL BIKERS – The inaugural "Win-the-Fight" Garrett County Gran Fondo cycling event will be held June 26 and 27 in the county. Organized by the Joanna M. Nicolay Melanoma Foundation, producers of the SavageMan Triathlon Festival, the event will be a long-distance, mass-participation, cycling event suitable for professional, amateur, and recreational cyclists of all abilities. It is not a race, but is a fundraiser for the melanoma foundation. A "gran fondo" is a celebrated tradition in Italian cycling culture, according to Greg Safko, president of the Joanna M. Nicolay Foundation. While registration is just $40 for the two-day gran fondo, participants are encouraged to bring in donations for the foundation. See story in today's sports section. RESPECT WAS PAID to all veterans, living and passed, as Memorial Day was observed across Garrett County this week. A number of ceremonies and parades took place in several towns. The one pictured above was in Oakland, which was attended by a large crowd and featured a parade, special music, and a keynote address by Judge Leonard Elswert. 200th Home Is Weatherized By GCCAC Group

Garrett County Community Action's (GCCAC) Weatherization Assistance Program (WAP) recently weatherized its 200th home, that of Wilma Friend of Oakland.

The weatherization work, completed by local contractor Denny Savage and his crew from CodeGreen, included adding insulation to the attic and wall, sealing around doors, windows, ducts and pipes, and installing smoke alarms.

Friend stated that after the weatherization work, her home has been much warmer given the cool temperatures this spring. Quinole Abney, state WAP inspector, was also present during the weatherization.

"[The employees of GCCAC'S weatherization program] do a great job, and there is very little, if anything, that requires further attention," said Abney. "Coming to Garrett County is like a breath of fresh air."

GCCAC WEATHERIZES 200TH HOME – Garrett County Community Action's Weatherization Assistance Program weatherized the home of Wilma Friend with the help of CodeGreen construction. Seated in the front row are Pam Nelson, GCCAC; Friend; and Brenda Roszell, WAP program manager. In the second row, same order are Holly Smith, WAP administrative manager; Dennis Savage, CodeGreen construction; Rodney Powell, WAP QC inspector; Tyler Cosgrove, CodeGreen construction; and Quinole Abney, MD state WAP inspector. See story for details.

The funding for weatherizing homes is the result of an infusion of stimulus funds earmarked by the Obama administration for green initiatives. Increased funding to weatherization programs across the country is geared toward keeping contractors and construction crews working during the recent downward turn in the economy.

Another goal is to lessen dependence on foreign energy sources by decreasing the amount of energy consumed, and also lowering energy costs for the homeowner.

Weatherization services are free for those who qualify for assistance. Preference is given to the elderly, disabled, and families with small children. Anyone interested in more information should call 301-533-9018.

Community Action is a private, non-profit organization committed to improving the quality of life for people in need in Garrett County and increasing the number of families and individuals who are economically self-sufficient.

Dr. Neff To Be GC Foundation Guest Of Honor

The Garrett College Foundation will hold "Evening on the Lake" to honor Dr. Jeanne H. Neff in recognition of her distinguished service as president of Garrett College on Friday, June 18, at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Proceeds from the event will benefit the foundation.

Over the past year, Dr. Neff has been a leader not only for Garrett College, but for Garrett County as well, according to a foundation spokesperson.

At the college, she oversaw the development of the new Strategic Plan 2010-2013 and a revised organizational structure aligned with that plan, leading to a subsequent positive review by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education.

The spokesperson said that she has also encouraged the development of a "Bridge to College" program which creates stronger links among adult basic education, high school curricula, workforce training, and associate degrees at Garrett.

"By Dr. Neff's active involvement, she has strengthened relationships between the college and the county government, chamber of commerce, board of education, and regional economic development groups," said the spokesperson.

Two college/community ventures in which Dr. Neff has been involved are the new Career and Technology Training Center in Accident, which is designed to prepare individuals for emerging jobs in regional industries; and the Community Athletics and Recreation Center (CARC).

The CARC project was about to be abandoned in May 2009 because of its high cost. With Dr. Neff's involvement, however, a revised plan was approved by the county commissioners in November 2009, and groundbreaking took place this spring for a building that will include the first publicly accessible swimming facility in Garrett County.

The cost of tickets for the event, which includes a dinner of filet mignon and salmon or a vegetarian dish, is $75 per person. The following sponsorships can also be purchased and include a program listing: Bronze Sponsorship, two guests, $250; Silver Sponsorship, four guests, $500; and Gold Sponsorship, eight guests, $1,000.

Individuals interested in attending or making a contribution to the foundation for the event may telephone the Garrett College Foundation Office at 301-387-3100.

Wilt Campaigning For Re-Election To Judge's Seat

Wayne Wilt recently announced his candidacy for re-election for judge of the Orphans' Court for Garrett County.

During his tenure as judge since 2003, Wilt has attended and participated in all in-service training programs as recommended by the Maryland Association of Judges of the Orphans' Court and other training sessions as required by the chief judge of the Court of Appeals in Maryland. He has kept updated on new laws, rules, procedures, and regulations that govern the jurisdiction of the Orphans' Court.

He has also served in positions as a Garrett County Sheriff's Office deputy sheriff, bailiff of the Garrett County Circuit Court, and Garrett County commissioner, and is a 12-year member of the Garrett County Republican Central Committee. While serving as a committee member, Wilt met the former President Ronald Reagan at a fundraiser in Baltimore.

He currently is a member of the National Rifle Association; the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees; Maryland Association of the Orphans' Court; and the Garrett County Historical Society. He is also a retired supervisor for the Maryland Department of Juvenile Services, Court Division.

Local Man Injured When His Scooter Hits Car Head On

An Oakland man was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital last Wednesday following a head-on collision involving a passenger vehicle and a scooter. Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to the 5 p.m. scene.

Phillip R. Reams, Oakland, was operating a scooter eastbound on Wolf Acres Drive, Oakland, when he crossed the centerline and struck a westbound vehicle driven by Brandon M. Proudfoot. Reams was taken by Southern Rescue Squad to GCMH for treatment of his injuries.

Also assisting at the scene was the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department. Charges are pending.

Seeking Info On Burglary At Deep Creek

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office is seeking information on a burglary that occurred at a Lake Shore Drive, Deep Creek Lake, residence. Sometime between May 20 and May 24, unknown suspect(s) gained entry into the home, a lake rental property, with the purpose to have a party.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the GCSO at 301-334-1911 or Crime Solvers at 301-334-1975. Callers may remain anonymous and may be eligible for a reward.

Local Teacher Earns Doctorate

Jennifer Bishoff of Oakland recently earned her doctorate of education at West Virginia University. The degree was in educational leadership from the School of Human Resources and Education.

Bishoff also has a B.S. in chemistry from Frostburg State University and an M.S. in chemistry from University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

Bishoff currently teaches at Southern High School. She is the daughter of Tom and Darla Panther of Swanton.

No Substitute...

Some 350 of our young people will walk across the Southern or Northern high school commencement stage this Sunday to close one big chapter in their young lives and begin a brand new one, be it college, the military, or the workplace. It is a symbolic "stepping out" into a big, wonderful, but rapidly changing world.

One of the parents who works here in our newsroom has noticed an interesting behavior of her graduating son and many of his classmates. It seems that just in the past few weeks they have been seizing every opportunity to spend time ("hang out") together. There does not seem to be a need for a specific event or activity; they just want to be with each other. There even seems to be a mild sense of desperation to be together.

Most of us older folks remember that time in our lives, including that strange sensation in the stomach that is experienced while sitting there in one's cap and gown, facing the rather daunting reality that this will truly be the last time that all members of the class will be together. But this feeling may be more pronounced with this current crop of high school seniors, perhaps because of today's communications technology.

While it is difficult to overestimate the value of the Internet, e-mail, and cellular telephones, some of the downsides to these amazing devices are becoming more and more evident. So much of the routine communication these days, particularly among the younger generation, is via cell phones, and much of the time by texting one another. To some it is an absolute obsession. Because it is so handy, it is likely that there is more communication among them than there was in "our day," but we must seriously challenge the value of that form of communication.

At least speaking on the telephone, unlike texting, one gains the value of voice inflection. But there is really no substitute for physically getting together, to be able to see each other while conversing, to be able to shake hands and hug each other, to sing and laugh, to sit and gab in groups of three or more. While texting, e-mailing, Facebook posting, and talking on the telephone afford great opportunity to at least stay in touch with each other, none of them can really fulfill the human need for togetherness.

So let that be one lesson among many, one bit of advice, that our newest group of high school grads may want to take with them as they "step out" into the world. And we extend congratulations and good luck to each and every one.

To the Editor:

I wish to expand on the excerpt titled "Tichinel Graduates from Bucknell" (May 28, 2010, edition).

Over the course of three years, I made 216 trips totaling 47,520 miles to Bucknell University to study civil and environmental engineering, a program consistently ranked in the top five by U.S. News and World Report. My wife Tammy and four children, Brooke, Sydney, Rachael, and Daniel Jr., remained in Garrett County.

While at Bucknell, I excelled in my studies, amassing an overall GPA of 3.41 and an engineering GPA of 3.51. Additionally, I served as team captain of the GeoChallenge Team, which placed fourth (Bucknell's highest ranking to date) during the February 2010 competition. To help supplement our limited finances, I also served for 15 months on an externally funded research project with Dr. Thomas DiStefano to investigate the feasibility of anaerobic treatment of municipal wastewater to capture methane.

At the end of my first year, the Washington Post printed an article titled "The Best and Worst of Both Worlds" by Susan Kinzie, which thoroughly covered our first-year experiences. As your May 28 excerpt stated, I received the H. Boardman Hopper Prize and Bucknell Community College Scholars Engineering Prize during the President's Awards Ceremony. Furthermore, in November 2009 I received the prestigious Moles Scholarship (http://themoles.info), and I was chosen by my fellow classmates to receive the 2010 Award of Distinction.

Over the course of my studies, I developed many strong relationships with Bucknell civil and environmental engineering faculty, as well as Bucknell's administration.

Bucknell University did more than award me a $160,000 scholarship. The universitry supported and encouraged me when times were tough, taught me how to think and solve problems, and empowered me with the opportunity to improve my children's future. I am forever grateful for the opportunities Bucknell made possible for me and my family, and love everything about Bucknell.

It would be inappropriate of me not to mention that without Garrett College none of this would have been possible. Garrett College is a great school with many of the same qualities of Bucknell: e.g., a supportive faculty and administration.

I trust that these words will not be construed as me being arrogant, but instead as me wanting to expand on an excerpt that did not give sufficient details or admiration about the past three years of our lives. Thank you for your time.

Best regards,
Daniel W. Tichinel

To the Editor:

A child walks her dog down the road she has lived on for nearly all of her life and is followed by a black unmarked pickup. As she walks, the driver takes pictures of her, her brother, and her mother.

Another mother of two walks to her mailbox and receives cat calls and whistles from another passing, unmarked truck. She turns on her heels to view the offender and is startled to see a man emerge from a Port-O-John just feet from her.

A man drives down the road he has lived on for eight years, approaching an old, brown van with tinted windows in the center of the road. As he begins to go around the van, it forces him into the ditch to avoid a collision. On numerous other occasions, the man is followed by unmarked trucks, whose occupants take still and video images as he drives near his home. Again, all strangers.

Sounds like the beginning of a horror movie, but in reality it is daily life along Eagle Rock Road.

On March 22, the Clipper/Criterion/Constellation industrial wind turbine site was ordered by the Maryland Department of the Environment to stop work for being in violation of its sediment and erosion control (SEC) permit. The company paid a fine of $12,670, negotiated down from $18,100, and lost eight days of work while its non-local contractors figured out how to properly install SEC in Maryland. Said project has had an additional five complaints filed with MDE and, as you may have guessed, the man mentioned in the horror movie above was the person who made these complaints.

Constellation Energy hired Aristeo of Michigan as the managing construction firm. Aristeo hired All-Construction of West Virginia. Last month, Constellation Energy papered the county with a two-page propaganda piece touting the creation of local jobs, including up to 125 in construction. Perhaps their choice of a construction company from Michigan was not only a broken public-relations promise, but also the cause of the SEC disaster occurring onsite.

Employees of Aristeo and All-Construction drive up and down the roads to "police" the community through intimidation. Most times of the day you can find an unmarked pickup near one of the three construction entrances or at the substation site on Eagle Rock Road.

The man pointed out what the strangers were doing wrong, and now his family and neighbors suffer the danger of the strangers.

To the Editor:

So there you have it, and now we all know that the reason illegal immigrants flock across the Mexican border into the U.S. is to escape the guns that flow from the U.S. into Mexico.

While many of us thought, apparently erroneously, it was the completely miserable economy, lack of opportunity, and the generally squalid conditions in Mexico that forced people to illegally cross the border, it turns out to be the "number of military-type weapons" that force the people against their will to illegally cross the border.

It turns out that illegal immigration is the 2nd Amendment's fault. Who knew? Well, besides Ms. Sussman, the Brady Campaign, the Violence Policy Center, and Mexico's President Calderon. How can we not believe President Calderon, who took the time out of his busy schedule of witnessing his country being destroyed to come before Congress to lecture we Americans on what a terrible law Arizona has passed?

No matter that this law is basically trying to prevent Mexican lawlessness from spreading into Arizona. My goodness, it is still a horrible law because it might – it just might – lead to, heaven help us all, racial profiling. Killing a rancher on his own property is one thing, but God forbid, we should have a law that could possibly, however remotely, lead an Arizona cop to commit the ultimate disgrace of profiling a suspected criminal based on race.

Some of us may have even thought, ridiculous as it now appears after reading the words of Ms. Sussman, that the vicious drug wars now raging in Mexico between the drug cartels might have at least influenced a few folks to flee into the U.S. Nope, it's the guns! It is not the economy, it is not the drugs, it is not the gruesome murders; it is American guns! It is our fault! It is always our fault! It will be forever our fault. I have no idea why we can't get that through our thick heads.

I'll go out on a limb here and say perhaps because it is not true could be the reason? But why let the truth stand in the way?

While it would take about two minutes of research to discover that there is no flooding of guns from the U.S. into Mexico, some folks just can't resist propagating a thoroughly refuted three-year old lie.

To the Editor:

Thank you for last week's letter from the board of county commissioners. That is the most helpful letter yet concerning the wind turbine situation. I have felt that many of the letters against wind energy were not clear or well researched and often misleading. I am for the new technology and am glad our county's leaders see our future needs this way.

Still, I'm not surprised to see that Clipper Wind is displaying typical corporate behavior – cutting corners and focusing on profits rather than regard for their new neighbors. We have seen this now with BP Oil. Profits were obviously more important than research and development to them. So when the Gulf residents didn't want the needed rigs close to shore – not in my neighborhood – BP used the same technology in deep water.

Think how things could have been different if they had been forced, by government regulations, to research new, safe technologies for deep-water drilling and for the development of possibly needed new cleanup techniques. We still need oil, it seems, to become independent, but I was stunned to hear that the amount so far of one month's leaked oil would only meet five minutes worth of our need in this country. Obviously the damage done is way worse than any benefit.

I realize the Gulf states have welcomed big oil, West Virginia, big coal, and now us with wind energy for the tax revenues. But we cannot afford to be apathetic when it comes to government regulations until it is our backyard that is dirtied and our neighbors' lives that are lost. Profiteering is a problem affecting us all. Our standard of living is at stake. Now, even the foods we eat are under the same corporate threat with Monsanto forcing farmers all over the world to use their genetically modified seeds and lying about the plants than needing fewer pesticides and herbicides.

We are a country of good, hard-working, decent people. We can do better. There is every reason to believe that with good education and money management we can be just as innovative as our predecessors. Why not find ways to use oil and nuclear power safely? Why not create clean coal technologies? We will need productive, green energy, so why not? I remember when we needed ice boxes in Oakland not too long ago.

Sincerely,
Cynthia S. Knight

Wyoming until he got into the golf business.

Baker worked for 40 years in golf management for Club Corporation of America, American Golf Corporation, Arnold Palmer, National Fairways, and Empire Golf Management.

He has also written and published a western mystery novel titled The Chatelaine.

Shalene Teets will sing "God Bless the USA," and country/gospel music duo Maria Rose and Danny Elswick will perform.

Rose and Elswick have traveled overseas on 11 USO tours to entertain military personnel. They can be seen frequently on the "Midwest Country" show on RFD-TV.

They have released a DVD and 11 CDs, the latest of which is latest titled Originals, featuring all of Rose's self-penned songs.

Rose is a recipient of the presidential Points of Light Award, has hosted her own television show, and has appeared on numerous national TV and radio shows, including the "Ernest Tubb Midnight Jamboree" on WSM and the Wheeling Jamboree.

Elswick is the musical and instrumental talent behind the duo's background tracks, recording all instruments and backup harmonies in their own Mada Recording Studio.

Last August, Rose and Elswick were inducted into the Midwest Country Music Hall of Fame and also received the Gospel CD of the Year Award. They both host a radio show on WELD in Fisher, W.Va., every first and third Sunday of the month at 5:30 p.m., featuring their own recordings, along with many regional and national musical guests.

The Flag on Mountain Maryland event will also include a parade of flags from all of the nation's 50 states and presentations by the Garrett County Marine Corps League, Military Family Support Group, Cumberland Chapter 172 Vietnam Veterans Association, Oakland American Legion Post 71, and Deer Park VFW Post 10077.

The Garrett County Marine Corps League will be accepting beef jerky and monetary donations to send to military men and women serving overseas.

The Military Family Support Group will also be collecting beef jerky, Slim Jims, individual packs of crackers and cookies, hard candy, small cans of Pringles, and any other form of non-perishable items. Monetary donations will be accepted to purchase and mail the items to military personnel.

Volunteers are still needed to form the living flag, noted an event spokesperson. Students can receive student service learning hours for participating. Persons interested in participating are asked to call Sandy Blamble at 301-334-4728.

Approve Budget

included for the replacement of any of those positions. The Roads Department will be the most affected by the loss, as 14 of its employees will retire.

Pagenhardt said some "tough decisions" will have to be made about how the department deals with that, especially if the county has another rough winter.

"We'll continue to do what we did last year with less money," Pagenhardt stressed about maintaining services.

The new budget also does not include much capital outlay. In FY '10, $1.1 million was allocated, compared to $542,000 in FY '11. About half of that new funding will be spent for maintenance and improvements to the jail. Pagenhardt noted the work was delayed for numerous years because a new detention center had been planned. Since that project has been put on hold, jail improvements are now greatly needed, he indicated.

The administrator said the county is aggressively seeking grant money to supplement capital projects.

Yoder announced the landfill ad valorem, special fire, and sanitary district taxes. All will remain the same, except for the Chestnut Ridge sewer district. Customers in that area will pay $.01 more per $100 of assessable property in the new fiscal year for service.

Following the adoption of the new budget and tax rates, Holliday asked if anyone had any comments about them. No staff members or residents voiced any concerns. Holliday thanked them for attending.

"Let's work toward next year," the commissioner said about the FY '12 budget. It's going to be tough."

The FY '11 budget goes into effect on July 1. The document is available for public viewing on the county's web site, co.garrett.md.us.

Man Charged With Disorderly Conduct, Disturbing Peace

Garrett county sheriff's deputies arrested a man last Saturday after they responded to the area of Fingerboard Road and Tomar Drive.

Joseph Paul Nolan III, 51, was found to be intoxicated and was allegedly obstructing traffic and disturbing residents in the area. Nolan was charged with disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail to await a bond hearing.

Arrested Following Traffic Stop For Seat Belt Violation

A Salisbury, Pa., man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies following a traffic stop on National Pike, Grantsville, for a seat belt violation.

Joshua Allen Wiley, 20, was operating a 1996 Chevy Blazer, which was reportedly displaying stolen validation tabs on the registration plate. He is charged with fraudulently falsifying validation tab, operator of vehicle not restrained by seat belt, driving uninsured vehicle, displaying expired registration plates, and theft less than $100.

Wiley was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Three Taken to GCMH Following Vehicle Accident

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a two-vehicle accident on Tuesday that resulted in the transport of three people to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Investigation revealed that Elizabeth Juanita Upton had been traveling eastbound on Bethlehem Road and failed to stay right of the centerline. She subsequently struck a westbound vehicle driven by James Peter Blasher Jr.

Upton, Blasher, and passenger Frances McPharland Blasher were all taken to GCMH by Southern Rescue Squad. Upton was cited for failure to drive right of center.

Two Charged By MSP With Drunk Driving

Maryland State Police made two arrests on Tuesday involving DUI charges. The following cases are unrelated.

Troopers stopped Christina Watson, 18, Aurora, W.Va., on Rt. 50 near Winston Road for crossing the solid double line and nearly striking the MSP cruiser head-on. She is charged with driving under the influence, underage alcohol possession, traveling 68 mph in a 50 mph zone, and failure to drive right of center. She was taken to the McHenry Barrack for processing and was subsequently released to a family member.

James Lambert, 39, LaVale, was stopped for exceeding the speed limit on Rt. 135 west of Swanton Road. Investigation led to him being charged with DUI, failure to be restrained by a seatbelt, and driving 78 mph in a 50 mph zone. He was taken to the McHenry Barrack for processing and was later released to a family friend.

Woman Taken To Hospital After Overturning Car

A woman was taken to the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center, Cumberland, following a single vehicle accident on I-68 near Grantsville. Maryland State Police were the investigating officers.

Brittany Wilson, 21, Duquesne, Pa., was reportedly operating a 2005 Dodge Neon eastbound, when she lost control in a curve, left the roadway, struck an embankment, and overturned. She was transported by Northern Rescue Squad.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office and the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the 3:30 a.m. scene. No charges were filed.

GCSO Deputies Make Several Weekend Arrests

Garrett County sheriff's deputies made several drinking and driving arrests this Memorial Day weekend. The following incidents are unrelated.

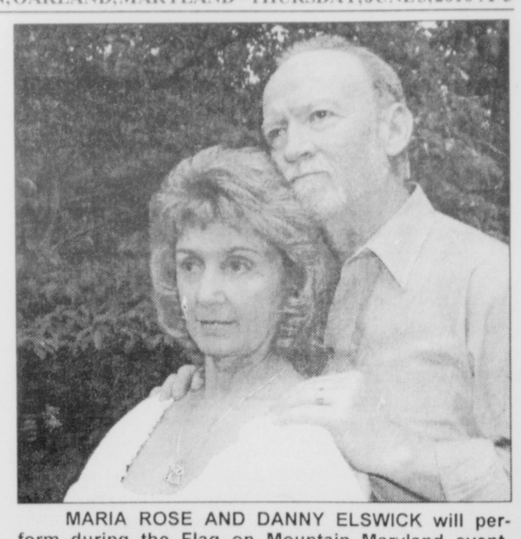
Deputies stopped Keith Artice on Friendsville Road after observing him cross the centerline. Investigation revealed him to be driving while under the influence of alcohol. He is charged with DUI, DUI per se, and DWI. He was released on personal recognizance.

Michael E. Burriss, 46, Bethesda, Ohio, was stopped while operating a 2008 Honda motorcycle after he was observed crossing the centerline. He was reportedly found to be operating under the influence. He is charged with DUI, DWI, and failure to drive right of center. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

Deputies responded to a motor vehicle accident on Bloomington Road. Investigation revealed Kenneth David Wade Jr. to be driving under the influence. He is charged with DUI, DUI per se, and DWI. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

A vehicle was stopped by deputies for speeding on Garrett Highway. Scott Allan Carr was reportedly traveling 73 mph in a 50 mph zone. He was discovered to be driving under the influence. He is charged with DUI and DWI. He was released on personal recognizance.

A vehicle was stopped on Maryland Highway near Paul Street after it was observed exceeding the posted speed limit. Amber Nicole Stalnaker was found to be driving under the influence after being unable to complete field sobriety tests. She is charged with DUI, DUI per se, DWI, and exceeding the posted speed limit. She was released on personal recognizance.



MARIA ROSE AND DANNY ELSWICK will perform during the Flag on Mountain Maryland event, scheduled for Monday, June 14, beginning at 5:45 p.m. at Wisp Resort. The country/gospel duo were recently inducted into the Midwest Country Music Hall of Fame. See story.

Sheila Says:

Moving: what a hassle. I have just moved into new digs. One level. One bedroom. Kitchen, big, Livingroom, big. Great porch and yard. Great landlords.

Previous digs, 2 bedrooms, nice kitchen and living areas. Smaller spaces. Great landlords.

BUT WHAT A GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO INCORPORATE A TOTALLY NEW LOOK!!

Using some old and some RESTYLED pieces, taking items and REPURPOSING them, REFRESHING others, it gave me an entirely new look appropriate for my new place! Believe it or not, it is looking great and feeling comfortable. I will be showing pictures on our blog (still in the works).

Let us help you RE your space. Stop in and check out our ECO CHIC room. Design services available with your own taste our primary focus.

Rabbit Workshop Slated For Youth At Fairgrounds

A rabbit workshop will be held on Sunday, June 13, from 1 to 5 p.m. at the rabbit barn and show ring areas of the Garrett County Fairgrounds.

The event is a hands-on learning experience for youth and their rabbits.

The workshop is open to any youth who wants to learn more about rabbits and those taking 4-H rabbit projects.

Workshop topics will include rabbit nutrition; beginner, intermediate, and advanced showmanship; basic handling; rabbit ethics; and health checks.

All rabbits must be in cages.

A rabbit raffle and rabbit breed contest will also be held.

Area breeders will have rabbits for sale, and concession stand foods will also be available, including sloppy joes, hot dogs, chili dogs, drinks, and desserts.

An event spokesperson noted that rabbits are needed for the breed contest, as well as donated items for the raffle table.

To register for the workshop or to obtain more information, persons are asked to call 301-334-6960.

Chicken BBQ

To the People of Garrett County,

My name is Gregan Crawford and I recently filed election papers to run as a Republican candidate for County Commissioner in District One of Garrett County. As a Republican candidate for District One, I am confident that I can bring new leadership to our county government. I will listen to your needs and opinions with an open mind and work to earn your trust in order to create solutions to move the Garrett County community forward. My belief is that government should be open and accountable, and that ideas need to flow upward from the citizens to the courthouse to produce actions representative of the voters' concerns.

I have worked with and for many of you over the past twenty years, but for those of you whom I have not, please allow me to introduce myself. I am self-employed and have been for the past twenty years designing and building custom cabinets, fine furniture, and woodwork. My wife of 24 years is employed at Garrett County Memorial Hospital; we have two children in the Garrett County school system.

I am very pragmatic, open minded and focused on achieving solutions when faced with challenges and issues. I believe in forward thinking and long term planning, believing that short-sighted decision making often creates long-term, ill consequences. I enjoy challenges and believe that the current and future issues facing Garrett County require a new leadership with a fresh approach to problem solving.

Unless a change in leadership occurs, I believe that the citizens of Garrett County will suffer from a lack of transparency and accountability relative to decisions made in the past, in the present, and in the future. As a Commissioner I will be a steward for both the residents of Garrett County and the governmental affairs of the county. I will not make the job as Commissioner a second career. As a Commissioner I will advocate for measurable action that will always offer open accountability.

New leadership is needed on initiatives and matters that affect all of us but have historically been decided by a very few. I ask for your support and encourage you to vote. I would consider it an honor to serve the people of Garrett County and provide greater transparency and leadership on the fiscal, economic, and community challenges we face.

Thank you for your time; I welcome your input at gc@gccommissioner.com and your continued support of Citizens for Gregan Crawford.

Respectfully,

Gregan Crawford
Republican Candidate for Garrett County Commissioner, District One

Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

The first real thunderstorm of this summer arrived early afternoon on Memorial Day Monday. First, there was a deluge of rain and then occasional rumbling of thunder. But thunderstorms are a real part of livingaround here. It is hard to deny that summer is really here, although the official start is still weeks away (June 21) on the summer solstice.

When I was a child, the time that always signaled that summer had arrived was when all the leaves were out. Most of the time, that was at the beginning of June, or close to the time that school was out for the summer. That was truly the most glorious time of the year. It was the one-fourth of a year when "living is easy," as that old song said.

We could be free of the seemingly endless routine of being confined in a classroom; free to roam or run wild around ours and the Beachy's farm and beyond. That kind of freedom and safety is unknown to most of the children across the globe, and in many parts of America. Our green environment is as close to paradise as any place in the world.

The woods stretch seemingly endlessly in the spring and summer, with hundreds of wonderful species of plant life, from wildflowers to many kinds of unique fungus. And one of my favorite places was a little piece of low ground on a hillside in our woods that turned into an unbelievably lovely little violet bog. Massive violets of all colors, mostly blue and purple, but some more rare little white ones and yellow ones growing in a deep bed of sphagnum moss. I know right now it is in its full glory. But I can't reach it. I so wish I could make my annual visit there.

Just a few yards away from it, I once saw the most massive pile of bear --- I believe the correct term is "scat," or manure. I never saw any bears anywhere in "my" wilderness, but I know they are around because there is a lot of evidence of their activities: the jagged big green leaves of skunk cabbage marked with claw wounds is evidence of their big spring breakfast, and lots of old rotten logs have been clawed open to get the insects or grubs inside.

I just took a tour of our woods (in my mind). From the border of the Stevens' farm and our woods, it starts with a section of middle-aged hardwood trees. Then when you reach the hemlock woods there is a big area of large limestone stones. At the edge of that, you reach our big blackberry patch, with its tall old blackberries and bushes that in August will contain thousands of big indigo blue, juicy berries. After several hours of picking gallons of these blue gems, there were enough to last a whole year for my grandfather Pappy, or Oral Glotfelty, canned by his wife and other womenfolk. He would have been happy to live on blackberries with milk over them.

I love that, too, and of course, nothing is quite as wonderful as a blackberry pie. I doubt I ever could get to our blackberry patch again, and it makes me cry. This is hard to write because as I am journeying through my beloved woods, every few yards I find a different kind of treasure. From the place in the hard woods, there was a big patch of trilliums, mostly the red kind, but also the white ones with painted red stripes, close by where you would always find jack-in-the-pulpits. The trillium patch was close to the fence marking our farm from what used to be known as "the Ashby Place." I guess that was the home of Ida Reckner, who used to be an Ashby.

Down the hill just above our creek, I once found a lone pink lady's slipper, a very rare and beautiful kind of wild orchid, growing out of an old rotten log. Cindy Stanton has a big patch of them in the woods not very far from her present home, on her girlhood home, the Beachy farm. But I never saw that patch.

Within a mile or so around my home, there were dozens of very special places, from a patch of some special kind of wildflowers or all kinds of little wetlands, each with unique characteristics, or some old foundation that was the last remnant of an old homestead, a beaver dam, a hickory grove, or in a pasture where lots of wild strawberries used to grow. I have visited each one many times over the years.

Most wars that were fought by Americans were for many of the most important values: freedom, democracy, and mercy. But the root causes of all our wars are still a source of conflict. So it seems that we always fight some wars over and over again.

Although World War I was called "the war to end all wars," it sadly did not turn out like that. When the news came that the war was over, it was Nov. 11. I'm not sure what year, but it was Ferne Beachy's birthday. She remembers hearing all the church bells ringing together to mark the armistice.

We have very few fallen heroes from our area in many wars. Only World War I took lives from the Bittinger area. One is laid to rest in the Bittinger Cemetery under the most striking headstone in that cemetery. The other was my great-uncle Rob Glotfelty, who died in 1919.

Unlike most small family cemeteries, we have many more really old graves, marked with smooth field stones. They are from the earliest settlers. The Glotfelty cemetery is on the original homestead between Rock Lodge Road and the big glades stretching the length of what I call New Glattfelter. In Switzerland, Glattfelter is very similar to the extreme glades system that stretches from Mosser Road to the huge jagged wetlands, including the peat bog and almost to Grantsville.

On the tableland between Meadow Mountain in the south and Negro Mountain to the north, there is fairly flat land about halfway up both ridges. Most of Meadow Mountain rises high, but most of Negro Mountain is lower ground. The tableland is a patchwork of farmland, many kinds of woodlands or forests, and many streams and creeks, so there is a wide variety of wetland glades to marshes to swamps in between the area of fields.

But the major part of the glade complex is the big one from Cherry Creek on Mosser Road. Big irregular jagged glades run almost to Grantsville, including the peat moss bog, which is now a lake. Surrounding the glades complex are a lot of big green fields. The name of Glattfelder means "great green fields."

Our mountains are millions of years old. In their youth, they were more like the Rocky Mountains, with big and jagged peaks. Yet even the highest mountain in the Appalachians millions of years ago was part of a sea bed. In the big cut on Sidling Mountain, you can find ancient small sea creature fossils.

From my earliest days, I used to love to find any gravel pieces with little impressions of perfect seashells and unusual creatures. I remember many expeditions with my daddy to hunt fossils in various prime places, often abandoned limestone quarries, but I remember a different kind of place somewhere in the area of the Savage River, with a different kind of stone instead of the usual gray-blue limestone. The stone was more gray-tan in color, and was soft, almost crumbly. But there were many different kinds of fossils. I dragged home pounds of that rock to try to extract the fossils. But there is nothing left of them now.

From the 1950s to 2010 has been an extremely exciting time to live. Quite a few of the Boomers said that one of their first major impressions was the threat of nuclear war with the Soviet Union. How we drilled, crouching under our school desks! We always lived in the shadow of a mushroom cloud.

I believe that two things most defined the Baby Boom generation. First was the culture, including the dominance of financial success eclipsing another kind of success. It was what you owned and how much money you had in the bank. And there was a serious class system, without much contact between the various levels. The power of Big Business was never questioned. Cookie cutter lives.

But around the mid-'60s, these things were largely rejected by a big portion of young people. The expectation was for most girls to marry as soon as they found a potential good provider for a husband, and stay home to make a home for him. And suddenly something arrived: rock and roll, especially the Beatles. This started the major form of rebellion, with males growing their hair longer. Then the sexual revolution gained steam.

When we went away to the university, we got to know many kinds of people who were different from those in our home town. There we were exposed to a variety of philosophies and other cultures.

Of course, that is only one half of my generation. The other half mostly married immediately after they graduated from high school, and adopted the ideas, standards, and lifestyle typical of their home town. Many of the young men got drafted and went to the Vietnam War. That war divided and somewhat destroyed my generation.

Yesterday, Memorial Day, I thought a lot about half a dozen guys from Friendsville, and most died in combat. I think they came from the Northern High School class of 1965. I know most of them were members of the 1964-65

Adorable Adoptables

TWO PRETTY MALE TABBIES are available for adoption at the Garrett County Animal Shelter this week. One is brown, above left, and the other one is orange, above right. Both were given up by their owners. Two female canines were also given up by their owners. One is brindle colored, below left, and the other one is a mixed breed that needs medicated eye drops. "She is 7, gentle, and misses her owner and home," said a Humane Society spokesperson about the second dog. "Kittens are being brought to the shelter, and cage space is limited for adult cats, so come in and adopt one of them. They need homes too!" said the spokesperson. "HART took some kittens and dogs to rescue facilities, which made much needed room at the local shelter. Make sure your outside pets are vaccinated, dewormed, and have ID tags for their safety." For more information about these and other available pets, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday.

ACHIEVES HIGHEST TRAINING LEVEL – Mark Diehl has achieved the highest level of Ford Motor Company's technician training program. "As vehicle technology progresses, it requires increased levels of knowledge and skill for technicians to effectively complete advanced diagnostic and repair operations," a spokesperson said. "This accomplishment demonstrates Mark's commitment to the fulfillment of the service customers' expectations that their vehicles are repaired by highly skilled, factory-trained technicians." Diehl is one of 334 technicians in the Pittsburgh, Pa., region who holds the senior master status. He holds Ford's Chassis Master Technician level, and has held this status for 10 years. He is one of 76 technicians in the Pittsburgh region who have held the status for 10 years or longer. Diehl is also one of 354 technicians in the Pittsburgh region who is a drivetrain master technician and one of 393 technicians who is an engine master technician. He is employed as the service manager at Diehl's Ford Sales in Grantsville. He resides in Grantsville with his wife Lee Ann, son Corey and daughter Chelsea.

GCCAC HONORS "SPECIAL PEOPLE"- Duane Yoder (center), president of Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc., honored Taylor Swift (left) as GCCAC's Volunteer of the Year, and Shannon Baker (right) as Parent Volunteer of the Year. Swift, 14 years old, has volunteered consistently for the Wrap-Around Child Care program, working with children from infancy through elementary school age. This year, she has volunteered over 200 hours and is a full-time honor student. "Taylor, although very quiet, displays maturity beyond her years and has the highest regard for confidentiality of program information. She is flexible and very willing to be assigned any task," said Yoder. Baker has been an active parent volunteer for three years and is the Policy Council chairperson. She has served on the GCCAC board of directors and has organized fundraisers, holiday parties, and field trips to benefit all children. According to people she works with, she works with selfless dedication and motivation, and is always ready and willing to help in any capacity at the Crellin Head Start Center. Baker says she is determined to make sure each child benefits from the programs with which she is affiliated.

The Arts

THE IRV ULLERY COUNTRY GOSPEL BAND is among the many groups scheduled to perform during the third annual "Working on a Building" Country and Gospel Music Gathering, slated for Saturday, June 19, from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. at Grantsville Community Park. Admission is free, but donations will be accepted. Proceeds benefit the Mt. Beulah Church Restoration Fund. Left to right are Dick Miller, LaVale, guitar and vocals; Glen Rice, Cumberland, banjo; Joe DeGiovanni, Rawlings, keyboard and vocals; Irv Ullery, Cumberland, guitar, dobro, and vocals; Tom Woods, LaVale, fiddle, guitar, and vocals; and Ralph Bever, Swanton, bass guitar and vocals. The band performs a mix of country and bluegrass styles and includes original songs by Miller. Formerly known as Gospel 'n' Grass, the band has performed at Canal Fest, the Hyndman Hee Haw, and area churches and nursing homes. The fundraiser will feature continuous music throughout the day, a silent auction, and food. A pavilion with tables and seating is located in the park, but attendees are invited to bring their own lawn chairs to be close to the music. "Stop by anytime, and help a good cause," said an event spokesperson. The Mt. Beulah Restoration Association has used previous proceeds to stabilize the bell tower and replace the roof of the 128-year-old church, which is located along Twin Churches Road in New Germany. The group's next project will be repairing the foundation. For more information, persons may call 301-895-5735.

Registration Open For Workshops Hosted By GCAC

The Garrett County Arts Council is currently accepting registrations for several workshops slated this summer and in the fall. A watercolor pencil class will be offered in August, and a course on basket coiling will be given in late September.

Class size for each workshop is limited, and persons must register to take part. The proper forms may be obtained by contacting Garrett County Arts Council at 301-334-6580; garrettarts@earthlink.net; or by stopping in at the office, located at 206 East Alder Street, Oakland. Registrations held for other summer workshops have filled quickly, a spokesperson noted.

"Beginning Watercolor Pencil Painting" is a two-day class exploring the creation of traditional watercolor techniques using watercolor pencils. The course will be held Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 16 and 17, at the Discovery Center at Deep Creek Lake State Park from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day.

Some experience with watercolor is preferred for this workshop. Students will create an 8"x10" painting by the end of the second day. The class will be instructed by artist Judith Becker.

A resident of Terra Alta, W.Va., Becker's professional work history includes teaching art in grades kindergarten through 12th. After retiring from a professional career in human resources, Becker established an art group for the community of Alpine Lake. She specializes in colored pencil painting, pastels, and watercolor. She exhibits and sells her work at the Gallery Shop in Oakland and at various art events around the region.

A course in basket coiling will be held Tuesday through Thursday, Sept. 28, 29, and 30. This workshop will take place at the Gallery Shop from 6 to 9 p.m. each evening with instructor Ginni Neff.

Neff will guide students through the steps to create a functional fiber basket using yarn and cording. Students should be at least 12 years old. No prior experience is required.

Neff is a multi-media artist. She earned a bachelor of fine arts degree and a master of fine arts degree from the Maryland Institute, College of Art, in Baltimore, and taught art in the Baltimore City Public School System for 30 years.

She has been creating custom stained glass since 1970. Her other interests include drawing, painting, and writing. She is also an active artist at the Gallery Shop.

Deep Creek's Got Talent Slated At Honi-Honi Bar

The Honi-Honi Bar will host the third annual Deep Creek's Got Talent fundraiser event on Saturday, June 19, from 6 to 9 p.m. The fundraiser will benefit the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club Blind Skiers Program, for which over $13,000 was raised last year.

A cross between American Idol and America's Got Talent, organizers are looking for singers, musicians, dancers, jugglers, and actors to perform in the show. Registration is available on a first-come, first-served basis and is limited to 15 contestants.

Organizers have opened the event to all age groups. Contestants will be chosen on the basis of a selection process, with the goal being to provide a variety of talent once again this year. To participate, performers are asked to collect a minimum of $50 in donations to be turned in the night of the event. Because this event is a fundraiser, more judging points will be awarded to those who collect the most money before and during the competition.

The evening will begin at 5 p.m., with confirmation of registered contestants and collection of donations. The kickoff and the elimination round will begin at 6 p.m., and each person will be allotted two to three minutes to performance.

Participants will then be judged on three criteria: Donations collected prior to registration at the event will count for 50% of their score. The judges' feedback and comments at the event will

Professor Hurd At FSU Awarded Grant By MSAC

Dr. Barbara Hurd, author, poet, and professor of English at Frostburg State University, has been awarded a Maryland State Arts Council Individual Artist Award for 2010. Hurd is the only western Maryland resident to receive an MSAC award this year.

Hurd, who is a resident of Garrett County, is the author of a trilogy of critically acclaimed creative nonfiction works, Stirring the Mud: On Swamps, Bogs, and Human Imagination, Entering the Stone: On Caves and Feeling through the Dark and Walking the Wrack Line: On Tidal Shift and What Remains, as well as two volumes of poetry, The Singer's Temple and Objects in This Mirror. Her essays and poetry have appeared in numerous publications, including Best American Essays in 1999 and 2001, The Yale Review, The Georgia Review, Orion and Audubon.

This is Hurd's fifth MSAC individual artist award, but the first for fiction.

"It's new territory for me, and I'm pleased to have this new work recognized," Hurd said.

She also teaches creative writing in the Stonecoast MFA program at the University of Southern Maine, and this summer will be teaching at Haystack Mountain School of Crafts and at Chatham University. She will be retiring from FSU in July.

She is the recipient of a 2002 NEA Fellowship for Creative Nonfiction, and the winner of the Sierra Club's National Nature Writing Award and Pushcart Prizes in 2004 and 2007.

New York Piano Duo To Open 18th Music At Penn Alps Season

Music at Penn Alps will launch its 18th season of chamber concerts on Saturday, June 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville, with a recital of works composed and arranged for piano for four hands. Making their Music at Penn Alps debut are Mai Kagaya and Alexander Beridze, who together make up the New York Piano Duo.

The program will include Fantasie, Four Hands in F minor, Op. 103, by Franz Schubert; Scherzo from A Midsummer Night's Dream, Four Hands in G minor, composed by Felix Mendelssohn; a selection of Johannes Brahms' Hungarian Dances (Nos. 1,2,6,7 and 15); "Rhapsody in Blue," arranged by Henry Levine and composed by George Gershwin; and "Spring" and "Winter" from Four Seasons of Buenos Aires by 20th century composer Astor Piazzola, in an arrangement by Kyoko Yamamoto.

Gold medalist at the 2009 World Piano Competition in Cincinnati, Beridze has also won numerous competitions in his native Republic of Georgia. From 1996 to 2006, he was a correspondent for the weekly newspaper Kviris Palitra, for which he wrote over 500 articles on music and interviewed musicians including

Emotional Archeologist

I go digging in desolate wastelands of my mind.
I dug up old memories last night.
They kept me from sleeping.
I reached down and exhumed old painful emotions.
I mourned over them for hours.
I dug in ruins during my day.
They yielded tears as the excavation proceeded into broken artifacts.
They were once beautiful treasures; now just fractured relics.
No jewels, No great finds,
Just a sarcophagus whose name is agony.
Antiquated pain is all to be gained as we exhume the shame,
To we who are emotional archeologists.

ANGELOLOGY
by Danielle Trussoni
C. 2010, Viking, $27.95; 452 pages
Review by Terri Schlichenmeyer

Every day, a battle rages inside you. Basically, you're a nice person. Your parents raised you well. You know the difference between right and wrong. But now and then, life becomes like the cartoons of your youth: A little angel-you whispers a good deed in your right ear, while a little devil-you hollers for nastiness in the left. You fight hard to hear the good decision, but sometimes it's more fun to be oh-so-bad.

And sometimes, the war between good and evil is completely out of your hands. In the new novel Angelology by Danielle Trussoni, the battle has waged for millennia.

When Evangeline Cacciatore was dropped off at St. Rose Convent in New York at the tender age of 12, she never questioned her father's reasoning. After her mother disappeared, Evangeline's father wasn't the same, and though her heart ached for answers, Evangeline moved on with her life. Once she was old enough, she became Sister Evangeline of the Franciscan Sisters of Perpetual Adoration, keeper of library and mailroom at the convent.

So when a letter arrived beseeching the nuns to allow access to their archives, Sister Evangeline knew that Sister Philomena's answer was already "no." Still, when the handsome author of the letter showed up, unannounced, at St. Rose's, his request intrigued Evangeline.

As a researcher, Mr. Verlaine was looking for clues to a puzzle that began with cryptic, post-war correspondence between a Mother Superior and a wealthy woman. On behalf of a strangely wizened client, Verlaine needed to know how these women came to know one another.

In her twilight years, Sister Celestine found old memories and odd comfort in her isolated convent room. Arriving at St. Rose's in 1944, her life was never really with the other sisters. She was there only to wait for Evangeline to ask the right questions. She prayed that she could protect Sister Evangeline before it was too late.

In a 1940s apartment in Manhattan, Percival Grigori was in terrible pain. Once the powerful heir to the Grigori line, his wings had been magnificent and his strength unmatched. But now, suffering from a disease for which no one knew the cure, Grigori waited.

Somewhere lay the instrument that would restore him. Someone had it. And when it was found, his race would return to their former glory.

Though there are time-line errors and some eye-rolling predictability here, and though this book is sometimes too long and detailed, I was stunned at the overall complexity and brilliance of this novel.

Author Danielle Trussoni builds many layers into this Dan-Brown-ish tale, and while they mesh together in the end, be warned that this isn't a novel to attempt when you might be distracted. Steeped in Biblical dogma, mythology, history, and classic literature, Angelology is vast, and demands complete attention through lush, dark writing and characters that are oddly cold.

If you're looking for a novel you can really bury yourself in, I think you'll truly like this one. Nowhere near light as a feather, Angelology is pretty darn good.

DANCING CLASSROOMS WESTERN MARYLAND recently conducted its culminating event and dancing showcase, which concluded a 10-week, 20-session social development program. The program emphasizes social awareness, manners and etiquette, teamwork, confidence, creativity, cooperation, and earned high self-esteem. The program's director, Jennifer Christophel, owner of Balanced Body Studio, donated her time in the administration and teaching of this pilot session for all of the 5th grade students at Garrett County's Accident Elementary School. Accident is the first school in the state of Maryland to pilot the Dancing Classrooms program. "The program has elicited an overwhelming response of positive comments from the teachers, principals, students, and parents," said Christophel. "Dancing with the Local Stars" will be held at the Wisp Resort on Friday, June 11, from 7 to 11 p.m. to assist in funding the program. "Through community involvement, we can keep the Dancing Classrooms program here in Garrett County and hopefully have the program in elementary schools the following academic school year," she added. Persons seeking more information on Dancing Classrooms or the fundraiser should call 301-387-7585. At left are Calyb King and Tessa Gardner. Above is the whole fifth grade group with Christophel in the center. Below, from left, are Jeffery Logsdon, Dallas Beiler, Joshua Smith, and Gerri Harman.

Fundraiser Event Slated By Dancing Classrooms Prog.

Dancing Classrooms Western Maryland will host a fundraising event on Friday, June 11, from 7 to 11 p.m. The competition, exhibition, and dance program, "Dancing with the Local Stars," will be held at Wisp Resort. The doors will open at 6:30 p.m. Dancing Classrooms is a non-profit arts in education program which serves as a social development program for 5th grade children utilizing the art of ballroom dancing to help students achieve social awareness, collaboration, teamwork, active arts making, self- awareness, confidence, creativity, cooperation, and high self esteem.

The showcase dancing will feature Benjamin Christophel and Victoria Miske. Additional local stars are Debra Savage and Jon Fischetti, Tom and Sue Hertz, Tom and Karen Myers, Bill and Debbie Weissgerber, Tom and Kathy Johnson, Len and Kathy Eiswert, and Patrick Damon and Carolyn Bernard. There will also be live music by the Bobby Nicholas Band.

Also to be featured are the Accident Elementary School fifth graders, who have been involved in the 10-week pilot Dancing Classrooms school program. In addition to solos by local celebrities, there will be 30-minute dance classes given for free by Jennifer Christophel, executive director Dancing Classrooms Western Maryland and owner of the Balanced Body Studio and Wellness Center.

Tickets are $25 each, and there will be a cash bar available. Tickets are available at the Balanced Body Studio or through the Garrett County Arts Council.

For more information about the event, persons may call 301-387-7585.

Mstislav Rostropovich, Genadi Rojdestvensky, Yuri Bashmett, and Maxim Vengerov.

Beridze is founder and artistic director of the New York Piano Festival, and is currently a faculty member of the Piano School of NYC. He also serves on the faculty at the Extension Division of the Mason Gross School of the Arts, Rutgers, where he continues his studies with Min Kwon toward a doctorate degree.

As a teenager, Japanese pianist Kagaya established herself as a virtuoso performer in her native country. She won the Dorothy MacKenzie Award at the 2003 International Keyboard Institute & Festival, and was a prize winner at the Piano Teachers' National Association Competition and the Japan Piano Teachers' Association Competition. Kagaya earned her bachelor of music degree at the Toho Conservatory with Yoriko Takahashi, in Tokyo, Japan.

As a chamber musician and solo performer, Kagaya has appeared with Stern/Perlman, and in Zankel and Weill recital halls at Carnegie Hall, Steinway Hall, and Kaufman Center.

The appearance of the New York Piano Duo is sponsored by Allegany College of Maryland.

Tickets are $12 for adults, while youth 18 and under are admitted free of charge. For program and ticket information, persons may call 443-257-9177.

After the performance, audience members will be invited to meet the artists at an informal reception.

be worth 30%, and the audience votes (donations) collected at the event will make up the final 20%. The audience will vote with their wallets, not their applause. Collection boxes will be available for each contestant, and audience members are asked to donate to their favorites.

The top five performers will be asked to perform a second routine immediately after judging is completed, and then a winner will be crowned. Prizes will be awarded to the top three performers, the top fundraiser, and the most talented contestant. The most talented contestant will be chosen by the live judges panel to receive the Judges' Choice Award.

Prizes include giveaways donated by local businesses, and there will be a live auction for specialty-donated items. The auction will feature a Natural Bono eagle oil painting donated by Sacred Ground and a Baltimore Ravens autographed football jersey.

Southern, Northern Track, Field Athletes Placers In State Meet

Several track and field athletes from Southern and Northern high schools placed in various events of the Class 1A Maryland Track and Field Meet, held last weekend at Morgan State University in Baltimore.

Southern's Samantha Taylor finished tied for fourth in the girls' pole vault, clearing a height of 9 feet, 2 inches, while her teammate Rachel Flinn placed sixth with a leap of 7 feet, 8 inches.

Northern's Samantha Arnold was fifth in the shot put, and her teammate Eric Maxim finished sixth in the 110 hurdles, recording a time of 15.85 seconds.

The Huskies' 800 relay team, consisting of Chelsi Kling, Sydney McFarland, Terra McKenzie, and Whitney Murphy, finished seventh in 1:49.38.

Also taking a seventh place was the Northern girls' 400 relay team of Murphy, McFarland, Kling, and Terra McKenzie, who recorded a time of 51.62 seconds.

Placing seventh in the girls' high jump was Southern's Summer Mossman, who cleared a height of 4 feet, 10 inches.

Alex Ruff of Northern placed eighth in the discus with a throw of 127 feet, 3 inches.

Kling of Northern also finished ninth in the triple jump with a distance of 31 feet, 9¼ inches.

As a team, the Southern girls placed 23rd, while the Huskies were right behind in 24th place. The Northern boys finished 25th as a team.

Charlie's Angels Play Shamble Event Tuesday

Charlie's Angel's, the Oakland Golf Club's senior men's group, played a shamble event with one best ball net of three on Tuesday.

In a shamble, all players tee off, they select the best drive of the group, and then play their own ball in from that spot, keeping one best net score and using full handicaps.

Placing first with a score of 49 was the team of Tom Broadwater, Red Guthrie, and Ed Frantz. Finishing second via a playoff with a score of 52 was the team of Roger Levin, John Hetrick, and Bob Moran.

Losing in the three-way scorecard playoff with scores of 52 were the teams of Paul Sines, Jerry House, and Dave Lewis; and Frank Damon, Don Savage, and Dean Durst.

This group meets every Tuesday morning, and new members are welcome. For more information, persons are invited to telephone the pro shop at 301-334-3883.

Women Golfers Play Shamble On Oakland Course

Weekly play of the Oakland Ladies Golf Association last Thursday on the Oakland course was a shamble tournament.

First place with a net score of 77 was the team of Evie Harrison, Julia Hoffman, and Betsy Polce. Second place with a net score of 82 was the team of Sue O'Neal, Debbie Weissgerber, and Pam Trydahl.

Girls' Softball Registration Set

Registration for the local summer league of girls' fastpitch softball will be held next Tuesday, June 8, at the Southern High School gymnasium from 6 to 8 p.m. The league is for girls ages 13 to 18 (girls must be at least 13 by Sept. 1, 2010).

Parents with questions may telephone Ken Hardesty at 301-334-2017.

Team One, Cork's, Madigan's, And Lakeview All Record Hot Stove Wins

Four local teams in the Hot Stove Baseball League were all victorious in games played this past week, as Team One whipped Stewart, Barr, and Thorne last Wednesday, 9-3, at Moorefield High School, Cork's Cars blanked G&S Coal/NewPage, 10-0, on Friday in Westernport behind stellar pitching by Bill Fazenbaker, Madigan's Auto ripped host Ridgeley VFW 8-1 yesterday, and Lakeview Auto Parts edged the Romney Rippers yesterday, 8-7 at Accident.

Cork's also handed Keyser VFW a 2-1 loss on Tuesday at Broadford Park.

Derek Noble tossed a complete game with eight strikeouts for Team One against Stewart, Barr, and Thorne to help his team up its record to 5-1. He allowed just four hits, and pitched a shutout into the sixth inning.

Aaron Shotwell led Team One at the plate with four hits, including a double and three singles, and also had three RBI. Reese Haskiell recorded two RBI and a pair of hits, while Justyce Fulmer and Davey Swift each hit two-run singles in the top of the seventh.

Leading SB&T offensive were starting pitcher Lance Taylor with a two-run double, and Cole Leatherman with a double and a single for one RBI. Taylor struck out 12 on the mound.

Team One is scheduled to host Ridgeley VFW this evening at Broadford Park.

Bill Fazenbaker had a perfect game through the first six innings for Cork's Cars against G&S Coal/NewPage, and ultimately gave up just one hit, a single in the bottom of the seventh, after retiring 18 straight batters. He finished with a dozen strikeouts.

Logan Stewart provided a pair of hits for Cork's, scored three times, and had a pair of steals. Evan Rodeheaver contributed a triple and a single, and also scored three runs.

Fazenbaker pitched almost as well Tuesday evening against Keyser, as he and Evan Rodeheaver combined for 15 strikeouts and gave up just two hits.

Fazenbaker accounted for 13 strikeouts through the first six innings of work, and walked four batters. Rodeheaver fanned two batters in the final inning.

Josh Bane finished with a strong performance for Keyser, as he allowed just four hits and one earned run while striking out six.

Justin Nesselrodt and Logan Stewart each singled and scored a run for Cork's, while Derek Wilt accounted for both of Keyser's hits with a double and a single.

Cork's took a 1-0 lead in the third, Keyser tied it with a run in the fourth, and Logan Stewart scored from second base on an error in the sixth to give Cork's the victory.

The win upped Cork's record to 5-1. The local team will face Keyser Moose at Kruk Field in Keyser this Friday.

Scott Bittinger tossed a two-hitter to lead Madigan's Auto to its 8-1 win over Ridgeley VFW yesterday at Frankfort High School. He went the distance, giving up just two singles, walking only one, and striking out seven.

Tristan Nesselrodt sparked the winners' offense with a double and a single, Garrett Hoffman hit two singles, and Cody Sliger

SavageMan Organizers Slate Inaugural Win-The-Fight Gran Fondo Cycling Event

Organized by the Joanna M. Nicolay Melanoma Foundation, producers of the SavageMan Triathlon Festival have slated the inaugural "Win-the-Fight" Garrett County Gran Fondo, a fundraising weekend of supported bike rides in Garrett County. The event will be held June 26 and 27.

A "gran fondo" is a celebrated tradition in Italian cycling culture, according to Greg Safko, president of the Joanna M. Nicolay Foundation. It is a long-distance, mass-participation cycling event — not a race — that is suitable for professional, amateur, and recreational cyclists of all abilities, he said.

The Garrett County Gran Fondo will offer three supported ride options, all starting and ending at Adventure Sports Center in McHenry, on Saturday, June 26:

"Diabolical Double." At 125 miles and 15,500 feet of climbing, this ride is an extreme challenge on par with any single day ride in the world and already an epic North American ride, Safko said.

"Savage Century." This ride is 102 miles long and involves over 11,000 feet of climbing. It will share the initial 59 and final 15 miles with the Diabolical Double.

"Fabulous Fifty" is a 50-mile ride that "highlights the extraordinary beauty of rural Garrett County," Safko said. It is not nearly as difficult as the Double or Century, he said, but does include 5,000 feet of climbing and is not an easy ride.

A shorter, non-supported ride option will take place on Sunday, June 27, called the "Brag Ride." This is a 24-mile opportunity for riders to "spin out their legs," Safko said, "and tell stories of significant accomplishments from the prior day." It is also open to riders not up to the challenge of Saturday's events, but who wish to participate. It will start at the bottom of Wisp Mountain and stretch along a section of Deep Creek Lake to follow a portion of the shorter SavageMan bike course.

"While not entirely flat — there is no such thing in Garrett County — the ride has no large or extreme climbs," Safko said.

The "Win-the-Fight" Garrett County Gran Fondo will serve as a fundraiser for the Joanna M. Nicolay Melanoma Foundation. The registration fee is $40 total for both Saturday and Sunday rides, but there is a 200-participant limit. Additional fundraising for the Joanna M. Nicolay Melanoma Foundation is optional but strongly encouraged of all participants, Safko said. Any participant who raises $500 will be awarded a Garmin Edge 500 GPS bike computer, with the Garrett County Gran Fondo routes preloaded. All registrants are automatically provided with a fundraising page to make the fundraising efforts simple, he said.

The Gran Fondo web site features all the information necessary to register or request further details. It is located at www.winthefight.org/granfondo.

The Joanna M. Nicolay Melanoma Foundation is a non-profit public charity founded in January 2004 to foster melanoma education, advocacy, and research.

"Skin cancer is the number one cancer in the U.S., Safko said, "and melanoma is the most serious and lethal form. Melanoma is the only cancer for which incidence is rising unabated, yet only receives approximately 3% of the National Cancer Institute's overall funding."

Safko noted that over 121,500 new melanoma cases were diagnosed in the U.S. in 2009, and 8,650 people were projected to die, approximately one person every hour, Safko said. The lifetime risk of developing melanoma is 1 in 53. According to national statistics, melanoma is the most common cancer among young adults 25-29 years of age, and is second most common among adolescents and young adults, ages 15-29.

LOOKS LIKE FISH FOR DINNER – On a recent rainy, chilly Saturday morning, 114 people came out to participate in the annual Fishing Rodeo at the Accident Town Pond. "This was one of the better rodeos ever!" said Sharon Custer, outreach worker at the Garrett County Health Department. "The weather conditions didn't put a damper on the event, as everyone was catching fish and enjoying family time together." Pictured above with their catch of the day are Mackenzie (left) and Abby Weimer of Accident. The rodeo was sponsored by the Accident Community Planning Group and the Wild Turkey Federation. Activities of community planning groups are supported in part by funds from the Garrett County Health Department to promote healthy living and prevent risky behaviors.

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

MEMORIAL DAY REGATTA, OUR SEASON OPENER
by Dan Muss

Sailboat racing on Deep Creek Lake starts on the Saturday of the Memorial Day weekend with a tune-up race called the Steiding Cup. For that race, all fleets start together and there is one winner. The second race on Saturday is the first race of the Becker Cup, with races 2 and 3 on Sunday and race 4 on Monday.

In the past, Memorial Day weekend has been cool and/or stormy, but this year we had weather that was more like that of summer. Coming after a winter that was cold and snowy, it was a surprise. The forecast for Saturday was for wind about 3 to 5 knots out of the north, and that's what we had. Sunday's forecasts were much the same as Saturday's but in fact, we had a very nice breeze, 6 to 8 knots, in the early afternoon, but that died and Sunday's second race had to be cancelled. On Memorial Day Monday, we had light air, 2 to 4 knots generally SW, but swinging W and even NW on occasion.

With northerly wind on Saturday and Sunday, the PRO (principle race officer) Stephanie Mahan had the wider part of the lake to work with, and she set very nice triangular courses. On Saturday, my crew Fearless Marilyn Filemyr and I eschewed the tune-up race to conserve our energy and got a nice start for the first Becker Cup race and led off and on for the next three legs in the Masters' Fleet. But on the second beat to windward, I made a bad mistake; the race committee had moved the finish line to just above the windward mark, and I missed that mark completely and sailed about 200 yards too far. When we saw the rest of the fleet rounding the mark we bore off for the jibe mark and by then we had lost most of the 10 boats in the race. On the next three legs we managed to catch some of them to finish fifth.

In our second race on Sunday we again led for most of the race in a lovely breeze, but on the last beat to the finish line the wind moderated and we lost two boats to finish third.

Then came the challenging conditions on Monday, with very light air and large and frequent shifts in direction. We led for the first beat, but Silverman passed us on the spinnaker run. On the second beat we were halfway up when the wind died. We were close to the shore so with great patience and keeping our sails artificially "full" by weighting the boat to leeward and watching the telltales on the shrouds, carefully we were able to creep past Silverman and, when the wind did finally come up, we got it first and took off to win by a half a leg.

But alas, even though we got the winner's horn and felt like we had sailed a good race, it was not to be. Before all the Masters' Fleet boats had finished, the PRO heard the thunder of a coming storm and cancelled our race... our win did not count!

Yesterday's 8-7 win by Lakeview Auto Parts was the first loss of the season for the Romney Rippers.

Patrick Sines smacked a solo homer and a single for Lakeview, while Cody Rodeheaver, Beck Sherrard, and Jared Fike each provided run-producing singles.

Leading Romney (6-1) were Dane Heavener with two doubles, and Garrett Crawford with a double and a single.

Rodeheaver pitched into the sixth and combined with reliever Fike for seven strikeouts.

Lakeview (4-2) will travel to John Kruk Field in Keyser today to take on the Keyser VFW team.

NHS football team. Then starting around 1968, they fell, one after another. There is a special monument in front of Friendsville Elementary School. Friendsville lost more young men in proportion to its population than any other American community.

I am so ashamed that I use oil for my heating fuel. But I am pretty much trapped into it, since my house was built during the 1950s when just about every house had an oil furnace. Once I started to look into whether you could convert an oil burner to a natural gas burner, it did not take very long to know that it will not happen. Yes, I could do it, but it would cost about $5,000! That is way too rich for my blood.

I wish I could use electric heat, but that is too complicated. I wish I could rely on the wind, another new green energy source, because it is a rare day that the winds don't blow at my house. During the winter, if I had my own wind turbine, I could store up a good bit of power. But I don't even want to hear what a personal wind turbine would cost.

I think life would be simple if I would be a little rich, but I'm not sure if I would want to be really rich. Well, maybe it would be nice to be able to sponsor several Third World children via the Christian Children's Fund. It would just be nice to be able to help my daughters whenever they need it.

A couple months ago, I got the girls to get a Power Ball ticket when the jackpot was many millions of dollars. That would be wonderful, enough to hand a check for $1,000 to 10 of my friends who just barely scrape by. And then several $500 ones to others who are not really struggling.

That would leave lots for me and my girls. I could get a half-decent car for them and a cheap old horse for me, and pay off all my bills/debts. But in general, my life would go on like now. I could pay my bills and not worry about how I will pay for three weddings. But that is pure fantasy.

The last few years, too many old friends have died. I'm sorry I didn't know about the big gathering at Herrington Manor celebrating the life of Charlie Teets. Rodney said I missed a good time, because there were many from our "old crowd" present.

I guess we are creeping up on three score and ten. According to the Bible, that is several lifespans. I dodged a bullet when I was only 42 years old, when my life was almost perfect: a full-time job I loved and what I believed was a happy home life. I had three of the most wonderful young daughters. Every time I see a photograph of those days, I can hardly not cry.

But I didn't die, which is partly good and partly bad. In spite of the undue amount of suffering I have endured in the last decade or so, I have met some wonderful people who cared for me, from my journey from ICU to where I am now in my own home. Although my life is still very challenging.

Sometimes it seems way too hard, but I am deeply grateful to see my girls almost grown up. They are very fine young women, and I can see a bright future for all of them. I was overjoyed to see Claire arrive from Arlington, Va.

I'm glad that she is now living with her Sussman grandmother, since she only recently lost her husband of many years. But it is too far from Silver Spring to Arlington, where her job is, especially when she often works double shifts.

Approximately 50 handcrafted prayer shawls and knotted comforters were on display during the Bittinger Lutheran joint service Sunday morning at St. John's of Meadow Mountain. These will be given to people in need through local and church-related agencies.

"MILITARY SERVICE PERSONNEL SUPPORT" MONTH—The Military Family Support Group celebrated "Military Service Personnel Support Month" during the month of May through several activities. The group attended the singing of a Military Support Proclamation by the Garrett County commissioners as part of their weekly meeting on Tuesday, May 4, 2010. This is the sixth year for the issuance of a proclamation by the commissioners and an individually signed proclamation is presented to every active duty service person that has served during the past year or is currently serving. The group currently has a display set up at the Dennett Road Nursing Home, which includes pictures of service personnel that are currently serving the U.S. The nursing home collected $100 in donations to help with the cost of shipping care packages to the local troops serving overseas. As an ongoing project, the group is hoping to compile a list of all military personnel who have served in the Iraq or Afghanistan theaters, other locations such as Europe, or in any supporting roles, including statewide. If anyone knows of a service person who has served or is currently serving, he or she is asked to contact Mel and Cathy Menker at 301-334-5906 or Sheila Shaffer at 301-616-6109 with the person's name, location served, and family contact information if appropriate. Persons interested in current information about the group should go to www.supportlocalmilitary.com. The Military Family Support Group is available for all persons in the area who have a family member currently in the military, regardless of branch of service. The meetings are held once a month on a Wednesday from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. The next meeting will be held June 9 at the Southern Rescue Squad building. Refreshments are provided at each meeting. Pictured above are Commissioner Ernie Gregg, Pastor Mel Menker, Cathy Menker, Anna Marie Miller, Ralph Miller, Sheila Shaffer, Barbara Gaffney, and Commissioner Fred Holliday.

The sewing and prayer shawl ministry group continues to meet each Tuesday at Emmanuel at 9 a.m. Everyone is invited to join the group in this outreach ministry of the parish.

Flowers on the altar on Sunday at St. John's were given by family members in memory of Jimmy L. O'Brien and Daniel Carlton O'Brien, WWI veterans, and in honor of all veterans.

AN OLD-FASHIONED MEMORIAL DAY CELEBRATION was held at the Grantsville town park on Monday. Nearly 150 people attended the free event, which included a parade, memorial service, and picnic in the park. Pictured above are members of the JROTC of Northern High School helping to raise the flag. Below are members of the Grantsville American Legion Post 214, who provided a 21-gun salute. Photos by Robin Jones.

"I PLEDGE ALLEGIANCE..." – Part of Monday's Memorial Day ceremonies at the Oakland Cemetery included the recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance, along with other patriotic rituals and observances. A large crowd, including Boy Scouts (as shown), service organizations, and members of the general public attended the event, which was hosted again this year by the American Legion Post #71 and the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post #10077, both of Oakland. The Southern Garrett Marching Band and the Garrett Highlands Pipes & Drums provided music. Judge Leonard Eiswert was the guest speaker, shown below. A veteran of the Vietnam War, Eiswert spoke of his own experiences and of his peers. "All gave some, and some gave all," he said. Eiswert cautioned the listeners to never agree to war simply out of a sense of patriotism, but to always engage in the discussion and the decision-making process. He said veterans, because of their firsthand knowledge of what war truly is, have a particular duty in this process. "It is our obligation to take part," he said. Photos by John McEwen.

The births of four babies were announced this week, three girls and one boy.

A daughter, Madelyne Virginia, was born to Amanda (Hahn) and Ray Hefner Jr., Accident, on May 25 at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va. The maternal grandparents are Chuck and Ruth Ann Hahn, Accident, and the paternal grandparents are Ray (Sr.) and Linda Hefner, Swanton.

A daughter, Alayna Grace, was born to Donald Lee and Deanna Marie Friend Chapman, Oakland, on May 26 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Connie Swan and Donald Friend, both of Oakland, and the paternal grandparents are Donald and Betty Chapman, Oakland.

A son, Joseph Thomas, was born to Tony and Allison (Roseberry) Murray, Chesapeake, Va., on May 29 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The paternal grandparents are Thomas and Daisy Murray, Oakland.

A daughter, Adia Irie, was born to Billy and Angie (House) Martin, Friendsville, on May 23 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are James and Connie House, and the paternal grandmother is Freda Martin.

MLP Resident Arrested After Alleged Assault

A local man was arrested after Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to Mtn. Lake Park for a domestic assault.

Investigation revealed that Dennis Joseph Garlitz Jr. had assaulted a female adult during an argument. He was taken to the Garrett County Jail. He was later released on his own recognizance after an initial appearance before a District Court commissioner.

Lake Businesses To Sponsor July 4 Fireworks Display

Hugh Umbel Companies, which includes Bear Creek Traders, Deep Creek Foodland Fresh, Legacy Home Corp., McHenry Beverage Shoppe, and Perkins Restaurant and Bakery, is the major sponsor of the 2010 Fire on the Mountain fireworks display on July 4.

"I would like to thank Hugh Umbel Companies for their continued sponsorship of the Fire on the Mountain fireworks display," said Joyce Bishoff, interim president of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. "We could not put on such a fabulous show without the support of Hugh Umbel Companies and our other generous fireworks sponsors. We are looking forward to a terrific fireworks show."

Anyone interested in more information about the event should go to www.visitdeepcreek.com, call 301-387-4386, or e-mail info@garrettchamber.com.

BOE to Hold Monthly Meeting Tuesday, June 8

The Garrett County board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, June 8, beginning at 4 p.m. Following public comment at 4 p.m., the board will meet in executive closed session until 5:30 p.m.

Public agenda topics will include action on consideration of July and August change of date for monthly meeting, the 2010-11 student board member, and the FY2011 Budget. Information items include the Comprehensive Maintenance Plan for Educational Facilities of Garrett County, the Educational Facilities Master Plan, paper bid award, revision to the Students Rights, Responsibilities, and Discipline Handbook, and special education staffing. Recognition will be given to the 4th annual Charlie Strauss Earth Day Essay Contest winners, Reading First school, Teacher of the Year, and student art work.

Time is again set aside at 7 p.m. for public comment and participation on any topic. The public is invited to attend.

Two People Driving On Suspended Licenses Charged

Garrett County sheriff's deputies made two arrests involving motorists driving on suspended licenses. The following incidents are unrelated.

Deputies stopped a vehicle on I-68 for failure to display tabs on plates of a vehicle as required by Motor Vehicle Administration. The driver was identified as Ted Sarver, 21, Cumberland, and upon further investigation he was also found to be in possession of a controlled dangerous substance. He is charged with driving on a suspended license, driving on expired tags, CDS possession of marijuana, and possession of CDS paraphernalia. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

A vehicle was stopped by deputies on Miller Street for failure to stop at a stop sign. Wendy R. Sipple, 42, Salisbury, Pa., was identified as the driver. Investigation revealed her to be driving on a suspended out-of-state license. She is charged with failure to stop at a stop sign and driving on a suspended license. She was released upon signing the citations.

Woman Charged By GC Deputies With Assault

An Oakland woman was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies early this morning at approxmiately 2:30 a.m. after they responded to Overlook Drive for a reported assault in progress.

Dena Mesa, 26, is charged with second-degree assault and disturbing the peace. She was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

CHILDREN RAISE FUNDS FOR RELAY – Students at three Garrett County elementary schools recently held a variety of Mini-Relay For Life events to raise funds for the American Cancer Society's Relay For Life. One of the activities at Dennett Road School was Duct Tape Day, when students could purchase a strip of duct tape that was used to tape teachers Dennis Rodeheaver and Dan Taylor to the wall, pictured above left. Also in the photo is Beth Shaffer, PE teacher and school coordinator for the Mini-Relay. Dennett Road students raised a total of $3,080. Pictured below are the top individual fundraisers, from left: Mariah Bolden, Brysen Cowgill, Kaylin Paugh, Tyler Rodeheaver, and Julia Hershman. Kitzmiller Elementary School raised $1,353 at its Mini-Relay For Life. Pictured above center are the members of Mark Rodeheaver's Head Start class who raised $520 and won a pizza party. In the front row, from left, are: Kiera Warnick, Kaylib Guy, Kaylee Baker, Abby Lucas, Cianna Rizer, Jonas Paugh, Logan Harvey, Liberty Sweitzer, Mikaili Michaels, and Nautica Wyant. In the back, same order, are Mark Rodeheaver, principal Richard Stevens, Relay For Life Committee member Donna Broadwater, secretary and school Mini-Relay coordinator Teresa Durst. Above right is principal Stevens who was transformed into a human sundae during one of the activities. Meanwhile, Accident Elementary School raised $1,167 with its Mini-Relay For Life. Pictured below right is Katie Lauder's pre-K class which raised $214 and won an ice cream party. Seated, from left, are Miracle Pickrel, Jalynn Sherbin, Kaylee Wolfe, Connor Lawson, Ashton Sober, Kaitlyn Miller, and Angel Kitzmiller. Local Elementary School Students Raise Over $5,600 For Relay For Life

Accident, Dennett Road, and Kitzmiller elementary schools each held a week-long Mini-Relay For Life recently which raised over $5,605 for the American Cancer Society.

Each day the students had fun activities to raise funds. Each participant paid a dollar to wear crazy socks, a crazy hat, crazy clothes, purple clothes, team jerseys, and pajamas to school.

Dennett Road also had a "Duct Tape Day" when students duct taped teachers Dennis Rodeheaver and Dan Taylor to the wall. Students paid a dollar per strip of duct tape.

Students at Kitzmiller School each paid a dollar to squirt faculty with water, toss water balloons, and to turn principal Richard Stevens into a human sundae.

At Accident Elementary, the top class and the winner of an ice cream party was Katie Lauder's pre-K class, which raised $214. Accident Elementary, with 271 students, raised a total of $1,167.

Dennett Road's top class and also a winner of an ice cream party was Katelyn Beitzel's third grade class, which raised $490. The top five individual fundraisers at Dennett Road were students Mariah Bolden with $285, Brysen Cowgill with $223, Kaylin Paugh with $155, Tyler Rodeheaver with $107, and Julia Hershman with $105. Dennett Road, with 324 students, raised a total of $3,080.

Kitzmiller's top class and winner of a pizza party was Mark Rodeheaver's Head Start class, which raised $520. The top four individual fundraisers at Kitzmiller were Logan Harvey with $250, Cole Sweitzer with $78, Keegan Stiles Murphy with $63, and Brandon Lucas with $50. Kitzmiller Elementary, with only 70 students, raised a total of $1,357.

These funds will help save lives by providing cancer screenings, awareness, and research, according to a Relay For Life spokesperson. The Relay For Life of Garrett County Planning Committee noted its appreciation to the students, parents, teachers, principals, and the school coordinators at all three schools for their efforts and dedication in the fight against cancer and for making their Mini-Relays both fun and successful.

The 2010 Garrett County Relay For Life will begin at the Southern High School track on Friday, June 11, at 5 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend and to participate. Cancer survivors are encouraged to come and walk the first lap, which will take place following the opening ceremony at 7 p.m.

For more information about the relay, persons may telephone 301-722-2145 or visit the web site at www.relayforlife.org/garrett.

Poker Run, Auction Proceeds To Help Friendsville Man

A benefit poker run will be held on Saturday, June 12, beginning at 10 a.m. The participation fee is $10 per person.

The meeting place and sign-in for the event is Good To Go, a convenience store located off Rt. 42 in Friendsville.

A fundraiser auction featuring free food and music will be held following the poker run.

Proceeds from both events will help Friendsville resident Jeff Sickles purchase a prosthetic leg.

For further information, persons may call Rick at Good To Go, 301-746-5677, or Buck Carr at 301-501-2202.

Eco Chic

With more people being conscious about doing everything in an "eco-friendly" manner, what better time for the introduction of Eco Chic, a new division of the Decorator's Nook, Oakland. "Eco Chic focuses on taking the old and giving it new life," stated owner Sheila Menchaca. "Our mantra is 'Recycle, Remix, Reuse, Refresh.'"

For example, old furniture is reupholstered, and discontinued fabrics and wall covering samples are used in making memory boards and decoupage pieces. Old buttons and trims are used, and all paints are certified "green" as well. Designers have toured attics, flea markets, yard sales, and other similar locations in search of pieces that could be refurbished.

ECO CHIC OPEN – Eco Chic, a new division of the Decorator's Nook, is now open, with "recycled, remixed, reused, and refreshed" items created from a variety of old furniture, left over fabric and wall covering samples, and "green" paint. Designers have collected numerous pieces and have "given them new life." Above are three antique chairs connected to make a unique bench. See story.

"Everyone is going green these days," said Menchaca, "and I just realized I have a lot of resources, including designer samples and fabrics left over from jobs that enable me to create some truly beautiful pieces."

For over two decades, Menchaca has built the reputation of giving a personal design touch to everything from professional buildings to doctor's offices to million-dollar homes. She and her team's work can be seen in Garrett, Tucker, and Preston counties, most of West Virginia, Northern Virginia, Baltimore, and the D.C. area.

For a more "hands-on" approach, there are many ways one can do to customize furniture. Classes are being planned for those who wish to learn to do it on their own.

"We realize some folks may have an old piece of furniture that has been in the family for years, and they have sentimental attachment to it, but they just don't know what to do with it," said Menchaca. "Our job is to give that old favorite an updated, customized look for about half the price of a new custom job."

The business showroom has many finished pieces, as well as works in progress. Not only can furniture be found at the store, but items such as serving bowls, quilts, and clothes are also available. Orders are currently being taken for baby memory quilts, which are made from old baby clothes.

"All of these old pieces have a story to tell, and we want to help tell it."

The business is located at 199 South Second Street and is open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. More information can be obtained and appointments can be made at the web site at www.decnook.com; via e-mail at aksezreez@decnook.com, or by calling 301-387-2355.

MAKE SOME LEMONADE

It's probably no surprise that homeowners who have faced the ordeal of foreclosure feel a certain measure of shame or guilt about their experience. Whether or not those feelings are warranted, it's hard to survive the process completely unscathed.

What is surprising is the recent development of "buyer's guilt." Some who are fortunate enough to afford to take advantage of a low-priced foreclosure offering are suffering some degree of remorse about the transaction.

Whether it's because they got a deal that none of their friends or family did, or whether they just feel badly about someone else's unhappy situation, the emotions are real, but should be approached in a different way.

These buyers are not necessarily capitalizing off someone else's misfortune, but actually helping by removing a distressed property from the market and maintaining property values. It's actually good for the market and the local economy for buyers to take advantage of these bargains.

If you have some doubt about buying a foreclosure, you can ease your concerns and do some good for others. When you make your move, why not make a donation of household goods instead of packing them in boxes? Certainly a local shelter or charitable organization like the Salvation Army can improve the lives of others with your kindness, and put you in a great frame of mind about your move!

If you are thinking of buying or selling a home but feel "out of touch" with real estate, give me a call today.

Hernandez Will Be Guest Speaker For Plant Society

The Western Mountains Chapter of the Maryland Native Plant Society will hold its regular meeting at the Appalachian Laboratory in Frostburg on Tuesday, June 15, at 7 p.m. The guest speaker will be Mimi Hernandez, the new coordinator of the Appalachian Center for Ethnobotanical Studies.

Hernandez will give a PowerPoint presentation titled "Bridging the Gap: Scientific and Traditional Uses of Plants." Her program will begin immediately following a brief business meeting. The public is welcome to attend.

During her presentation Hernandez will introduce ways to bridge a traditional awareness with a scientific understanding of plant medicine. She will describe the difference between scientific and traditional evidence and "how we can learn to speak the same language." She will highlight examples of traditional applications versus novel scientific uses of plant medicine.

Hernandez is an herbal educator whose courses balance traditional reverence with scientific understanding, according to a spokesperson for the society. A professional member of the American Herbalists Guild, she earned a master of science degree in herbal medicine from the Tai Sophia Institute.

With roots in Asheville, N.C., Hernandez is the founder of the One World Healing Arts Institute and former president of the N.C. Herb Association. She also draws upon her Latino background and the "Granny healers" in her life.

The Appalachian Laboratory is located along Braddock Road just .2 mile off U.S. Rt. 68 in Frostburg. There is ample parking in front of the building.

The Maryland Native Plant Society uses education, research, and community service to increase awareness and appreciation of native plants and their habitats, leading to their conservation and restoration. Membership is open to all who are interested in Maryland's native plants and their habitats. Preserving Maryland's natural heritage, increasing knowledge about native plants, and helping to further the society's mission are the society's goals. MNPS sponsors monthly meetings, workshops, field trips, and an annual fall conference. For more information, persons are invited to go online and visit www.mdflora.org.

The Western Mountains Chapter has formed to expand the efforts of MNPS on the Allegheny Plateau and the ridge and valley physiographic provinces of the central Appalachians. Residents of western Maryland, nearby Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, and anyone else interested in learning more about and conserving the native plants of this region, are invited to join. For more information, persons may telephone Liz McDowell at 301-895-3686 or visit the chapter web site at http://www.mdflora.org/chapters/westernmd/wmdchapter.html.

SHS Students and Teacher Place In Spring 2010 Stock Market Game

Students in Athena Wilson's Southern High School Accounting II and Stock Market Game classes are overall state and western region winners, with first- and second-place finishes for the Spring 2010 Stock Market Game™. A total of seven students participated.

Senior Dakota Workman finished the game in second place at the state level for the high school division, with a simulated portfolio value of $128,606. Senior Johnathon Corbin finished in first place at the high school regional level, with simulated earnings of $122,240. Junior Paige Fitzwater finished in fifth place at the regional level, with a simulated portfolio value of $112,707. Wilson, who competed at the state adult level, completed the game in first place with a portfolio value of $129,027. The spring competition was against 1,000 other teams in the state.

The competition is sponsored by the Maryland Council on Economic Education (MCEE). Wilson uses the competition as a high-interest educational activity in her classroom for the 10-week period of the game. The student teams from SHS participated in the competition, and each team began with an imaginary $100,000. Over a 10-week period, the students invested in corporations on the New York, American, and NASDAQ markets in an attempt to increase the size of their portfolios. The game is sponsored locally by Rob Sharps of PrimeVest Financial.

"Sharps has been a key component in the success of the students throughout the years, as he visits the classrooms and gives guidance as to what the students should look for in successful investment and strategies for lifelong investing as well as the importance of financial literacy," said Wilson.

Workman and Wilson traveled to Timonium to receive their state awards, and Corbin and Fitzwater traveled to Hagerstown to receive their western region awards. Winners receive recognition, Stock Market Game gifts, and a certificate acknowledging their accomplishment.

The game requires student teams to formulate daily or weekly decisions about the direction of the markets, make choices about buying or selling corporate stocks, and enter them on the Internet.

"The excitement builds during the competition when students receive their team's portfolio statement, which shows how their team ranks compared to all of the other teams in the Maryland/DC region and their school system," said Wilson, "as well as the current value of their stocks."

Prizes range from a plaque for first place to a certificate for participation.

"Everyone who participates may not walk away with a trophy, but will leave the competition with practical knowledge for the future," Wilson added.

The Maryland Council on Economic Education offers the Stock Market Game to students and teachers throughout Maryland and Washington, D.C., each spring and fall. The Stock Market Game is an educational simulation that teaches about the stock market, the American economic system, and the global economy. Participants develop skills in math, language arts, research, and critical thinking, while building and maintaining a stock portfolio. It is used in grades 4–12, college courses, and by those who seek to learn more about investing.

Since 1977, almost 10 million students have participated in this national program. In the 2010 school year, 18,563 students in 4,932 teams from Maryland and Washington, D.C., participated in the program through the Maryland Council on Economic Education.

The MCEE is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that has been training teachers and providing Maryland school systems with curriculum support for over 50 years. The MCEE, along with its division the Maryland Coalition for Financial Literacy (MCFL), strives to ensure that Maryland's children leave school prepared to make responsible economic and personal finance decisions.

More information about the MCEE and MCFL can be found at www.econed.org and www.mdfinancialskills.org.

Class On Horse Health Slated At Allegany College

New horse owners can learn the basics of equine health from an expert veterinarian in a new continuing education course at Allegany College of Maryland in Cumberland on Friday, June 25.

Equine Health Education provides an introduction to caring for the health of a horse and covers such topics as vaccinations, deworming and dentistry. The all-day session recognizes that keeping horses healthy and sound is a key responsibility in the equine-human relationship.

The instructor, Dr. Edwin D. Bracken Jr., who maintains a veterinary practice that is 95 percent equine, brings over 30 years of experience in equine health to the classroom. A veterinary graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, he owns Bracken Ridge Veterinary in Martinsburg, Pa., and provides preventive, medical, and surgical veterinary care within an 110-mile radius.

The course will meet from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in ACM's Center for Continuing Education. Tuition includes continental breakfast, lunch, handouts, certificates, and door prizes. Students under 16 must be accompanied by a registered adult.

The deadline to register for the course is June 18. To do so, persons are asked to telephone 301-784-5341. For more information about the course, persons may telephone 301-784-5282. Information is also available on the college Web site, www.allegany.edu.

Correction Noted

Information received by The Republican about Garrett County Memorial Hospital's Earth Day celebration that appeared in the May 20 issue contained an error. The donor of the dwarf weeping cherry tree mentioned in the photo caption was Dan's Trees & Shrubs of Aurora, W.Va., not Holland Nursery.

Local Students Earn Dean's List Honors At ACM

"Grown-ups" go to work, come home and work, go to bed, then get up and do it all over again. Do you remember the last time you actually "played"? Recreation is important whether we are children or adults. The word "recreation" speaks for itself; we need to create ourselves again each day for optimum performance!

Each one of us has the capacity for recuperation and repair. We need to rest the mind, body and spirit from the weight of daily responsibility. An essential element for renewal is daily trust in God's will. In Matthew 11:28, our Lord says..."Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest."

Join in weekly worship at God's house and let Him help you "re-create" yourself. You will be refreshed!

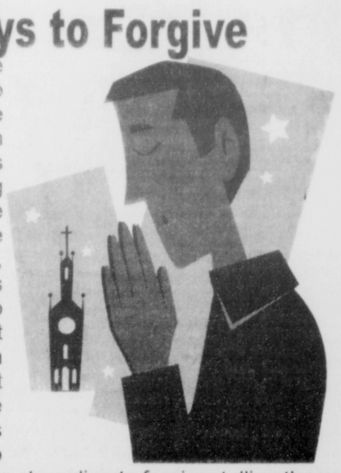
Ways to Forgive



There are many ways to forgive. Those blessed with short memories and forgiving hearts may be able to "forgive and forget." But, most of us cannot easily do this, and we must make a conscious effort to forgive. One way to do this is to talk frankly to the person we are struggling to forgive, telling them what is bothering us, and hoping that a kindly discussion will lead to an understanding and forgiveness by both parties. Another way to forgive is to ask for divine intervention. There are times when it is not humanly possible to forgive others, and they may not legitimately deserve to be forgiven. If someone has killed one of our family members it may not be possible on our own to forgive them, but God may be able to bring about a change of heart. We may not even want to forgive the person in this case, but may realize that our life is being destroyed by hatred and anger. Often times, asking for God's help is the only way to forgive. Whatever our situation, if we are finding it difficult to forgive someone, we should keep in mind that God wants us to forgive others as He forgives us.

Bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if anyone has a complaint against another; even as Christ forgave you, so you also must do.

Drugs Prescribed for Social Anxiety

There is a relatively new condition called social anxiety disorder (SAD). People affected seek to avoid social situations due to fear of negative evaluation by others. Persons between 11 to 19 years of age are most likely to begin experiencing SAD, although younger children and older adults may also experience the condition. Signs and symptoms of SAD include sweating, palpitations, and blushing. Persons with SAD may be more likely to experience depression. Some may only experience social anxiety in response to specific situations. Public speaking is the most commonly feared situation among those affected by SAD. Severe cases of social anxiety may progress to a panic attack.

Persons who experience fear of performing in particular situations, such as public speaking, may be prescribed beta-blockers to be taken prior to specific anxiety-inducing situations. Propranolol is a beta-blocker that may be taken one hour before individual events, such as public speaking. It tends to minimize certain symptoms associated with social anxiety, such as sweating and palpitations. It may be taken daily for an extended period of time. Selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors, such as citalopram and escitalopram, are antidepressants that may be prescribed for this condition.

'Cash Cab' is still prowling Manhattan streets

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Q: Is Discovery Channel's "Cash Cab" still in production? –Nancy Pistilli, Dallas

A: It is. Forty new episodes are expected to be added to the library of episodes this year and next, so don't be surprised if you're in New York and Ben Bailey's taxi pulls over.

Q: Will "What Would You Do?" with John Quinones be back, and if so, when? –Sandy McKalik, Erie, Colo.

A: The ABC News-produced series was back in that network's lineup for several Fridays in May. It's slated to return on Tuesdays starting June 29.

Q: How do I write to actor Alan Ruck? And is the series finale of "Spin City" out on DVD? –Nicole Alt, Piermont, N.Y.

A: Ruck actually begins a new series this week, since the serialized NBC drama "Persons Unknown" premieres Monday, June 7. He plays one of several people trapped in an otherwise deserted town, and though the saga has echoes of the classic show "The Prisoner," it has the pedigree of Oscar-winning "The Usual Suspects" writer Christopher McQuarrie.

The show is a production of Fox Television Studios, so you can try addressing mail to him in care of that company: 10201 W. Pico Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90064.

As for the "Spin City" finale, the wrap-up to the show's entire six seasons isn't on DVD as of yet, though the episode in which Michael J. Fox bade farewell to the sitcom ("Goodbye, Parts 1 & 2") is included in the set "Spin City: Michael J. Fox – His All-Time Favorites, Volume 2."

Q: How do you pronounce the name of the actor who played Wo Fat on "Hawaii Five-O"? And what were his other credits? –Gail Torp, Milwaukee

A: Khigh Dhiegh's first name rhymes with "why," and the last name is pronounced as "dee." And this probably will be hard to believe, but his given birth name was ... Kenneth Dickerson. (Couldn't make that up.)

The actor died in 1991, and though his numerous television credits ranged from "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." and "The Wild Wild West" to "Kung Fu" and the miniseries "Noble House" – also including a 1975 series titled "Khan!" that was built around him – his most famous role clearly was that of the main nemesis of "Five-O" police chief Steve McGarrett (Jack Lord) during the CBS show's long run.

Dhiegh also appeared in such feature films as the 1962 classic "The Manchurian Candidate," the Rock Hudson thriller "Seconds," the "Hawaii" sequel "The Hawaiians" with Charlton Heston, and Donny and Marie Osmond's "Goin' Coconuts."

Strange BUT TRUE

• It was French emperor Napoleon Bonaparte who made the following sage observation: "In politics, absurdity is not a handicap."

• You may consider the bikini to be a modern phenomenon, but in the ruins of Pompeii, which was buried by ash from an eruption of Mt. Vesuvius in 79 A.D., there are murals depicting people in two-piece bathing suits.

• Are you a librocubicularist? If, like me, you like to read in bed, then you are.

• Academy Award-winning actress Bette Davis was evidently so concerned about the possibility of gaining weight between roles that in the 1940s she took out an insurance policy on her waist, in the amount of $28,000.

• According to statistics from the Social Security Administration, about one-third of people who claim to be more than 100 years old aren't telling the truth. It seems that people age 75 and older tend to add years when asked how old they are, while those under age 75 tend to say they're younger than they are.

• Beer steins have covers to keep flies out.

• Last year, much was made of the Obama family's plan to adopt a dog. Many first families have had pets, though, and some presidents have not been content with a run-of-the-mill dog or cat. For instance, Thomas Jefferson kept two bear cubs in a cage on the front lawn of the White House, and Theodore Roosevelt had a zebra. An alligator was the pet of choice for John Quincy Adams, and James Buchanan kept an elephant.

• Jujiro Matsuda was a blacksmith before he founded the Mazda auto manufacturing company.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On June 9, 1772, the British vessel Gaspee runs aground off the coast of Rhode Island while pursuing the Hanna, an American smuggling ship. That evening, John Brown, an American merchant angered by high British taxes on his goods, rowed out to the Gaspee with a number of other colonists and set the ship afire. When British officials attempted to prosecute the colonists involved in the "Gaspee Affair," they found no Americans willing to testify against their countrymen.

• On June 13, 1905, pitcher Christy Matthewson of the New York Giants throws the second no-hitter of his career to lead his Giants to a 1-0 win over the powerful Chicago Cubs. That year Matthewson won 31 games to just nine lost.

• On June 12, 1920, Man O' War wins the 52nd Belmont Stakes. His only career loss came in 1919 when his back was to the starting line at the beginning of one race. At that time, before the advent of starting gates, a rope was all that held horses back from starting their run.

• On June 10, 1935, in New York City, two recovering alcoholics found Alcoholics Anonymous (A.A.), a 12-step rehabilitation program that eventually helps countless people cope with alcoholism.

• On June 11, 1949, Hank Williams, Sr., makes his Grand Ole Opry debut at the Ryman Auditorium. The audience called Williams out for six encores and had to be implored not to call him out for more in order to allow the rest of the show to go on.

• On June 8, 1968, James Earl Ray, an escaped American convict, is arrested in London, England, and charged with the assassination of civil-rights leader Martin Luther King, Jr. Ray claimed he was innocent of King's assassination and had been set up as a patsy by a mysterious man named "Raoul."

Md. Humanities Board Seeking New Members

The Maryland Humanities Council (MHC) is seeking new board members. Candidates must be Maryland residents committed to advancing MHC's mission of stimulating informed dialogue and civic engagement on issues important to Marylanders. Board nominees should be active in their community, have an interest in the humanities, and be able to make a substantial commitment of time and energy.

Demographics of candidates are considered in the selection process, including race, gender, and region. Some members are humanities scholars; some are representative of the general public. The current board includes business professionals, attorneys, writers, college and university administrators, and professors of classics, ethics, and sociology.

MHC's board of directors currently comprises 23 members, including Albert Feldstein and Casper R. Taylor Jr. of Cumberland and retired Frostburg State University president Catherine R. Gira of Howard County.

Board members' primary responsibilities are strategic planning, approving and monitoring the organization's programs and services, ensuring effective fiscal management, selecting and orienting new board members, allocating grant funds, fundraising, and promoting MHC's activities. They must be available to travel to quarterly board meetings as well as occasional interim committee meetings. Members serve without pay and are eligible to serve one three-year term, which is renewable.

All nominations must be received by July 1 to be considered for election beginning October 8. A copy of the nominee's resume and a letter of support should be submitted to Phoebe Stein Davis, executive director, either by e-mail to pdavis@mdhc.org, or by mail to 108 W. Centre Street, Baltimore, MD 21201.

The Maryland Humanities Council is a statewide, educational, 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. For more information about MHC, persons are invited to visit www.mdhc.org online.

GARRETT COLLEGE NEWS BEAT

www.garrettcollege.edu

by Melissa Parker

Five years ago, Bongani Dlamini was all set to graduate from high school and attend a college close to home in his native country of South Africa. In fact, he had already applied for admission into the University of Cape Town.

Then, he heard about a college in the United States in a small town in western Maryland and the possibility of receiving a full-tuition scholarship there. The thought of this opportunity threw him for a loop.

"I really needed some time to think about this," Dlamini said upon learning about the scholarship. Accepting the scholarship would mean leaving his home, his family, his friends – the only life he had ever known.

He had learned about Garrett College and the scholarship after one of his high school teachers attended a summer conference hosted by the college. When he learned about the scholarship opportunities at Garrett, his teacher immediately thought of Dlamini since he was a hard-working and successful student who would make a good candidate for the scholarship.

Although it was a very tough decision, Dlamini finally resolved to take advantage of the scholarship opportunity and embark on a journey to McHenry, Maryland, in the United States. At first, he wondered if he had made the right decision.

"My first days here were a daunting experience," he said. "Being away from home, all by myself, I wasn't sure how people would treat me. And the weather really scared me at first."

Dlamini was over 8,000 miles from home. His first few months at Garrett were the hardest. He was very homesick.

Unfortunately, his mother was feeling the same loneliness back in South Africa.

"I was not well," said Nontshayelelo Eslina Dlamini. "I cried all the time. I became very ill. The doctor said the only thing that could cure me was for my son to come back. His leaving nearly killed me."

Although Dlamini was starting to get used to Garrett, he was still feeling a little homesick. He was also very concerned about his mother. So over the Christmas break of his first year at Garrett, Dlamini decided to travel back home to see his family.

FROM GC TO WVU – Making the long trek from South Africa to McHenry four years ago was Bongani Dlamini, who completed his studies at Garrett College two years ago and is now a 2010 graduate of West Virginia University, where he earned degrees in both mining engineering and geology. He is pictured above right with his parents, Thulani Patrick Dlamini and Nontshayelelo Eslina Dlamini. See story.

It turned out that the doctor was right. As soon as she saw him, his mother was a completely different person.

"I saw that my son was okay and happy, so that made me well again," she said. "He told me that he would be back, and now I could believe it. I knew that he was doing well in the U.S. and that he was happy. When he left after the Christmas break, I was okay, and I just looked forward to the next time I would see him."

Dlamini was beginning to find happiness at Garrett as well.

"As I got to know people, especially the other international students, it got easier," he said. "We really were able to relate to one another. We supported each other. The people in the community and on campus made me feel at home, too."

He was also beginning to excel academically. Dlamini was doing well in his math/science major curriculum, and he was finding himself developing an interest in engineering.

After speaking to some of his professors and others on campus who were advising him, Dlamini began to consider the possibility of transferring to West Virginia University upon graduating from Garrett to major in engineering. WVU's program sounded perfect for Dlamini. There was only one problem: Because he was an international student, Dlamini would be required to pay WVU's out-of-state tuition rate, something he didn't believe his family would financially be able to support.

Over the years, however, many GC students who were Maryland residents majoring in engineering had been able to secure in-state tuition to WVU through a reciprocity agreement. With that agreement in mind, a few of Garrett's faculty and staff members, including Ann Wellham and Nancy Priselec, began working on a deal to get Dlamini the same reciprocity agreement.

Thanks to their hard work and persistence, Dlamini was the first international student to fall under the reciprocity agreement, which resulted in his getting in-state tuition to WVU. With this agreement in place, Dlamini was able to transfer to WVU and major in mining engineering in the fall of 2007, an experience he said he has thoroughly enjoyed over the last three years.

"WVU has been great," said Dlamini. "It such a big school, and there's much to do. I love it."

But he knows what it took to get him there.

"Garrett College was the starting point for everything," he said. "I was able to be groomed there. I needed those first two years at Garrett to prepare me for WVU. Garrett has been crucial in my overall educational experience."

Dlamini was a successful student at WVU as well. He graduated last month with a bachelor of science degree in mining engineering, as well as a bachelor of science in geology.

Currently, Dlamini is on a five-week expedition in the West fulfilling the final requirements for the capstone course of his geology degree. He will be traveling to Montana, Wyoming, and South Dakota this summer.

Dlamini's plans are to begin graduate school in mining engineering at WVU in the fall. He has applied for the program, but is still awaiting his acceptance. If for some reason he does not get accepted to the program, he plans to work for Consol Energy, were he has work for the past three years.

"After graduate school, I'd like to work for two years in the U.S., then go back home to South Africa," Dlamini said. "There is a large mining industry there, so I will be able to use my education and degrees."

He says he is very excited about his graduation and his future, but what he was most looking forward to a few weeks ago was seeing his mom and his dad, Thulani Patrick, who made the trip to the United States to watch their son graduate, a trip that marked the first time they had ever left South Africa.

Dressed in her traditional South African attire, Nontshayelelo Eslina beamed with joy at the sight of her son.

"I see him happy, and that makes me happy," she said.

With a smile on his face following his mom's remark, Dlamini seemed just as happy to see her.

Transcription Classes Set At Northern Center

The Continuing Education and Workforce Development Division of Garrett College is accepting applications for the medical transcriptionist training program that will begin in June at the Northern Outreach Center.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, employment in this career is more in demand than ever before. The issue of properly managing and protecting patient health information has steadily increased the demand for transcription professionals.

Medical transcriptionists transcribe or type medical reports from doctors' dictation that document a patient's medical care and condition. These may include office chart notes, history and physical examinations, consultations, letters, memos, admission notes, emergency medicine reports, operative reports, discharge summaries, X-rays, pathology reports, and many laboratory tests and diagnostic studies.

Opportunities abound for full-time, part-time, and flexible work schedules in the medical transcription profession in employment settings such as medical centers, physicians' offices, hospitals, other health care facilities, and at-home employment.

The medical transcriptionist curricula consists of five components for approximately 200 hours of instruction, including medical terminology, introduction to anatomy and physiology of the human body, introduction to pharmacology, study of disease pro-cess, and medical transcription laboratory.

The program will run from June 16 through December 6. The medical transcription course will be held at Garrett College's McHenry campus, and the remaining courses will be held at the Northern Outreach Center in Grantsville.

For additional information about the training program, persons may contact Terry Beachy, director of the Garrett College Northern Outreach Center, at 301-895-4700, or by e-mail at terry.beachy@garrettcollege.edu.

Spotlight on Garrett County Non-Profits:

The Work They Do, The People They Serve

GARRETT MENTORS INC.

This column, sponsored by the GFWC Civic Club of Oakland, is one of a series of articles about local non-profit organizations. The purpose is to inform citizens about the services offered by the organizations, and to let them know the volunteer opportunities available within these groups.

What is Garrett Mentors Inc. ?

Garrett Mentors, Inc. (GMI) is a non-profit, school-based, one-on-one mentoring organization that serves children in grades kindergarten through fifth in Garrett County elementary schools.

GMI encourages caring adults to be mentors and to "inspire by example" as they meet weekly with their "study buddies." The focus is academics. The mentor is a stable adult figure who is a role model, friend, confidant, and helper. The mentor goes to the school on the day of his or her choice and spends one hour with the child. They have lunch together, work together on homework or a school project, play an educational game, or talk, all while developing a caring relationship.

The Study Buddies also share new experiences and develop a closer bond through planned activities throughout the year. These activities range from a fishing derby to attending a rehearsal of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.

The Volunteers

The mentors are all volunteers and come from all walks of life. They range in age from 24 to 84. They may work full-time or be retired.

"The volunteers all have two things in common: They love children and know the value of education," said Tricia Cheesman, director. "Most say that they get more out of the program than the children do. The mentor shares their knowledge and experiences and teaches skills needed to succeed in life. They help build confidence and self-esteem, and help the child to discover strengths and set goals to achieve dreams."

The Children

The children included in this program, the study buddies, are confidentially identified and referred to GMI by teachers, counselors, and school principals. These children often come from challenging home situations, Cheesman said. They all require a little extra attention.

Many improvements have been noted after a child participates in the program. School attendance, grades, and behavior are among those improvements noticed. Schools also report improved respect for teachers and peers, and an overall improved attitude for learning.

The children look forward to their special day and time with their mentor. Mentors and teachers agree that an hour a week does make a difference in a child's life. Students who have worked with a mentor have seldom been involved with discipline problems. No mentored students have needed to be academically retained.

The Organization

Garrett Mentors Inc. is supported by a very active board of directors led by president Ed Spurr. The board meets routinely and supports the director.

GMI depends on the kindness and generosity of the local community. The group holds two fundraisers each year: a Valentine's Day breakfast in February at the Southern Rescue Squad Hall, and a barn dance in September at Ridgeview Valley.

This year the barn dance, barbecue, and silent auction will be held on Saturday, Sept. 18.

Additional Volunteer Opportunities

GMI also has the support of Friends of Garrett Mentors. These volunteers help out with one or more of the children's out-of-school activities, or assist with one of the fundraisers. They are not expected to attend board meetings but are always welcome.

Currently GMI serves 81 children in nine schools. There are 19 children waiting for a caring adult to share an hour a week during the school year. GMI is interested in talking with persons who would like to mentor a child, be a friend, join the board, or make a tax-deductible contribution.

GMI is a member of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce and collaborates with Garrett County United Way.

Brenneman Couple's Woods' Edge Garden To Be On '10 MLGC Tour

The 10th annual Secret Country Gardens tour, sponsored by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club and slated for June 26, will include the Woods' Edge garden at the home of Marla and Don Brenneman. The property is located north of Bittinger.

Visitors will be welcomed to this new garden where the owners have worked to design their home and garden to be family friendly, a garden club spokesperson said. The Brennemans' property is one of six sites in this year's event. The other gardens are Twin Bridges Garden, property of Olen and Ruth Beitzel; Pathways Garden, Ron and Linda Kling; Windy Acres Garden, Rosie Cupler; and Hilltop Sanctuary Garden, Jack and Pat Orner.

Outdoor rooms at Woods' Edge are designed to bring family and friends together, the spokesperson said, with one area used for grilling and eating while a second area is for campfires and roasting marshmallows.

Incorporated in the garden are pathways, a porch swing, and a water feature that was designed with children in mind. Viewed as an extension of the Brennemans' woods, the main challenge of the garden has been diverting and managing surface water.

Plants used in this garden are the evergreen trees for their year-round interest, kousa dogwoods for their large, long-lasting blooms, and hydrangea for their use in arrangements. Stone walls accent the garden, along with the tumbled stone pavers on the patio and pathways and the water feature.

The Brennemans said they enjoy relaxing on their porch swing, from which they have a full view of the garden.

An herb planter raffle prize will be on display at the Brennemans' home during the tour, which will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The herb committee of the garden club filled the planter with an assortment of herbs that may be used for cooking, potpourri, or enjoyed for their fragrance and visual beauty. Lavender, thyme, sage, oregano, and dill are among some of the herbs included. The planter may be seen before the day of the tour at Julie's Greenhouse.

Tickets for the tour, which are $7 and include a short description of each garden, a map, and written directions, may be purchased in advance at the following locations: Gregg's Pharmacy, Jan Florist, Green Acres Garden Center, all of Oakland; Julie's Greenhouse; Nature's Own, McHenry; Annie's Restaurant, Accident; and Beachy's Pharmacy, Grantsville.

On the day of the tour, members of the Garrett County Historical Society will sell tickets at the Gazebo in Oakland. Proceeds from the tour will be used by the garden club for area beautification projects and public education of gardening and conservation practices. A portion of the proceeds will be donated to the Garrett County Historical Society and the Grantsville Museum.

For more information about the tour, persons may contact Kathy Long at 301-252-9917, or log on to www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

June Schedule Of Bloodmobile Is Announced

The American Red Cross bloodmobile will make five visits to Garrett County locations during the month of June.

The first is scheduled for this Friday, June 4, at the Oakland fire hall. Donors will be welcomed there from noon to 6 p.m.

Zion Lutheran Church in Accident will host the bloodmobile next Monday, June 7, from 1 to 6 p.m. The church is located at 209 N. Main Street (U.S. Rt. 219).

The third visit will be hosted by Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland on Monday, June 14, where donors are asked to respond from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Maryland Salem Children's Trust near Finzel (605 Salem Drive) will be the site of the fourth visit for June. Donors are asked to report there on Wednesday, June 23, between 9:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The final visit to the county will be hosted at the Deer Park fire hall along Maryland Highway (Rt. 135), also on Wednesday, June 23. Donors will be welcomed there between noon and 6 p.m.

Persons must be at least 17 years of age (16 in Maryland with parental consent), weigh at least 110 pounds, and be in generally good health to be eligible to donate blood. Donors may telephone 1-800-542-5863, ext. 2861, to register; however, walk-ins are welcome.

Those with questions about the ARC blood services program may telephone Edward Peterson, blood services director for the Western Potomac Chapter, at 301-722-1760, ext. 101.

SGRWC GATHER FOR MAY MEETING – The Southern Garrett County Republican Women's Club (SGRWC) recently held its May meeting, at which Republican candidates for the office of senator, delegate, county commissioner, clerk of courts, judges of orphans' court, and state's attorney were the featured speakers. A question and answer session followed comments by each candidate. Topics included the construction of large wind-powered generators in the county, the Maryland Dormant Minerals Statute, state and budgetary issues, and position job descriptions. The Club meets monthly, and new members are welcome. For more information, persons may call 301-387-4026. In the front row, from left, are Ernest Gregg, Sondra Buckel, Lisa Welch, and Delegate Wendell Beitzel. Back row: David Beard, Fred Holliday, Denny Glotfelty, Clifford DeWitt, James Margroff, and H. Wayne Wilt. Not pictured: Senator George Edwards.

State Park Programs

DEEP CREEK LAKE STATE PARK/ DISCOVERY CENTER

The following activities have been scheduled for this week at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Programs and center hours are subject to change without notice. All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067, or by visiting the web site: www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands/western/deepcreeklake.

Friday June 4

• 8 a.m. – Let's Go Birding. Participants will learn about local breeding birds with one of Garrett County's avid birders. Learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs while walking through Friend's Delight. Guests should bring binoculars and meet at the Friend's Store in Sang Run. (90 min.)

Saturday, June 5

• 11 a.m. – Black Bears and You. Naturalists will lead a hike along the Snakeroot Trail in search of black bears. Information about black bears and their habitat will be shared. Hikers may have the opportunity to see one. Participants must have proper hiking footwear. (90 min.)

• 1 p.m. – Wade In at the Beach. The staff at Deep Creek will kick off Lake Appreciation Month by joining the national wade-in at the beach. All are invited. (45 min.)

• 10 a.m.-4 p.m. – Historic Friends Store, now restored to its original appearance, located in Sang Run, open for business.

Sunday, June 6

• 11 a.m. – Birding 101. Learn birding basics with the naturalist: How to notice identifying marks in the field, basic calls, and the top 10 common birds. (1½ hr.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Aviary Encounter. Guests are invited to the aviary to see and learn about birds of prey. The birds will be perched, which will provide photo opportunities, so guests should bring cameras. (2 hr.)

• 10 a.m.-4 p.m. – Historic Friends Store, now restored to its original appearance, located in Sang Run, open for business.

Monday, June 7

• 10 a.m.-4 p.m. – Historic Friends Store, now restored to its original appearance, located in Sang Run, open for business.

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK

New Germany State Park is located at 349 Headquarters Lane, south of Grantsville. The office can be reached at 301-895-5453. All programs are free of charge unless otherwise indicated. This schedule is subject to change without notice. Persons are advised to contact the park office to confirm program information.

Friday, June 4

• 6-9 p.m. – Old Time Jam. Musicians and spectators of all ages are invited to gather at the Lake House to share traditional folk, bluegrass, and other "old time" Appalachian music. The jam session will be an informal gathering, where both new and experienced musicians are welcome to take part, or just listen.

Saturday, June 5

• 2-4 p.m. – Rockin' Adventure. Guests of all ages may join the naturalist at New Germany State Park beach for an exploration of the plants and animals found near the lake. The program will end with an opportunity to paint and decorate rocks to represent something included in the exploration.

• 4:30-5:30 p.m. – Nocturnal Novelty. Guests are invited to join the naturalist at the Schoolhouse Nature Center to learn about owls, and how they survive in darkness. Live specimens will be on display.

• 8:30-9:30 p.m. – All About Bats. Angela Sjollema of the Appalachian Lab will give a presentation about the bats of New Germany and the surrounding area. Meet in the Schoolhouse Nature Center.

Sunday, June 6

• 1-2 p.m. – Wild Dye. Persons age 3 and older are invited to meet in the Schoolhouse Nature Center with the naturalist to learn about natural dyes found in the outdoors. Participants will be able to purchase the dyes and a T-shirt for $2. Preregistration required for supply order.

Monday, June 7

• 1-4 p.m. – Nature Center Open House. The Schoolhouse Nature Center will be open and manned by the naturalist, who will be available to answer questions. Kids may complete a craft during their visit.

Junior Rangers Program Registration opens. New Germany will offer the Junior Rangers program this year, beginning on June 24. Registration begins on June 7. The program will consist of six one-hour sessions, 1 to 2 p.m., on Thursdays beginning June 24. The program costs $25 for the first child of a family, and $10 for each additional child. At the completion of the program, each child will receive a patch.

Wednesday, June 9

• 1-2:15 p.m. – Beach Safety Squad. Children age 3 to 12 are given a glimpse into the work of a lifeguard through this program. They will learn skills for helping someone in need. The program concludes with an award ceremony, in which participants will receive a certificate. Preregistration preferred.

Have You HEARD?
by M. Keith Nester, Sr., BC-HIS

Cathy A. Nester, HIS

AN INNER-EAR BYPASS

The ear is divided into three parts: The outer ear consists of the external ear and ear canal; the middle ear contains the eardrum and three small bones; and the inner ear includes the cochlea, three semi-circular canals, and one end of the auditory nerve (leading to the brain). In the complex inner ear, the cochlea is filled with fluid surrounding thousands of tiny hair cells (cilia) that translate vibrations into electrical currents that go to the brain. Those with severe sensorineural (nerve) hearing loss in both ears that doesn't improve with traditional hearing instruments might consider a cochlear implant. This serves as an "inner-ear bypass" that takes sound from the outside world and transmits it to the auditory nerve.

Although you might suspect that you need help with your hearing, you may not be aware of the different modes of treatment, hearing instruments, and other hearing enhancement devices that are available today. It takes the knowledge, experience, and dedication of a hearing specialist to accurately assess an individual's hearing loss and then match and custom-fit that individual with the most appropriate hearing aid. We care about your hearing abilities at AUDIBEL.

P.S. A cochlear implant has an external microphone which picks up and transmits sound to a receiver implanted in the skull that relays electrical impulses to electrodes connected to the auditory nerve.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

Trustee's Sale of valuable fee simple property improved by premises known as 520 CRAB RUN RD., Grantsville, MD 21536. By virtue of the power and authority contained in a Deed of Trust from COSTAS BENJAMIN CHLOROS, dated December 28, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1277 at Page 0591 among the land records of the COUNTY OF GARRETT, in the original principal amount of $190,800.00 with an interest rate of 8.19%. Upon default and request for sale, the undersigned trustees will offer for sale at public auction at the front of the Courthouse for the COUNTY OF GARRETT, 203 S. 4th Street, Oakland, Maryland , on all that property described in said Deed of Trust including but not limited to:

June 16, 2010, at 5:06 p.m.

Lot 1, Eby Subdivision containing 3.2400 acres, more or less, as shown on the plat attached to the deed of conveyance. Being the same property that was conveyed to the herein Mortgagor from Alma Ann Eby and Dale Robert Eby, Personal Representatives of the Estate of Paul A. Maust, by deed of even date herewith and recorded or intended to be recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

Said property is in fee simple and is improved by a dwelling and is sold in "as is condition" and subject to all superior covenants, conditions, liens, restrictions, easement, rights-of-way, as may affect same, if any.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $19,100.00 cash or certified funds shall be required at the time of sale. The balance of the purchase price with interest at 8.19% per annum from the date of sale to the date of payment will be paid within TEN DAYS after the final ratification of the sale. Adjustments on all taxes, public charges and special or regular assessments will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by purchaser. If applicable, condominium and/or homeowner association dues and assessments that may become due after the time of sale will be the responsibility of the purchaser. Title examination, conveyancing, state revenue stamps, transfer taxes, title insurance, and all other costs incident to settlement are to be paid by the purchaser. Time is of the essence for the purchaser, otherwise the deposit will be forfeited and the property may be resold at risk and costs of the defaulting purchaser. If the sale is not ratified or if the Substitute Trustees are unable to convey marketable title in accord with these terms of sale, the purchaser's only remedy is return of the deposit. SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE
OAKLAND, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Toi Elizabeth Elliott dated September 29, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1256, Folio 0390 among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, with an original principal balance of $165,000.00, and an original interest rate of 6.875, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Substitute Trustees will sell at public auction at the Courthouse door for the Circuit Court for Garrett County, on June 4, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND and the improvements thereon situated in Garrett County, MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust. The property is improved by a dwelling.

The property will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting same, if any and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $16,000.00 by cash or certified funds is required at the time of auction. Balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days of final ratification of sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Interest to be paid on the unpaid purchase money at the note rate from the date of foreclosure auction to the date funds are received in the office of the Substitute Trustees. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. Real estate taxes to be adjusted as of the date of foreclosure auction. All other public charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, condo/HOA dues, whether incurred prior to or after the foreclosure auction, and all other costs incident to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be borne by the purchaser. Purchaser shall be responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property. Purchaser assumes the risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of foreclosure auction forward. Purchaser agrees to pay to the Sellers' attorneys at settlement, a fee of $295.00 for review of the settlement documents, and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

If the purchaser shall fail to comply with the terms of the sale or fails to go to settlement within ten days of ratification of the sale, the Substitute Trustees may, in addition to any other available legal remedies, declare the entire deposit forfeited and resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser, in which case the purchaser agrees to pay attorneys fees of $1,250.00, plus costs, to the Trustees. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of foreclosure auction. In such event, the defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of resale, reasonable attorney's fees, and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. The purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds or profits resulting from any resale of the property. If the Substitute Trustees cannot convey insurable title, the purchaser's sole remedy at law or in equity shall be the return of the deposit. The sale is subject to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest.

The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $6,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL PROPERTY
KNOWN AS NO. 676 HICKORY RIDGE ROAD
Accident, MD 21520

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Patricia V. Boehl to B. George Ballman, Trustee(s), dated August 26, 2004, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County in Liber No. 1063, folio 467, and Declaration of Substitution of Trustees dated December 17, 2009, and recorded among the aforementioned Land Records substituting Thomas P. Dore, Mark S. Devan, Kristen K. Haskins, Gerard F. Miles Jr.,and Shannon Menapace as Substituted Trustees under the Deed of Trust aforesaid, US Bank National Association, as Trustee for WFMBS 2004-W being the current holder of the Note(s) secured thereby, and default having occurred under the terms thereof, the undersigned Substituted Trustees will offer for sale at public auction, at the Courthouse Door, Alder Street entrance, Oakland, Maryland, on Monday, June 14, 2010, at 3:45 p.m.

All that lot of ground and the improvements thereon situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, as described in the Deed of Trust dated August 26, 2004, and recorded among the land records of Garrett County, in Liber 1063, folio 467, also being further described in a Deed dated June 6, 2003 and recorded among the land records of Garrett County in Liber 973, folio 697. The improvements thereon consist of a dwelling.

The property will be sold in "AS IS" condition, subject to any existing building violations, restrictions and agreements of record. Neither the Substituted Trustees nor their respective agents, successors or assigns make any representations or warranties, either expressed or implied with respect to the property. The Substituted Trustees shall convey insurable title.

TERMS OF THE SALE: A deposit in a form acceptable to the Substituted Trustee in the amount of $12,600.00 will be required of the purchaser other than the Holder of the Note or its assigns at the time and place of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid immediately with available funds within twenty (20) days of the final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County. Time is of the essence. The purchaser, other than the Holder of the Note and its assigns, shall pay interest at the rate of 5.50000% per annum on the unpaid portion of the purchase price from the date of sale to date of settlement. In the event settlement is delayed for any reason, there shall be no abatement of interest. If the purchaser defaults, the entire deposit is forfeited. The Substituted Trustees shall resell the property at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulting purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency in the purchase price, all costs and expenses of both sales, attorney fees and all other charges due and incidental and consequential damages. All taxes, water/sewer charges and condo/HOA dues, shall be adjusted to the date of sale. Ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale shall be paid by purchaser. All other public charges and assessments payable on an annual basis shall be adjusted for the current year to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes shall be paid by the purchaser. Purchaser shall have the responsibility of obtaining possession of the property. In the event the Substituted Trustees do not convey title for any reason, purchaser's sole remedy is return of the deposit. The Substituted Trustees shall have the right to terminate this contract in the event the holder or its servicer has entered into any agreement with or accepted funds from the mortgagor. Upon termination of the contract, Purchaser's sole remedy shall be return of the deposit. Purchaser agrees to pay a deed preparation and document review fee of $350.00 to the Seller's attorney. An additional fee of $250.00 shall be paid to the seller's attorney by purchaser in connection with the review of any motion to substitute a purchaser.

MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT

Notice of Intent to Revise Established Low pH Total Maximum Daily Loads for Georges Creek and Savage River, Allegany and Garrett Counties, Maryland

Section 303(d) of the federal Clean Water Act requires Maryland to: (1) identify waters, known as water quality limited segments (WQLSs), where technology-based effluent limitations and other required controls cannot achieve water quality standards; (2) for each listed water, establish Total Maximum Daily Loads (TMDLs) for pollutants preventing the attainment of water quality standards; and (3) offer an opportunity for public review and comment on the proposed TMDLs.

The TMDL available for public review is a revision of a previously approved TMDL. In the revision to the TMDL, discharges from the incorporation of two additional mining operations will increase flow and iron loading into the system without causing a violation of the pH water quality standard. Permit requirements ensure that discharges from these facilities do not violate pH water quality. Even though the iron loading associated with these facilities will increase the TMDL and WLA, for the streams in which they discharge, it will not result in any changes to the pH.

The TMDL sets the maximum load limit for the impairing substance. The TMDL also reflects load allocations to point sources, nonpoint sources and a margin of safety that accounts for uncertainty in the procedures used to estimate the TMDLs. Once established by the State, the TMDLs will be subject to approval by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The established TMDLs will support measures needed to attain water quality standards in the identified watersheds.

OPPORTUNITY FOR PUBLIC REVIEW AND COMMENT

A 30-day public comment period for the draft document listed above will take place from June 4, 2010 to July 6, 2010. Copies of the draft document have been placed in Grantsville Branch of the Ruth Enlow Garrett County Library (102 Parkside Dr., Grantsville, MD 21536, 301-895-5298). The draft document is also available on the internet at web site http://www.mde.state.md.us/TMDL or by contacting Ms. Melissa Chatham by mail at MDE/SSA, 1800 Washington Boulevard, Suite 540, Baltimore MD 21230-1718, or by telephone at 410-537-3937 (outside the Baltimore area, dial 1-800-633-6106, x3937). Anyone wishing to review the draft document and supporting information or needing technical information may contact Ms. Chatham during normal business hours.

Written comments concerning the draft document may be submitted to the Department on or before July 6, 2010 and should be sent to Ms. Chatham at the above address or emailed to mchatham@mde.state.md.us. If the Department determines there is sufficient interest, a public hearing on this matter may be held. All comments received during the comment period will be considered and the draft document may be revised accordingly prior to its submittal to EPA for approval. 6/3-10(2)

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEES' SALE OF IMPROVED REAL PROPERTY
525 Skippers Point Rd.
Oakland, MD 21550

Under a power of sale contained in a certain Deed of Trust from Scott J. Toelle and Carol J. Snyder dated June 30, 2006, and recorded in Liber 1234, Folio 92 among the Land Records of Garrett Co., MD, with an original principal balance of $650,000.00 and an original interest rate of 4.7090% default having occurred under the terms thereof, the Sub. Trustees will sell at public auction at the Circuit Court for Garrett Co., located at 203 S. 4th St., Oakland, MD, at the East Alder St. entrance, on June 7, 2010, at 1:00 p.m.

ALL THAT FEE-SIMPLE LOT OF GROUND, together with the buildings and improvements thereon situated in Garrett Co., MD, and more fully described in the aforesaid Deed of Trust.

The property, which is improved by a dwelling, will be sold in an "as is" condition and subject to conditions, restrictions and agreements of record affecting the same, if any, and with no warranty of any kind.

Terms of Sale: A deposit of $77,000 in cash, cashier's check or certified check is required at time of sale. Balance of the purchase price, together with interest on the unpaid purchase money at the current rate contained in the Deed of Trust Note from the date of sale to the date funds are received by the Trustees, payable in cash within ten days of final ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court. There will be no abatement of interest due from the purchaser in the event additional funds are tendered before settlement or if settlement is delayed for any reason. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURCHASER. Adjustment of current year real property taxes will be made as of the date of sale and thereafter assumed by the purchaser. All past due property taxes paid by the purchaser. All other public and/or private charges or assessments, including water/sewer charges, ground rent, whether incurred prior to or after the sale, and all other costs incidental to settlement to be paid by the purchaser. All transfer taxes and settlement expenses shall be paid by the Purchaser. Purchaser shall pay all applicable agricultural tax, if any. Purchaser is responsible for obtaining physical possession of the property, and assumes risk of loss or damage to the property from the date of sale. If ratification or settlement is delayed for any reason there shall be no abatement of interest. The sale is subject to post-sale audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, this sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of the deposit without interest. If Purchaser fails to settle within ten days of ratification, he agrees to pay, attorneys' fees in the amount of $750.00, plus costs, if the Trustees have moved to resell the property. Purchaser waives personal service of any paper filed in connection with such a motion on himself and/or any principal or corporate designee, and expressly agrees to accept service of any such paper by regular mail directed to the address provided by said bidder at the time of the sale. If Purchaser defaults under these terms, deposit shall be forfeited. The Trustees may then resell the property at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The defaulted purchaser shall not be entitled to any surplus proceeds resulting from said resale even if such surplus results from improvements to the property by said defaulted purchaser. If Trustees are unable to convey either insurable or marketable title, or if the sale is not ratified by the Circuit Court for any reason, the Purchaser's sole remedy, at law or equity, is the return of the deposit without interest. Purchaser agrees to pay $295.00 at settlement to the Seller's attorney for review of the settlement documents and an additional fee of $295.00 for review of any motion which may be subsequently filed with the Court to substitute a purchaser herein.

Man Sentenced to Three Years For Theft Scheme 1K To Under 10K

A McHenry man was sentenced to three years by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert in District Court at a recent Garrett County district court hearing. Delmas George Sines, 63, was found guilty of theft scheme $1,000 to under $10,000. Two years, 11 months, and 17 days of that sentence was suspended, and Sines was sentenced to two years supervised probation and is ordered to pay restitution of $4,400 to the victim through the Department of Parole and Probation.

Charges stem from an incident that occurred in January and February of this year. Sines was asked by a neighbor to take care of her home while she was away, as she is sometimes gone for eight months of the year. He was to check her mail and attend to any problems at the residence.

Sines had apparently stolen a checkbook from the neighbor's home and written a total of 12 checks made out to himself, each in amounts of hundreds of dollars over a period of two months. The victim, after noticing a decline in funds, contacted the bank and discovered the checks had been fraudulently made out to and cashed by Sines. When confronted by Maryland State Police, Sines admitted to the crime.

In other court news, Shannon Lashae Bivens, 19, Frostburg, was found guilty of second degree assault and sentenced to 90 days with 90 suspended. She was also ordered to one year of unsupervised probation and fined $57.50. She was not prosecuted on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

The charges stem from a February incident in which Bivens threw a stack of plates at a female victim while in the cafeteria of Salem School, Frostburg, (Garrett County). Both she and the victim were students at the time. The victim suffered a chipped tooth, two small cuts on her eye, a deep cut in her upper lip, and a small cut on her nose. She required four stitches for her injuries. Maryland State Police were the arresting officers.

Michael Witt, 35, Cumberland, was found guilty of second degree assault stemming from an incident in June 2009. He was sentenced to five days and fined $57.50. Witt reportedly struck a 5-year-old child in the face with his hand. He was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Tahir Atiba Henriques, 31, Morgantown, W.Va., was given probation before judgment (PBJ) on operating an unregistered vehicle, and driving a motor vehicle on a highway on a suspended license. He was sentenced to 30 days with 30 suspended, given two years of unsupervised probation, and fined $332.00. Charges stem from a July 2005 traffic stop on I-68 by Maryland State Police.

Henriques was not prosecuted on charges of possession of marijuana, displaying plates of another vehicle, unauthorized display and use of registration, driving without current tags, failure to display registration card on demand, display of expired tags, and failure to display license on demand.

Amber Marie Barnhouse, 18, Kitzmiller, was given a PBJ verdict on a marijuana possession charge. She was sentenced to 30 days, with 30 suspended, and one year of unsupervised probation, and fined $100. Charges stem from a search and seizure executed by the Garrett County Narcotic Task Force and Garrett County sheriff's deputies at her residence.

John Douglas Jordan, 19, Gambier, Ohio, was given a PBJ verdict on charges of driving in excess of the posted speed limit, with one day of unsupervised probation. He was also fined $125.50. He was given a stet verdict on possession of marijuana and possession of CDS paraphernalia. His charges stem from a February traffic stop by Maryland State Police that occurred on I-68.

Marty Lee Shroyer, 31, Frackville, Pa., was not prosecuted on five counts of first-degree assault, five counts of second-degree assault, five counts of armed robbery, five counts of robbery, one count of theft less than $500, and two counts of theft $500 plus value. Charges stem from several armed robberies that occurred in the Grantsville area in May and June of 2008. Maryland State Police were the investigating officers.

Robert Lee Bates, 58, Milton, Va., was not prosecuted on charges of fourth-degree burglary and trespassing. Charges stem from an incident investigated by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office in February.

Holly Denea Hershman, 23, Oakland, was found not guilty of second-degree assault. Charges stem from a domestic incident investigated by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in February.

DUI/DWI HEARINGS

Michael Wayne Green, 50, Maryland, was found guilty of DWI and sentenced to six months with five months and 26 days suspended, 18 months of unsupervised probation, and $57.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DUI per se charges. He was charged following a Dec 2009 traffic stop by Maryland State Police.

Shannon Marie Stieringer, 30, West Virginia, was found guilty of driving while impaired. She was sentenced to 30 days with 30 days suspended, one year of unsupervised probation, and $257.50 in fines. She was not prosecuted on charges of driving under the influence and DUI per se. Charges stem from an April traffic stop by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

Kelly Ann Kennedy, 42, was found guilty of DWI and sentenced to 30 days with 28 suspended, 18 months of unsupervised probation, and $157.50 in fines. She was not prosecuted on a DUI charge. She was charged following a February traffic stop by MSP.

Bryan Patrick Moran, 21, Maryland, was found guilty of DWI and sentenced to 30 days with 30 days suspended, 18 months of unsupervised probation, and $257.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on a DWI charge. Charges stem from a January traffic stop by MSP.

HERB PLANTER TO BE RAFFLE PRIZE OF GARDEN TOUR – An herb planter will be raffled off during the 10th annual Secret Country Gardens Tour sponsored by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club. The tour will be held on Saturday, June 26, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The raffle prize is a weathered wood and grapevine planter that was "recycled" and donated by the herb committee of the garden club. Julie Bolyard, member of that committee, donated a variety of herbs for the planter, including basil, dill, rosemary, and lemon grass. The planter is currently display at Julie's Greenhouse, located along Route 219 north of Oakland, and will be located at Marla and Don Brenneman's Wood' Edge Garden on the day of the tour. In addition to the Brennemans' property, the gardens on the tour this year are those of Olen and Ruth Beitzel, Ron and Linda Kling, Rosie Cupler, and Jack and Pat Orner. Directional signs will be placed near the gardens and balloons will indicate each garden. Tickets for the tour, which are $7 and include a short description of each garden, a map, and written directions, may be purchased in advance at the following locations: Gregg's Pharmacy, Jan Florist, Green Acres Garden Center, all of Oakland; Julie's Greenhouse; Nature's Own, McHenry; Annie's Restaurant, Accident; and Beachy's Pharmacy, Grantsville. On the day of the tour, members of the Garrett County Historical Society will sell tickets at the Gazebo in Oakland. Proceeds from the tour will be used by the garden club for the area beautification projects and public education of gardening and conservation practices. A portion of the proceeds will be donated to the Garrett County Historical Society and the Grantsville Museum. For more information about the tour, persons may contact Kathy Long at 301-252-9917, or log on to www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

ANOTHER CLASS BIDS FAREWELL – The Garrett County high school classes of 2010 were ceremoniously promoted to graduate status on Sunday, with approximately 330 young people accepting diplomas in commencement exercises held at Northern and Southern high schools. The weather preempted outdoor ceremonies at both schools, so the events were held in the gymnasiums. In the photo above left, Northern senior Charlie "Chaz" Custer receives his diploma from Dr. Wendell Teets. (Photo by Art Hanlin.) In the background are Paul C. Edwards and Principal Gary L. Reichenbecher. At right is Kathryne ("Katie") Gindlesberger, obviously happy to be receiving her diploma from Dr. Teets. (Photo by John McEwen.) A special graduate section is included in today's issue of The Republican. To see all photo coverage of Sunday's ceremonies, persons may go to www.therepublicannews.com and click on the blue button on the home page. Wind Turbine Company Pays MDE $12,670

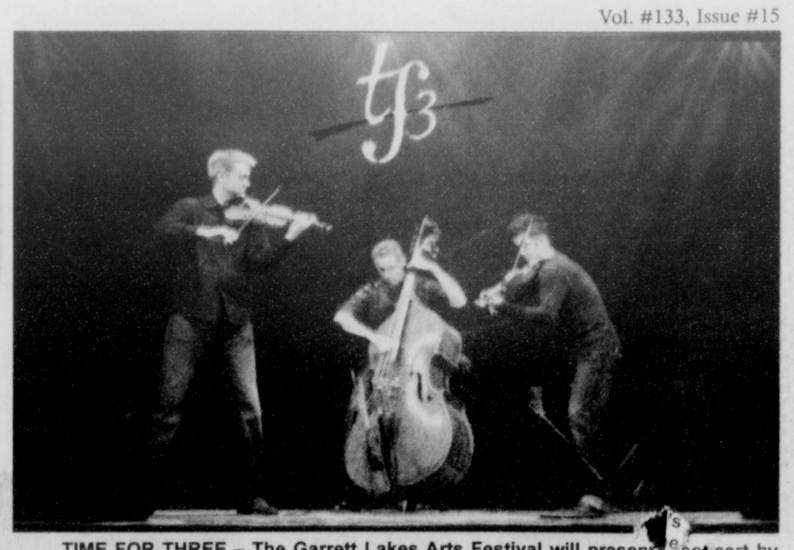
The Maryland Department of Environment announced yesterday that 40 enforcement actions were taken recently for alleged violations of water, air, and land regulations.

Among those fined was Constellation Energy, which recently began preparation work to construct 28 wind turbines along Backbone Mountain in the Eagle Rock area.

Constellation Energy paid $12,670 to the MDE's Sediment Fund, in addition to corrective actions already taken, to resolve alleged sediment control and discharge permit violations at the turbine project's electrical substation. The payment was made on May 3, according to MDE.

"The Maryland Department of the Environment's top priority is to protect public health and our environment, and a consistent baseline of enforcement actions prevents further pollution and risks to public health," said MDE Secretary Shari Wilson. "The vast majority of Maryland businesses, which strive to maintain compliance, deserve to have environmental laws fairly applied across the board."



TIME FOR THREE – The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival will present a concert by the string trio Time for Three on Saturday, June 19, at the Lodge at Wisp Resort in McHenry. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. Time for Three is described as a "category-shattering" group going beyond traditional classification and combining elements of classical, country western, gypsy, and jazz in their music. See the story on today's arts page for further information. See story on today's Art;s section.

Search Successful For Man Lost In Savage Forest

A 72-year-old Piedmont, W.Va., man was located alive and in good condition in the Savage River State Forest by searchers on Sunday, June 6, at 8:30 p.m., according to a report from The Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP).

James Lewis Alt had been missing since June 5, at 4 p.m. when he failed to return to the vehicle after he had been hunting for ginseng on state forest property. He was located approximately one mile from where he was last seen and 1½ miles from the nearest road. Alt was suffering from back pain and dehydration. He was removed from the location by a wheeled stokes basket.

Alt and two other companions separated from each other at 11 a.m. on Saturday in the area of Savage River Road. The group was to meet back at the vehicle at 4 p.m., but Alt failed to return at that time. Alt was reported missing at 8 p.m.

The search continued for Alt throughout the night. The NRP Search Support Unit coordinated the search. The following organizations assisted in the search: NRP K-9, Maryland Park Service, Maryland Forest Service, Appalachian Search and Rescue Conference, Mid Atlantic Search Dogs, Mountain Rescue Group, Horse Base Search Group (Trot-SAR), Potomac Valley SAR, and Bloomington Volunteer Fire Department.

A total of 65 searchers looked through 6,000 acres of steep terrain and heavily wooded forest on foot and on horseback. An NRP spokesperson expressed his appreciation to the following organizations

"Wounded Warriors" Participate In Rendezvous, Whitewater Festival

Garrett County played host to more than 92 U.S. veterans, family members, and coaches convening for the second annual Team River Runner Rendezvous during Memorial Day weekend.

Team River Runner (TRR) is a Wounded Warrior organization that introduces injured veterans to whitewater kayaking as a form of therapy and rehabilitation. The organization has adopted the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI) as its official retreat and training center.

Since 2008, TRR members have been coming to ASCI to paddle Olympic caliber whitewater on the only artificial course of its kind that is ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) accessible – a central attraction for the TRR athletes, many of whom have chronically injured or lost limbs.

Organized by a local businesswoman and the owner of Oakland Curves, Suzanne Nicolas, the Rendezvous grew from 25 participants in 2009 to more than 90 this year, and may increase more as larger numbers of veterans learn about Deep Creek Lake and its setting for adventure sports and therapeutic recreation.

"Even with the busy Memorial Day weekend, Garrett County businesses, veterans organizations and other nonprofits stepped up to make it an outstanding experience," Nicolas said.

More than $10,000 in cash, services and products were donated, and some donors are now looking at expanding the opportunities for injured veterans to retreat, recreate and recover in Garrett County.

"Volunteers felt honored to help and give back something to these brave men and women, and many want to find other ways to bring them back to Garrett County and experience our great hospitality," Nicolas said.

The 2010 Rendezvous weekend started with a pig roast on Friday, organized by the barbecue chefs of Pawn Run. Friday also included "Sunset Rafting" in the early evening and was the first "Community Day" of rafting at ASCI (weekly discounted rafting throughout the summer).

Earlier on Friday, over 180 Southern Middle School students, teachers, and parents rafted as part of Community Day and as fulfillment of Southern's Adventure Sports Incentive Program.

Students also met with veterans to learn about their challenges and accomplishments following traumatic wartime experiences. TRR athletes Ben Brown, Brandon Huff, and April Schrock told the students about the special adaptations TRR

Beach Blast '10 To Be Held At DCL State Park

This year's "Play Hard. Live Clean." Beach Blast is scheduled for Thursday, June 17, at Deep Creek Lake State Park. This free event is open to Garrett County residents completing sixth grade through age 20.

The Beach Blast will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. All activities are free and available only to participants who are registered with a completed registration form, including parent signature. Participants must display a Beach Blast flyer in the vehicle's front window when entering the park or a $3 per person park admission fee will apply.

Registration packets may be picked up and dropped off at the Garrett County Health Department in Room 206. The registration packet, including the registration form and the various activity participation forms, is also available online at www.garretthealth.org and on the "Play Hard. Live Clean." Facebook page.

"It is important to be thorough when filling out the registration packet, because students will not be allowed to participate in certain activities unless the appropriate form is signed by a parent," said Beach Blast organizer Venessa Stacy, Garrett County Health Department.

Pa. Man Arrested On Numerous Sex Offense Charges

Investigators with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office arrested a Pennsylvania man Wednesday on numerous sexual offenses involving a minor.

Nathan John Johnston, 26, Markleysburg, reportedly had inappropriate sexual contact with a minor in the Friendsville area over the Memorial Day weekend. He is charged with sexual abuse of a minor, third- and fourth-degree sexual offense, perverted practice, second-degree assault, contributing to certain conditions of a minor, and furnishing alcohol to a mi-

Accident Man Sentenced To Three Years

A 44-year-old Accident man pleaded guilty in Garrett County Circuit Court on Tuesday to a reckless endangerment charge. Related charges against Glenn Lee Green Jr. were dismissed upon his plea.

Judge Jim Sherbin sentenced him to three years in the Division of Corrections and suspended all but six months of the sentence.

Green will be on probation upon his release from the Garrett County Jail, with conditions that include the payment of fines, costs, and restitution for medical bills totaling more than $1,400.

Green was arrested by Maryland State Police who investigated an assault in the Grantsville area in January. The victim reported an encounter in a parking lot during which Green had struck him in the torso, arms and head with a metal pipe. Witnesses confirmed the story, and Green was

W.Va. Driver Taken To GCMH After Two-Vehicle Wreck

A Swanton woman was cited after Oakland Police investigated an accident at the main entrance to Wal-Mart on Tuesday.

It was revealed that Lois Jean Layton, 82, operating a Nissan pickup truck, had failed to stop for a red light. She struck a 2008 Mercury driven by Jo Ann Morton, 83, Terra Alta, W.Va. Morton claimed that she was making a left-hand turn out of Wal-Mart and that her breaks failed after she was struck, sending her vehicle into the creek near Team One.

Morton was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Rescue Squad. Oakland Volunteer Fire Department responded to the 1:30 scene to assist in releasing her from her vehicle.

Layton was cited for failure to stop at a steady red signal.

OVFD Chief Notes Fire Department Telephone Scam

There is a telephone scam occurring in Garrett County, according to Oakland Volunteer Fire Department chief John Feather, who reported this morning that he has received some telephone calls from would-be victims.

According to Feather, the caller claims to be raising money for the "local fire department," and in that process attempts to secure credit card numbers of the intended victims.

"The Oakland VFD never raises funds in that manner, and I think I speak for every other fire department in the county," said Feather.

Also an employee of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, Feather ran a check on the telephone number of the caller and discovered that it is an unlisted number somewhere in Michigan.

Persons are advised to simply hang up if they receive such calls asking for credit card or bank account information.

VARIOUS BRANCHES OF THE U.S. MILITARY were well represented during the "Veterans Procession," one of the many highlights of the All-American Whitewater Festival, which took place at the Adventure Sports Center International during Memorial Day weekend. Led by local bagpiper Jerry McGee and the Southern High School Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps Color Guard, the parade included members of Team River Runner, a Wounded Warrior organization. In the front is TRR member Ben Brown (No. 44), a U.S. Navy veteran. Garrett County hosted numerous veterans, their family members, and coaches during the team's 2010 Rendezvous weekend. See story. FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION SIGNED – The Flag on Mountain Maryland Foundation was present at the signing of a Flag Day proclamation by the Garrett County commissioners on Tuesday, June 1. This is the first year of the issuance of a proclamation, which commemorates the 60th anniversary of the start of the Korean War, and the 65th and 35th year anniversaries of the ending of World War II and the Vietnam War. June 14 is the anniversary of the official adoption of the American flag by the Continental Congress in 1777. Flag Day is an annual observance in the United States to celebrate the national flag. Garrett County's celebration is sponsored by the local community and with assistance from the American Flag Foundation. The theme for this year's Flag on Mountain Maryland program is "Honoring the Korean War Veterans." The program will be held at the Wisp on Monday, June 14, at 6 p.m. Pictured above, seated, are Commissioners Dennis Glotfelty and Fred Holliday; standing are Cathy Menker, Richard Friend, Beverly Beard, Rob Heilig, Sheila Shaffer, and George and Barbara Gaffney.

Wendell Beitzel Running Again For Md. House

Del. Wendell R. Beitzel announced Tuesday that he has filed all of the necessary paperwork with the Maryland State Board of Elections to become a candidate for the office of Delegate for District 1A.

"I have been honored to serve the people of Garrett and Allegany counties for the past three years," stated Beitzel. "Though we've done a lot, there is a real need to keep a qualified and experienced leader in the District 1 delegate position to provide the best representation possible for western Maryland."

Beitzel noted that, in addition to his current position as delegate, he has a long record of service to the people of Garrett County. He is a former Garrett County commissioner and worked for many years as administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District

Beitzel is a native of Garrett County and attended school in Accident and at Northern High School. He obtained a bachelor's degree in biology from Fairmont State College, and earned two master's degrees, in management and in business administration, from Frostburg State College.

"I firmly believe that a quality education is the key to success in today's competitive business environmental and international competition as well as positioning oneself for service in institutional settings and government service," Beitzel said.

He and his wife Ruth reside along Rock Lodge Road near Accident. They owned and operated numerous businesses in Garrett County, including the Starlite Motel, the Point View Inn Restaurant and Motel, and the Accident Bakery.

Ruth Beitzel also serves as a member of the Garrett County Planning Commission and the Garrett County Commission for Women.

The Beitzels have two children, Christopher Beitzel and Tanya Schwinabart, and two grandchildren, Max and Galee. Wendell is a lifelong member of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Accident.

Beitzel, who began his tenure as a member of the House Health and Government Operations Committee in 2007, is now a member of the House Appropriations Committee, where he is also assigned to the Transportation and Environment Subcommittee.

As a member of the Health and Government Operations Committee, Beitzel worked with the committee's chairman to secure a subsidy in 2007 to alleviate the increased cost of medical malpractice insurance for Garrett County's doctors who deliver babies. Work is ongoing to seek a long-term solution for this problem, the delegate said.

Beitzel also noted that he took the lead against a proposal to place wind turbines on state property. He has since sponsored legislation that would impose development standards for commercial wind turbines in Garrett and Allegany counties as well as for Maryland.

"I am proud to call Garrett County my home," Beitzel said. "As such, we cannot simply give blanket approval to wind turbine development without consideration of possible negative environmental impacts and harm to neighboring properties."

Beitzel said he has also stood up for gun rights in Maryland. He spoke several times during debate on legislation that would limit gun ownership.

"Though well intentioned, the practical effects of gun control legislation would lead to a deterioration of every Marylanders' Second Amendment rights," Beitzel said.

He has also been appointed by his peers to be the House co-chair of the Maryland Sportsmen's Caucus, a bipartisan group representing fishing, hunting, and trapping interests in Maryland.

"The Sportsmen's Caucus supports strict enforcement of Maryland conservation laws to protect our valued natural resources, promotion of lawful hunting and fishing practices, protection of gun ownership and Second Amendment rights, and defense of the sportsmen's hunting, fishing, and trapping privileges," Beitzel said.

He noted that hunting opportunities have been protected and expanded as a result of his work as a delegate. He introduced the "Share the Bear" bill to counter efforts from anti-hunting advocates from other parts of the state to eliminate bear hunting in western Maryland.

Beitzel said he has vigorously opposed all efforts of the governor to abolish the Maryland-produced and utilized coal tax credit. Even though the governor and his administration have sought to take away the coal tax credit during the budget process in the last two sessions, Beitzel said his efforts and work on the Appropriations Committee were instrumental in retaining the tax credit for the Maryland coal industry and coal fired electricity generating facilities that utilize Maryland-produced coal

Beitzel is a House member of the Veterans Caucus, which defends and promotes veterans issues and privileges. He is a veteran, with military service in the U.S. Army during the Vietnam War. He was stationed in Germany with the 485th Preventive Medicine Unit in the 7th Medical Brigade of the 7th Army. He is a member of the Vietnam Veterans of America, Chapter No. 172 in Cumberland.

He is also a member of the Rural Maryland Caucus, which represents the cultural, educational, health, and social interests of the rural areas, and agricultural communities in the state. He is also a member of the Western Maryland Delegation and Garrett County Farm Bureau.

Beitzel has been active in community, civic, and professional organizations his entire adult career. He is a member of the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club and former member of the Deep Creek Lions and a member of the Oakland American Legion, Post 71, and the Oakland Lodge of the Fraternal Order of the Elks.

Beitzel said he has a strong record of service in the business community as past president and board member of the Deep Creek Lake–Garrett County Promotion Council, is a founding member and member of the board of directors of the Deep Creek Business Association, and is a member of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce. He also served on the board of directors of the former Garrett National Bank, the American Trust Bank, and Keystone Bank advisory board.

He currently represents the Maryland House of Delegates on the Maryland Tourism Development Board, is a member of the Upper Potomac River Commission – which oversees the operation of the Savage River Dam and the UPRC wastewater treatment plant in Westernport – and is on the Deep Creek Lake Policy and Review Board, for which he was instrumental in the creation of, when he was a Garrett County commissioner.

"By currently serving in the Maryland House of Delegates I have demonstrated that I am dedicated, qualified, capable, and work hard at doing the job," Beitzel said. "As we enter a new and unprecedented time, we must remember that western Maryland's future will be determined by those with the vision and resolve to make a personal sacrifice to defend their beliefs and advance their principles.

"During the term of my service in the Maryland House of Delegates I have developed good relationships with other delegates and with leadership on both sides of the aisle, with Senate members and with the administration," Beitzel continued. "You truly need to set aside politics and work together in order to get anything accomplished in Annapolis, especially when there are very few legislators in the General Assembly from western Maryland."

Beitzel concluded by stating, "Based on my experience and proven record of effective leadership, I am asking for and counting on the voters in District 1A to return me to office for another term."

A 33-year-old McHenry man pleaded guilty in Garrett County Circuit Court on Monday to possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS)–not marijuana (oxycodone) and to possession of marijuana.

Judge Jim Sherbin then sentenced Craig Steven Hensley, 33, to two years in the Division of Corrections, with all but 60 days suspended for the oxycodone charge and to a consecutive 30 days for the marijuana charge. He will be on probation upon his release and must pay the $385 costs of the case.

Hensley was arrested and charged in February, after officers with the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force executed a search and seizure warrant at his residence, then in Loch Lynn. Hensley was present in the residence when the search was conducted, and officers located a quantity of oxycodone pills and various small quantities of marijuana that were associated with Hensley, according to the state's attorney.

In an unrelated case, Todd Douglas Wagner, 38, McHenry, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence (DUI) of alcohol per se. Sherbin sentenced him to one year in the Garrett County Jail and suspended all but 10 days of the sentence.

He was also placed on probation and ordered to pay $395 in fines and costs.

Wagner was arrested in November 2009 after Maryland State Police troopers observed him driving in the McHenry area and followed him on suspicions that his license was suspended.

Wagner was contacted after he parked his vehicle, and the status of his license was confirmed. Troopers observed his condition and conducted field sobriety tests that led to his arrest. With his breath alcohol test reading of .13, he was charged with the per se violation, the state's attorney said.

A second DUI offense involving Wagner, for events that occurred in September 2009, was placed on the stet docket, with the condition that Wagner successfully complete his term of probation, including abstinence and alcohol treatment, according to the state's attorney.

In other Circuit Court proceedings this week, Samantha Brocai Myers, 29, Mont Alto, Pa., pleaded guilty in the Circuit Court to driving under the influence of alcohol per se.

Sherbin sentenced her to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail and suspended the sentence. She was granted probation before judgment and ordered to pay $645 in fines and costs.

Myers was charged and arrested in January by a Maryland State Police officer who investigated a motor vehicle accident just north of the MSP barrack in McHenry. She had driven her vehicle off the road and gotten stuck in a snow bank, the state's attorney noted.

The investigating officer observed signs that Myers had been drinking and conducted tests to confirm. After her arrest, she took the breath test, and the resulting .16 reading led to the per se violation.

FAMILY MEMBERS RECEIVE FCC LICENSES – Three family members of the Garrett County Amateur Radio Service (GCARES) – Isaiah, Sarah, and Marcia Spaid – were recently awarded certificates of congratulations for passing their Federal Communications Commission (FCC) technician class license exams. The Spaids live in Eglon. The FCC has issued them their licenses and the following call letters: Isaiah, KD8NZC, Sarah, KD8NZB, and Marcia, KD8NZA. The Spaids are active members of GCARES, and 13-year-old Isaiah is the youngest member in the group to obtain a license. All amateur radio operators are required by the FCC to take an exam to determine their knowledge of the FCC rules and regulations, radio, and antenna technology, and operating practices. The exams are given by volunteer examiners who are licensed radio operators approved by the FCC for this service. GCARES meets on the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Oakland Red Cross office, located beside Pizza Hut. All amateur radio operators or those interested in amateur radio are invited. At the group's next meeting on June 14 members will be planning for their annual field day, which is scheduled for June 26 and 27. Pictured, left to right, are GCARES member Mark Moynahan, K3EE; president Bill Shomo, KB3FMJ; Sarah; Marcia; and Isaiah.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Air Force Airman Jonathan B. Chambers graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

The airman completed an intensive, eight-week program that included training in military discipline and studies, Air Force core values, physical fitness, and basic warfare principles and skills.

Airmen who complete basic training earn four credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Chambers is the son of J.B. Chambers of George Washington Highway, Aurora, W.Va., and grandson of Linda Coddington of Oakland.

Oakland Man Injured In Dirt Bike Accident

Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to Garrett County Memorial Hospital in reference to an off-road vehicle accident with injuries.

Investigation revealed that Tyler Cosner, Oakland, had been operating a dirt bike on private property, when he lost control of the bike, causing him to fall off. No citations were issued.

Charged With DUI Following Traffic Stop

A Swanton man was arrested on Maryland Highway this week after being discovered by Garrett County sheriff's deputies to be driving under the influence of alcohol.

Todd Allen Tasker, 29, was initially stopped for failure to drive right of center, and so charged. He is also charged with DUI, driving while impaired by alcohol, driving on a revoked license and privilege, and driving on a suspended license and privilege. He was taken into custody to await a bond hearing.

May We Never Forget....

There was a nice turnout at the recent local Memorial Day observances in the county, and it was particularly gratifying to see so many young people present. It is crucial that our youngest generation learn to appreciate the sacrifices of some of their older fellow citizens who at various times throughout our history answered the call, many giving their very lives, to protect our nation.

There will be two additional special events held next Monday, which is Flag Day, to specifically honor the veterans of the Korean War, typically – and unfortunately – referred to as "the forgotten war" and "the unknown war." Our nation was in some sense still celebrating the victory of World War II when our young troops were called into action in Korea 60 years ago this month. And it was not too many years after that conflict ended that our nation was embroiled in a long and most controversial military engagement, the Vietnam War. Sandwiched in between were three years of some of the most savage combat in some of the most difficult conditions ever endured in the war history of our country.

As is so often the case, the United States came to the rescue of one of our allies, South Korea, to try to repel a communist invasion from the north, which ultimately included tens of thousands of Chinese troops and support from the Soviet Union. When it was finally over, nearly 34,000 American troops lay dead, over 92,000 were wounded, and there were over 7,200 U.S. prisoners of war. While the war was in some ways deemed a stalemate, South Korea's freedom was preserved and, perhaps more importantly, the war led to a multi-national armistice against the use of nuclear weapons.

What a tragedy that the Korean War has in any way been "forgotten" by Americans. The ultimate sacrifice of those 34,000-plus troops was identical to that of our troops who died in any war. Their level of dedication and commitment, and of their love of country, was no different. The bullets and shrapnel that ripped their flesh and shattered their bones were no different than those of any war. The loss of those lives in Korea was just as excruciating to their loved ones back home.

The men and women from Garrett County and those now living in the county who served in Korea – during, before, and after the war – will be special guests of honor at a couple of events next Monday. An individual certificate/proclamation will be presented to each of our Korean War veterans present at the Garrett County commissioners meeting room in the courthouse at 11 a.m., as well as to the family members of deceased veterans. These special Americans will then also be guests of honor at the annual Flag on the Mountain observance at the Wisp later that day. It is hoped that there will also be a large turnout for these events.

May we never forget the sacrifices of all of our military veterans, not only during any time of warfare, but also during times of peace, as they stand ready to protect us, our allies, and our precious freedoms.

Letters to the Editor

Writers of letters to the editor are reminded that letters will not be published if they exceed 400 words, do not include contact information, and/or are deemed to be libelous.

To the Editor,

I am writing this letter because of animal cruelty. I believe people should not be cruel to animals. People should not take part in animal fighting, beating, or not caring for their animals.

We got a dog from a local breeder (who we thought was a breeder). Her name was Rusty. We had her for about 3 months. A couple of days after we brought her home we noticed that she had major health problems. After over three months, we decided we could no longer keep her. My dad took her back to the place where we got her. The man that owned the place would not allow him to go in the back where the animals were kept, but we went when he was not home. My dad went in the kennel, and when he saw the conditions, he knew that it was a puppy mill and they were abusing animals. No food, water, or space. I was not there and I am glad that I wasn't. I would hate to see something like that.

We can help by donating money to places like ASPCA, HART, PAWS. HART is trying to build a new kennel to help save and keep animals safe. If we all just donate a little, we could help animals get proper care. We speak for the animals.

Sincerely,
Olivia Mortimer

To the Editor:

It is scary that tactics of intimidation are a part of the Eagle Rock neighborhood scene. I am not totally surprised as I understand that is not uncommon practice with some corporations. I would like to see something positive come from this wake-up call about the profit before people patterns that have become the norm. BP's push to drill faster is just a much bigger picture of the wind company's rush to clear the land and start building before things were done right with safety in mind as required.

Let's take these disastrous actions seriously enough to get ourselves educated about what has been going on all around the world for years when it comes to big oil, big coal, big chemical, big pharmaceutical companies. Awareness of their actions and the dangers they bring to many neighborhoods should be enough of a challenge for us to look for opportunities to bring about change. Knowledge brings power when it is used to open doors that will bring about change. I would love to see everyone who is frustrated by what they see, to educate themselves about what they can do to make things right. It doesn't help to complain, blame, and get angry unless it motivates and energizes people to action.

I know that governments of any kind are not popular and they get a lot of blame, but the system of government itself needs to be studied, acted upon, and renewed more to our satisfaction, so that it is more able to meet our needs. I think there is nothing better than democracy at its clumsy best. But, it seems to me that our democracy has been co-opted by another failed system called lobbying. Why blame the government and congress. Let's get educated about why corporate money can buy power and run rough shod over the voters. I don't think it is too difficult to see that when we pay for the elections we have the power back where it belongs. We can all do better – the voters, the schools, the media, the corporations, the share holders, Congress.

Yes, corporations need to answer to their share holders. But they need to answer first to the people and our home, the earth. I think we are the endangered species and our children are the canaries in the mine.

Sincerely,
Cynthia S. Knight
Grantsville

To the Editor:

The Republican would do a great service to the community if it dedicated a column each week that listed volunteer organizations in Garrett County that are in need of volunteers and who would welcome new members.

There are so many people, especially newcomers, who would welcome the ease of checking the paper to see what needs there are in the community and information on how to contact that organization.

During my brief time living in Charleston, S.C., its paper, the Post Courier had a "Clubs/Organizations/Volunteers" column which directed me to a Newcomers Club and to volunteer activities such as helping at a kayak festival, or a garden tour, and to help build the South Carolina tall ship.

Clearly there are many volunteer activities and needs for volunteers here in Garrett County. But often people are just not aware of these needs or whom to contact to become involved. The Republican could provide the valuable link between potential volunteers and the many organizations in need of new blood.

Sandy Smith

Dear Ms. Smith,

We appreciate your input. We would like to note, however, that in our paper, every single week, we provide free coverage for a very wide range of non-profit, volunteer organizations. We never hesitate to promote the many wonderful volunteer groups in our county, and nearly always include phone numbers, web sites, or other contact information for the readers' benefit. We feel strongly that it is both our opportunity and responsibility to promote these important groups.

We also do in fact now publish a non-profit volunteer column titled "Spotlight on Garrett County Non-Profits; The Work They Do, The People They Serve." This is an effort spearheaded by yet another excellent local non-profit, the Civic Club of Oakland. It appears in our paper at least once a month.

To The Editor:

I have been reading for some time now letters from people who don't seem to be for progress in terms of alternative energy sources, and some from those who seem to be all for it. I think that anything we can do to make our country more independent and thus lessen our need for foreign oil, the better off we will be.

I know some people though who are big Republican supporters who think that things like wind and solar power aren't worth the investment because the costs outweigh the benefits. But even if these forms of renewable energy aren't capable of supplying all of our energy we need, I believe they're worth the investment, especially after seeing on TV how much damage can be created by the old forms of energy exploration, speaking mainly of offshore oil drilling that the Republicans are all for.

The lesser dangers of alternative energy sources such as wind power and solar power – even nuclear power – would be safer, I believe. I'm not against oil drilling, but more regulations need to be put in place and research of how to do it more safely before anymore drilling takes place, especially in our waterways. Accidents happen, but this type of accident has left a lot of people in the southern coastal areas without an income. Commercial fisherman, shrimpers, and crabbers have had their livelihoods destroyed by the BP oil spill. There are areas that may never recover.

I think the oil company should be held responsible for paying off those whose livelihoods have been destroyed. More research needs to be done before any drilling in deep water areas resumes and before our oceans become barren water ways.

Even if oil exploration and drilling can supply America's energy needs more abundantly, look at the cost of such enterprises when something goes wrong! Renewable energy sources are a lot safer and cleaner for the environment. If they weren't cost-effective, I doubt that anyone would be working so hard to put them (turbines) up! If more were put up, maybe they could supply our country with its energy needs as well as supply jobs. We have the technology to make them even more powerful than they already are.

One day renewable energy sources are all this planet is going to have to rely on!

To the Editor:

I volunteer at a local food bank so I may be more aware than most of the incidence of hunger in Garrett County. There are political and economic reasons for hunger, but hunger is also caused by food buying habits.

One common misunderstanding is that we need to eat meat. Millions of people never eat meats and enjoy good health. Fruit, vegetables and (believe it or not) spices, however, are absolutely essential. They contain important vitamins, minerals, and other elements bodies need. A meal containing a carbohydrate (rice/potato/pasta), dairy (milk/cheese/yogurt) and legume (peas/beans/lentils) provides as much protein as a steak dinner and costs much less. Add vegetables and spices and it's nutrition packed.

Here are some ideas: Once a month buy non-perishables in bulk, enough for 6 weeks (who knows when company will drop in?). Rice, pasta, dry legumes and spices can be combined in endless ways, and with the basics of each day's main meal secured, you can relax and build the rest of your monthly menu. (You could cook several days' supply of legumes at once and put them in ice cube trays, then plastic bags, and take out what you need for each meal.)

One loaf of nutritious bread costs about the same as a 5 pound bag of whole wheat flour, which could make several loaves. Pita is easy: knead together 3 cups flour, 1¼ cups warm water, 1 tablespoon yeast, and 1 teaspoon salt, and separate into 9 balls; cover and let rise ½ hour in a warm place, then flatten each ball and bake on lightly oiled cookie sheets 10 minutes at 450 degrees. If you add powdered cheese and your favorite spices, you have cheese bread, the main course for lunch.

Coupons, pick-your-own farms, price comparisons (some small stores have great prices), and food stamps are other ways to stretch food money. Food stamps are just neighbors helping neighbors. If your neighbor was hungry, wouldn't you help them? By the distributions of your tax dollars into food stamps you are helping, and similarly you can receive help. Food stamps also can be used for seeds, saving many dollars even for a window herb garden or porch container garden.

You are also invited to ask at Social Services or Community Action for a referral to a local food bank. The whole community benefits when everyone has good quality food.

Beach Blast

The deadline for pre-registration and guaranteed entry is Tuesday, June, 15 at 5 p.m. Completed forms will also be accepted at the event until the registration limit is reached.

"Our goal is to continue to provide entertainment for local youth in an environment free of alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs," said Stacy.

This year's Beach Blast will include a three-on-three basketball tournament, music and games by Sounds Fun Entertainment, kayaking, swimming, food, and games with prizes.

New additions to this year's event include airbrush tattooing; rafting courtesy of Matt Taylor and Adventure Sports Center International; a wakeboard demonstration presented by Greg Rouse of Wisp Outdoors, with support from Pat DiGioia and Collin Rodgers; and mountain bike tours with High Mountain Sports.

Teams interested in participating in the basketball tournament are asked to wear basketball or tennis shoes and sign up at 1 p.m. at the park.

Twin Bridges Garden To Be On Tour

The 10th annual garden tour "Secret Country Gardens," sponsored by the Mountain Laurel Garden Club, will be held on June 26, and will feature the Twin Bridges Garden of Olen and Ruth Beitzel.

After driving across a covered bridge, visitors will arrive at the Beitzels' secluded location that offers many sights and fragrances, a spokesperson said. Ruth has been the designer, with her mental pictures coming to life over the past five years with the help of Olen.

"I get an 'aha' moment or an 'oh, yes,' and then I know that a plant or design is meant to be placed in a certain spot," Ruth said. "Olen loves to maintain the meadows and trails." The couple said one of their favorite garden happenings is when their grandchildren choose their garden for pictures and weddings.

Challenges for the Beitzels have include the clay soil and the wildlife; in particular, deer and bear.

Visitors will find many varieties of plants. The Beitzels said their favorite plants include "the roses for their romantic allure, hydrangea for their excellent bouquets, and the quaking aspens for their music and reminder of the western mountains."

Water fountains, urns, sculptures, items made from stones from their land, and two bridges are among the features of the hardscape.

The Beitzels said they feel "very blessed" to have the opportunity to garden at Twin Bridges and share it during the garden tour.

The other gardens on the tour are the properties of Ron and Linda Kling, Rosie Cupler, Marla and Don Brenneman, and Jack and Pat Orner.

Tickets for the tour, which are $7 and include a short description of each garden, a map, and written directions, may be purchased in advance at the following locations: Gregg's Pharmacy, Jan Florist, Green Acres Garden Center, all of Oakland; Julie's Greenhouse; Nature's Own, McHenry; Annie's Restaurant, Accident; and Beachy's Pharmacy, Grantsville.

On the day of the tour, members of the Garrett County Historical Society will sell tickets at the Gazebo in Oakland. Proceeds from the tour will be used by the garden club for area beautification projects and public education of gardening and conservation practices. A portion of the proceeds will be donated to the Garrett County Historical Society and the Grantsville Museum.

For more information about the tour, persons may contact Kathy Long at 301-252-9917, or log on to www.mountainlaurelgardenclub.com.

MSP Seeking Info On Marsh Hill Burglary

Maryland State Police are seeking information on a burglary that occurred sometime during the month of May at a Marsh Hill Road residence.

Unknown suspect(s) reportedly entered the residence by smashing the rear door. Once inside, a computer and a large flat-screen television were taken.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the MSP McHenry Barrack at 301-387-1101.

Maryland NRP Issue Citation, Make An Arrest

The Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) investigated a boating accident involving two personal watercraft vessels that occurred in McHenry Cove on Deep Creek Lake on Saturday, May 29.

A vessel operated by Romondo Lasen Gordon, 34, Manassas, Va., was struck in the rear end by a vessel driven by William Henry Diggs, 44, also of Manassas. The vessel that was driven by Gordon sustained damage in excess of $2,000.

The impact of the collision ejected Gordon's passenger into the water; however, no injuries were sustained in the accident. Diggs was issued a citation for negligent operation of a vessel.

The NRP charged Kristopher Jason Lescalleet, 33, Hagerstown, at 1:15 a.m. on May 29 with operating a vessel under the influence of alcohol, as well as possession of a controlled dangerous substance (marijuana) and CDS paraphernalia. Lescalleet was operating a vessel that was stopped on Deep Creek Lake for not displaying navigational lights.

LAWSON L. DUCKWORTH

Lawson L. "Buddy" Duckworth, 68, Frostburg passed away on Wednesday, June 2, 2010, at the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center, Cumberland.

Born Oct. 12, 1941, in Ocean Pines, he was a son of the late Lawson Simeon Duckworth and Beatrice Ada Ross. He was also preceded in death by one sister, Carolyn Lee Rowe; one son-in-law, Verl Otto "Spike" Simmons III; and one grandson, Darric Lee "Diesel" Kamp.

Buddy's greatest love was his family, history, genealogy, hunting, and the outdoors. He was passionate about the youth of today being educated about their heritage and history of the area.

Buddy graduated from Valley High School in 1959 and attended Eastern Bible Institute in Green Lane, Pa., for two years. After that, he spent some time with David Wilkerson and Nicky Cruz in the early days of Teen Challenge, ministering to the street gangs in New York City. When he was doing carpentry, he helped build the Maranatha Assembly of God Church, Grantsville.

He volunteered for the Marine Corps and went on active duty in January 1962, serving overseas during the Vietnam War. He was honorably discharged as a corporal in May 1966.

His later years were spent trying to get his family history recorded for the generations that followed. He was widely known in the area for his efforts in setting up family web sites for the George's Creek area and the Allegany/Garrett families, plus some cemetery sites. It gave a forum for many who had moved from the area to reconnect with each other on the Internet.

He is survived by his wife, Carolyn Marie McKenzie Duckworth; three daughters, Maronda Marie Simmons Wilt and husband Stanley Joseph Wilt, Frostburg, Vicki Jo Kamp, Fairfax, Va., and Angela Dawn Wilt and husband Robert Leo Wilt, Grantsville; two sons, Lawson Duckworth III and wife Kelley Duckworth, Grantsville, and William Alfred Duckworth and wife Jodi Duckworth, Australia; 11 grandchildren; one great-granddaughter; one brother, Kenneth Duckworth; and two sisters, Dorothy Jane Robosson and husband Joseph and Eloise Broadwater and husband Wilbert.

Friends were received at Eichhorn-McKenzie Funeral Home, Lonaconing, where a service was conducted on Monday, June 7, with Rev. Debra Bradley officiating.

Following the service, there was a full military committal at the George Henry Loar Memorial Gardens.

Condolences may be sent to the family at www.eichhornmckenzie.com.

In lieu of flowers, the family has requested that donations go to a special fund to cover funeral expenses. The fund will be administered by his daughter, Angie Wilt, 100 Cassel Ridge, Apt. 1, Grantsville, MD 21536.

To celebrate Buddy's love of life, everyone was invited to join the family at the First Assembly of God, Family Life Center, 17222 Assembly Lane, SW, Lonaconing, following the committal.

Those we love remain with us for love itself lives on, and cherished memories never fade
because a loved one's gone.
Those we love can never be more than a thought apart, for as long as there is memory,
they'll live on in the heart.

Betty Lee (Whitworth) Robinson, 87, Cumberland, went to be with the Lord on Tuesday, June 8, 2010, following a long illness. She had most recently resided in Country House, Cumberland.

Born June 25, 1922, in Keyser, W.Va., she was a daughter of Donald P. Whitworth, D.D.S., and Anna Lee (Pagenhardt) Whitworth. She was also preceded in death by her loving husband of 50 years, John J. Robinson Jr., a local area dentist; and two brothers, Donald P. Whitworth Jr. and Fuller B. Whitworth, a local physician in the Cumberland area.

After being advanced one grade and graduating as valedictorian from Bruce High School in 1939, and Frostburg State Teachers College in 1943, then rearing her family, she became a teacher in Mineral County in 1969, where she taught for over 20 years. Betty is fondly remembered by all the young lives she touched along the way.

After retiring as a teacher, she volunteered many more years as an assistant in Ridgeley Primary-Middle and Frankfort Middle schools. She spent many summers volunteering at W.Va. Science Camp as a teacher and at the YMCA Day Camp as the director of arts and crafts. She was named an Honorary Citizen of West Virginia by the governor for her volunteer work.

In 1997, she changed her full-time volunteer service location to the Riverside YMCA following its grand opening. She was a longtime member of the First Presbyterian Church of Cumberland, where she loved being a member of the choir. She was a charter member of the church's hand bell choir and a talented pianist. In addition to her musical abilities, she was an accomplished artist. An adult competitive swimmer, Betty earned many top honors in regional and national swimming competitions into her late 70s and officiated swimming competitions for all ages for over 30 years.

She is survived by her four children of whom she was very proud, John J. "Jay" Robinson IV, Charleston, S.C., Donald Robinson and wife Holly, Frostburg, Rev. Dr. C. Scott Robinson and wife Laura, Oakland, and Laurie (Robinson) Berkow and husband Jan, Pittsburgh, Pa.; her sister and brother-in-law, June and Emmett Ryan, Westernport; one sister-in-law, Virginia Robinette; nine grandchildren, Julie Robeson, Adriel Robinson, Kalia Robinson, Brittany Robinson, Devon Robinson, Casey Haddy, Sean Berkow, Scott Berkow, and Kyle Berkow; two great-grandsons, Carver Robeson and Jayce Springer; three nephews; and four nieces.

Friends will be received at Scarpelli Funeral Home, Cumberland, today from 5-8 p.m.

A funeral service will be conducted at First Presbyterian Church on Washington Street, Cumberland, on Friday, June 11, at 11 a.m., with Pastor John Dillon and Rev. Dr. C. Scott Robinson officiating.

Friends will be received at the church from 10 to 11 a.m.

Interment will be held in Hillcrest Memorial Park.

MERLE R. FRAZEE

Merle Reed Frazee, 77, Friendsville, died Saturday, June 5, 2010, at the Western Maryland Regional Medical Center, Cumberland.

Born May 14, 1933, in Friendsville, he was a son of the late Hiram and Edith Blanche (Teets) Frazee. He was also preceded in death by two brothers, Blaine and Glenn Frazee; and two sisters, Opal Sisler and Amy Friend.

Mr. Frazee was a foreman for the Maryland State Highway Administration, retiring in 1996 after 30 years of service.

He was a member of Oak Grove Church of the Brethren, and he loved gardening and hunting.

He is survived by his wife, Janice Loraine (Fearer) Frazee; four sons, Reed A. Frazee and wife Jane, Uniontown, Pa., Brian E. Frazee and wife Carol, Grantsville, and Ronald E. Frazee and wife Gina, and Rodney L. Frazee and wife Jennifer, all of Markleysburg, Pa.; four brothers, Emerson Frazee and wife Betty, Oakland, and Paul Frazee and wife Leona, Ward Frazee and wife Carol, and Dale Frazee and wife Linda, all of Friendsville; two sisters, Eileen Capel and husband Bill, Ridgeley, W.Va. and Linda Sechler and husband Delbert, Barberton, Ohio; seven grandchildren, Sarah Hall and husband Derek, Bradley Frazee and wife Claire, Caressa Ledford and husband Mark, Lauren Jarrell, Emily Frazee, Caden Frazee, and Tyler Frazee; two great-grandchildren, Ethan Frazee and Tyson Frazee; and two step-great-grandchildren, Shane and Maddox Cramer.

Friends were received at Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville.

A service was conducted at Oak Grove Church of the Brethren on Wednesday, June 9, with the Rev. Philip Matthews officiating.

Interment was held in the Oak Grove Cemetery.

Expressions of sympathy may be directed to Oak Grove Ladies Aid.

Condolences may be sent to the family at www.newmanfuneralhomes.com.

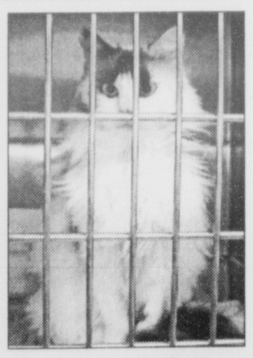
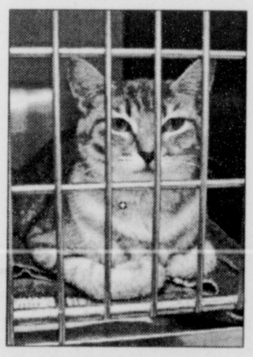
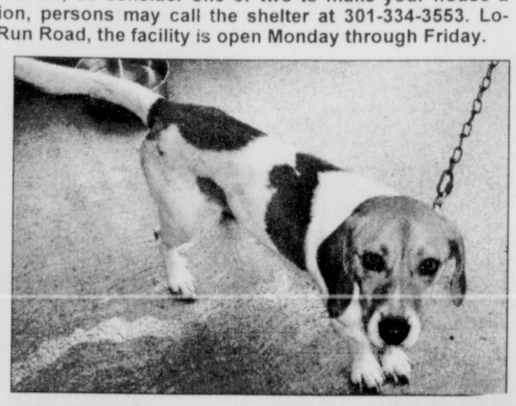
Adorable Adoptables



IS THIS YOUR FELINE? A young tabby (above left) was picked up in Oakland recently and is currently housed at the Garrett County Animal Shelter. "It is wearing a collar, so we hope the owners are looking for their cat," said a Human Society spokesperson. Also looking for homes are a blue-eyed, longhaired female white cat (above right) with slight Siamese markings on it face, a light colored female tabby (below left), and a 4-year-old beagle mix named Toby (below right). "Toby's owners had to give him up, and he is sad," said the spokesperson. "But hopefully someone will come in and adopt him before the dog kennels fill up." Also available there are a boxer mix, another hound dog, and several nice cats. "This week HART took several dogs to rescue facilities to make more room in the dog kennels, and on Wednesday a dog was adopted by an outdoorsman who plans to take the dog on many adventures with him across the U.S.," said the spokesperson. "June is Adopt a Cat Month, so consider one or two to make your house a home." For more information, persons may call the shelter at 301-334-3553. Located along Oakland Sang Run Road, the facility is open Monday through Friday.





Notes From Bittinger

by Joan Glotfelty Sussman

I was surprised last Wednesday by a visit from some former Garrett County friends whom I really missed since they moved away.

First to arrive were Steve and Eileen Schlosnagle, now of Camp Hill, N.C. They just love it there, except that there are very few available jobs.

They stayed with Steve's father John on their family farm along Brethren Church Road. Of course, they went over to Morgantown to visit their son Leo who is enrolled in grad school at West Virginia University.

Then just as Eileen and Steve were leaving, our mutual friend Christine Felkner McMannis drove in after a long drive from northern Maine. Her town is almost at our border with Canada. She also loves it up there.

Christine was in Garrett County for several days to attend the memorial celebration for Charlie Teets. Maybe she recently talked on the phone to Steve and Eileen to be able to arrive and meet them here.

There is still no sign of my Glotfelty aunt, but I know that Aunt Boo (Betty) wants to visit several friends downstate. But I hope she will bring some warmer clothes, because although in the last week we had a couple of really hot days, it's not like that right now.

Cheryl Bender ran in a half-marathon in Morgantown last Saturday. She was hoping that it would not be very hot. Well, she got her wish. Today, Monday, is really cold, at least inside my house it is very cool.

It is not that unusual to get some cool spells in summer. But I have a feeling it is cooler than the lake tourists expected. But it is a pretty day. Maybe the sunshine will warm up the afternoon. If not, I'll have to order some heating oil, because it will be a long time before I will get my winter supply. And who knows how many very cool days there will be between now and then?

But my beautiful lavender iris is in bloom, and also my brown/purple iris. My phlox also looks good this year.

A bunch of beautiful butterflies were flying around my phlox bed. There were two big yellow swallowtails and a pair of black swallowtails. Unfortunately, there were some very annoying visitors inside: house flies. I hate them so much. I am very drowsy this morning and almost fell asleep, then those flies started to land on me. But once I got my fly swatter in hand, they completely disappeared. It seems that flies are too smart to land close to people, except when they are napping.

The driver of an Allegheny Power truck said that we had two telephone poles split from lightning strikes. I was not surprised, since the thunder sounded very close.

I was always aware of the changing weather, because you don't want to get caught on top of Meadow Mountain, or really anywhere on the backland, when a major thunderstorm rolls in. A couple of thunderclaps on Saturday were monstrous, and seemed very close. Well, one of those lightning bolts took out my new high-definition television. It is now my dead high-definition television.

It feels pretty muggy. Probably another big storm will roll in this evening. But the birds sound pretty cheery.

Although it is partly sunny, I doubt it will last very long. If I were far away from home or even a couple miles or so, I would start to head home in this kind of weather. It would have been plenty of time as long as I was riding Joey, because he was as fast as a racehorse.

It was far different circumstances when I took all three girls on a mission to a big wonderful patch of those short spiky flowers that I always called "Indian paintbrush." I hoped to show them the swarm of hummingbirds that was often there. The sound of so many hummingbirds was like a fleet of helicopters.

We were about a quarter of a mile from home, and most of it was open field. We had a long scary run through a pretty severe storm. Yes, I have seen worse. That time, however, was with my sweet little girls.

If it is true that BP was the most responsible big oil corporation, all I can say about it is God help us.

I am amazed at how ultra stupid people are about off-shore drilling for oil. They just took BP's word that it is perfectly safe and nothing bad would happen. But this is a global-sized disaster. Even if the relief well will work by the end of the summer, the damage to valuable and unique things is already so bad. It could take a major miracle for us to see any real recovery in the environment, or most likely an old valuable commercial endeavor. A whole way of life. And you can't pay a big pile of money for that.

I expected a visit from an old friend now living in Baltimore. She used to live in Garrett County around 1975. She also lived in New York at the same time that I did, and she had an apartment in the same building as mine. She rented a car in Baltimore and everything was all right until she got to the intersection of Rock Lodge Road and Route 495 around Brenneman's Store. She did not quite complete the turn, because she went into a ditch. I was surprised to see her arrive in a state trooper car.

But when she called her rental car insurance, they sent a tow truck from Baltimore and towed her car down to Baltimore. It seemed like kind of a strange choice, but that's what they did. As a result, Gloria didn't have a car to go back to Baltimore. I was shocked that Grantsville does not still have Greyhound bus service, or Frostburg, either. The closest Greyhound stop is in Hagerstown!

But we hoped she could catch the Amtrak train in Cumberland. That is if we could get together a vehicle to take her down. Her train left at 9 a.m. It was a little tricky because my daughters share one car and the same odd working hours.

I was expecting the arrival of two aunts yesterday. Aunt Betty (Boo) Hummel arrived in Baltimore and was picked up from the airport by Aunt Helen Englar and her son Mike. It's hard to tell when they will appear at my house, because they had so many stops. So far I have not seen any sign of them. I hope they will come soon, because the next best thing to a visit from your MLGC TO PRESENT "JOHN BARTRAM" – At the next meeting of the Mountain Laurel Garden Club (MLGC), Kirk Brown, above, will portray John Bartram, America's first botanist and horticulturalist, in a historical and biographical presentation. The club will meet at the Elks Lodge on June 15 for the regular monthly meeting, beginning at 10:30. A short business meeting will be held before the presentation, which is titled "The King's Gardener: John Bartram in Philadelphia." Lunch will follow. See story. Brown is pictured at left in his Bartram costume.

Historical Botanist John Bartram To Visit Garden Club

The next meeting of the Mountain Laurel Garden Club (MLGC) will include a special presentation by a historical re-enactor Kirk Brown, who will portray John Bartram, America's first botanist and horticulturalist, in a historical and biographical presentation.

The club will gather at the Elks Lodge on June 15 for the regular monthly meeting, beginning at 10:30 a.m. A short business meeting will be held prior to the presentation, which is titled "The King's Gardener: John Bartram in Philadelphia." Lunch will follow.

Bartram's story begins in 1699 in the Philadelphia area and spans through the Revolutionary War. He was present for the birth of plant discovery and official identification, and introduced more than 200 plant species and 100 trees into the horticultural trade. He was a close friend of Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, and George Washington. He is also credited with starting the first public garden in America.

Brown will present the program costumed as John Bartram and address those in attendance in first person. The program will address the subject of sustainability and green earth awareness.

Brown, a graduate of Cornell University, serves as business manager of Joanne Kostecky Garden Design Inc. in Allentown, Pa. He is a recipient of the Pennsylvannia Nursery and Landscape Association "Green Achiever" Award for advancing horticulture in Pennsylvania. Brown is the secretary and executive committee member for Garden Writers Association.

He has organized meetings and tours at the National Arboretum, National Botanic Garden, Phipps Conservatory, Longwood, and numerous other gardens and arboretums. He has served as a judge of major exhibits for the Philadelphia Flower Show as well as for the Penn Allied Nursery Trade Show and the Allentown Flower Show.

The meeting is open to both men and women. Members will be called in advance, and guests are asked to make lunch reservations by calling Ginni Neff at 301-387-7387.

The Mountain Laurel Garden Club is a member of the National Garden Clubs Inc., the Central Atlantic Region, and the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc. Affiliated clubs provide education, resources, and national networking opportunities for members as well as promote gardening, floral design, and civic and environmental responsibility.

Anyone wanting to rent a pavilion in Friendsville Community Park is asked to call Alice Spear at 301-746-5639.

Town officials remind residents that the Garrett County Leash Law is in effect, and all dogs must be on a leash.

Anyone witnessing vandalism in the community park is asked to call the Maryland State Police or Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

BAKED STEAK DINNER

A baked steak dinner is planned for Saturday, July 17, at the Friendsville Social Hall from 4 to 7 p.m. The cost is $8 for adults and $5 for children. The meal will include mashed potatoes/gravy, green beans or corn, coleslaw, roll/butter, dessert, and drink. The event will be held after the town-wide yard sale. Everyone is welcome.

LIBRARY NEWS

All items in the bookshop are free during June. The library has a new policy concerning donations of all items, which are as follows:

Donors must call first, not just drop off items, and do not block the door

Old text books, maps, travel brochures, cards, brochures, and catalogs will not be accepted.

Only magazines less than 6 months old will be accepted.

All items must be free of odor and in good shape.

Books must have their covers; older books will not be accepted.

"We really appreciate the support of the public, but we do not have time to deal with the excess of items," said a library spokesperson. "Goodwill in Grantsville or Oakland may be able to accept donations."

Yard Sale To Benefit Local Operation

The local Operation Christmas Child (OCC) team will hold a yard sale on June 17-18 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Oak Park Church of the Brethren Fellowship Hall in Oakland, near Southern High School.

The yard sale will be held rain or shine. There will be hot dogs and baked goods available for sale. Anyone interested in donating items, except clothing, should contact Carolyn Livengood, community relations coordinator for OCC, at 301-387-6826.

All proceeds will be used for OCC ministries locally and around the world.

FRIENDSVILLE CELEBRATES ARBOR DAY – Partners After School @ Friendsville recently celebrated Arbor Day with Mayor Spencer Schlosnagle and Phil Kisner from the Forestry Service. At the Friendsville Library, the youth planted a tree that was donated by the Forestry Service and purchased at Green Acres. A proclamation was made by Schlosnagle proclaiming April 30 as Partners After School @ Friendsville's Arbor Day. Pictured above, front row, from left, are Jimmy Spears III, Adam Kisner, Kiara Coddington, Clarissa Beard, Ally Kisner, Abby Kisner, Clay Frazee, and Brooke Rishell. In the back are Phil Kisner and Schlosnagle. The Partners After School @ Friendsville is provided by Garrett County Community Action Committee Inc. and funded by grants through Garrett County Partnership for Children and Families Inc., Garrett County commissioners, Community Development Block Grant, University of Maryland Extension and the MSDE Snack Program. Garrett County Community Action's after-school programs promote the agency's goal of creating positive a attitude about the value of education among working families and young people. For more information, persons may contact Denise Fazenbaker at 301-334-9431 or 1-888-877-8403, ext. 121.

NMS Students Participate In Clusters Event

Students at Northern Middle School recently participated in "enrichment clusters," which are featured annually as a one-day event in which students are offered a large selection of activities related to real-world knowledge and skills.

There are no predetermined lesson plans, and the activities for each cluster are based on authentic methods, materials, and advanced content used by professionals in that field.

"Thanks to the great support from the community, Central Office, and Hickory Environmental Education staff, this year we were able to suspend the customs of regular schooling and offer the 40-choice event to all three grades at Northern Middle School," said teacher Carolyn Tice.

The group met at Hickory, and the day included special visits by "Meshach Browning" and Smokey Bear.

Activity choices included origami, mythology, archery, pottery, bee keeping, Zumba, beading, natural egg dying, and line dancing.

Several quotes from students about the clusters event were as follows:

"Yesterday was the funnest day in the school year! I had a lot of fin doing all of the activities and games. I can't wait to do it again." – James Cherry.

"It was fun because we got to learn stuff about bears and fish without using books." – Jeremiah Guthrie

"It was cool when we got to split wood and plant tomatoes and seeds. I want to join the FFA in high school!" – Alex Bittinger

"Yesterday was an exciting day. Every cluster was fascinating. I liked it because it taught me new things while having fun. I liked the paper airplanes the most." – Tosha Griffin.

"I had a great time and it was an awesome break from school! And it was educational, too. It was a lot of fun." – Holly Billmeyer.

"It was nice being outside, yet being able to learn. I also liked the fact that we got to pick what we wanted to do, and it wasn't mandatory for you to do things such as language and math on a regular school day." – Bailey Tiemersma.

"I really liked the first activity because it taught me about first aid and care. The second one was really cool because I got to paint my nails. The third I didn't think I would like, but it actually was very interesting. And the last one was awesome because I got to learn and practice CPR." – Lauren Ceslik.

'BUBBLE FUN" was one of 40 activities available to Northern Middle School during their recent "enrichment clusters" event. The annual activity is normally offered to only one grade, but this year teachers decided to offer clusters to all three grades. Pictured above with her giant bubble is Meghan Bequette. mother is a visit from aunts. I have recently missed my mother so much.

The group of Shawnee Native Americans is in Friendsville. I really hope I can go down to their homeplace provided for them by James Ross Sr. I feel that it is important for me to connect with those ancestors. I think I am 1/16 Native American, but most of my life I have felt more Native American than European. That is just because I am much more comfortable roaming in the semi-wilderness. At least you can go for miles without seeing any person or sign of a human dwelling or any human activities. I am sure Little Joe and I explored most of it.

What was the toughest task so far that Obama took on? Convincing the American people that the economy is improving. But he told an angry crowd in Buffalo, N.Y., that according to him, we are still in a major recession until an American who wants a job can find one. However, there are plenty of promising numbers, like last month when the American economy added 300,000 new jobs, and this month the number of first timers who filed for unemployment was down. But as long as there are no jobs in Buffalo or Oakland or in Columbia, N.C., people in those places are reluctant to believe that things are looking upward.

Thank God the majority of Americans think the gun rights movement goes way too far. And most Americans are unfavorable to making it legal to carry all kinds of guns everywhere. They also want much closer examination of would-be gun buyers.

Even people on the terrorist watch list can buy deadly weapons. I can understand why Obama put it first on his agenda, because it is an issue that is so passionate. And he knows he will have a target on his back.

Several members of the Bittinger Parish attended the annual synod assembly of the West Virginia/Western Maryland Synod held last weekend at the McLure House in Wheeling, W.Va.

Attending from Emmanuel were Linda Buckel and Terry Caparella. Tom and Nickey O'Brien attended from St. John's of Meadow Mountain. There were no delegates from Zion, the third church in the Bittinger Parish.

Also attending the assembly were Pastor and Cindy Richardson and Marvin Beckman. Cindy and Marvin serve on the board of directors of Community Lutheran Partners (CLP) and attended a CLP board meeting in Wheeling prior to the start of the synod assembly.

Pastor Randy Richardson was the chair of the Reference and Counsel Committee at the assembly, and Tom O'Brien was also a member of that committee. Marvin Beckman served on the elections committee during the assembly.

Members from St. John's and Emmanuel met at the parsonage Sunday evening for a covered-dish dinner to continue planning for the parish Vacation Bible School. Vicki Teets baked a birthday cake in honor of Cindy Richardson, whose birthday was Sunday. Bible School will be held from June 27 to July 1, and an invitation is extended to everyone to attend.

Altar flowers at Emmanuel last Sunday were given by Linda Buckel and family in loving memory of Joseph "Pete" Buckel.

The weekly parish study continues to meet each Wednesday at 7 p.m. at Emmanuel. The first religion to be studied was Hinduism and a program on Judaism began this week.

POST #71 AMERICAN LEGION
Oakland, MD

We posted an earlier notice indicating the April 2, 2010, fire was adequately covered by insurance and the Legion Post representatives were working to accomplish replacement. At the regular monthly meeting on June 21, 2010, the building committee will make another report and will ask for a vote directing them to proceed with retaining an architect. The architect will prepare detailed blueprints and will be responsible for supervising all phases of the construction. It is important for interested members to attend this meeting in order to get current information and to participate in the initial vote authorizing the start of rebuilding. Please note this is also the meeting when we elect officers, and for these reasons this is an important meeting to attend.

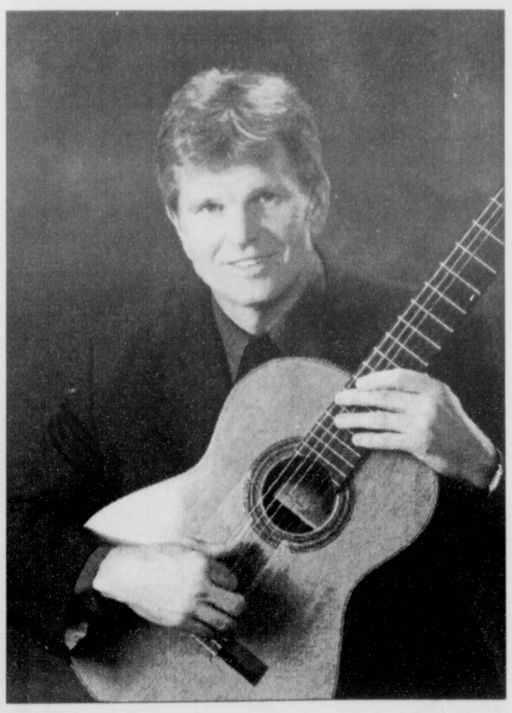
LOCAL BAND TO PERFORM – A music concert will be presented in the Black Forest Room of the Lake House at New Germany State Park near Grantsville on Saturday, June 26, from 6 to 8 p.m. The local band, Loretta Hummel & the Golden River Band, will play a variety of bluegrass, country, and gospel music. Band members include Hummel, a songwriter who plays acoustic guitar and sings lead and harmony; Bill Nelson, who plays the dobro, lap steel, electric and acoustic guitar; Walter Dixon, who plays fiddle, guitar, banjo, bass guitar, and mandolin; and Steve Reese, who plays guitar and sings. Special guests will be Janet Winebrenner, who plays the upright bass, and Joe Winebrenner Jr., who plays the banjo. A portion of the proceeds will benefit the Friends of New Germany State Park. Food and refreshments will be available at the snack bar. For more information, persons may call Hummel at 301-689-8160.

Guitarist Feasley Next In MPA Series



Music at Penn Alps will continue its 18th season of chamber concerts on Saturday, June 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville, with a return engagement by internationally known guitar soloist William Feasley.

Feasley was the first guitarist to be awarded the Peabody Conservatory's artist diploma. He has since been the recipient of numerous prizes and awards: a gold medal in the 1987 Panhellenic Guitar Competition in Athens, the 1990 and 1995 Baltimore Chamber Music award, and a 1996 Governor's Citation for Outstanding Achievements in the Arts in Maryland. Selected to play for Andrés Segovia at the master's historic last class at the University of Southern California in 1986, he was later featured on the CBS special Eulogy to Segovia.

The first half of the program will be as follows: Four Pieces, written by Fernando Fernandiere; "Recuerdo" (Homage to Dionisio Aguado) by Francois de Fossa; "Las Campanas del Alba," composed by 20th century componer Eduardo Sainz de la Maza; "The Mysterious Barricades" by Francois Couperin Le Grande (in an arrangement by Feasley); "Le Coucou," by Claude Daquin, also arranged by Feasley; and Goya Portraits, written for Feasley by contemporary composer Jose Lezcano.

After the intermission Feasley will perform "Le Rossiniane," Op. 120, by Mauro Giuliani; Maurice Ravel's "Pavane for a Dead Princess" in an arrangement for guitar by Mario Castelnuovo Tedesco; Two Spirituals (There is a Balm in

Summer Art Camps Offered By AmeriCorps

The Garrett County AmeriCorps team has announced the return of two summer art camps.

The first of the camps is Junior Art Day, which will be offered at the Oakland Community Center/Armory on June 21 from 9 a.m. to noon for children ages 3-7, and 1 to 4 p.m. for 8-12-year-olds.

Camp Colorful Smiles, a day camp for special needs children up to age 18 and their families, will be held on June 23 from 9 a.m. to noon, also at the community center. Parents or guardians are required to attend.

The theme for 2010 is "Our Communities Can," a spokesperson said, derived from the concept that communities can make a difference in the environment by recycling, reusing, and reducing. All crafts for the art camp will be created out of recyclable materials.

"The plan is to take something old and turn it into a work of art," the spokesperson said.

"Art and preserving our environment go hand-in-hand, and the sky is the limit as to what one can accomplish with both," said AmeriCorps member Austin Smith. "It takes the imagination of children to make a difference."

Both camps are free of charge and are for Garrett County residents only. For more information or for reservations, persons should contact Smith at 301-334-7730 or 301-895-3111.

Camp Colorful Smiles and Junior Art Camp are supported by the Garrett County Health Department, Governor's Office on Service and Volunteerism, and Garrett County Arts Council, and sponsored by AmeriCorps of Garrett County.

HEAVEN'S MOUNTAIN BAND is scheduled to perform at 4 p.m. during the third annual "Working on a Building" Country and Gospel Music Gathering, slated for Saturday, June 19, from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. at Grantsville Community Park. Admission is free, but donations will be accepted. Proceeds benefit the Mt. Beulah Church Restoration Fund. "Heaven's Mtn. Band is a group of musicians and singers who enjoy praising the Lord with their music," said an event spokesperson. "The group includes Debi DeWitt, Lisa Eutsler, Ken Rearn, Paula Ridenour, and Jeff and Peggy Ryan. They join their voices with banjo, mandolin, guitars, and flute in three- and four-part harmonies." Also scheduled to perform are Ed Wetzel & Bill Lovett at 11 a.m., Broken Glass & Rusty Hinges at noon, Second Wind at 1 p.m., Loretta Hummel & the Golden River Band at 2 p.m., and the Irv Ullery Country Gospel Band at 3 p.m. The fundraiser will also feature a silent auction and food. A pavilion with tables and seating is located in the park, but attendees are invited to bring their own lawn chairs to be close to the music. The Mt. Beulah Restoration Association used previous proceeds to stabilize the bell tower and replace the roof of the 128-year-old church, which is located along Twin Churches Road in New Germany. The group's next project will be repairing the foundation. To help fund that project, the association recently held a raffle for Sheetz gas cards. The winners are Polly Burkett, Corriganville, $200; Darlene Pennington, Frostburg, $150; and William R. Collier, Salisbury, Pa., $50. For more information, persons may call 301-895-5735.

Time For Three Strings Concert To Be Presented

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF) will present the classical crossover musical trio, Time for Three, on Saturday, June 19, at the Lodge at Wisp Resort in McHenry. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m.

"Violinists Zachary De Pue and Nicholas Kendall combine their love of fiddling in country western and bluegrass styles with bassist Ranaan Meyer's deep roots in jazz and improvisation," a GLAF spokesperson said. "As a special treat, there will be a meet-and-greet reception immediately following the concert. A cash bar will be available. Guests are invited to stay to meet these talented musicians and enjoy complimentary desserts and coffee provided by Wisp Resort."

According to the spokesperson, Time for Three has earned distinction as a groundbreaking, "category-shattering" trio going beyond traditional classification, combining elements of classical, country western, gypsy, and jazz.

"What started as a trio of musicians who played together for fun while students at Philadelphia's Curtis Institute for Music evolved into Time for Three, or tf3 for short – a charismatic ensemble with a reputation for limitless enthusiasm and no musical boundaries," the spokesperson said.

The Garrett Mentors will attend a free daytime rehearsal on Saturday.

Tickets for the Saturday evening concert are $30 for adults, $5 for students, and free for children 5 years and younger (tickets are required).

Tickets may be purchased by calling the GLAF office at 301-387-3082, or through the GLAF web site, located at www.artsandentertainment.org.

Sponsor partners for this event are Frank and Linda Lancelotta, Edward W.S. and Jeanne Neff, and Chuck and Becky Zellefrow.

Season sponsors of Garrett Lakes Arts Festival are First United Trust & Investments, Howard and Audrey Naylor Family Trust, Jim O'Connell and Connie Leary, Sincell Publishing Company, and Wisp Resort, with additional funding from Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council, and PennPAT.

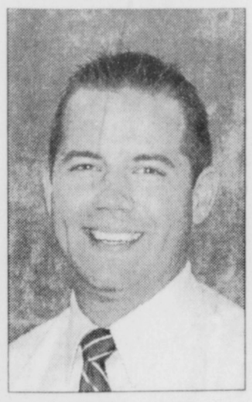
Garrett College Names New Athletic Director



By Melissa Parker

Garrett College recently named Shawn Noël as its new athletic director. Noël comes to the college from Herkimer County Community College in New York, where he has served as assistant athletic director since 2007. He will officially begin his new position at Garrett around the beginning of July.

"I am very excited to have Shawn take on the leadership role for our athletic department," said Ann Wellham, dean of marketing and enrollment management and former athletic director at Garrett. "He brings to Garrett a great deal of experience in athletic management, as well as knowledge of marketing athletic programs. I look forward to working with Shawn in promoting our athletic program."

Noël brings to Garrett an impressive athletic record. He was appointed assistant athletic director at Herkimer County Community College in October 2007. At Herkimer, he helped the Generals athletic program and its 19 sports remain as one of the top junior college athletic programs in the nation. He assisted Herkimer to three national championships, seven regional championships, nine conference championships, and two academic teams of the year. He also oversaw the operation of the college's multimillion dollar artificial turf stadium and athletics summer camps.

"Shawn Noël will be an excellent addition to administration staff at Garrett College," said Donald Dutcher, director of athletics at Herkimer. "He has excellent people skills and will guide the department in the best interest of student athletes. He will be missed by the Herkimer County Community College athletic family for all of his passion, commitment, and leadership he has provided during his tenure here."

Some of Noël's other colleagues at Herkimer expressed similar sentiments.

"Our loss is Garrett College's gain," said Pepe Aragon, men's soccer coach and physical education instructor at Herkimer. "Shawn is a true professional with an unbelievable work ethic. Our program will sincerely miss him. I wish him the best of luck as the next athletic director at Garrett College. I will miss him not only as an assistant athletic director, but as a friend as well."

The dean of students at Herkimer felt the same.

"Shawn Noël is an asset to any athletic program, and Garrett College is fortunate to have him in this important administrative role," said Dr. Matthew Hawes. "He has a 'hands on' leadership style that helps motivate both coaches and students to be the best that they can be."

In addition to his athletic administrative background, Noël also brings his marketing experience to Garrett. His marketing efforts at Herkimer led to increased exposure for the athletics programs. He led the charge in designing, implementing, and maintaining a new athletics web site, which includes webcast and text alert updates of athletic contests.

Prior to his position at Herkimer, Noël was a state program examiner for the Office of the State Comptroller in Albany, N.Y. He also served as assistant baseball coach at Hudson Valley Community College, where he helped lead the Vikings baseball team (21-5) to the Mountain Valley Conference championship and the Region III Final Four during the 2007 season.

A 1994 graduate of Guilderland High School, Noël was a varsity letterman in both baseball and volleyball. Prior to his graduation from Oswego State University of New York in 1999, Noël landed an internship with the 27-time world champion New York Yankees during the 1998 season. He served as stadium operations assistant working primarily with the human resources and marketing departments. His fondest memory of the 1998 season was being on a float in the ticker tape parade in New York City to celebrate the Yankees' 24th world championship.

Noël's extensive coaching background includes the head and assistant baseball coaching positions at SUNY Cobleskill from 2000 to 2006, where he helped guide the 2006 Fighting Tigers into the Region III playoffs and to the most wins by a team in school history.

His 2005 baseball squad boasted the highest GPA among all male athletic programs at SUNY Cobleskill. Since the summer of 2006, Noël has coached the North Colonie Padres 13U, 14U and 15U and 16U baseball travel teams to various tournament victories. He continues to be credited for giving young players the knowledge and tools to be confident and successful on the baseball diamond. Noël has also worked in various roles for the now defunct Albany-Colonie Diamond Dogs of the Northern League, an independent professional baseball league. In his final season with the Diamond Dogs in 1999, he served as event marketing coordinator, handling in-game promotions, group sales, brochures, and media relations.

Noël received a master's degree in business administration from the University at Albany in 2004, and a bachelor of science degree in marketing from Oswego State in 1999.

Garrett College Athletes Take Top Honors in Competition

By Mike Logsdon, executive director of ASI

Two Garrett College nontraditional sports teams made notable accomplishments during Memorial Day weekend as members of the college's Adventuresports Institute (ASI) Competition Team traveled to events at both Harper's Ferry, W.Va., and New River Gorge, W.Va., to take top honors in two types of adventure competitions.

In a partnership between ASI and the Adventure Sports Center International (ASCI), a whitewater raft racing team-including ASI graduates and ASCI guides Ian Hall, Colin Rodgers, and Cory Heinemann, as well as one other ASCI guide, Mitch Hall-placed first in the 2010 Doah Cup Whitewater Rafting Race held on the Shenandoah River near Harper's Ferry. Their team had a winning time of just over 43 minutes. The second-place team finished 5 minutes later, at 48 minutes.

Following the accomplishments of the college's rafting team, the three-person Adventure Racing team of Matt Davey-Karlson, Scott Hess, and Tyler Keyes competed in a grueling 24-hour rafting-biking-swimming-running-orienteering event at the New River Gorge on Saturday and Sunday. Out of the 48 teams that began the competition, only 14 finished.

Garrett's ASI team finished first in its three person/same gender division and seventh overall. The separation between the overall winning time of 1,364 minutes and Garrett's seventh place overall time of 1,430 minutes was just 66 minutes.

Garrett College, in an effort to show equality to student athletes with varied and nontraditional interests, has quietly fielded the Adventuresports Institute Competition Team since 1998. The events in which the team competes depend upon the interests of the students in any given academic year.

"We may have a group of students who are excited about rock climbing competitions one year, then field a very competitive snowboarding team the next," said a college spokesperson. "In fact, two years ago we sent a snowboard team to Lake Tahoe to the national snowboarding championships and at the same time sent a team of whitewater kayakers to Reno, Nev., to compete in the U.S. Collegiate Whitewater Boatercross National Championships."

Competitors who compete for Garrett College's Adventuresports Competition Team are supported in their efforts like any of the college's other traditional sports teams. When students compete, they are coordinated by a team advisor/coach and have a budget to cover competition related expenses.

An important purpose of the ASI Competition Team is to expose students to adventure competitions of different types as a teaching tool. Although one does not have to be an adventure sports major to be a member of the team, those members who are majors get an added benefit from seeing how different types of competitions are organized. They also take advantage of the networking that happens at these events, which could lead to job possibilities in the future.

Some of the team members are super athletes and take the competitions very seriously, which was reflected in the performance of Memorial Day weekend competitions. It was also reflected in 2008, when a team went to the U.S. Collegiate National Adventure Racing Championships, held in Nevada, where Garrett College took first place, beating out teams from large universities and colleges from across the nation.

Anyone interested in more information about becoming a member of the ASI Competition Team should call the Adventure Sports program at Garrett College at 301-387-3330.

Cork's Cars Wins Three Straight; Record Now 8-1

Cork's Cars upped its Hot Stove League record to 8-1 with three straight victories this past week. Cork's topped Keyser Moose last Friday on the road, 2-0, handed the Fort Ashby Lions a 15-6 defeat on Saturday, and topped the homestanding Cumberland Lions on Tuesday, 6-3.

Dillon Bennett allowed four hits, gave up two walks, and struck out 10 batters to get the win for Cork's over Keyser Moose at John Kruk Field.

Keyser pitcher Josh Golub fared as well in taking the loss, giving up just three hits and two walks, while striking out three.

Derek Gibson scored Cork's first run, coming home on a wild pitch in the first inning, and Logan Stewart smacked a sacrifice fly that plated Evan Rodeheaver in the sixth.

The only hits for Cork's were a double by Keith Chapman and a single by Matthew Imhoff.

In Saturday's win over the Fort Ashby Lions at Potomac Park, Justin Nesselrodt and Logan Stewart combined for five hits and six RBI. The big inning offensively for the Cork's players was the seventh, when they scored eight runs.

Nesselrodt was 3-for-4 with his bat, recording two doubles and a single for three RBI. Stewart added two singles and three RBI, and also drew three walks and scored three times.

Evan Rodeheaver pitched the first six innings and was awarded the win.

For Fort Ashby, J. McNeil tripled, singled, and scored twice, while C. Smith contributed a pair of singles.

Bennett and Billy Fazenbaker combined for the win against the Cumberland Lions on Tuesday, as the duo allowed just two hits and struck out nine.

Rodeheaver and Stewart and Rodeheaver were the offensive leaders for Cork's, with Rodeheaver smacking two doubles and a single, scoring twice, and finishing with two RBI. Stewart hit three singles, scored twice, and drove in three.

Justin Shadwell had the only two hits for the Lions, and also went the distance on the mound, giving up eight hits and striking out seven.

Lakeview Auto Records Two 12-2 Hot Stove Wins

Lakeview Auto Parks coasted to a pair of victories this past week in Hot Stove League action, getting 12-2 victories over both Keyser VFW in Keyser on Friday and KMK Insurance in LaVale on Tuesday.

The wins improved Lakeview's record to 6-2.

Among the highlights of the win over Keyser VFW was a three-run homer by Lakeview's Patrick Sines in the first inning. He also hit two singles, while teammate Cody Rodeheaver hit a double and a single, and Jeremy Bender provided a run-producing single.

Lakeview essentially put the game away in the first two innings, taking a 10-0 lead into the third.

Eric Wilt hit a triple and D. Riley recorded an RBI single for Keyser.

Rodeheaver was the star for Lakeview in Tuesday's win over the KMK, as he fired a one-hitter, struck out five, and walked just one.

Rodeheaver aided his own cause with a double that plated two runs.

Josh Mason was 4-for-4 for Lakeview, hitting a triple, a double, and two singles. Patrick Sines doubled and singled to send home three runs, and Derrick Rodeheaver hit a pair of singles for two RBI. Justin Derato, Jeremy Bender, and Beck Sherrard each had a single for one RBI.

Ryan Tipton hit a run-producing single for KMK.

Lakeview will host Cumberland Rotary this Friday at Northern High School.

Madigan's Auto Defeats SB&T, Falls To Young's

A triple in the eighth inning by Cody Sliger gave Madigan's Auto the lead for good in a Hot Stove League game played Saturday against Stewart, Barr, & Thorne at Hamilton Field, with Madigan's recording an 8-5 win. Scott Bittinger and Tristan Nesselrodt also provided run-producing hits in the eighth.

With the score knotted at 5-5, Jake Taylor drew a walk for Madigan's, and Sliger followed with his triple to plate Taylor. Bittinger then doubled home Sliger, and Nesselrodt hit a single to bring home Bittinger.

Sliger also had two singles and was the winning pitcher, tossing seven innings and fanning 11 batters. Brian Wildman hit a double and a single, Austin Reckart hit two singles for two RBI, and Garrett Hoffman also had a double. Taylor took the mound in the eighth to get the save.

SB&T had just four hits, all singles.

Madigan's gave up seven runs in the fifth inning and fell to Young's Optimist at Allegany College of Maryland in Cumberland on Tuesday, 9-5

Cody Sliger accounted for half of Madigan's six hits, recording a triple and two singles for a pair of RBI.

Leading Young's at the plate were Billy Mellon and Zach Elliott, who each rapped a triple and a single to plate two runs. Brandon Reed finished with two singles and two RBI.

Getting the win on the mound was Gary Legeer, who went the distance, striking out 10 and walking just two.

Team One Auto Defeats Ridgeley And G&S Coal

Behind a first-inning, three-run double by Reese Haskiell, Team One Auto recorded a 4-2 Hot Stove League win over visiting Ridgeley VFW last Thursday. Team One also whipped G&S Coal/NewPage in Westernport on Friday, 14-7, to up its record to 7-1.

Derek Nobel earned the win on the mound against Ridgeley, going the distance against Ridgeley ace Colton Dorsey. Nobel struck out seven and held Ridgeley to just three hits, while Dorsey fanned nine and gave up four hits.

Derek Hinebaugh stroked a double for Team One, while Gage Shaffer recorded two of Ridgeley's three hits, including an RBI double. Garrett Shoemaker had the other hit, also a run-producing double.

Two outstanding defensive plays were made at the plate by the winning team, as D.J. Flanagan threw out the runner at home to end the fifth inning, and Aaron Shotwell did likewise with bases loaded in the seventh to end the game.

Flanagan smacked a bases-loaded triple and had two singles, finishing with four RBI, against G&S Coal/NewPage on Friday.

Nobel stroked a double and two singles, also for four RBI, while Lucas Ritchie had two singles and three RBI, and Shotwell added a double, single, and two RBI for the winners.

T. Dawson had a double and a single for two RBI for G&S Coal, C. Lafferty hit two singles for one RBI, and R. Vinci provided a run-producing triple.

Team One was to play undefeated American Insurance on Tuesday at Bel Air, but results of that contest were not received.

Post 214 Blanks Preston, Then Falls To Post 2

Grantsville American Legion Post 214 opened its season last Wednesday by recording an 11-0 whitewash of host Preston Post 56, but then saw its record evened at 1-1 on Tuesday with a 10-5 loss to Morgantown Post 2 in Morgantown.

Nathan King spearheaded Grantsville's effort against Preston Post 56 by recording 10 strikeouts in six innings pitched and also rapping a two-run home run.

King and reliever Steven Holtschneider combined to give up just five hits in the shutout, and Holtschneider also had two strikeouts in the seventh.

Post 214 scored five runs in the first inning and recorded six more in the sixth, which included King's two-run blast. He added a single and one more RBI.

Holtschneider stroked a two-run triple, Andrew Umbel hit a double and a single, and Teddy Linton had two singles and one RBI for Post 214. Teammates Bubba Scheffel, Andrew Sisler, and Derek Taylor each had run-producing singles.

Preston got singles from Ricky Cool and Aaron Lipscomb.

Post 214 let a 4-0 lead against Morgantown Post 2 slip away on Tuesday at West Virginia University, as the home team rallied and took the lead with five runs in the fifth inning.

Post 214 out-hit the winners, 11-9, with Dan Warnick getting three singles and two RBI. Steven Holtschneider had two hits for one RBI, and teammates Matt Watson and Derek Taylor each singled twice.

Cole Mertins recorded an RBI double and a single for Post 2, Trey Shreve singled twice, and Benny Miller added a double.

Frank Arnold Wins A Pair In Cumberland Rec

In Cumberland Rec Baseball League action this past week, the team sponsored by Frank Arnold Contracting defeated Hite Roofing on Monday, 5-2, and edged Casselman Valley on Tuesday, 8-7.

Derek Taylor, Ryan Bennett, and Tyler Sweitzer combined on the mound for the win over Hite Roofing, recording a total of nine strikeouts.

Offensively, Bubba Scheffel went 2-for-3 with two RBI, Daniel Sisler had one hit and one RBI, and Bennett had one hit and one RBI, and scored on an error.

In the win over Casselman, Bennett scored the winning runs with a two-run single in the bottom of the 7th inning with two outs. Danny Sislo finished with two hits and two RBI, Cody Myers and Christian Glotfelty each had two hits and one RBI, and Sean Rollman and Kyle Rosenberger each provided one hit and one RBI.

Bennett was the winning pitcher.

Casselman's Brandon Miller hit a three-run homer in the first inning.

Frank Arnold was to have played Times-News yesterday, but that game was postponed until this Saturday. It will be played at Broadford Park at 6 p.m.

First United To Sponsor 22nd Golf Tourney

First United Bank & Trust, Oakland, will sponsor the 22nd annual Charity Golf Tournament and Banquet at the Oakland Golf Club on Friday, July 9. This is the 12th year that First United has organized this tournament, which has in its history raised over $329,800 for Garrett County charities.

"Participants are able to enjoy a challenging round of golf, and at the same time help raise much needed funds for worthy community projects," said a spokesperson for First United.

The recipient of the tournament proceeds this year will be United Way of Garrett County. Established in January 2000, United Way of Garrett County provides financial support to a number of area charities. A non-profit organization, United Way relies solely on contributions for its funding. All funds are used exclusively for programming within Garrett County.

"United Way of Garrett County is so pleased that First United has once again chosen by our local United Way to be the benefactor of this year's charity golf tournament," said Ernie Gregg, chairman of the executive committee for United Way of Garrett County. "This is the 10th year that the bank has donated its proceeds to United Way, having given a combined total of $183,146.94 to date. This funding continues to assist United Way of Garrett County in fulfilling its mission of improving lives through building community partnerships which identify needs and fund solutions that result in a stronger, healthier community."

Golfers will be competing for a number of team prizes redeemable at the Oakland Golf Club Pro Shop. First-place low net and low gross teams will each receive $1,000 gift certificates. The second-place low net and low gross teams will each receive $650 gift certificates; the third-place low net team will receive a $400 gift certificate; the fourth-place low net team will receive a $200 gift certificate; and the fifth-place low net team will receive a $100 gift certificate.

First United also invites all professionals, businesses and individuals who wish to support the charity event without participating in the tournament to register as a Premier Sponsor or an Associate Sponsor. Premier Sponsors receive four tickets to the banquet and awards ceremony, which is held immediately following the tournament; recognition on prominently displayed signage the day of the event; special mention in each golfer's packet; radio acknowledgment two weeks following the event; company name on a banner at the golf luncheon; and a "thank-you" ad in the local paper.

Associate Sponsors receive two tickets to the banquet and awards ceremony; recognition on prominently displayed signs on the day of the event; and a "thank-you" ad.

Anyone interested in becoming a sponsor is asked to telephone Janet Marsh at 301-533-2420.

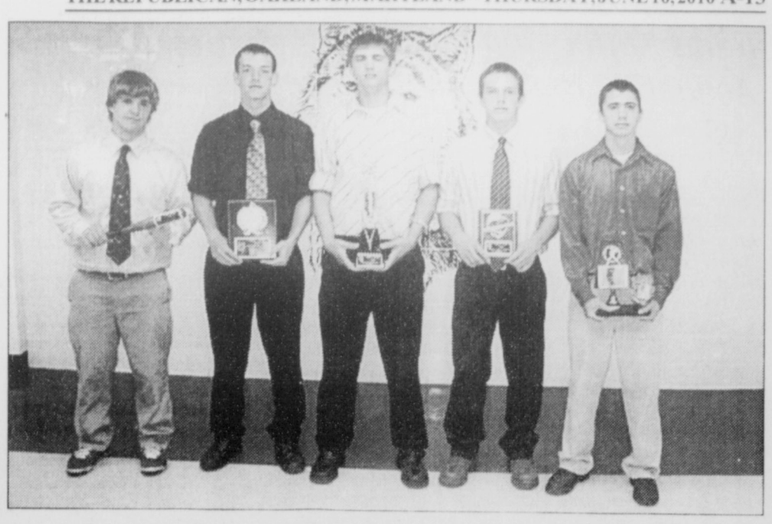
Soccer Club To Hold Sign-Ups

The Garrett Soccer Club will hold sign-ups for Garrett Jewish, Catholic, Protestant (JCP), on Saturday, June 12, at the Grantsville Public Library meeting room from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., at the Accident Town Park East Pavilion from 1:30 to 3 p.m., and at the first pavilion in Friendsville Town Park from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

The Varsity division consists of boys and girls ages 11 through 14 as of September 1 in grades 6, 7, or 8. The JV division consists of boys and girls ages 8 through 10 as of September 1 in grades 3, 4, or 5. The B division consists of players ages 5 through 7 as of September 1 in grades K, 1, or 2. All children entering kindergarten are eligible to play.

All players need to bring a photocopy of their birth certificate to registration. Anyone who cannot make the sign-ups and needs to make other arrangements, or anyone who has questions or needs more information, should contact Kari Hugel at 301-895-5830.



Charlie's Angels Note Results Of Best Ball Event

The Oakland Golf Club senior men's group Charlie's Angels played a round of 1 best ball net of 4 tournament at the Oakland course on Tuesday. The team of Fred Colaw, Red Guthrie, Will Bell, and Tom Mirras won with a net of 53.

Placing second with a net of 55 was the team of Ken Metheny, Roger Levin, Don Savage, and Ed Frantz, while the team of Jim Hetrick, Ted Gibbs, Bill Kelley, and Dave Lewis took third via a scorecard playoff, scoring a 56. The team of Paul Wampler, Jerry Pullias, Joe Costanzo, and Paul Cotter lost in the playoff for third place.

Sailboat Racing
On Deep Creek Lake

WE'RE ALL STILL LEARNING...
by Dan Muss

The last weekend of sailing actually started on Friday with an on-shore clinic for beginner sailors that covered boat equipment and rigging, and the fundamentals of the racing rules and tactics. The clinic was organized by Joni Palmer with help from Ray Gauthier and John Meredith. About 30 boats were represented, and reports indicated great satisfaction from the participants.

On Saturday we were visited by Greg Fisher from North Sails; Greg is an international sailing champion and a fabulous teacher. Greg was out in a chase boat taking videos of individual boats during the afternoon racing. That evening was our Flying Scot Fleet 6 meeting and dinner, and Greg showed the videos with really astute and helpful commentary. He was able to stop the video to point out what the teams were doing right and what they were doing wrong.

He discussed tacking and mark rounding with very graphic examples. He pointed out, for example, how one can pull the main in tight at the beginning of a tack to accentuate the windward helm, thus allowing the boat to head up into the wind for the tack with the helm almost neutral, minimizing rudder drag, then, coming off on the new course, to let the main out so as to accelerate before trimming in to point.

Saturday morning it was pouring down rain and blowing hard; Fearless Filemyr and I decided to stay on shore and so did a bunch of others. But after a short delay the PRO, Frank Meehan, got two races in.

In the first race of the Gold Fleet, Bruce Spinnenweber gained the lead with Schubert and Vance close behind. Bruce retained his lead throughout the race with an occasional challenge by Schubert as Vance faded and Buffington mounted a late challenge. Spinnenweber won, with Buffington 2nd and Schubert 3rd. The Laser, Silver, Masters and Challenger fleets had a much smaller turnout. Silverman won the Masters, especially after his main challenger, Anderson had to drop out with an equipment failure. John Blake won easily in the Challenger fleet over Andy Carrier. The laser fleet was dominated by Darrell Van Hutten with occasional challenges by Charles Graham, who finished both laser races second with Keith Spinnenweber third.

Sunday the weather was even worse with thunderstorms, and the racing was canceled.

Race Results (skipper/crew)
Saturday, June 5

Lasers: Race 1-1. Darrell Van Hutten, 2. Anne Graham, 3. Keith Spinnenweber.

Race 2-1. Darrell Van Hutten, 2. Anne Graham, 3. Keith Spinnenweber.

Race 3-1. Darrell Van Hutten, 2. Anne Graham, 3. Keith Spinnenweber.

Flying Scot Gold: Race 1-1. Bruce Spinnenweber/Crew, 2. Charles Buffington/Eric Von Ekertsburg, 3. Ryan Schbert/crew.

Race 2-1. Ryan Schubert/crew, 2. Bruce Spinnenweber/crew, 3. Lee/Joanie Coraor.

Flying Scot Silver: Race1 1. Mark/Lauren Schaeffer, 2. Jim Munford/crew, 3. Heidi/Tom Kammer.

Race 2-1. Mark/Lauren Schaeffer, 2. Jim Munford/crew, 3. Andy Carrier/crew.

Flying Scot Masters: 1. Alan/Lyn Silverman, 2. Ned Holloway/crew.

Flying Scot Challenger: 1. John/Anna Blake, 2. Andy Carrier/crew, 3. David/Lissa Klueter.

Track And Field Omissions Noted

Two place finishers representing Southern High School in the recent Maryland State High School Track and Field Championships held at Morgan State University in Baltimore were inadvertently omitted from last week's coverage.

Samantha Taylor finished 9th in a field of 15 in the Class 1A girls' 100-meter hurdles with a time of 17.09 seconds.

Shane Davis placed 10th among 18 finalists in the Class 1A boys' 1,600-meter run, recording a time of 4:45.94.

Iron Furnace 5K Set For June 26

The 22nd annual Iron Furnace 5K will be held Saturday, June 26, at 8 a.m. in Lonaconing. The race will begin at George's Creek Elementary School, along Rt. 36. The point-to-point course will run along George's Creek, through the streets of Lonaconing and finish at the historic Iron Furnace on the north end of town.

All pre-registered runners will receive a T-shirt. Families with more than two entries will receive a discounted fee for each additional entry. Awards will be presented to the first three finishers in 26 age divisions. The top three male and female finishers, overall, will receive cash awards. The first male and female masters will also receive cash awards. After the awards ceremony, a random drawing for numerous door prizes will be held in the Furnace Park.

Refreshments will be provided. Entrants should be pre-registered by June 20. Race day registration will be held from 7 to 7:45 a.m. at the elementary school. T-shirts will be available on race day while they last. Applications are available at Personal Best Athletics in Cumberland or online at www.qcstriders.org. Anyone interested in more information should call Tom Dawson at 301-463-6231.

Rams Netters Top Huskies In Annual GC High School Tourney

The Mountain Lake Park Tennis Club's annual Garrett County High School Tennis Championships were played recently on the club's historic clay courts, with the Southern High boys and girls edging out those of Northern High to claim the team title.

This was the third year for the county championships, with Southern winning the inaugural year and Northern winning last year.

The format was 13 matches consisting of boys' and girls' singles (four each for a total of eight), doubles matches (two each for a total of four), and one mixed doubles match to make the total of 13 matches. Each match was an eight-game pro-set with a 12-point tiebreaker if needed, with only two players permitted to repeat.

After nearly three hours of continuous tennis, the Southern Rams captured the championship by a 9-4 score.

In girls' singles action, Cara Stough of Northern defeated Southern's Abby Wildesen, 8-2; Chelsie Custer of Northern topped Paige Carr of Southern, 8-4; Northern's Morgan Brosnihan defeated Southern's Sara King, 8-4; and Caitlyn Simpson of Southern topped Cassie Doerr, 8-4.

In girls doubles events, Stough and Custer defeated Pattie Sherrard and Carr of Southern, 8-2; while Alexis Harvey and Hannah Newcomb of Southern defeated Doerr and Lauren Adams of Northern, 8-4.

The Southern boys swept the boys' singles matches, with Corey Murphy topping Austin Doerr, 8-5; Aryne Riley rolling over Jeff Trautwein, 8-1; Jake Bramande defeating Ian Aiken, 8-1; and Brutus Scheffel whipping Kyle Herring, 8-3.

The SHS boys also swept the doubles matches, with Murphy and Riley topping Doerr and Trautwein, 8-2; and A.J. Storck and Nixon Malcolm recording an 8-1 victory over Aiken and Herring.

Abby Wildesen and Cody Murphy of Southern teamed up to defeat Northern's Brosnihan and Aiken in the mixed doubles match, 8-3.

RAMS WIN TENNIS TROPHY – The Southern High School boys' and girls' tennis teams captured the 2010 Garrett County high school championships recently by defeating the Northern High teams. The event is sponsored annually by the Mountain Lake Park Tennis Club, and held on the MLP Club's clay courts. Pictured from left above are Bill Tritt, president of the MLP Tennis Club, presenting the championship trophy to Southern girls' and boys' tennis coaches Diana Ashby, Jack Riley, and Jeff Murphy. See story for details.

Physicals To Be Available At SHS

Dr. Dan Miller will offer free athletic physicals at Southern High School on Tuesday, June 15, at 1 p.m. in the gymnasium. Anyone wanting to participate in band or on an athletic team must have a physical.

Athletes may pick up forms from the main offices of Southern Middle or Southern High schools. They may also obtain forms from the student information box in the main lobby of the high school or from the athletic director's office.

Northern Football Teams To Hold Golf Tournament

The Northern High School football team and the Northern Steelers youth football team will hold their annual golf tournament on Friday, June 25 at Wisp Resort Golf Club.

It will be a 2-man scramble format with an 8:30 a.m. shotgun start. The cost will be $75 per golfer, which includes 2 mulligans and all hole contests.

Anyone interested in sponsoring a hole at the tournament or participating should contact Phil Carr at 301-616-4538, or Ben Sisler at 301-746-5630. The cost of sponsoring a hole is $100.

Financial Moves for Non-retiring Baby Boomers

If you're in one of the early waves of baby boomers, you may know some retirees who are now enjoying a wide variety of activities — possibly even including a new career. And you, too, may have some choices about how to spend your time. Should you stay at your current job? Should you retire altogether and travel or pursue hobbies? Or should you "retire" and then start a new job, do some consulting or even open your own business? While you may have choices on how to draw an income, you'll also have some key issues to consider.

For starters, think about how your earnings might affect one source of retirement income: Social Security. As an early wave baby boomer, your "full retirement age," from a Social Security standpoint, will be around 66. If you are younger than full retirement age during all of 2010, you will lose $1 from your benefits for each $2 you earn above $14,160. But if you reach your full retirement age during 2010, you'll lose 41 from your benefits for each $3 you earn above $37,680 until the month you reach that age. (Keep in mind that these figures are for 2010 only; for changes in 2011 and succeeding years, you'll want to check with the Social Security Administration.) Once you reach full retirement age, you can keep all your benefits, no matter how much you earn.

Deciding what to do about Social Security isn't the only move you need to make if you work during your "normal" retirement years. You'll also want to contribute as much as possible to your IRA, 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan. During these years, with your children grown and your mortgage possibly paid, you may have more investable income available – so take advantage of the opportunity.

You'll also need to carefully review your portfolio to help ensure your investment mix is appropriate for your needs. To stay ahead of inflation, you'll still need to invest for growth, but since you're not that far from retirement, you'll also want to control the risk and volatility as much as possible.

Furthermore, you're at the time of life when you may want to consider consolidating your investment and retirement accounts, if you have an IRA here, a 401(k) there and another account someplace else, you have a lot of paperwork to keep track of, both during the year and, especially at tax time. But even more importantly, with all your accounts scattered, you might not be following one central, unifying investment approach – an approach that could help make it easier for you to pursue your long-term goals, including a comfortable retirement. By consolidating your accounts with one company, you can save time and possibly reduce administrative fees – while your accounts can work in harmony on your behalf.

This may be a good time to consult with a professional financial advisor – someone who can help you make those choices that can help provide you with the freedom to spend this next phase of your life doing as you please. After all, you've earned it.

Garrett County Leader In Spring Turkey Harvest

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) reports that 2,847 wild turkeys were harvested during the 2010 spring season, a slight 2 percent decline from last year's total of 2,910. Harvest numbers were tallied after the May 24 close of Maryland's spring turkey hunting season.

Garrett County led the harvest with 345 turkeys, followed by Allegany (327) and Washington (303) counties. Charles (215), Dorchester (213), and Worcester (191) counties also reported high harvests.

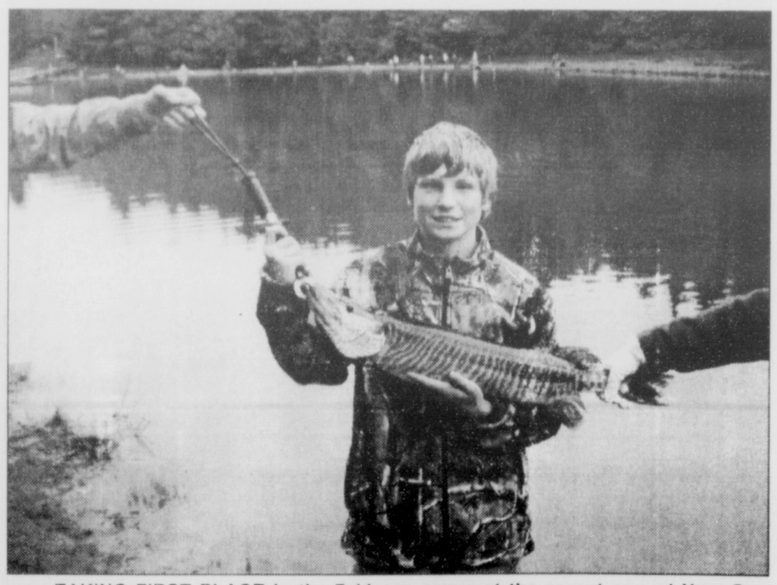
The 2010 numbers are similar to the 10-year average of 2,927, showing that Maryland's turkey population remains healthy despite the extended inclement weather this past winter.

"Many hunters were concerned that the exceptionally cold temperatures and deep snows this past winter might have harmed the turkey population," stated Bob Long, DNR's upland game bird biologist. "Based on the harvest numbers, the impacts were minor, even in western Maryland, where snowfall amounts were very high."

Only 17 percent of the harvest consisted of young gobblers, called jakes. This is well below average and supports DNR survey results that documented low reproductive success throughout most of the state last summer.

Junior hunters took advantage of good weather and harvested 147 gobblers during the one-day youth hunt held on April 17. Favorable hunting conditions continued through the early part of the regular season, and 44 percent of the total harvest was taken in the first six days of hunting.

Approximately 10,000 hunters pursue turkeys annually during Maryland's spring season, and about 25 percent are successful in taking at least one turkey.



TAKING FIRST PLACE in the 7-11 age group at the recent annual New Germany State Park Fishing Rodeo was James Lewis, who is pictured above with his 31-inch tiger muskie. James was one of 56 youth from ages 4 to 15 who participated in the event, sponsored by New Germany State Park and the Friends of New Germany State Park. Rain began just before start time and continued off and on for the entire event. Finishing second and third, respectively, in the 7-11 age group were Shannon Kauffman with a 13-inch largemouth bass, and Kyle Sarver, who had a 13-inch rainbow trout. Sophie Dewitt caught a 12-inch rainbow to win the age 6 and under division, while second and third places went to David Warnick and Jesse Tichnell, who each caught a rainbow measuring 11¼ inches. Winning the 12-15 age group with a 13-inch rainbow, plus two other rainbows, was Levi Otto, and second and third places were taken by Morgan Brenneman and Levi Broadwater, who each caught a 13-inch rainbow. All parents and children were treated to a hot dog lunch after the rodeo.

DNR Schedules Free Fishing Day For This Saturday

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Fisheries Service will hold its second Free Fishing Day of the season this Saturday, June 12.

DNR sets aside three days each year when a license is not required to encourage families and visitors to fish in Maryland waters. On these days anglers may fish without fishing licenses.

The first free fishing day was held last Saturday, and the third will be held on Sunday, July 4.

"This is a great chance for new and experienced anglers to sample the excellent fishing opportunities that Maryland offers," said Gov. Martin O'Malley. "Families are encouraged to enjoy fishing at no cost while spending time together on Maryland's beautiful, abundant waterways."

Free-fishing anglers still must adhere to minimum size and creel limits for the 60 species that are managed by DNR. These limits are printed online and in the "Maryland Fishing Guide," available from hundreds of license agents and tackle shops as well as at the seven DNR service centers in the state.

Maryland's free fishing days are traditionally held the first two Saturdays in June and July 4. Anglers under 16 years old do not need a Maryland license throughout the season.

To find free fishing areas, interested persons may visit online at dnr.state.md.us/fisheries/recreational/freefi.html.

DNR Service Center information and locations are available at dnr.maryland.gov/service/center.asp.

Anglers can report their catches through DNR's "Maryland Angler's Log" online at dnr.maryland.gov/fisheries/log.

HEAD START AND EARLY HEAD START ACCEPTING APPS – The Garrett County Community Action Committee Head Start and Early Head Start programs are now actively taking applications for the 2010-11 school year. Families who have children with disabilities are encouraged to apply for both programs. In addition to Head Start, Grantsville now has Early Head Start services for families with children ages 6 weeks to 3 years old who are age eligible. Increasing the number of children entering school ready to learn is one of Community Action's primary objectives. The Head Start and Early Head Start programs promote the GCCAC goal of creating a positive attitude about the value of education among working families and young people, thereby increasing the number of Garrett County families who are economically self-sufficient. Interested parents may call the Family Service staff at 301-334-9431 or 1-888-877-8304 to make an appointment to complete an application or to get more information.

athletes Ben Brown, Brandon Huff, and April Schrock told the students about the special adaptations TRR athletes use to paddle kayaks, such as special outfitting for prosthetic legs or attachments so that they can still hold a paddle with injured or missing hands.

Other highlights of the weekend included a "Veterans Procession" and Whitewater Parade to open ASCI's All-American Whitewater Festival on Saturday. The procession was led by local bagpiper Jerry McGee and the Southern High School's Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps Color Guard, and included TRR athletes from the various military branches in full uniform.

Southern High School graduate Joanna Guy performed the "Star Spangled Banner" to cap off the procession, singing with the whitewater roaring in the background.

The procession was followed by the first ever "Whitewater Parade," in which more than 30 TRR paddlers and their coaches kayaked down "Pinball Alley," the difficult top part of the ASCI whitewater course, and were then followed by 12 rafts festooned with homemade figureheads.

The figureheads were built by various groups, notably students from Southern Middle School. The winning figurehead was a ladybug sculpture built by sixth graders. All figureheads had to survive the rapids in order to be judged.

"The rest of the weekend was filled with whitewater action for the TRR athletes, and much needed R&R, thanks to the outpouring of hospitality from Garrett County citizens," Nicolas said.

She added that next year's Rendezvous will likely take place in late June, and the All-American Whitewater Festival (slated for 2011 Memorial Day weekend at ASCI) will again feature TRR athletes as the focal point and honored participants in activities throughout the weekend.

EXPERIENCE DOES COUNT

This letter from Maryland's elected State Treasurer, Nancy Kopp, was received recently by Register of Wills Rita Watson congratulating her on the completion of an audit of 3 years of her office's operations. The audit, done by a State Certified Fraud Examiner and CPA, took 5 weeks to complete. A report of "no finding" is much coveted by State agencies subject to regular State audits.

The register's offices are audited at least every 3 years without prior notice. The local office remitted almost $300,000 to the State General Fund after operating expenses and refunds last year.

I ASK FOR YOUR HELP AND SUPPORT SO THAT I MAY CONTINUE TO PROVIDE FRIENDLY, HELPFUL, EFFICIENT AND PROFESSIONAL SERVICE TO THE PEOPLE OF GARRETT COUNTY.

Dear Ms. Watson

Recently, I received a copy of your audit for the period beginning May 21, 2007, and ending March 21, 2010, conducted by the Department of Legislative Services, Office of Legislative Audits.

Congratulations! It's rare we're informed, "Our audit did not disclose any findings." Your office is obviously doing a great job – keep up the good work!

Bittinger Native Volunteers In New Orleans

Tyler Brenneman, a Bittinger native, recently traveled to Louisiana with the Gracenotes Volunteer Committee of Berklee College of Music to help build the New Orleans Musicians' Village, a Habitat for Humanity project to create new homes in the city's Upper Ninth Ward for residents and musicians displaced by hurricanes Katrina and Rita.

Brenneman said the experience was rewarding because the work's impact could be seen in a "tangible way."

"Putting in the long hours each day was so rewarding because we were all working toward completing a new home for someone in a similar situation," said Brenneman, who worked alongside a musician displaced by Katrina. "People were eternally grateful for the work we were doing, and it felt great to lend my time and talents to help those in need."

The Gracenotes Volunteer Committee, a group of Berklee staff volunteers, is committed to giving back to the "birthplace of jazz," through several service opportunities.

Annual events include, volunteering at the American Red Cross Boston Food Pantry's Thanksgiving drive, participating in the Boston Heart Walk and providing music for the event, organizing City on a Hill and serving as judges for Roxbury Charter High School's annual science fair, and helping to clean up the park in Boston's Back Bay.

Brenneman is the son of William and Celeste Brenneman of Bittinger. He is a 2005 graduate of Northern High School and a 2008 graduate of Berklee College of Music with a degree in music business and management. He is currently a full- time staff member in Berklee's financial aid department.

Spring Carnival To Be Held At Broad Ford

Broad Ford Elementary School will hold a spring carnival on Friday, June 11, from 6 to 8 p.m. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Activities will include football toss, face painting, Wii bowling, Over the Rainbow coin toss, dunking booth, mini-golf, moon bounce, silent auction, and soda ring toss.

Hot dogs, nachos, popcorn, cotton candy, and soda will be available for purchase. Proceeds will benefit the PTO and teacher allotments.

Lunch & Learn Event Slated At Local Restaurant

Garrett College will hold its second Lunch & Learn Series event on Friday, June 25, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at Santa Fe Grille in McHenry. In addition to lunch, the event will include a "thought-provoking" presentation and follow-up discussion.

Dr. David Moran, president of Technology International Partnerships LLC will present "Why Are We Here?" Moran earned bachelor of science and master of science degrees from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a doctorate from the University of Iowa in the field of hydrodynamics (ocean engineering).

He was affiliated for many years with the U.S. Department of the Navy, including serving as director of research and technology at the David Taylor Research Center.

Moran has also been a student at the Episcopal Divinity School of the Pacific and is a graduate of the Brethren Ministerial Development program.

He will lead a discussion centered on some universal questions (What is discovery?), some local issues (What is respect?), and some critical topics (Why do we educate?).

The $20 fee covers the cost of lunch, a soft drink, gratuity, and presentation. A cash bar will be available. To register for the event, persons may call 301-387-3069.

For additional information, persons may contact Maney Gale at 301-387-3086 or maney.gale@garrettcollege.edu.

Service Schedule Change For DCL Methodist Church

The Deep Creek United Methodist Ministries (DCUMM) of Hoyes and Paradise will hold a combined worship service this Sunday, June 13, at the Hoyes Chapel beginning at 9 a.m. Paradise Chapel will not hold a service this week.

Services will return to the normal schedule on June 20, with services at 9 a.m. at Hoyes Chapel and 10:30 at the Paradise Chapel. Betty Pritt will be the guest speaker for this service. She will be delivering a message titled "Let Me Go".

Coffee and cookies will be provided following the service, and the public is invited to attend.

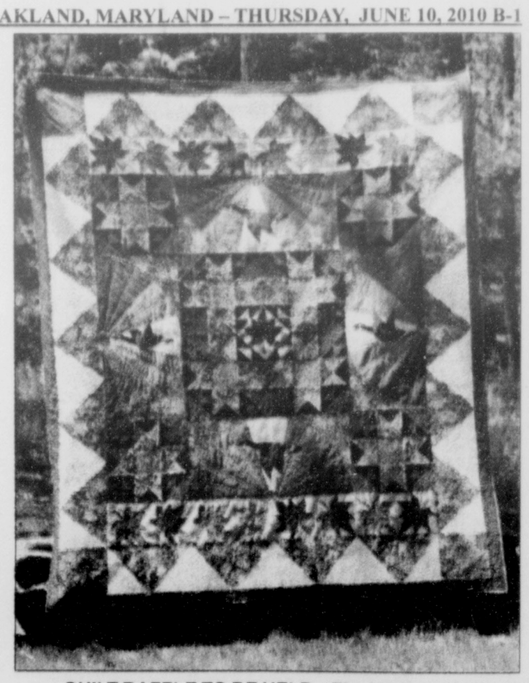
Kids Activities To Be Held At Loch Lynn Church

Loch Lynn Church of God "Kidz Factory" will hold a "Kidz Crusade" on Wednesday, June 23, through Friday, June 25, from 6:30 to 8:30 each evening. Children ages 2 through 12 are invited to attend.

The theme is "Kingdom Tales," which takes children to the throne room of King Earl the Undecided, a spokesperson said. With each lesson, the king must decide the best way to solve a problem in the kingdom. To do so, the king seeks the counsel of the kingdom's two most trusted advisers, the spokesperson said.

There will be music, a live band featuring the youth of the church, skits, puppets, and classes for children ages 2 through 5 years. Following Kidz Crusade on Saturday, June 26, the church will host a free carnival for all area children ages 2 through 12, and their families.

There will be food, water slides, pony rides, moon bounces, and carnival games. The church is located along Rt. 560 at 8649 Gorman Road in Oakland. Anyone interested in more information may call the church at 301-334-3221.



QUILT RAFFLE TO BE HELD – The Heritage Quilters will be raffling a quilt to be given away during the quilt show at Autumn Glory. The quilt is pictured above and was quilted by Sharon Garlitz. Chances are available from any Heritage Quilters member or at various locations throughout the county. Interested persons are welcome to join the group, which meets at 7 p.m. at Garrett College the second Tuesday of each month. Anyone interested in additional information should call Martha McGettigan at 301-387-4959.

State Park Programs

DEEP CREEK LAKE STATE PARK/ DISCOVERY CENTER

The following activities have been scheduled for this week at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Programs and center hours are subject to change without notice. All programs meet or begin at the Discovery Center unless otherwise noted. Further information can be obtained by calling the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067, or by visiting the web site: www.dnr.state.md.us/publiclands/western/deepcreeklake.

Friday, June 11

• 8 a.m. – Let's Go Birding. Participants will learn about local breeding birds with one of Garrett County's avid birders. Learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs while walking through Friend's Delight. Guests should bring binoculars and meet at the Friend's Store in Sang Run. (90 min.)

Saturday, June 12

• 11 a.m. – Black Bears and You. Naturalists will lead a hike along the Snakeroot Trail in search of black bears. Information about black bears and their habitat will be shared. Hikers may have the opportunity to see one. Participants must have proper hiking footwear. (90 min.)

• 6:30 p.m. – Getting to Know SAV. Dr. William Pegg from Frostburg State University will offer a discussion about Deep Creek Lake's submerged aquatic vegetation (SAV). Pegg has studied the SAV in Deep Creek Lake for many years. He will discuss identification, changes, and the importance of these underwater plants.

Sunday, June 13

• 7 a.m. – Snakeroot Hike. Walkers will watch nature as it "wakes up." Guests may join a naturalist to hike the Snakeroot Trail. Proper footwear is required. (60 min.)

• 11 a.m. – Birding 101. Learn birding basics with the naturalist: How to notice identifying marks in the field, basic calls, and the top 10 common birds. (1 hr.)

• 1:30 p.m. – Aviary Encounter. Guests are invited to the aviary to see and learn about birds of prey. The birds will be perched, which will provide photo opportunities, so guests should bring cameras. (2 hr.)

Tuesday, June 15

• 8 a.m. – Let's Go Birding. Participants will learn about local breeding birds with one of Garrett County's avid birders. Learn how to "bird by ear" and listen for distinctive songs. Meet at the Discovery Center. Guests should bring binoculars. (90 min.)

• 10:30 a.m. – Where in the World am I? GPS Class. Guests may join the park ranger and get acquainted with a hand-held GPS unit. This hands-on class will teach the basics of the GPS unit as well as its other mapping capabilities. Participants may bring their own or borrow one from the center. (There are just five to lend, so persons should sign up early.) Free. (45 min.)

• 1 p.m. – Browsing for Butterflies. Guests will investigate the state park gardens with the naturalist, looking for and identifying butterflies, and learning about the native plants these butterflies love and ways to improve their habitat. (60 min.)

• 3 p.m. – Critter Encounter. Guests are invited to join a naturalist as the many fish, turtles, and snakes in the Discovery Center are fed. (30 min.)

Wednesday, June 16

• 10:30 a.m. – Wildflower Walk. Guests are invited to take a walk around the Discovery Center with the naturalist to learn the many species of flowers in the area. Participants may taste native wildflower tea and learn of some of the medicinal values of these plants.

• 1:30 p.m. – Brant Mine Hike. Take a guided hike with the naturalist to the historic Brant Mine. Hikers will see the remnants of a coal mine that operated in the 1920s. Various forms of wildlife may be sighted on the way.

NEW GERMANY STATE PARK

New Germany State Park is located at 349 Headquarters Lane, south of Grantsville. The office can be reached at 301-895-5453. All programs are free of charge unless otherwise indicated. This schedule is subject to change without notice. Persons are advised to contact the park office to confirm program information.

Friday, June 11

• 1-4 p.m. – Nature Center Open House. The Schoolhouse Nature Center will be open and manned by the naturalist, who will be available to answer questions. Kids may complete a craft during their visit.

• 5:30 – 7:30 p.m. – Game Time at the Lake House. Families are invited for an evening of nature-themed board games and ping-pong. All ages.

Saturday, June 12

• 2-4 p.m. – Home Tweet Home. Guests are invited to the Schoolhouse Nature Center to learn about different bird species, and how to attract them by providing proper shelter and food. Participants will be able to help the park naturalist install a new birdbath, and create housing and feeding opportunities that are beneficial to backyard birds. A hike will be a part of the program, so persons should have proper footwear. For those ages 3 and up.

• 5-7 p.m. – Go Fish. Families invited for card games and fishing. No licenses or experience are required, as it is a free fishing day. Ranger Luke Mongrain will demonstrate fly-fishing techniques. Playing cards will be available for anyone interested. All ages.

• 9-10:30 p.m. – Star Party. Guests are invited to the Schoolhouse Nature Center's parking lot #5 to join local amateur astronomers for a look at the night sky. The program will begin at the Nature Center with a slideshow, and move to Parking Lot 5 to view the night sky through telescopes. All ages.

Sunday, June 13

• 1-2:15 p.m. – Bear Aware. Meet at the Schoolhouse Nature Center to learn about the black bears found at New Germany State Park. Safety advice and facts will be presented by the park naturalist. There will also be a hike so participants can look for evidence along the trails. All ages.

Monday, June 14

• 1-4 p.m. – Nature Center Open House. The Schoolhouse Nature Center will be open and manned by the naturalist, who will be available to answer questions.

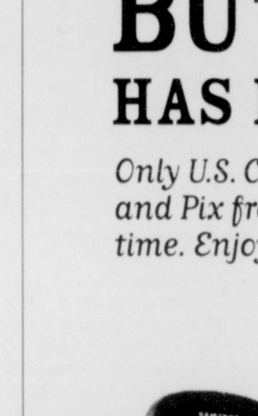
Local Student Recognized By National Society



The National Society of High School Scholars (NSHSS) recently announced that Southern Garrett High School student Erin E. Layton, Oakland, has been selected for membership. The society recognizes top scholars and invites only those students who have achieved "academic excellence."

"On behalf of NSHSS, I am honored to recognize the hard work, sacrifice, and commitment that Erin has demonstrated to achieve this level of academic excellence," said Claes Nobel, society founder and chairman. "Erin is now a member of a unique community of scholars – a community that represents our very best hope for the future."

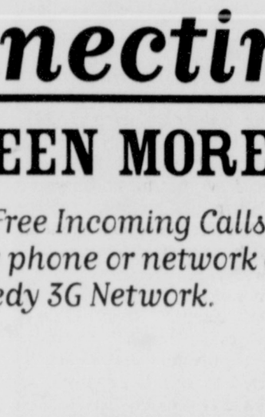
Erin is currently a sophomore at SHS. Her activities include cheerleading and participating in the Emergency Services Club.

One of her most recent honors is placing in the top 20 percent of the nation on the National Financial Capability Challenge.

After graduation, Erin plans to attend Garrett College for two years before transferring to West Virginia University to become a math teacher.

Erin is the daughter of Jennifer and Jamie Michael, Oakland, and Rick and Tanya Layton, Longmont, Colo.

Bonser Graduates Summa Cum Lade



Robert Jeffrey Bonser recently graduated summa cum laude from Frostburg State University with a bachelor of science degree in athletic training. He is the son of Robert and Suzanne Bonser, Oakland.

Bonser was on the dean's list each semester, graduating with a cumulative grade point average of 3.98.

In addition, he was involved in numerous campus activities such as BURG, the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, Relay For Life, CHILL, peer tutoring, freshman summer orientation session, and FSU president Jonathan Gibralter's Leadership Circle.

Bonser is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and will attend the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill this fall as a teaching assistant in the graduate program for exercise and sports science.

COMPUTERS AND PHONE FILTERS

by Dr. Tom Sheahen

Q. My computer's been taking a really long time to download certain videos that I know aren't that big. Someone said my DSL connection might have a "failing phone filter." What is that?

A. This little item can easily "cause more trouble than it's worth." A phone filter is a very inexpensive component, but it can cause computer users to spend time (and sometimes money) doing detective work and clean up and installing new software.

The problem you cite (taking unreasonably long to download a file) usually leads a person to suspect one has a computer virus. If your Internet connection is via cable, a virus may well be the cause. However, when the Internet connection is via DSL (digital subscriber line), the slow pace might be from another cause: a failure of a filter.

In a DSL link, the ordinary telephone wires are used to carry the string of 1's and 0's that constitute the information being transmitted. The "data rate" is around a million kilobytes per second when the link is working properly.

Meanwhile, you want to be able to talk over the very same telephone line at the same time. One of the nice features of DSL is that data transmission goes on in the background even while someone is talking on the phone. The reason this is possible is that the frequencies of voice and data transmission are completely different. In speech, all the frequencies in your voice are pretty low, under 10,000 Hz, so voice communications take place in the low-frequency range, totally unrelated to the frequency range at which the digital data is being transmitted.

But "unrelated" does not mean "disconnected." Signals in completely different frequency ranges are still going along the same wires. If your phone and your computer were both plugged in to a common wall jack, you'd hear an annoying hissing noise while you're talking.

To eliminate that hissing, a "low-pass" filter is put into the telephone line. The function of the filter is to prevent high-frequency signals from reaching the telephone; but low-frequency signals (the frequencies comprising voices) are allowed to pass through. Neither person on the phone hears anything at all pertaining to the data being simultaneously transmitted.

A typical phone filter is beige and about 2 inches long, and sits in the telephone wire down on the floor, where everybody forgets about it. When DSL is installed, the phone company gives you such a filter for every phone in your house. But no filter is to be placed in the line connecting the computer to the wall jack. The reason a filter is needed for each phone is because of a very important electrical condition: From the "electric" point of view, every point on all the phone wires is electrically the same point. One phone jack is electrically identical to all the others, so something connected to one is equally connected to the others. If you have two extensions besides your main home telephone, you'll have three active phone jacks, and you'll need three filters to isolate them all from data-transmission signals originating in the computer. The computer and all telephones are "hanging on" or "loading" the same electrical wires.

Under normal circumstances, nobody even gives this a second thought. But when a phone filter fails, some minor interior component (like a resistor or capacitor) has changed in value and hence changes the electrical appearance of the filter/phone combination. Data coming over the wires no longer sees a perfect path straight into the computer, but has an optional excursion path off toward the phone. That's not good; imagine walking up to a house and being presented with two possible entrance doors. The computer receiving the data reacts to this confusion by scrutinizing the incoming data more carefully to make sure it's right; and that takes extra time. The final result is that the amount of data transmitted per second slows down substantially below what it had been previously.

How can you tell if this has happened? When everything is working right, a typical YouTube or other video being downloaded from the Internet starts playing while it's still downloading, and the progress of the little bar at the bottom of your screen shows that the "playing" speed never catches up with the "downloading" speed, so you see it without interruption. If the dot indicating "play" catches up with the bar indicating "loading," the video you're watching will stop and wait a while for the incoming data stream to catch up. Then you know something is wrong.

There are tests you can run (free over the Internet) or that the phone company can run remotely to measure the download speed and the upload speed of your computer. That should be the first detective work you do when your connection seems slow. With DSL, always expect that the upload speed will be less than the download speed.

Fixing the problem is easy: Just replace the filter. (They're so cheap that the phone company can mail you some extras for less cost than the value of their employee's time explaining it.) But finding the problem is harder! The defective filter could be any of the phone-filters elsewhere in the house. Disconnect all the phone jacks and see if your download speed goes back up. If it does, plug one phone filter back in and observe the download speed again. When you plug in the bad filter, the download speed will drop, and that tells you which filter to replace.

You don't have to spend big money upgrading your system. Too many people think they need to switch to cable when their download speed is unsatisfactory. The reality is that a properly working DSL connection is fully adequate for the needs of nearly all home users.

Discovery Center To Hold "Aquatic "Weeds" Program from the Maryland Department of Natural Resources

The Discovery Center, Deep Creek Lake State Park, will host a presentation about the aquatic vegetation in Deep Creek Lake tomorrow, Friday, June 11, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

The Deep Creek Lake Management Office received numerous calls last summer about the "weeds" that proliferated in the lake. These weeds are submerged aquatic vegetation (SAV).

These grasses are indicators of good water quality, because they are abundant only where nutrient levels are low and water clarity is high. Weather and water temperature determine annual changes in growth rate; some years have explosive growth rates, while other years do not.

These plants are important because they do the following:

1. Provide great habitat for young and adult fish protecting them from predators.

2. Provide food for waterfowl, fish, and mammals.

3. Absorb wave energy and nutrients, produce oxygen and improve water clarity.

4. Settle suspended sediment in the water and stabilize bottom sediments.

5. Protect shorelines from erosion.

For a number of years Frostburg University professor Dr. William Pegg has been annually surveying the vegetation in Deep Creek Lake. Pegg's findings for this year point to one of the healthiest crops of SAV ever.

This is good news, as it shows we have an extremely healthy body of water. Pegg found eight species of SAV in the various coves of Deep Creek Lake.

SAVs die back each fall. The annual lake draw down and cold winter temperatures kill some of the vegetation. Depending on the species, the plants grow back from the roots or seeds in the spring and are not too noticeable in the early summer months. They continue to grow until cold weather arrives and the intensity of sunlight diminishes.

If sunlight and water temperatures are right for a great growing year, by late summer these plants can be a navigational problem in shallow coves. Last year was one of those years. Elodea, one of the common SAV species in Deep Creek Lake, is propagated by stem fragments taking root. Therefore, the chopping action of propellers causes more plants to thrive in the shallow coves. Raking, pulling, or cutting the elodea just causes more of it to exist.

This man-made lake is a living, dynamic, natural resource. It is aging through natural processes. The mission of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources is to preserve, protect, enhance, and restore Maryland's natural resources for the wise use and enjoyment of all citizens.

The submerged aquatic vegetation that grows in Deep Creek Lake is part of an important ecosystem and must be permitted to grow and thrive.

During tomorrow's presentation, Dr. Pegg will assist the center in providing information about the vegetation and what it means to local fisheries. For more information, persons may call the Discovery Center at 301-387-7067.

Student Receives Degree Through Online Program

Tina Walkling, a Garrett College student, was awarded a bachelor's degree on Sunday, May 9, 2010, from Franklin University in Columbus, Ohio.

Walkling, a business administration major from Oakland, completed a bachelor's degree by participating in a unique educational alliance between Garrett College and Franklin University.

The program allows students in the U.S. to combine on-campus coursework at their local community colleges with online classes through Franklin to complete their degrees.

Catholic Daughters Slate Book Sale At Oakland Parish

The Catholic Daughters of the Americas, Court Oakland #2209, will hold a book sale this Saturday, June 12, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church parish hall.

Cookbooks, audio, children's, fiction, and non-fiction books will be sold. Also available will be apple dumplings and barbecued beef sandwiches.

All proceeds will benefit charities sponsored by the Catholic Daughters.

The parish hall is located at 208 S. Fourth Street, Oakland.

USAA Honors NMS Student

The United States Achievement Academy recently announced that Erin Rogers, McHenry, has been recognized as "a student of excellence" in science.

Erin, who attends Northern Middle School, was nominated for this honor by Cheryl Georg, a science teacher at the school. Erin's biography will appear in the USAA's Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

The academy recognizes students upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors, and upon the standards for selection set forth by the academy. Those standards include academic performance, interest and aptitude, and leadership qualities.

Erin is the daughter of Jeff and Faith Rogers.

Fairview Church Schedules VBS For Next Week

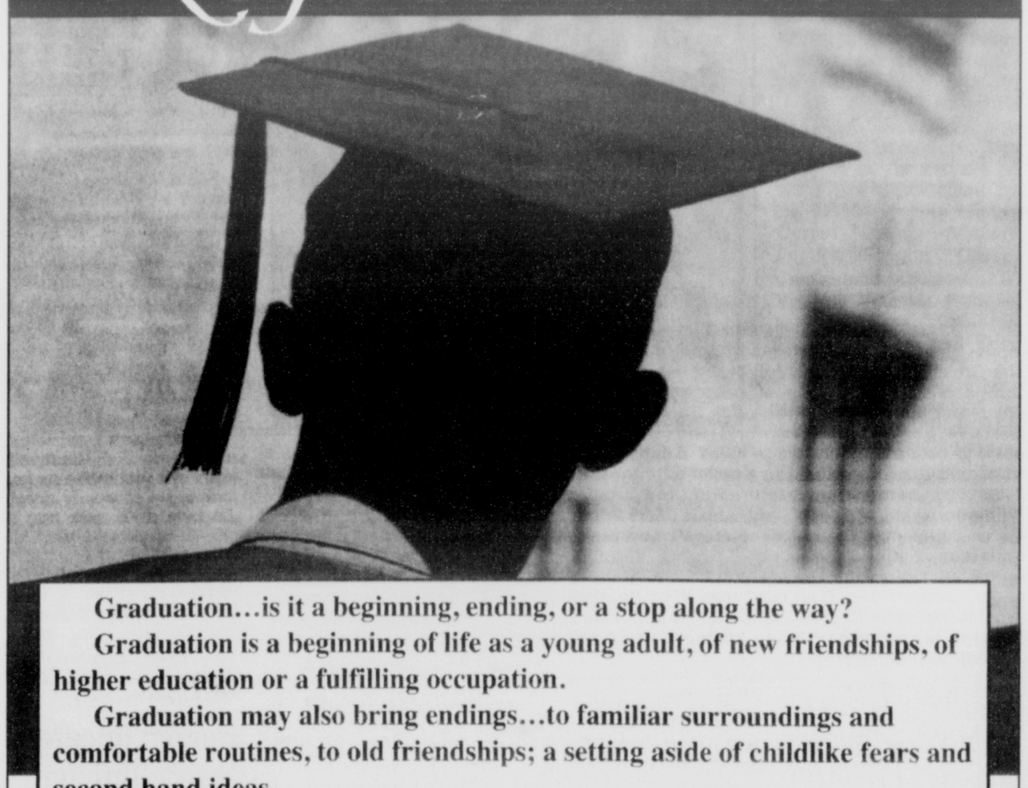
Reflections



Graduation…is it a beginning, ending, or a stop along the way?

Graduation is a beginning of life as a young adult, of new friendships, of higher education or a fulfilling occupation.

Graduation may also bring endings…to familiar surroundings and comfortable routines, to old friendships; a setting aside of childlike fears and second hand ideas.

Perhaps, graduation is a significant stop along the way, a preparatory pause, a fork in the road, a step on life's ladder. Indeed, the word itself means a gradual transition …a time to remember the past, to ponder the present, and to dream of the future.

Whatever graduation means to you, feel proud of your accomplishments, and praise God for providing you with strength and guidance. Worship Him regularly, so that you may continue to receive His direction during this most meaningful time in your life!

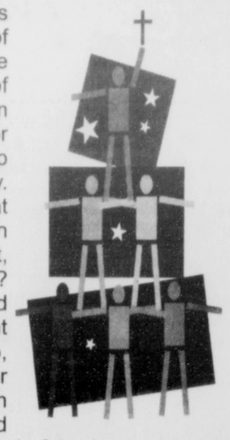
Citizenship as Teamwork



Although citizenship is usually thought of in terms of one's country, we are members or "citizens" of many groups, ranging from our families to our racial or ethnic groups, all the way up to the entire human family. One might even argue that we should feel a kinship with all living things. Are we not, after all, part of one creation? The key to being a good citizen is pulling one's weight and being loyal to the group, without being prejudicial or biased towards those not in the group. Being a good American entails paying one's fair share of taxes and working for the common good, but it doesn't require that we be prejudiced against non-Americans. We are all citizens of the world and we should work together towards the common goal of making the world a better place. Democrats and Republicans sometimes play politics as if they are members of opposing teams, and politically they may be, but in reality they are all playing for the same team, i.e., our country. And even when we think about foreign affairs and international politics we should resist the urge to think that we are competing with other nations. It is not a zero-sum game where when one country wins others must lose. We all share the same planet, and that should make us members of the same team. So we should do our best to be a team player and contribute to the good of all the groups to which we belong.

Let each of you look out not only for his own interests, but also for the interests of others.

Multiple Treatments for Seasonal Allergies

Seasonal allergies, also known as allergic rhinitis or hay fever, occur due to exposure of a variety of allergens, such as pollen or mold. An allergic reaction occurs when inflammatory cells produce substances such as histamine that lead to inflammation. The condition is characterized by nasal inflammation, which leads to symptoms such as itching, sneezing, runny nose, red eyes, and congestion.

If possible, avoidance of a known allergen can be effective in reducing symptoms. There are also many different types of medications available to treat seasonal allergies. For nasal congestion, intranasal steroids, such as fluticasone (Flonase, Flovent) and budesonide (Pulmicort, Rhinocort), work to reduce inflammation. Antihistamines, such as cetirizine (Zyrtec) and loratadine (Claritin), are available over the counter for relief of seasonal allergy symptoms. Pseudoephedrine (Sudafed), a decongestant, is available in combination with the antihistamines Zyrtec (Zyrtec-D) and Claritin (Claritin-D) to improve relief of symptoms. Antihistamines may also be prescribed in the form of nasal sprays, such as azelastine (Astelin) and olopatadine (Patanol). Monteiukast (Singulair) works to block leukotrienes, which are substances that may be released in response to allergen exposure, leading to allergy symptoms.

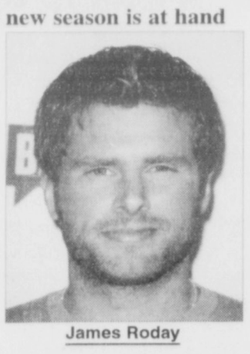
Get 'Psych'-ed: Show's new season is at hand

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it



James Roday

Q: I have been waiting and waiting. Isn't "Psych" coming back? –Leilani McHenry, Moundsville, West Va.

A: Well, since the season finale was only in March, maybe you could take off one of those "waitings." In any event, you don't have much longer to wait: USA Network is scheduled to launch season five of the comedy-mystery series starring James Roday and Dule Hill on July 21.

Q: We would like to know the name and present occupation of the host of "American Idol." He is married to Mariah Carey. –Margaret Simmons, Oklahoma City

A: This will come as quite a surprise to Ryan Seacrest, who is the "American Idol" host, though he is known to be on very friendly terms with Carey. Her husband actually is Nick Cannon, who is the host of the somewhat "Idol"-ish NBC contest "America's Got Talent." He also is an actor and rapper ... and he and singing star Carey renewed their marriage vows earlier this year. Sorry, Ryan.

Q: What is the significance of using a lion as part of the trademark at the beginning of a movie from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer? –Kelly Smith, Grand Junction, Colo.

A: Howard Dietz, the man who designed the MGM logo when Metro Pictures and the companies owned by Samuel Goldwyn and Louis B. Mayer merged in 1924, took some personal license and used a lion in tribute to Columbia University. That was his alma mater, and the athletic teams there are named – you can probably guess – the Lions. (And the school's fight song is "Roar, Lion, Roar.")

Q: My favorite show is "Legend of the Seeker." Do you have any information on the actor who plays Richard, Craig Horner? Has he done any other television or movies? –Blaine Racine, Tucson, Ariz.

A: The Australian actor did several other series in his native land before starting "Seeker" in 2008 ... namely, "Blue Water High," "H2O: Just Add Water," "Monarch Cove" and "Cybergirl."

In 2003, Horner worked for "Highlander" director Russell Mulcahy in the movie "Swimming Upstream," which also featured "House" co-star Jesse Spencer and still makes the premium-cable rounds here "in the States." Horner also played one of the targets of a killer (portrayed by wrestler Kane) in the 2006 thriller "See No Evil."

Strange BUT TRUE
By Samantha Weaver

• It was multi-talented Sir Francis Bacon — he was a statesman, lawyer, scientist, philosopher and author — who made the following sage observation: "If a man will begin with certainties, he shall end in doubts; but if he will be content to begin with doubts, he shall end in certainties."

• One of the most highly praised actresses of our time, Meryl Streep, holds the record for Academy Award nominations; she's been awarded the Oscar twice, but has been nominated an impressive 16 times.

• The highest known life insurance payout occurred in 1970, when the widow of a cattle rancher was awarded $18 million in benefits.

• Those who study such things say that Italians drink, on average, 26 gallons of wine every year.

• It's just common sense that people tend to behave better when they're being watched, but it may come as a surprise that it doesn't seem to matter whether or not the watcher is real. Researchers made this discovery in an experiment conducted at the University of Newcastle in Australia. In a coffee lounge where paying for the beverage was optional, a picture of a pair of eyes was placed next to the price list at some times, and at other times a picture of flowers accompanied the list. On days when the eyes were posted, more than three times as much money was donated than on days when the flowers were in the same spot.

• People magazine reportedly paid $6 million for photos of Jennifer Lopez's twin babies, Emme and Max.

• Between 1960 and 2006, the average American's production of solid waste — including everything from paper packaging to lawn clippings — increased by 150 percent to 4.5 pounds every day.

Moments in time
THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On June 15, 1877, Henry Ossian Flipper, born a slave in Thomasville, Ga., in 1856, is the first black cadet to graduate from the United States Military Academy at West Point. Flipper was appointed a second lieutenant in the all-black 10th Cavalry at Fort Sill in the Indian Territory.

• On June 19, 1885, the Statue of Liberty arrives in New York Harbor as a symbol of Franco-American friendship. Nine years late in arriving, the 300-foot statue was a gift from the people of France as a celebration of the Declaration of Independence centenary in 1876.

• On June 14, 1909, folksinger and Academy Award-winning actor Burl Ives is born near Hunt City, Ill. Ives is perhaps best known for his voiceover work as the jovial Sam the Snowman in the animated Christmas special "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," which included the song "A Holly Jolly Christmas."

• On June 18, 1923, the first Checker Cab rolls off the line at the Checker Cab Manufacturing Company in Kalamazoo, Mich. The company then employed some 700 people. The last Checker Cab rolled off the line in Kalamazoo in 1982.

• On June 20, 1941, after a long and bitter struggle on the part of Henry Ford against cooperation with organized labor unions, Ford Motor Company signs its first contract with the United Automobile Workers of America and Congress of Industrial Organizations (UAW-CIO).

• On June 16, 1965, Bob Dylan records "Like a Rolling Stone." The sales staff at Columbia Records did not like the song due to its length, 6 minutes 34 seconds. Two radio DJs heard a bootlegged song and demanded copies. Sales got its last dig in by chopping "Like a Rolling Stone" in half and putting it on separate sides of 45s, but a re-spliced full version was what radio stations played.

Collecting
by Larry Cox

Q. I have the Rolling Stone issue from Jan. 9, 1992, with Michael Jackson on its cover. Is it of any value? — E.P.W., Carrier Mills, Ill.

A. I spoke to several Jackson collectors who seem to agree that the cover is fairly common and worth in the $10 to $20 range, depending on condition and demand.

Q. I am interested in locating a copy of "Bobbing Head Dolls" by Tim Hunter. Can you help me? — Harvey, Sun City, Ariz.

A. The price guide, originally published by Krause Books in 1999, is out-of-print, but I did find several copies available for less than $20 at www.abe.com.

OVER 71 POUNDS OF POP-TABS COLLECTED FOR JOHNS HOPKINS – Elizabeth Sines attended the annual Hugh O'Brian Youth (HOBY) Maryland Leadership Seminar after she collected over 71 pounds, with the help of Broad Ford Elementary School, of aluminum can pop-tabs for the Johns Hopkins Hospital Children's Cancer Center. Sines is pictured with the pop-tabs she collected.

Southern High Student Attends HOBY Seminar

Elizabeth Sines, a sophomore at Southern High School, attended the 32nd annual Hugh O'Brian Youth (HOBY) Maryland Leadership Seminar at Mount St. Mary's University in Emmitsburg on May 28-30.

This seminar brought together a select group of students to interact with leaders in business, governmental and educational arenas to discuss relevant present and future issues. This annual event is organized by volunteers, three quarters of whom are HOBY alumni who are committed to "giving back" by offering leadership training, one-on-one mentoring and financial sponsorship.

The goal is to provide a forum for HOBY Ambassadors to learn more about the American incentive system and the democratic process, while gaining an understanding of leadership potential and self-development. Topics for discussion include global education, volunteerism, media literacy, entrepreneurship, world hunger, goal-setting, and leadership and motivation.

Sophomores are nominated to the program by their high school principal or advisor. These students must be seen as leaders within their high school and in the community, and only one student per school is nominated. This year, there were 180 sophomores from across the state of Maryland in attendance. Sines was one of five girls selected to receive an award for her leadership abilities.

As a service project, Sines collected over 71 pounds of aluminum can pop-tabs to recycle for cash for the Johns Hopkins Hospital Children's Cancer Center.

Student Named To Honor Roll

Daniel Coburn was recently named to the honor roll and dean's list for the 2010 spring semester at Hesston College in Hesston, Kan.

Coburn is from Accident.

Swanton Woman Given Stet On Numerous Charges

A Swanton woman was handed a stet verdict on numerous cases of forgery and theft by Judge Leonard J. Eiswert in a recent Garrett County District Court hearing. Jennie Rebecca Bernard, 32, was charged with 51 counts of forging a false document, 51 counts of issuing a false document, 21 counts of theft less $500 value, 30 counts of $500 plus value, and one count of theft scheme $500 plus.

Bernard reportedly stole a checkbook and made out and cashed numerous checks to herself over the course of a year, from April 2008 to May 2009. Maryland State Police were the investigating officers. The conditions of her stet are that she pay restitution of $42,000 to the victim at $1,200/month.

Sheanna Renee Livengood, 25, and Joseph Glenn Kilink, 33, both of Grantsville, were each not prosecuted on second-degree assault charges. The charges stem from a March domestic dispute investigated by Maryland State Police.

Victor Manuel Jimenez, 37, Swanton, was not prosecuted on two counts of second-degree assault, stemming from two separate domestic incidents that occurred in February and April of this year. Maryland State Police were the arresting officers.

Jimmy Jesse Elliott, 60, McHenry, was given a stet ruling on a charge of second-degree assault. The charges stem from a January domestic dispute that was investigated by MSP. The conditions of his stet are that he have no violent contact with the victim.

DUI/DWI HEARINGS

The following driving while under the influence (DUI) and driving while impaired (DWI) cases were heard in recent District Court proceedings, with Judge Eiswert presiding.

Matthew Joseph Miller, 24, Maryland, was found guilty of DUI and was sentenced to one year with 10 months suspended, three years of supervised probation, and fined $257.50. He was not prosecuted on a DWI charge. Miller was charged by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office in April.

Barry Ray Livengood, 43, Maryland, was found guilty of DUI per se and was sentenced to one year, with 11 months 20 days suspended. He was also given three years of supervised probation and fined $157.50. He was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DWI. Charges stem from a February traffic stop by GCSO.

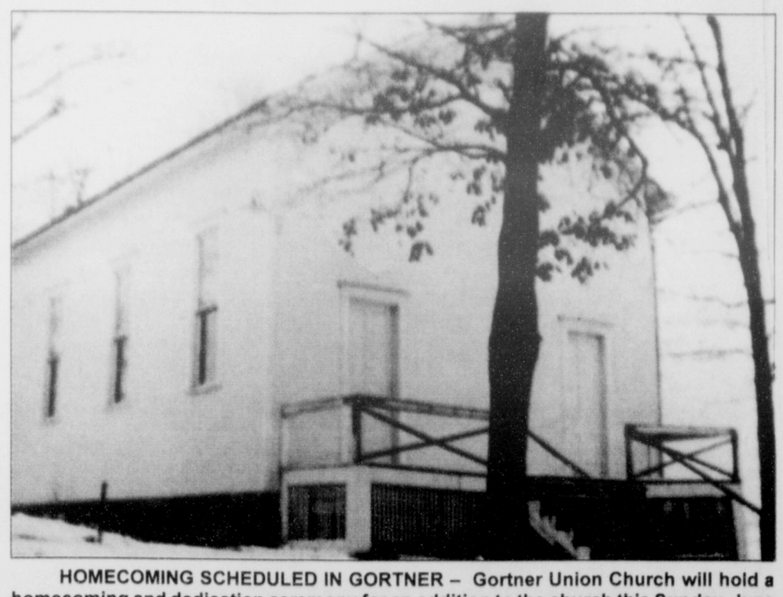
Marcina Layne Shogren, 24, Pennsylvania, was found guilty of DUI per se and sentenced to 30 days, with 30 suspended, 18 months of unsupervised probation, and fined $257.50. Shogren was not prosecuted on charges of UI and DWI. Charges stem from a February traffic stop by MSP.

Savanna Rae Shisler, 23, West Virginia, was found guilty of DUI per se and sentenced to 30 days with 30 suspended, one year of unsupervised probation, and $257.50 in fines. She was not prosecuted on charges of DUI and DWI. She was stopped by MSP in December 2009.

Fernando Vasquez, 35, California, was found guilty of DWI and sentenced to 30 days with 30 suspended, one year of unsupervised probation, and $257.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge. Charges stem from a December 2009 traffic stop by MSP.

Joseph Bruce Ragione II, 24, Maryland, was given a probation before judgment (PBJ) verdict on a DWI charge. He was sentence to 30 days with 30 suspended, one year of unsupervised probation, and $257.50 in fines. He was not prosecuted on a DUI charge. Ragione was stopped in April by Garrett County sheriff's deputies.

John Albert Stets, 59, Florida, was given a stet on charges of DUI and DUI per se, stemming from an April traffic stop by GCSO. He was order to complete 40 hours of community service by Sept. 1.



HOMECOMING SCHEDULED IN GORTNER – Gortner Union Church will hold a homecoming and dedication ceremony for an addition to the church this Sunday, June 13. Morning services will include Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. and worship at 10:30 a.m. Lunch will be served at 1 p.m. The dedication is scheduled for 2 p.m. Various musical groups will participate, and pictures outlining the church's history will be shown. "A special invitation is given to everyone who has fond memories of good times and spiritual blessing at Gortner," said a spokesperson. "Come remember the good times of the past and see what is happening now." The new addition provides more classrooms and other renovations to the building. The church house was originally built in 1898 by five denominations. Two of the denominations, Mennonite and Church of the Brethren, have held services regularly since then. Gortner Union was one of the first churches in the local area to conduct summer vacation Bible school. The church is located in the Gortner area at 4391 Mason School Road south of Oakland off Rt. 219. For more information, persons may call Mary Ellen Lichty at 301-334-2866. Above is a very old photo of the church. Below is the new addition and other recent renovations.

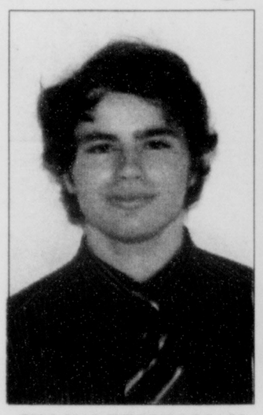
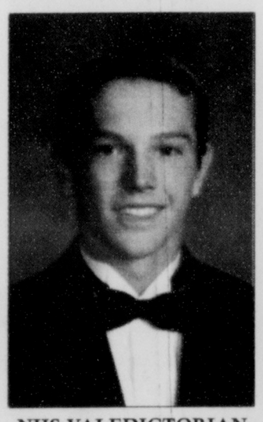
Congratulations Grads 2010

THE MOMENT THEY WERE WAITING FOR – For 13 years, students dream of that final hurrah when they can toss that cap in the air and lift up a cheer of celebration. That moment came last Sunday afternoon for the Northern (above) and Southern high school graduating classes of 2010. Both events were held indoors because of inclement weather (complete with a tornado watch), so photo opportunities were not as readily available with the cramped conditions. However, photographers Art Hanlin (at Northern) and John McEwen (at Southern) still managed to capture the essence of the day in a wide range of photos, which are included in this special section, along with speeches, class lists, and awards announcements. Congratulations to these fine classes of students, who now have made their official exit from the Garrett County public school system. Best of luck to each and every one!

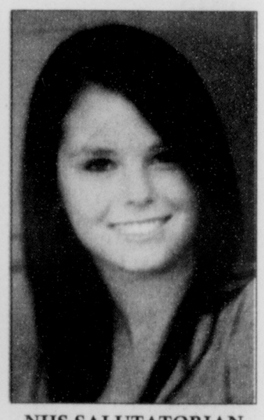
Top-Of-Class Scholars Honored At Northern, Southern High Commencement Ceremonies



SHS VALEDICTORIAN DYLAN S. DiGIOIA



NHS VALEDICTORIAN ANDREW T. SISLER



NHS SALUTATORIAN ADRIA M. GRAHAM

SHS SALUTATORIAN ANDREW T. MOWBRAY

SHS SALUTATORIAN JOHNATHON D. CORBIN

The top senior scholars at Southern and Northern high schools were honored Sunday during both schools' 58th annual graduation exercises. The students who earned the highest and second-highest grade point averages were honored as the valedictorians and salutatorians. Two students tied for the salutatorian status at Southern.

Northern High School's 2010 valedictorian is Andrew Sisler. Achieving salutatorian status at Northern this year was Adria Graham.

Dylan DiGioia was named the 2010 valedictorian at Southern, and the salutatorian status was shared this year by Andrew Mowbray and Johnathon Corbin.

The students all presented speeches at their commencement ceremonies. Transcripts of these presentations are included in this special section of The Republican.

NHS valedictorian Andrew Sisler is the son of Tim and Bobbi Sisler. He has a brother Daniel and three sisters, Emily, Rachel, and Abby. They live in Friendsville, where they work together on the family farm.

At Northern, Andrew was involved in baseball and football. He was also on the wrestling team for one year. He was a member of the Varsity Lettermen's Club and National Honor Society. He served as a representative for the student council, and was a Maryland Distinguished Scholar finalist.

The valedictorian is a member of the Sand Spring Church of God and its youth group. His hobbies include fishing, camping, and swimming. He will go to Frostburg State University in the fall. He has not yet decided on a major path of study.

Dylan DiGioia, Southern's valedictorian, is the son of Ronni (Sharon) and Bob DiGioia of Oakland. He attended Dennett Road and Yough Glades elementaries, Southern Middle, and Southern High, where he played both soccer and tennis. He was active in the theater department as an actor as well as behind the scenes.

His career pathway was electronics, but he also excelled in mathematics and science. He is a member of the National Honor Society, the 1800 Club, and the Columbian Squires of St. Peter's Catholic Church. This year will be his fourth year as an employee of High Mountain Sports.

In August, Dylan will be heading to Georgia Tech to major in electrical engineering. His hobbies include paintballing, wakeboarding, tennis, gaming, and computers.

Northern High's salutatorian, Adria Graham, is the daughter of Jeff and Patti Graham of Grantsville. She has an older sister, Ashton Graham, 20.

Adria is a member of National Honor Society, girls' varsity, and student council at Northern, and has been recognized as a Maryland Distinguished Scholar. She was a member of the varsity soccer and basketball teams at Northern, and was recognized as first team all-conference for soccer all four years. She was named Cumberland Times News Offensive Player of the Year for the last three seasons.

Adria is employed as a server at Santa Fe Grille in McHenry and is a member of Saint Anne's Catholic Church in Grantsville. Her plans are to attend Frostburg State University in the fall and major in environmental analysis and planning. She will also be playing on the women's soccer team.

Johnathon Corbin, a co-salutatorian at Southern, is the son of Stephen D. and Carol L. Corbin. Throughout the course of his high school years he has been recognized as the Student of the Month in five different subjects, and was honored in 2008 with the President's Advisory Council Financial Literacy Award. He was inducted into the National Honor Society in 2009, and earned a Maryland Distinguished Scholar Honorable Mention that year. He served as the vice president of the school's chapter of the National Honor Society and won a Merit Scholastic Award this year. This spring he was given the Garrett College Foundation Amy Mildred Sharpless Scholarship and an award from the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club for Outstanding Achievement in Social Studies.

Johnathon attends Crellin Assembly of God Church, where over the past three years he has volunteered as a children's church assistant. He has also worked on Southern High's web page, and played the stock market game in both his junior and senior years. He was the spring 2010 first place Western Regional Stock Market Game winner.

Andrew Mowbray, the co-salutatorian of Southern class of 2010, is the son of Erica Mowbray and Wayne Mowbray, both of Oakland.

Andrew achieved distinguished or regular honor roll each semester in high school. He was a Maryland Distinguished Scholar finalist and was inducted into the National Honor Society.

He was a Johns Hopkins Talent Search participant, and was the only Southern student to participate in the Highland Environmental Leadership Program. He received the Woodman of

Board Of Education Awards 330 Diplomas In Sunday Commencements

The Garrett County Board of Education awarded a total of 330 diplomas to graduating seniors of Southern and Northern Garrett high schools during indoor commencement ceremonies Sunday, with 131 of them going to NHS graduates and 199 being presented to SHS grads.

It was the 58th annual commencement of both high schools.

Dr. Wendell Teets, superintendent of schools, presented each of the diplomas. Also seated on the platforms were other school administrators, the elected members of the Garrett County Board of Education, Garrett County commissioners Fred Holliday and Denny Glotfelty, Sen. George Edwards, Del. Wendell Beitzel, and various faculty members.

At the Northern graduation, "Pomp and Circumstance No. 1" and the recessional were played by pianist Sean Beachy, and vocalist Alecia D. Bender sang "The Star Spangled Banner." Under the direction of Debi Beachy, the NHS Chorus performed "We Are the World," and "Don't Stop Believin'."

At SHS, vocalists Lowell Leitzel, Deborah Friend, and Kim Sweitzer sang the national anthem and the school's alma mater. The Southern High School Band, under the direction of Josh Elmlinger, played the processional and recessional. Under the direction of Debi Beachy, the SHS Chorus sang "Don't Stop Believin'."

Northern graduates who received honor diplomas wore gold cords, and those who are members of the National Honor Society wore white stoles. Members of the student government wore black cords, and Theatre Honor Society members wore teal cords.

At SHS, members of the National Honor Society wore blue stoles and gold cords, honor students wore purple honor cords, and certificate of merit students wore green cords. The valedictorian and salutatorians wore gold stoles.

DANFORTH AWARDS PRESENTED – The "I Dare You" William H. Danforth Award is presented to one young woman and one young man each year at Southern by the Southern Garrett High School Alumni Association. The award was first offered in 1941 by businessman and philanthropist Danforth, who dared young people to achieve their highest potential and to influence others through lives of service. The award is given to students based on academic success, leadership, school activities, community involvement, spirituality, service to others, physical fitness, and talent development. This year's recipients are Jacqueline Fries and Heath Naylor. Jacqueline was the class president as well as the National Honor Society president in her senior year. She served as a class officer all four years. She was the cross country team captain, and the editor of the school's yearbook in 11th and 12th grades. She was the HOBY Ambassador, and graduated in the top 5% of her class. She has received numerous awards and distinctions throughout her high school years, repeatedly achieving distinguished honor roll status, and completing multiple Advanced Placement courses. She logged over 200 hours of community service during her high school years. Heath Naylor has been active in Southern's drama department, playing lead roles in multiple shows. He served as the school's mascot, "Sam the Ram," and was a member of the Southern Singsations Show Choir and Chamber Choir. He served as the chaplain of the student council, giving televised morning announcements, and was treasurer for the Garrett County Association of Student Councils. He was a member of the varsity soccer team and indoor track team. He serves as the student representative on the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival board, and has logged 158 service learning hours. He earned NewPage Success in School Award, the 2010 Choral Musicianship Award, and All-State Chorus Award, and received an honorable mention for voice in the Maryland Distinguished Scholar in the Arts program. "High school has been nothing more than a learning experience for us all. The funny moments, times of trouble and pain, or joy and happiness have helped shape us."

Andrew Sisler

Good afternoon, parents, family, friends, faculty, and graduates. First off, I would like to say thank you to all of you who came out today. Without all of you, some of us would not be where we are today. I would like to especially thank my parents, brothers and sisters, family, friends, teachers, and coaches. Without all of you, I could not have made it where I am today. This day can be considered a great achievement in all of our lives. The many years we have spent striving toward one common goal has finally reached its end. Although one door is shutting, another becomes open. High school has been nothing more than a learning experience for us all. The funny moments, times of trouble and pain, or joy and happiness have helped shape us into the person we are today. After today, we begin a second portion of our lives – one in which we will attempt to reach our goals. As Jeremiah 29:11 says, "I have it all planned out — plans to take care of you, not abandon you, plans to give you the future you hope for." Holding onto these words gives us hope for tomorrow. I'm sure you've all heard the famous words from adults that "it only gets harder from here." This is a pretty intimidating thought. It always seemed to me that high school was about as difficult as it could get. Does this call for fear? What if failure is overwhelming? In fact, it demands an extra sense of courage. A man once said, "The greatest barrier to success is the fear of failure."

There is a story about a man named John with a dream of building a spectacular bridge connecting New York to Long Island. Countless experts around the world told him that it was an impossible task. However, he kept his faith. He teamed up with his son Washington, an upcoming engineer, to tackle the daunting project. Only a few weeks after the project began, a tragic accident took the life of

"Be authentic, share a bit about yourself, find common connections, and speak about what you know. "

Adria Graham

Welcome classmates, educators, families, and honored guests. I am pleased to have the opportunity to address my classmates on this special and significant occasion. To be honest with you, as I was preparing my remarks, I realized that I was going to be a little bit nervous speaking in front of so many people, so I asked my dad for some tips on public speaking. Now I must disclose that if you know my dad, it can be a little risky asking for tips on anything; particularly when you would like the information to be delivered in 20 minutes or less... anyway, he actually did give me a few good tips.

Number 1: Be authentic. People truly appreciate getting to see the real side of us. They want to know that you are honest and open. Being one's self is the only way to accomplish this and to allow others to see the "true you." Most people can see right through a phony persona, so just be yourself.

Number 2: Share a bit about yourself. Don't be afraid to let your guard down a little. The only way to establish relationships with others is to show them who you are. This involves taking the risk that others may judge us, but in life, we must all take some risks if we want to be successful.

Number 3: Find Common Connections. People generally want to be accepted by others, and a great way to accomplish this is to find some common connections. We tend to be drawn to people who have similar attributes, but can usually find commonalities with anyone if given the opportunities.

Number 4: Speak about what you know. Hmmm... speak about what you know? I'm a little stumped with this one because I'm not always confident in speaking about what I know. I know about soccer, I know about calculus, but I'm not real experienced with graduations... well, except the kindergarten one, where I wore the paper hat that I made myself. But other than that, I'm not real experienced with graduations. So my dad says, "you're kind of missing the point here... you don't have to be experienced with graduations; you only have to be experienced as a student."

So, there's my answer. I do know about being a student. I know about the perseverance and effort it takes to be academically successful at Northern Garrett High School. I know about honors classes and AP exams. I know about establishing relationships with some of the best teachers in Maryland, and allowing my instructors to not only become educational mentors, but to also become life mentors. I know how to be thankful for these mentors and how to show my gratitude using this format. Thank you, teachers. Without your encouragement and guidance, I would not have had the opportunity to mature into an intelligent young woman who can significantly contribute to the world.

Other things I've learned about being a student is that achievement is often directly tied to failure. So many times in life, I have learned that we can only be truly successful at endeavors if we take chances that often lead to failure. The message here is: Don't be afraid of failure. It often leads to our ultimate success. I really believe that many times obstacles and barriers are put in our way to help us secure our determination and resolve for success. Are we willing to push forward in spite of the challenges that life presents to us? Being a student-athlete has really helped to hammer this point home. Northern Garrett has afforded me the opportunity to express myself through athletics. These experiences have shaped my life and assisted me in focusing on commitment and determination. Being part of a team, with great players, friends, and coaches have impacted my life and encouraged me to live life passionately.

So classmates, as we approach this momentous occasion, persist in doing the things in life that bring you great joy; whether it is a sport, a hobby, or your career. There

"We spent 13 years in school to reach this point, and it's probably the greatest accomplishment of our lives, but it's nothing compared to what we will achieve."

Dylan DiGioia

All right. Let's get straight to business. Why are we here? Why are we here? No, really... why are we here? I don't believe anyone actually told me. Oh, graduation!

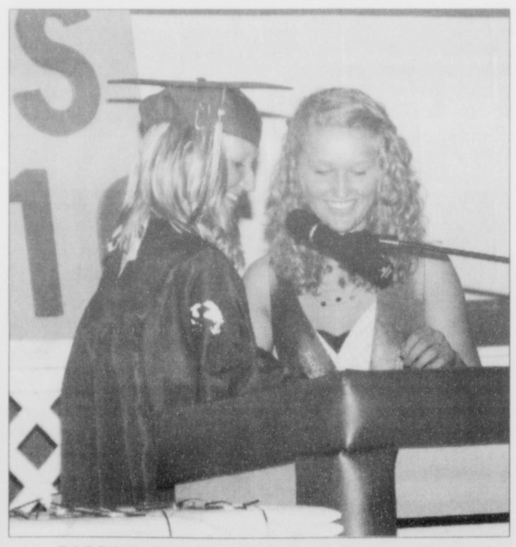
We are here to celebrate and recognize this great accomplishment. We spent 13 years in school to reach this point and it's probably the greatest accomplishment of our lives, but it's nothing compared to what we will achieve in our lives.

Six years in grade school, seven for some, three years in middle school, and four in high school. That is a long time. I can hardly remember a time when I wasn't in school. We've all come a long way, made friends we can barely live without, and changed in ways that now seem unbelievable. I know that none of us are the same person we were on our first day as freshmen and most of us prefer to deny such a time ever occurred. All this time taught us a great deal not just about our classes, but about ourselves. We now know who we are, what we excel at, and most importantly who we want to become. This knowledge will allow us to achieve more in our lifetimes than we can possibly imagine.

Today is a milestone in our lives. It represents all that we have learned and will help us with the rest of our lives. Today we are students at Southern High for the last time because tomorrow we start the rest of our lives. Some of us will join the workforce, some the military and the rest will further their education with college or a vocational school. This transition takes us only a short time, but it is extremely important to all of us because our school career is only as important as its effect on us after school.

We leave here today as graduates and we can begin to truly impact the world. Our impact will be greater than any other generation before us because we all have resources that they could never have dreamed of. With the push of a button we can look up all endless information, we can communicate with our friends, coworkers, employees, or loved ones, we can voice our opinions to millions of people, and even watch a video of a cat playing a piano. All these resources will help us achieve our dreams whether we want to discover the cure for cancer, solve the world's energy crisis, live the American dream, or win an Academy Award. The world will be forever changed by what we do, by what we achieve.

Today though we are graduating so I invite my fellow graduates and everyone else here to take this one day to think back on the past, see its significance on the present, and look forward to a bright future.



PASSING THE MANTLE from the current senior class president to next year's senior class president is a yearly tradition. "May our tomorrow outshine this today, and our footsteps create a straight and steady pathway for those yet to come."

Johnathon Corbin

Administrators, teachers, parents, students, and friends, we are all here today to celebrate our success, and to begin our journey into the world that awaits us.

As the Southern Garrett High School graduating class of 2010, we all have so much to be thankful for in our lives. Garrett County has some of the best teachers and faculty in the state of Maryland, and the entire country. Because of their efforts and hard work, we are now able to stand here today prepared to embark on our future journey.

I have heard it takes a village to raise a child. Together as classmates, family, friends, teachers and school staff members we have traveled through these years, each in some way touching a part of the other's lives. We have received and provided encouragement, support, guidance, love, and understanding. The friendships we've made will last a lifetime, and the lessons we've learned will assist us in overcoming any adversity we may face. For each other, we have been that village and the results of our hard work, dedication, studying, teaching, and determination can be seen shining through here today.

Look around you. We are the best of the best, and although it is with a heavy heart we will say goodbye to this season of our lives and many of the people who have influenced and became a part of who we are, it is with great anticipation and courage we move forward toward tomorrow.

Some of us set our goals many years ago. Some of us are still searching for our life's purpose. Some of us will change along the way. No matter which of those categories we fall into, it is imperative for our futures and those who follow behind us to uphold our values, morals, and integrity like we have all been taught. It is important that we reach for the stars and use our talents to their full potential.

It was written by an unknown author that "unless you try to do something beyond what you have already mastered, you will never grow." We must not be afraid to challenge ourselves. The road ahead will undoubtedly be bumpy at times, smooth at times, and at times contain huge sinkholes. But only through perseverance will we

"Before you embark on your next adventure, remember to slow down and revel in life's opportunities and challenges."

Jacqueline Fries

Good afternoon, everyone. I would like to welcome all graduates, teachers, family, friends, members of the board, and members of the community to the commencement ceremony in honor of the class of 2010. Well, what can I say? I knew I was going to have to write this speech a year ago, but it was not until the other day when I went on a hike with my mom to Seneca Rocks that I knew what I wanted to say.

The hike up to Seneca is only 1.5 miles, but it felt as if it was about 10 miles because it is such a difficult climb. As I was walking, nothing else mattered to me except reaching the top. I ignored all the beautiful scenery and paid no attention to the wonders of nature that surrounded me. I walked ahead of my mom, and did not share the experience with her. I was too occupied with the thought of the destination to enjoy the journey. When I finally did reach the top and I looked out at the world below my feet, I felt so many different things. I fell accomplished and proud, but I also realized that things end so quickly. When I was at the top, I asked myself, "What now?" I started wishing that I would have walked a little slower, explored a little more, and experienced my surroundings more fully.

Our formal educational career so far has been 13 years. Perhaps many of you have thought like I have at times,

"And yes, it may seem like 'It Ends Tonight.' But I say 'Dream On' because you see, I believe in 'Yesterday!'

Andrew Mowbray

Good afternoon! First, I would like to congratulate John and Dylan. Those two worked harder in school than anyone, and I'm honored to be recognized along with them. I'd also love to thank my enormous family. By spending time with them, I have truly learned how to value both the challenges of life, but particularly the pleasures of life. This year was especially difficult for me. The death of a grandfather I loved who never missed out on an opportunity to spend time with me, and a separation in my family all accompanied an all-around hectic year. So just to be standing here today feels like a miracle, and I feel extremely fortunate and thankful to be speaking.

What is there to say about the 2009-2010 school year? Did anything exciting even happen? For those of you who couldn't figure it out, that was 100 percent absolute sarcasm. Every class has stories to tell, but I believe our year completely destroys any recent record held for the craziest year. Not only did we not have school in February, but for awhile in May we did not have a school. Let's see you top that, class of 2011. Therefore, I would like to personally congratulate you on not only graduating, but also on maintaining your sanity.

Even over a much longer timeline, our class went through quite the ordeal if you think about it. And when I say a longer timeline, I mean going way back to when we played with crayons instead of much more sophisticated and mature toys, like water balloons and heavy metals. From our years in school have sprung the most horrific terrorist attack in the nation's history, the most devastating hurricane, two wars, an economic disaster, the worst environmental disaster in the nation's history, and now Simon is quitting American Idol. Oh, boy.

But guess what? It's 2010. It's officially a new decade. Every decade is defined separately. I say '40s and most
